

TURKANA GRAMMATICAL NOTES AND VOCABULARY

By JUXON BARTON

INTRODUCTORY

The Turkana language has been studied by Mr. A. C. Hollis (see Sir Charles Eliot, Introduction to Hollis' The Nandi), though his results are apparently unpublished ; and by the late Hon. A. Bruce, whose notes appear to have been lost ; a short comparative vocabulary is to be found in The Uganda Protectorate, vol. ii, by Sir Harry Johnston.

The following outline has been compiled through the medium of Ki-Swahili and Suk. A few Turkana speak Swahili badly and Suk moderately well, while a number of Suk speak Swahili moderately and Turkana well. The shortcomings of the ensuing notes and vocabulary are due partly to the disadvantages of this method, partly to inexperience and want of philological and phonetic training. It may be added that no two Europeans who have come in contact with this tribe agree in their rendering of Turkana sounds by the symbols of an alphabet.

GENERAL

The Turkana are perhaps best described as a Niloto-Hamitic race ; they are closely allied to the Jie, Dodoso, and Karamojo, and in a less degree to the Suk ; they are related to the Latuka-Acholi-Aluru-Wamia-Kavirondo (Ja-Luo) group ; and their language has some similarity to Teso, as shown in the lately published grammar. They are extremely nomadic pastoralists grazing a large area west, south, and south-east of Lake Rudolf, and are also somewhat warlike, occasionally raiding other tribes.

Guttural sounds predominate in the speech of the Turkana, and their mouths are never free from saliva even when they are not chewing tobacco, which imparts an unusually moist lisp to their speech. An endeavour has been made to write the consonants as in English and the vowels as in Italian.

b and p are seemingly interchangeable.

c generally indicates the sound of ch in "church".

g is always hard.

k and g sounds are apt to vary with the age and timbre of voice of the person speaking. Sometimes it seems doubtful whether the initial sound is k or the velar nasal ng' (as in "sing")—written n' by Archdeacon Kitching.

ny often occurs as an initial before e and i, but is nearly always slurred in ordinary speech.

s is practically always th; this lisp has a "wet" sound and is a Turkana characteristic.

u is not always substituted for the English w.

w is in many words quite distinct from u.

The Turkana "clip" these words, pronouncing them with a distinct "glottal stop". There are two, if not three, dialects, which may be conveniently but not altogether accurately defined as belonging to the Pastoral, the Agricultural, and Fishing sections.

The language shows a number of onomatopœic words, or "sound pictures" (see "birds", "bark" of dog, etc.); and to a layman is coarse in its form and poor in its vocabulary. Vowels do not always elide.

GENDER

Sex is denoted by the addition of a word meaning "male" or "female", e.g.:—

e'koloba-e'manik	buck impala.
e'koloba-a'bero	doe ,,
ng'lobai-ng'emaniko	buck impalas.
ng'lobai-ng'abero	doe ,, e'manik is not used for male human beings, but e'kili, pl. ng'iliok, a'bero is used for all females.

NUMBER

The pl. suffixes are a, ya, o, yo, e, ae, ai, k, t, tha, in, syo, is; these are the more common, there seems to be no system.

ARTICLE

The article always seems to be used and to form part of the word; in rapid speech it is very much slurred. The article is e', i', or a' in the singular and ng', rarely ny', in the plural. Possibly masculine and feminine forms are found (see Sir Charles Eliot, op. cit.); they are difficult to recognize and to explain in inquiry from Turkana, who always deny their existence.

CASE

There is, properly speaking, no such thing as case, though the vocative is indicated by the affixes -ne for the singular and -no for the plural, e.g.:—

e'kili-ne	O man.
ng'ilioko-no	O men.
a'bero-ne	O woman.
ng'abero-no	O women.

A man is addressed as lodialo-ayon, several as lodialo-eth, with the meaning "I say you", as in the Suk werno, pl. wer-chara.

The genitive is expressed—

- (1) By the use of ngolo or ngulu, which is possibly a pronoun, e.g. e'tungananan ngolo Lorogumo, a man of Lorogumo; ng'itunga ngulu Lorogumo, the people of Lorogumo.
- (2) By the preposition ken, e.g. baba ken Loburiomoi, the father of Loburiomoi.
- (3) By the preposition a, e.g. e'sikiriya a toto ken Loburiomoi, the donkey of the mother of Loburiomoi.
- (4) By position, the possessor following the thing possessed, e.g. ng'atuk Loburiomoi, the cattle of Loburiomoi.

The last is the most usual.

SUBSTANTIVES

These do not seem to be divisible into classes.

ADJECTIVES

The same remark applies. The relative pronoun seems to be omitted in most cases. The adjective follows the substantive.

which ? ali ? and ali ?

REGULAR VERBS

Sir Charles Eliot (op. cit., p. xxxi) states that verbs in Turkana are divided into two classes, those beginning with i, and those beginning with any other sound, and exemplifies the conjugation of the present tense of the verb cham, "to love." This, save in its root, was not recognized by Turkana. Allowances are necessary in endeavouring to record tenses, as it is nearly impossible to explain their value to natives, especially through the medium of a language foreign to both.

Active Voice, Indicative

Person is marked by the suffixed pronoun; it is often omitted, especially where there is no doubt as to the person meant. The negative is formed by prefixing nye, the vowel being elided.

1. Present Tense. I hear.

sing.	erar-ayon.	pl.	kerari-thowa.
	erar-ion.		erar-eth.
	erari-ngeih.		erariti-keth.

Negative, ny-erar-ayon, etc.

2. Future Tense. I will hear.

Apparently this tense is only indicated by the use of a word denoting the future with the present tense, e.g. alothi mui, I will go to-morrow. In this tense the pronoun seems to be dropped, possibly the context is usually a sufficient guide to the speaker's meaning.

3. Present Perfect Tense. I have heard.

sing.	ayra-ayon.	pl.	kera-thowa.
	era-ion.		era-eth.
	era-ngeih.		era-keth.

4. Imperfect Tense. I was hearing.

sing.	erarit-ayon.	pl.	kerarit-thowa.
	erarit-ion.		erarit-eth.
	erarit-ngeih.		erarit-keth.

Active Voice, Conditional

The pronoun is retained as in the indicative. The negative -nye- is inserted, its vowel being elided.

1. Present Tense. If, etc., I hear.

sing.	ani-erar-ayon.	pl.	ani-kerari-thowa.
	ani-erar-ion.		ani-erar-eth.
	ani-erari-ngeih.		ani-erari-keth.

Negative ani-ny-erar-ayon, etc.

2. Past Tense. If, etc., I had heard.
 sing. ani-kaira-ayon. pl. ani-ker-a-thowa.
ani-ker-a-ion. ani-ker-a-eth.
ani-ker-a-ngeth. ani-ker-a-keth.

Actice Voice, Subjunctive

This was not traced; inquiries showed that kotiri, because, was used with the infinitive.

Active Voice, Infinitive

This is apparently formed by prefixing aki- to the root, and affixing -i, e.g. aki-tar-i, to dig; aki-gum-i, to shoot; aki-latar-i, to wash; aki-lar-i, to walk.

Active Voice, Imperative

Apparently the root of the verb is used where the meaning is imperative in every sense; where more than one person is addressed -to is affixed, e.g. tolot, go! kibirr, run! ngolik, look out! tolot-to, kibirr-to, ngolik-to, etc.

The pronoun is sometimes added for emphasis.

Passive Voice

This is indicated by the infixes -itai- (present), -itita- (past), the pronoun being retained. In the negative nye- is prefixed, eliding its vowel.

1. Present. I am struck.

- sing. karam-itai-ayon. pl. karam-itai-thowa.
karam-itai-ion. karam-itai-eth.
karam-itai-ngeth. karam-itai-keth.

Negative nye-karam-itai-ayon.

2. Past. I have been struck.

- sing. karam-itita-ayon. pl. karam-itita-thowa.
karam-itita-ion. karam-itita-eth.
karam-itita-ngeth. karam-itita-keth.

3. Present Conditional. If I am struck.

sing. ani-karam-itai-ayon, etc.

Negative ani-nye-karam-itai-ayon.

4. Past Conditional. If I had been struck.

The sound is similar, but possibly should be written: sing. ani-ke-karam-itai-ayon, etc.

5. Subjunctive. That I may be struck.

This was not traced.

Quasi-passive Verbs

These are formed from adjectives by suffixing -i, which elides before other vowels; the pronoun is retained, e.g. I become big from elangir, broad.

sing.	elangir-ayon.	pl.	elangir-i-thowa.
	elangir-ion.		elangir-eth.
	elangir-i-ngeth.		elangir-i-keth.

IRREGULAR VERBS

These appear to be very irregular.

TO BE

1. Present. I am.

sing.	e'tunganan-ayon.	pl.	ng'itunga-thowa.
	e'tunganan-ion.		ng'itunga-eth.
	e'tunganan-ngeth.		ngitungh-keth.

Literally "a man I". Negative ny-etunganan-ayon.

2. Past. I was.

sing.	kerai-ayon.	pl.	kerai-thowa.
	kerai-ion.		kerai-eth.
	kerai-ngeth.		kerai-keth.

TO BE PRESENT

1. Present. I am present.

sing.	eyey-ayon.	pl.	keya-thowa.
	eyey-ion.		eyey-eth.
	eyeyi-ngeth.		eyeyi-keth.

Negative ny-eyey-ayon.

2. Present Perfect. I have been present.

sing.	kaiyey-ayon.	pl.	kaiyeyi-thowa.
	kaiyey-ion.		kaiyey-eth.
	kaiyeyi-ngeth.		kaiyeyi-keth.

Negative p-aiyey-ayon, etc.¹

TO SEE

1. Present. I see.

sing.	ainua-ayon.	pl.	ainua-thowa.
	ainua-ion.		ainua-eth.
	ainua-ngeth.		ainua-keth.

Or ain-ayon, etc.

Negative ny-ainua-ayon.

¹ There seems reason to believe that, in some cases (though very rarely), p- appears as a negative prefix, instead of nye.

2. Past. I have seen.

sing.	ainun-it-ayon.	pl.	ainun-iti-thowa.
	ainun-it-ion.		ainun-it-eth.
	ainun-iti-ngeth.		ainuniti-keth.

Negative *ny-alothi-ayon.*2. Past Perfect. I went.

sing.	kelot-ayon.	pl.	keloti-thowa.
	kelot-ion.		kelot-eth.
	keloti-ngeth.		keloti-keth.

3. Imperative. Go ! Go ye !

sing.	tolot.	pl.	tolot-to.
-------	---------------	-----	------------------

TO COME

1. Present. I come.

sing.	abuni-ayon.	pl.	ki-poti-thowa.
	abuni-ion.		ki-poti-eth.
	abuni-ngeth.		ki-poti-keth.

Negative *ny-abuni-ayon.*2. Past Perfect. I came.

sing.	k-abunit-ayon.	pl.	ki-ki-bunit-thowa.
	k-abunit-ion.		ki-bunit-eth.
	k-abunit-ngeth.		ki-bunit-keth.

3. Imperative. Come ! Come ye !

sing.	bwa.	pl.	pot-to.
-------	-------------	-----	----------------

Reduplicative Verbs.

There are a number of instances, e.g. adungi, "I cut"; adungi-dungi, "I cut in small pieces"; abuki, "I shake"; abuki-buki, "I churn"; emudud-mududjiana, "I blink."

Auxiliary Verbs

There are two words which have the meaning "to be able"; the first (anangi) differs from the second (atiri), which is used where physical strength is implied, e.g. anangi akilari, "I am able to walk"; anangi akimugi, "I am able to eat"; atiri akiari ngeth, "I can spear him"; atiri akidakari ngeth, "I can throw (wrestle) him."

"Must" is expressed by mati, e.g. mati alothi mui, I must go to-morrow.

MONTHS

The rainy season	Ageboro .
January	Lodungi .
February	Lomoruk .
March	Loichoto .
April	Titima .
May	Yeliyel .
June	Lopo .
The dry season	Akamu .
July	Lotiak .

August	Lolingachunu.
September	Lothaban.
October	Lolongu.
November	Lorarrar.
December	Lugwan.

The division of the months into a "rainy" and a "dry" season does not correspond to the actual state of things in the Turkana country; possibly it has been retained from early times when the tribe occupied a region where the seasons were more regular and propitious. The Turkana month would appear to begin about the twenty-second day of the English.
