

MÍCHEÁL Ó SIADHAILE

LEARNING IRISH

NEW EDITION
ENTIRELY
RE-SET

CONTENTS

FOREWORD	iv
ABBREVIATIONS.....	iv
INTRODUCTION	v
LESSONS 1 – 36	1
APPENDIX I: Spelling and Pronunciation	209
APPENDIX II: General Guide to Plural of Nouns and Formation of Verbal Nouns....	218
APPENDIX III: The Spelling in this Book and Official Standard Irish	221
APPENDIX IV: Pronunciation of Alphabet	223
KEY TO TEXTS	224
KEY TO EXERCISES	246
IRISH – ENGLISH VOCABULARY	259
ENGLISH – IRISH VOCABULARY	296
BIBLIOGRAPHY	304
GRAMMATICAL INDEX	306
TABLE OF SOUNDS	(inside back cover)

This version of the ebook was enhanced by Skvodo February 2010

FOREWORD

I wish to express my gratitude to Professor David Greene and Professor Brian Ó Cuív of the School of Celtic Studies, Dublin Institute for Advanced Studies, for their support during the preparation of this book; to Professor Tomás Ó Conchearnainn and Professor Tomás de Bhaldraithe for their help, to Mr. Pól Breathnach; and particularly to Dr. Pádraig de Brún and Dr. Arndt Wigger for their constant aid and advice; to Miss Doreen Callan, Maire Uí Chinseala, Mrs. Patricia Dunne and to Miss Cathleen Sheppard who were associated with the preparation of the typescript; to Mr. Pádraig Ó Ceardaill and to Bríd Ní Chearbaill without whose patience and help this book would never have been completed.

FOREWORD TO THIRD EDITION

I would like to express my thanks to my friend Dr. Arndt Wigger for his assistance in enhancing the typography and design of this third edition of Learning Irish. While these improvements along with some minor updating of the material have resulted in changes in the pagination, the text of the previous edition remains essentially unaltered.

ABBREVIATIONS

adj.	adjective	n.	noun
adv.	adverb	neg.	negative
alt.	alternative(ly)	num.	numeral
art.	article	pl.	plural
comp.	comparative	prep.	preposition
conj.	conjunction	pron.	pronoun
ctd.	continued	rel.	relative
fut.	future	sing.	singular
gen.	genitive	superl.	superlative
habit.	habitual	v. adj.	verbal adjective
incl.	including	vb.	verb
len.	lenition	v. n.	verbal noun
lit.	literally	voc.	vocative

INTRODUCTION

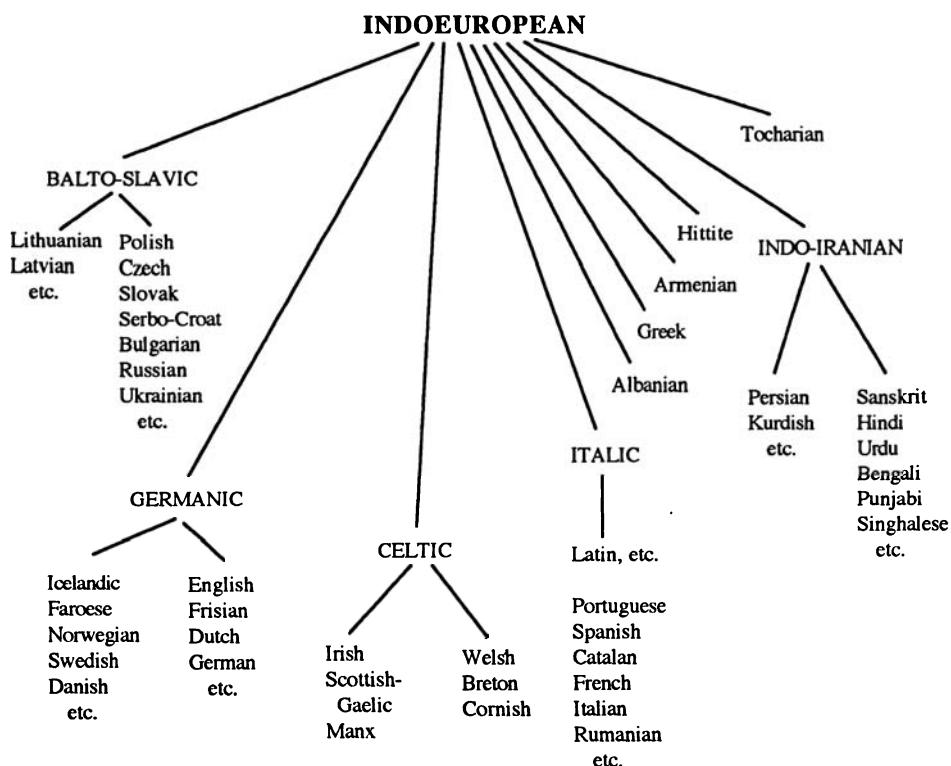

THE IRISH LANGUAGE

Irish is one of the many languages spoken across Europe and as far east as India, that trace their descent from Indo-European, a hypothetical ancestor-language thought to have been spoken more than 4,500 years ago. Irish belongs to the Celtic branch of the Indo-European family, as the diagram below shows. It and three other members of this branch – Scottish Gaelic, Welsh and Breton – are today alive as community languages.

The form of Celtic that was to become Irish was brought to Ireland by the invading Gaels – about 300 B.C. according to some scholars. Later it spread to Scotland and the Isle of Man. Scottish Gaelic and Manx gradually separated from Irish (and, more slowly, from each other), and they can be thought of as distinct languages from the seventeenth century onwards. The term ‘Gaelic’ may be used to denote all three.

It appears that the early Irish learned the art of writing at about the time of their conversion to Christianity, in the fifth century. After that, the language can be seen to go through four stages of continuous historical development, as far as its written form is concerned: Old Irish (approximately A.D. 600 – 900), Middle Irish (c. 900 – 1200), Early Modern Irish (c. 1200 – 1650), and Modern Irish. Throughout this development Irish borrowed words from other languages it came into contact with (pre-eminently from Latin, from Norse, from Anglo-Norman (a dialect of French), and from English).

From the earliest times Irish has been cultivated for literature and learning. It in fact possesses one of the oldest literatures in Europe.

MODERN IRISH

In the 16th century Irish was the language of nearly everyone in Ireland. The educated and upper classes, moreover, were familiar with a standardised literary dialect, Classical Irish, used throughout the Gaelic world. This dialect was the special care of poets, who used it most notably for intricate verse in praise of the Gaelic and Norman-Gaelic aristocracy, their patrons.

When, in the 17th century, that aristocracy was annihilated or dispersed and the Bardic schools suppressed, Classical Irish began to die out (though its spelling, with modifications, survived until the spelling reform of 1945). Popular dialects, which undoubtedly had always been present in Irish, as in any language, came to the fore.

Though cultivated less and less by a literary class, Irish was still spoken throughout the countryside and to some extent in the towns, including Dublin. But the language of many of the new colonists was English; the language of government, of politics, of schooling, and of every sort of material advancement was also now English. Not surprisingly, Irish gradually retreated, in time ceasing to be the majority language and eventually becoming the almost exclusive property of some of the rural poor. Yet since the population was increasing enormously, there were probably more Irish-speakers than ever before on the eve of the Great Famine (1846-48), which, hitting the poorest hardest, changed the picture drastically.

Ireland became, for the most part, a nation speaking what is called Hiberno-English, a dialect (or set of dialects) of English much influenced by Irish. The Irish language itself survived, as a community language, only in the isolated and shrinking rural districts we call the Gaeltacht.

At the end of the 19th century a movement to restore Irish grew up and became popular. It eventually played an important part in the struggle for national independence, and thus, since the winning of formal political independence for most of the country in 1922, it has been official government policy, in name at least, to preserve the Gaeltacht and to make Irish the vernacular of the majority elsewhere.

There has been little success in doing either. Looking at the Gaeltacht, we see that in 1925 its population was found (no doubt over-optimistically) to be 257,000, of whom 12,000 were monoglots; today its population is probably less than 30,000, of whom very few are monoglots. Looking at the rest of the country ('Galltacht') we see that Irish is spoken little and, moreover, is now declining disastrously in the schools (which were given, mistakenly, almost the whole responsibility for its restoration). In 1941, for example, 12% of primary schools used Irish as their teaching medium; in 1970 only 6% did. In 1937-8 some 28% of secondary pupils were in schools using Irish as their teaching medium; in 1972 only about 2.8% were.

This is not to say that there has been no progress. A small minority throughout the country, particularly in the larger cities, speak Irish in their homes and try to live as full a cultural life as such a minority can. Furthermore, in the last few years the young people in the Gaeltacht have shown a will to determine their own fate. But the wish to see Irish restored, which reports and surveys have consistently shown to be that of a majority of the Irish people, remains a wish not acted upon. This much seems certain: the future of the language will be decided, one way or another before the end of this century.

THE IRISH IN THIS BOOK

Two hundred years ago a good speaker of Irish, travelling slowly from Kerry to Antrim (and on to the north of Scotland), could have spoken the language all the way and noticed only minute dialectal changes as he passed from place to place. One dialect shaded into another in the most gradual fashion. Today, however, the Irish-speaking areas are separated geographically by wide stretches of English-speaking territory, and their dialects would seem fairly distinct to a man going from one Irish-speaking area to another. A good speaker of any dialect can, with a little practice, understand any other fully, but the old linguistic and communicative bridges between them have fallen, and they have tended to drift apart. We may hope that this drift has been stopped in recent years by broadcasting in Irish and by increased social contact between people from the various Gaeltachtaí.

In such circumstances, what sort of Irish should one teach to beginners? A dialect must be used, for though there has been one Official Standard of Irish spelling since 1945, there is as yet no standard pronunciation¹. No one dialect, however, has established itself as socially superior. A choice must be made.

The Irish in this book with regard to pronunciation and grammar is based on that of Cois Fháirrge, Co. Galway, and the vocabulary is that which might be expected from a native speaker who has assimilated a modicum of newly-coined terms. The dialect of Cois Fháirrge has some decided advantages for the learner, since it is fairly central, geographically and linguistically, and since it has a relatively large number of native speakers. Furthermore, it has been more fully described linguistically than any other dialect.²

When faced with a large variety of forms within the dialect of Cois Fháirrge, it has sometimes been necessary to make a choice and those forms which seemed to be most common were chosen. No statistics of frequency were available.³ In the matter of spelling, the Official Standard has been generally adhered to, though for the sake of the learner there have been certain deliberate departures. These are explained in Appendix III. After completing the book the learner should be advanced enough to change over to fully Standard spellings without difficulty.

The vocabularies at the end of this book contain only words introduced in the preceding Lessons and Appendices. Extensive modern dictionaries are: Niall Ó Dónaill (ed.): Foclóir Gaeilge – Béarla (Dublin 1977); Tomás de Bhaldraithe (ed.): English – Irish Dictionary (Dublin 1959).

¹Proposals for such a standard have recently been made by D. Ó Baoill: Láchanúint don Ghaeilge (Dublin, 1987).

²The standard works are T. de Bhaldraithe: The Irish of Cois Fháirrge, Co. Galway (Dublin, 1944) and T. de Bhaldraithe: Gaeilge Chois Fháirrge, An Deilbhsocht (Dublin, 1953) and they have been extensively drawn upon in the preparation of this book.

³There are, however, certain statistics available concerning the frequency of words in Irish in general (Buntús Gaeilge, Réamhthuarascáil, An Roinn Oideachais, Baile Átha Cliath, 1966) and these have been useful in choosing vocabulary for this book.

LESSON 1

1. ALPHABET

Irish, like other European languages, uses an alphabet inherited from Latin. Two slightly differing forms of the letters are in use: ordinary Roman, and Gaelic, a medieval variation. Roman has become by far the commoner of the two, since it can be used more cheaply for printing. It will be used throughout this book.

á	ó	c	ó	e	f	ú	í
a	o	c	d	e	f	h	i
l	m	n	o	p	r	t	u
l	m	n	o	p	r	s	u

Note that there are only eighteen fundamental letters. Six others (j, q, v, w, x, and z) do, however, sometimes appear in loan words from other languages, foreign place-names, scientific and mathematical terms, etc.

The letters a, e, i, o, u are said to be vowels, all the others are said to be consonants. The vowels may be written 'short', as in the list above, or 'long': in this case a length-mark is used thus: Á, á; É, é; Í, í; Ó, ó; Ú, ú.

2. LEARNING TO PRONOUNCE IRISH

This book is based on the dialect of Cois Fháirge, Co. Galway, and the best way of learning to pronounce the words in it is from a native speaker of the dialect. For many readers who will not be able to learn directly from a native speaker, the cassettes available in connection with this book should prove useful. Also the pronunciation of all words is given in the list at the beginning or during the course of each lesson. In doing so, use has been made of phonetic symbols. These symbols, to be further explained in this chapter, are listed in the first column of the fold-out table inside the back cover. Whenever they appear in the text, they are set off by parallel strokes: /a/, /ba:r/, /a:gəs/.

Readers who wish to connect spelling and sound in a more methodical manner may, from Lesson 2 onwards, consult Appendix I. The Irish words that appear in the rest of this lesson are merely illustrations of certain points of pronunciation. It is not necessary to be much concerned about their meaning or use.

3. STRESS

In most dialects of Irish, including that taught here, the first syllable of simple words is stressed. Therefore, in a word of more than one syllable, the stress falls on the first syllable: bacach /ba:kəx/ 'beggar', báisteach /ba:s'təx/ 'rain', rásúirí /ra:su:r'i:/ 'razors'. There are exceptions to this rule. The second syllable is stressed in a number of adverbs which are historically compounds (like English 'behind'), e.g. anseo /ə'n'sə'o/ 'here', anois /ə'n'is/ 'now', aniar /ə'n'i:ər/ 'from the west', amáireach /ə'ma:r'əx/ 'tomorrow', as well as some few loanwords, e.g. tobac /tə'ba:k/ 'tobacco'.

The upright mark ' indicates that stress falls on the syllable following the mark. Occasionally there are two stresses, a primary and a secondary, as in the place-name Conamara /kun^ama:rə/. The upright mark before the /m/ shows that primary stress falls on the syllable that follows it; the lower upright mark before the /k/ shows that secondary stress falls on the syllable that follows it.

When they appear in unstressed syllables, the vowels a, e, i, o as well as certain combinations (all of which are considered 'short' in spelling) are generally made obscure, or 'neutral'. (The same thing may happen, at least to a certain extent, in other languages too; the English word 'bullock' e.g. might be spelt 'bulleck' or 'bullack'). The neutral vowel-sound is represented by the symbol /ə/ in phonetic transcription. Observe the use of this symbol in unstressed syllables in the examples above.

4. 'BROAD' AND 'SLENDER' CONSONANTS

(i) Pronouncing 'broad' and 'slender' consonants

Irish can be regarded as having two complete (or nearly complete) sets of consonant sounds. Whereas most European languages have for practical purposes only one sort of b, c, d, f etc., Irish has two sorts. Here are two pairs of examples:

beo 'alive'	bó 'cow'
bí 'be'	buí 'yellow'

Ignoring the spelling of the words for the moment, let us consider their pronunciations. The first pair both have the vowel-sound /o:/ (for which see the fold-out table): b + /o:/, b + /o:/. The second pair both have the vowel-sound /i:/: b + /i:/, b + /i:/. Nothing in fact distinguishes the sound of beo from that of bó, and that of bí from that of buí, but the sort of b used. The sort in beo and bí is traditionally called 'slender'; the sort in bó and buí, is traditionally called 'broad'; more technically 'palatalised' and 'non-palatalised' are used.

Both b's are roughly similar to an English one, but there are very important differences between them. Slender consonants are in general made by raising the front of the tongue towards the hard palate (the front part of the mouth, just behind the teeth-ridge), or, in the case of sounds made with the lips, by spreading these. These consonants may be said to have an i-quality; you could make a very weak i-sound (as in 'fit') after them. Thus we might represent beo as /bⁱo:/, and bí as /bⁱ:/ . Broad consonants, on the other hand, are in general made with the back of the tongue raised towards the soft palate (the back part of the roof of the mouth). They may be said to have a u-quality; again, you could make a very weak u-sound after them. We might represent bó as /b^uo:/, and buí as /b^ui:/:.

The i-quality of a slender consonant is most clearly heard when the consonant comes directly before the vowel sounds /a:/, /o:/ or /u:/. The u-quality of a broad consonant is most clearly heard when the consonant comes directly before the vowel-sounds /i:/: or /i/. To show this we might write beo /bⁱo:/, bó /b^uo:/, bí /bⁱ:/, buí /b^ui:/. To simplify the phonetic transcription, however, and to conform to standard methods, we do not, in practice, use the signs i and u. Rather a slanted mark (') is written after the phonetic symbol for a slender consonant, and no mark at all after the symbol for a broad one. So we re-spell:

beo	as	/b'ø:/	instead of	/bø:/
bó	as	/bø:/	instead of	/b ^u ø:/
bí	as	/b'i:/	instead of	/b ⁱ i:/
buí	as	/bi:/	instead of	/b ^u i:/:

(ii) Recognising ‘broad’ and ‘slender’ in spelling

In phonetic transcription, as has been seen, we can show the difference between broad b, d, f, etc. and slender b, d, f, etc. by writing /b/, /d/, /f/, etc. for the broad sounds, and /b'/, /d'/, /f'/, etc. for the slender ones. In normal Irish spelling, however, you know whether a consonant, or group of consonants, is broad or slender only by looking at the neighbouring vowel-letter:

if next to a, o, u ('back vowels'), it is 'broad';
 if next to e, i ('front vowels'), it is 'slender'.

Consider these examples:

bád 'boat': b and d are both broad, /bá:d/fear 'man': f is slender, r is broad, /f'æ:r/maoín 'riches': m is broad, n is slender, /mi:n'/
mín 'smooth': m and n are both slender, /m'i:n'/
glúin 'knee, generation': gl is broad, n is slender, /glú:n'/

If a consonant, or group of consonants, is between vowels, then these flanking vowels must agree in showing that the consonant is either broad or slender. Therefore the word bacach /ba:kəx/ 'beggar' has 'broad' (back) vowels on both sides of the c /k/, showing it to be broad. On the other hand, the word báisteach /ba:s'təx/ 'rain' has 'slender' (front) vowels on both sides of the group st /s't/, showing that these two consonants are slender. This compulsory agreement of flanking vowels is, however, ignored in a handful of common words, e.g. anseo /ən's'o/ 'here'.

5. DROPPING OF THE VOWEL /ə/

The neutral vowel (to which all unstressed short vowels are reduced) is not pronounced before or after any other vowel.

Taking for example the words duine /din'ə/ 'person', balla /ba:Lə/ 'wall', ard /a:rd/ 'high' and eile /el'ə/ 'another', and ignoring for the present the grammar involved, we can see how this rule applies:

duine ard /din' a:rd/	a tall person
balla eile /ba:L el'ə/	another wall
duine eile /din' el'ə/	another person
balla ard /ba:L a:rd/	a tall wall

This rule is basic to the pronunciation of Irish. It also helps to explain the pronunciation of individual words as shown in Appendix I.5.

6. PHONETIC EXERCISE

The learner should listen to these examples on the cassettes published in connection with his book or have them pronounced by a native speaker of the dialect.

(i) Broad and slender consonants

(a) In initial position:

Consonant	broad	slender
b	buí	/bi:/	bí
	bhuí	/wi:/	bhí
	bó	/bo:/	beo
	bhó	/wo:/	bheo
c	caoirigh	/ki:r'ə/	círe
	chaoirigh	/xi:r'ə/	chíre
	cúis	/ku:s'/	ciumhais
	chúis	/xu:s'/	chiumhais
d	dúil	/du:l'/	diúil
	dhúil	/yu:l'/	dhiúil
	dá	/da:/	deá
	dhá	/ɣa:/	dheá
f	faoi	/fi:/	fiche
	fál	/fa:L/	feall
g	gall	/ga:L/	geall
	ghall	/ɣa:L/	gheall
	ngall	/ŋa:L/	ngeall
	gaoth	/gi:/	gi
l	lae	/Le:/	léigh
	kí	/La:/	leáigh
m	maoin	/mi:n'/	mín
	mall	/ma:L/	meall
	mhall	/wa:L/	mheall
n	naoi	/Ni:/	ní
p	puca	/pukə/	piocadh
	phuca	/fukə/	phiocadh
r ¹	croí	/kri:/	crích
s	suí	/si:/	sí
	súil	/su:l'/	siúil
t	tuí	/ti:/	tí
	tús	/tu:s/	tiús

(b) in non-initial position and differentiating between grammatical forms:

Consonant	broad	slender
b	lúb	/lu:b/	luíb
d	bád	/ba:d/	báid
g /g/	bréag	/b'r'e:g/	bréig
/k/	Nollaig	/Nolæk/	Nollaig
p	scóip	/sko:p/	scóip
r	caora	/ki:rə/	caoirigh
s	bás	/ba:s/	báis

¹R in absolute initial position is always pronounced broad (see table in Appendix I).

(c) Double and single l and n. As well as the double slender l and n illustrated in (a) above there is also a single slender l and n:

Consonant	double		single
l	buille	/bi:l'ə/	buile	/bil'ə/
	caill	/ka:L'l/	cáil	/ka:l'l/
n	cinneadh	/k'in'ə/	cine	/k'in'ə/
	Spáinn	/spa:N'l/	'spáin	/spa:n'l/

This distinction can be used to differentiate between grammatical forms (which will be explained in later lessons):

Consonant	double		single
l	léigh	/L'e:/	léigh	/l'e:/
n	nigh	/N'i/	nigh	/n'i/

(iii) Long and short vowels:

Vowel	short		long
e	te	/t'e/	té	/t'e:/
i	min	/m'in/	mín	/m'i:n/
o	posta	/posta/	pósta	/po:sta/
u	cur	/kur/	cúr	/kur/

There is no short /a/ in this dialect. The a which is written without a length mark is normally pronounced /a:/ or (in certain circumstances - see Appendix I) as /æ:/:

cas	/ka:s/	cás	/ka:s/
ceas	/k'æ:s/

EXERCISE

First, if at all possible, listen to the phrases given below. Then using the fold-out table inside the back cover study the pronunciation and learn them by rote. The words and grammar involved will recur and be explained in the ensuing lessons.

Cén fáth ?	/k'e:N fa:/	Why ?
Cén áit ?	/k'e:N a:t'/	Where ?
Úna atá orm.	/u:Nə ta: orəm/	I am called Úna.
Gabh mo leithscéal !	/go mə l'is'k'e:L/	Excuse me !
Tá go maith !	/ta: gə ma:/	Alright !
Más é do thoil é.	/ma: s'e: də hil'e:/	Please !
Go raibh maith 'ad.	/go rə ma: a:d/	Thank you !
Tá fáilte romhat .	/ta: fa:L'tə ru:t/	You are welcome.
Cén'l chaoi a bhfuil tú ?	/k'e xi: wil'tu:/	How are you ?
Oíche mhaithe !	/i: wa:/	Good night !
Mar sin é ?	/mar s'in' e:/	Is that so ?
Muise !	/mus'ə/	Indeed !

¹Exceptionally the n in cén is not pronounced. Note also in fast speech neighbouring consonants may affect one another. The final consonant of a word may be influenced by the quality of the first consonant of the next, e.g. /k'e xi: wil'tu:/ where the /t/ of bhfuil is made broad in preparation for the t of tú. This, however, need not trouble the beginner.

LESSON 2

VOCABULARY

bord	/baʊrd/	pl. boird /baʊrd'/	table
cóta	/ko:tə/	cótáí /ko:tí:/	coat
cupán	/ku:pá:n/	cupáín /ku:pá:n'/	cup
doras	/dorəs/	doírsé /dors'ə/	door
duine	/din'ə/	daóine /di:n'ə/	person, people
fear	/f'æ:r/	fír /f'ir/	man, husband
gasúr	/ga:su:r/	gasúír /ga:su:r'/	child
lampa	/la:mpə/	lampáí /la:mpi:/	lamp
múinteoir	/mu:N't'o:r/	múinteoirí /mu:N't'o:r'i:/	teacher
rud	/rud/	rudaí /rudi:/	thing
teach	/t'æ:x/	títhe /t'i:/	house
timpiste	/t'i:m'p'æs'tə/	timpistí /t'i:m'p'æs't'i:/	accident
Bríd	/b'r'i:d/	(woman's name)
Cáit	/ka:t/	(woman's name)
Máirtín	/ma:r'ti:n/	(man's name)
eile	/el'ə/	other, another
sásta	/sa:stə/	satisfied, willing, pleased
ann	/a:N/	there (see this lesson)
anois	/ən'is/	now
anseo	/ə'n's'o/	here
ansin	/ə'n's'in/	there, then
ansiúd	/ə'n's'u:d/	there (see this lesson)
ar bith	/ə(r) b'i/	any ... (at all), no ... (at all)
ach	/a:x/	but, however
ach a oiread	/a:x er'ed/	either agus, is	/ogəs/, /a:gəs/, /əs/	and
freisin	/fros'ən/	too, also, indeed
ná	/nə:/	(neither ...) nor
tá	/ta:/	is
níl	/N'i:l/	is not
an bhfuil	/ən wil/	(see this lesson)
nach bhfuil	/Nax wil/	(see this lesson)
go bhfuil	/gə wil/	(see this lesson)
táthar	/ta:r/	one is, people are níltear	/N'i:L't'ər/	one is not, people are not bhfuiltear	/wil.t'ər/	(see this lesson)
deir	/d'er/	says
mé, mise	/m'e:/, /m'is'ə/	I
tú, tusa	/tu:/, /tusə/	you
sé, seisean	/s'e:/, /s'es'ən/	he, it
sí, sise	/s'i:/, /s'is'ə/	she muid, muide	/mid', /mid'ə/	we
sibh, sibhse	/s'ib', /s'ib'sə/	you (pl.)
siad, siadsan	/s'i:əd/, /s'i:ədsən/	they

VOCABULARY NOTE:

A second person singular pronoun, e.g. tú, tusa, is used when addressing one person. A second person plural pronoun, e.g. sibh, sibhse, is used when addressing more than one person. The plural is not used to express politeness or formality.

GRAMMAR

1. NO INDEFINITE ARTICLE

Irish has no indefinite article. ‘A man’ is simply expressed by fear.

2. THE VERB TÁ

(i) Statement

Tá Cáit anseo.
Tá fear agus gasúr anseo.
Tá mé anseo.

Cáit is here.
 There is a man and a child here.
 I am here.

(ii) Negation

Níl Cáit anseo.

Cáit is not here.

(iii) Questions

An bhfuil Cáit anseo ?
Nach bhfuil sí anseo ?

Is Cáit here ?
 Is she not here ?

(iv) Indirect speech

Deir sé go bhfuil Cáit anseo.
Deir sé nach bhfuil Cáit anseo.

He says that Cáit is here.
 He says that Cáit is not here.

(v) Summary table:

		Tá Níl	Cáit mé mise, etc.	anseo.
	An Nach	bhfuil
Deir sé	go nach

(vi) Usage

The verb tá originally meant ‘stands’ but has come to mean ‘is’. It is, however, as we shall see, not used to link two nouns or pronouns.

When a sentence with the verb tá does not contain an adjective, e.g. Tá Cáit sásta ‘Cáit is content’, or an adverb (adverbial phrase) of place, e.g. Tá Cáit anseo ‘Cáit is here’, ann is inserted: Tá fear ann ‘There is a man (there)’ or ‘A man exists’. In the case of a noun describing an event, e.g. timpiste ‘accident’, an adverb of time is sufficient.

(vii) Autonomous form

Táthar sásta anseo.

People are content here.

This form expresses the idea ‘one is’ or ‘people (in general) are’. It is autonomous, that is, it stands on its own, needing no specific subject.

		Táthar Níltear
	An Nach	bhfuiltear
Deir sé	go nach		sásta anseo.

3. CONTRAST

In Irish, contrast is expressed by a special set of pronouns, rather than by stress.

Tá mise anseo ach tá sise ansin. I am here but she is there.

Contrast forms have also some marginal functions which are dealt with in later lessons.

4. MEANING OF ANSIÚD

Ansiúd means ‘there’ and emphasises distance (i.e. not present or not previously mentioned), as opposed to ansin ‘there’ which simply points out where something is.

TEXT

- I. 1. Tá Máirtín ansin.
 2. Tá sé ansinanois.
 3. Tá Cáit ansin freisin.
 4. Tá sí ansin freisin.
 5. An bhfuil siad sásta ?
 6. Tá seisean sásta, ach níl sise sásta.
 7. Tá mé anseo.
 8. Tá muid anseo.
 9. Tá mise sásta, ach an bhfuil tusa sásta ?
 10. Níl sibh anseo anois.
 11. Nach bhfuil duine ar bith sásta ?
 12. Níltear sásta anseo anois.

- II. 1. Tá teach ansin.
 2. An bhfuil duine ar bith ann ?
 3. Níl duine ar bith ann anois.
 4. Deir siad nach bhfuil Cáit ann anois.
 5. Ach an bhfuil Bríd ann ?
 6. Níl Bríd ann ach a oiread.
 7. Tá doras anseo.
 8. Tá bord agus lampa ansin.
 9. Tá cupán agus rudáí eile ansin freisin.
 10. Deir siad go bhfuil múinteoir anseo anois.
 11. Tá muide sásta, ach an bhfuil siadsan sásta ?

TRANSLATE:

1. Máirtín and Bríd are *there*¹. 2. There is a house there. 3. Aren't there tables and other things ? 4. There aren't any doors at all here. 5. There are neither men nor children here. 6. Isn't there any lamp ? 7. There is no lamp at all. 8. There is neither a door nor a lamp here. 9. I am satisfied now. 10. Are you satisfied ? 11. He says that they are here too. 12. We are satisfied, but are you (pl.) satisfied ? 13. There are teachers and other people too 14. You are not content but I am content.. 15. One is content there.

¹The word 'there' is italicised where the demonstrative ansin is required.

LESSON 3

VOCABULARY

airgead	/ə:r̄'eɡ'əd/		money, silver am	/ɑ:m/	pl. amanna /a:mənɪ:/	time, pl. sometimes
anam	/a:nəm/	anannacha	soul
athair	/a:r̄'/	athaireacha	father
bád	/bɑ:d/	báid	boat
balla	/ba:Lə/	ballaf	wall
bóthar	/bo:r̄/	bóithr̄í /bo:r̄i:/	road
cailín	/ka:l̄'i:n̄/	cailíni	girl
feilméara	/f'el̄'əm̄'e:r̄/	feilméaraí	farmer
fuinneog	/fi:n̄'o:ḡ/	fuinneoga	window
garraf	/ga:r̄i/	garranta /ga:rənti:/	field, garden
geata	/ḡ æ:tə/	geataí	gate
leabhar	/l̄'aur/	leabhartha	book
mac	/ma:k/	mic /m̄'ik'/	son
mapa	/ma:pə/	mapaí	map
muintir	/mi:N̄'t̄'ər̄/		near relations, inhabitants
páipéar	/pa:p̄'e:r̄/	páipéir	paper, newspaper
peictiúr	/p̄'ek't̄'u:r̄/	peictiúir	picture
seomra	/s̄'u:m̄ə/	seomraí	room
tarbh	/ta:ru:/	toirbh /ter̄'aw'/	bull
uncail	/u:ŋkəl̄/	uncaileacha	uncle
Bairbre	/ba:r̄'əb̄'r̄ə/	(woman's name)
Ciarraí	/k̄'i:ən̄:/	Kerry
Diarmuid	/d̄'i:ərm̄d̄:/	(man's name)
Donncha	/du:n̄xə/	(man's name)
Fionnasclainn	/fi:n̄əskləN̄n̄/	(place-name)
Gaoth Sáile	/gi: 'sa:l̄ə/	(place-name)
Glinsce	/ḡl̄i:n̄'s̄'k̄ə/	(place-name)
Máire	/ma:r̄ə/	(woman's name)
Meireacá	/m̄'er̄'əka:/	America
Ó Bia	/o: 'b̄i:ə/	(surname)
Páidín	/pa:d̄'i:n̄/	(man's name)
Peige	/p̄'eḡə/	(woman's name)
Sasana	/sa:səNə/	England
Seáinfn	/s̄'a:n̄'i:n̄/	(man's name)
Séamaisín	/s̄'e:m̄əs'i:n̄/	(man's name)
Tír an Fhia	/t̄'i:i:r̄'əN̄i:/	(place-name)
Tomáisín	/tumɑ:s'i:n̄/	(man's name)
feicim	/f'ek'əm̄/	I see
cá bhfuil	/ka:l̄'/	where is ?
go leor	/ḡ L̄'o:r̄/	plenty of, enough (before or after noun)
ar chor ar bith	/ə xor ə b̄i/	at all

VOCABULARY NOTE:

All plural forms of more than one syllable ending in -cha, -nna, nta, -óga are pronounced as though spelt -cháil, -nnál, -ntál, -ógal, e.g. athaireachai /æ:r'əxi:/, amanna /a:məNɪ:/, fuinneoga /fɪn'ɔ:gɪ:/ . A general guide to the formation of the plural is given in Appendix II.

GRAMMAR

1. LENITION

cóta Cháit	Cáit's coat
muintir Chiarraí	the people of Kerry

When a proper noun (i.e. names of people or places, but not of languages) follows directly, in genitive relation, on another noun, its initial consonant changes, e.g. c → ch.

This table shows how the consonants affected by this change called 'lenition' are replaced by a related sound:

c	Cáit Ciarraí	muintir Cháit muintir Chiarraí
p	Páidín Peige	muintir Pháidín muintir Pheige
g	Gaoth Sáile Glinsce	muintir Ghaoth Sáile muintir Ghlinisce
d	Donncha Diarmuid	muintir Dhonncha muintir Dhiarmuid
b	Bairbre Bríd	muintir Bhairbre muintir Bhríd
m	Máire Meireacá	muintir Mháire muintir Mheireacá
f	Fionnasclainn	muintir Fhionnasclainn
t	Tomáisín Tír an Fhia	muintir Thomáisín muintir Thír an Fhia
s¹	Sasana Séamaísín Seánín	muintir Shasana muintir Shéamaísín muintir Sheánín

Lenition is shown in spelling by writing an h. Study closely the fold-out table at the back of the book and be sure to understand the change in pronunciation.

Cáit	c /k/ → ch /χ/
Ciarraí	c /k'/ → ch /χ'/
Páidín	p /p/ → p /f/ etc.

¹s when followed by any consonant except l, n, r is not affected.

2. LENITION IN PERSONAL NAMES

Often in rural areas where Irish is spoken, a person whose ‘official’ name is for example Máirtín Ó Bia and whose father (or some other important relation) is Seáinín, may be known as Máirtín Sheáinín (Máirtín of Seáinín, Seáinín’s Máirtín).

TEXTS

SEOMRAÍ

‘Tá seomraí go leor anseo.’

‘An bhfuil Donncha agus Cáit agus Peighe agus Bairbre anseo ?’

‘Tá seomra Dhonncha ansin, seomra Cháit ansin, seomra Pheige ansin agus seomra Bhairbre ansin.’

‘Nach bhfuil Páidín agus Máire agus Diarmaid ann freisin ?’

‘Tá seomra Pháidín ansin agus tá seomra Dhiarmaid ansin freisin. Tá seomra Mháire anseo.’

‘Tá cóta Mháire anseo agus airgead Mháire freisin. Níl leabhartha Shéamaisín anseo.’

MAPA

‘Tá mapa Thomáisín anseo.’

‘Cá bhfuil Conamara agus Ciarrai ? ’

‘Tá Conamara anseo agus Ciarrai ansin.’

‘Feicim Tír an Fhia agus Glinsce anseo agus Fionnasclainn ansin.’

‘Nach bhfuil Gaoth Sáile anseo ??’

‘Níl Gaoth Sáile anseo. Tá Gaoth Sáile ansin.’

‘An bhfuil feilméaraí Chiarrai sásta ? ’

‘Tá feilméaraí Chiarrai sásta ach níl feilméaraí Chonamara sásta. Níl muintir Ghlinisce ná muintir Fionnasclainn sásta ar chor ar bith.’

‘Deir uncail Cháit nach bhfuil muintir Gaoth Sáile sásta ach a oiread.’

TEACH MHÁIRTÍN

‘Tá bóthar Thír an Fhia ansin. Tá garrai eile ansin. Anseo tá balla agus geata agus ansin iá teach Mháirtín.’

‘Tá mac Mháirtín agus athair Bhríd ann anois freisin, ach tá go leor seomraí ann.’

‘Tá go leor leabhartha agus peictiúir agus páipéir ann. Feicim mapa Shasana agus mapa Mheireacá ansin freisin.’

TRANSLATE:

1. There is a picture, a paper, a book and tables here.
2. Páidín's boat is there and there is a map here.
3. Neither the people of America nor the people of England are satisfied now.
4. Donncha's girl and Peige's husband are there.
5. The farmers of Kerry are not pleased and the farmers of Conamara are not content either.
6. Seáinín's field is there and Seáinín's bull is there too.
7. Diarmuid's house is here.
8. Tomáisín's people are pleased.
9. Where is the Gaoth Sáile road ?
10. There aren't any (news)papers here at all but there are other books.

LESSON 4

VOCABULARY

áit fem.	/a:t'	pl. áiteacha	place
báisteach fem.	/ba:s't'əx/		rain
bean fem.	/b'æ:n/	mná /mra:/	woman
cabaire	/ka:bɔ:r'ə/	cabairí	talkative person, natterer
candáil fem.	/ka:ndlal'/		auction
ceann	/k'a:N/	ceanna /k'æ:nə/	head, end, roof; one
cearc fem.	/k'ær:rk/	cearca	hen
cláirseach fem.	/kla:rs'əx/	cláirseacha	harp
coláiste	/ku:lə:s't'ə/	coláistí	college
Éireannach	/e:r'ənəx/	Éireannai	Irish person
feadasí fem.	/f'æ:di:l'/		whistling
fuacht	/fu:əxt/		cold
Gaeilge fem.	/ge:l'g'ə/		Irish (language)
Gaeltacht fem.	/ge:Ltəxt/	Gaeltachtaí	Irish-speaking area
moladh	/mo:lə/	moltaí	praise, suggestion
náisiún	/Na:s'u:N/	náisiúin /Na:s'u:n'/	nation
póca	/po:kə/	pócaí	pocket
pota	/potə/	potaí	pot
sagart	/sa:gərt/	sagairt	priest
scéalaíf	/s'k'e:li:/	scéalaithe	storyteller
scian fem.	/s'k'i:N/	sceana /s'k'æ:Nə/	knife
scian phóca fem.	/s'k'i:N fo:ka:/		pocketknife, penknife
solas	/sołəs/	soilse /sail'sə/	light
talamh	/ta:Lə/	talait /ta:Lti:/	ground, land
tír fem.	/t'i:r'/	tíreacha	country, land
Éirinn fem.	/e:r'əN'/		Ireland
álainn	/a:LəN'/		beautiful, lovely
aoibhinn	/i:w'əN'/		pleasant, delightful
beag	/b'og/		small, little breá	/b'r'a:/		fine
cinnte	/k'i:N't'ə/		certain(ly), sure(ly) deas	/d'æ:s/		nice
dona	/duNə/		bad, ill
iontach	/i:Ntəx/		wonderful, extraordinary
leisciúil	/l'es'k'u:l'/		lazy
maith	/ma:/		good
mór	/mo:r/		big
olc	/olk/		bad, evil
réasúnta	/re:su:Nta/		reasonable(y), fair(ly)
a	/ə/		(vocative particle)
an	/ə/		the (see Lesson 5) ar	/er'/		on

ar aon chaoi¹	/ər' 'e: xi:/	at any rate, anyway, anyhow
aríst	/ə'r'i:s't/	again
b'fhéidir (go/nach)	/b' e:d'ər'/	maybe, perhaps bhoil	/wel'/	well (pause-word)

GRAMMAR

1. VOCATIVE PARTICLE

A Cháit!

An bhuail tú ansin, a Bhríd?

Cáit!

Are you there, Bríd?

The vocative particle a /ə/, which is not stressed, lenites a following noun.

2. GENDER

In Irish a noun is either masculine or feminine. In the vocabularies in each lesson feminine (fem.) will be marked; all other nouns are masculine.

(i) General principles

There is no absolute rule for determining gender. There are, however, some general principles:

- (a) Nouns describing males (of humans and, where the distinction is made, of animals), e.g. Máirtín, uncail ‘uncle’, tarbh ‘bull’, and occupations originally associated with males, e.g. sagart ‘priest’, are all masculine.
- (b) Nouns describing females, e.g. Cáit, bean ‘woman’, cearc ‘hen’, and names of countries and languages, e.g. Éirinn ‘Ireland’, Gaeilge ‘Irish’, are almost all feminine.
- (c) Otherwise, nouns ending in a broad consonant tend to be masculine, e.g. gasúr ‘child’, and those ending in a slender consonant are feminine, e.g. muintir ‘people’.

(ii) Apart from those general principles:

- (a) Nouns with the following endings are consistently masculine:

-án	cupán	cup
-ín	cailín	girl
-úr	gasúr	child
-ún	náisiún	nation
-as	doras	door
-ar	pórtar	porter
-(ái)ste	coláiste	college
-óir/-eoir	múinteoir	teacher
-aire	cabaire	natterer
-éara	feilméara	farmer
-aí	scéalaf	storyteller
-adh	moladh	praising
-amh	gaineamh	sand
(with two syllables)	-a	coat
(derived from noun)	-ach	Irishman
(with one syllable)	-cht	cold

¹The final n of aon is not pronounced in this phrase.

(b) Nouns with the following endings are consistently feminine:

	-óig/-eoig	fuinneoig	window
	-áil	candaíl	auction
	-aíl	feadaíl	whistling
(more than two syllables)	-acht	Gaeltacht	Gaeltacht
(mass nouns)	-ach	báisteach	rain
	-seach	cláirseach	harp

3. ADJECTIVES

(i) Predicative use

Níl Bríd mór.
Tá Cáit agus Páidín sássta.

Bríd is not big.
Cáit and Páidín are content.

About eight adjectives indicating subjective judgment (when not qualified by an adverb) take the unstressed particle go. If the adjective begins with a vowel, h is prefixed:

Tá sé	go maith	It is	good/well
	go breá		fine
	go deas		nice
	go dona		bad
	go haoibhinn		pleasant
	go hiontach		wonderful
	go hálainn		beautiful
	go holc		wicked

(ii) Modifying and directly following nouns in the singular:

Tá gasúr mór ansin.
Tá fuinneoig mhór ansin.
Tá bean mhór bhreá anseo.

There is a big child there.
There is a big window here.
There is a fine big woman there.

An adjective directly following and modifying a feminine noun is lenited¹. Go is not required with adjectives of subjective judgment in this usage.

4. LENITION OF SLENDER L AND N

Tá Máire leisciúil anseo. /l̪/ Lazy Máire is here.

Lenition of l or n is not shown in spelling but a distinction is made in pronunciation by some speakers of the dialect.

leisciúil /l̪/ Máire leisciúil /l̪/

In the same way, lenited /N/ becomes /n/. Study the table at the back of the book and see also phonetic exercise (c) in Lesson 1.

¹In certain expressions where a noun is used attributively (i.e. like an adjective) it is also lenited after a feminine noun, e.g. scian phóca 'pocket knife'.

TEXTS

MAPA EILE

'A Cháit, an bhfuil mapa ann ?'

'Tá mapa ann cinnte.'

'Tá go leor tíreacha ar an mapa. Tá Meireacá ansin agus tír mhór eile anseo.'

'Níl an solas go maith anseo. Níl fuinneoga ar bith ann.'

'Tá lampa maith anseo.'

'Anois, cá bhfuil Éirinn agus cá bhfuil Conamara ?'

'Tá Éirinn anseo tá Conamara ansin.'

'An bhfuil Conamara mór ?'

'Tá sé réasúnta mór.'

'Cá bhfuil Ciarrat ? An bhfuil Gaeltacht ansin freisin ?'

'Tá go leor Gaeilge ansin freisin.'

'An bhfuil coláiste ann ?'

'B'fhéidir go bhfuil ceann ann. Níl mé cinnte. Tá díl dheas eile ansin agus tá Gaeltacht bheag ann freisin.'

PEICTIÚIR

Bhoil, tá peictiúir go leor anseo ar aon chaoi. Nach bhfuil siad go deas ? Tá Cáit agus bean bhrefé eile ansin agus tá mná eile anseo. Tá peictiúir deas eile anseo ach tá báisteach ann agus níl an solas go maith. Tá sagart ansin agus bean Pháidín agus Éireannach eile anseo. Tá siad go hiontach ! Tá ceann iontach eile anseo. Tá rudaí go leor ar an talamh ansin. Tá teach Bhríd anseo agus tá cearc mhór agus pota beag ann. Tá ceann álann eile ansin agus tá cláirseach mhór agus scian phóca ansin. Tá siad go hálainn !

TRANSLATE:

1. There are lots of countries on the map.
2. Cáit, where is England ?
3. There is a big window there and another nice window here.
4. It is nice now. It is beautiful.
5. There is a good man there and a good woman too.
6. There is good Irish here. There is no college at all.
7. Diarmuid, there is a big room there and there is also a fine harp.
8. There is a fine big window here.
9. There are lots of countries and nations.
10. Maybe Páidín's wife and Bríd's husband are here.
11. There is rain and cold.
12. There is a nice woman, and a priest, a big farmer and another tall Irish person here.
13. There is a big Gaeltacht here, in any case.
14. There is a fine place here and perhaps there is another one there.
15. We are here again. It is wonderful.

LESSON 5

VOCABULARY

abhairn fem.	/auN'/	pl. aibhneacha	river
Béarla	/b'e:rla:/	/aiw'N'əxi:/	English (language)
bia	/b'i:a/		food
bliain fem.	/b'l'i:ən'/	blianta /b'l'i:əntə/	year
cathaoir fem.	/kair'/	cathaoireacha	chair
cisteannach fem.	/k'is't'ənəχə/	cisteannacha	kitchen
cloch fem.	/kloχ/	clocha	stone, stoneweight
clog	/klog/	cloganna	clock, bell
cupla (with sing.)	/kuplə/		a few deoch fem.	/d'ox/	deocharra	drink
éan	/e:N/	éanacha	bird
farc	/fa:rk/	farcanna	fork
fón	/fo:N/	fónanna	telephone
Fraincis fem.	/fræ:ŋ'k'əs'/		French (language)
gloine fem.	/glin'ə/	gloiniúcha	glass
láimh fem.	/lə:w'/	lámha /lə:wə/	hand, handle
leaba fem.	/l'æ:bə/	leapacha	bed
óiche fem.	/i:/	óicheanta	night
orlár	/aurlə:r/	orláir	floor
pláta	/pla:tə/	plátaí	plate
pláta beag			dinner plate
pláta mór			side plate
sásar	/sa:sər/	sásair	saucer
seomra codlata	/s'u:mra kɔlətə/	seomraí codlata	bedroom
spúnóig fem.	/spu:No:g'/	spúnóga	spoon
spúnóig bheag fem.			teaspoon
spúnóig mhór fem.			tablespoon
stail fem.	/stæ:l'/	staltracha /sta:ltrəxi:/	stallion
susleáil fem.	/si:l'ə:l'/	süileálacha	ceiling
taobh	/ti:w/	taobhanna	side
tine fem.	/t'in'ə/	tintreacha /t'i:N't'rəxi:/	fire
Lochán Beag	/Loxa:N b'og/	(place-name)
a	/ə/	his
amháin	/ə'wa:n'/	one, only an	/ə(N) /	the
ard	/a:rd/	high, tall
céanna	/k'e:nə/	same
ciúin	/k'u:n'/	quiet, calm
compóirteach	/ku:mpo:rt'əχ/	comfortable
faoi	/fi:/	under, about
in aice le	/iN æ:k'ə l'e/	beside, near leis an	/l'es'ə(N) /	with the
ar ndóigh	/a:rNu:/	of course
mar sin féin	/ma:r s'in' he:n'/	all the same, even so, nevertheless

VOCABULARY NOTE:

Tá an oíche ann. (lit. ‘There is the night’), It is night-time.

GRAMMAR

1. USE OF SÉ AND SÍ

Tá an pota ansin. Níl sé móir.
Tá an chloch ansin. Níl sí móir.
Tá an stail ansin. Níl sí móir.
Tá an cailín ansin. Níl sí móir.

The pot is there. It is not big.
The stone is there. It is not big.
The stallion is there. It is not big.
The girl is there. She is not big.

In general, a masculine noun is referred to by sé and a feminine noun by sí. In the case of a human, sé or sí is used according to sex, e.g. although cailín ‘girl’ is a masculine noun, sí is used. Sé is used to describe a general condition or state, e.g. Tá sé go breá ‘It is fine’.

2. THE DEFINITE ARTICLE

Tá an fear ansin.
Níl an gasúr anseo.

The man is there.
The child is not here.

An /ən/ is unstressed (the main stress is on the following noun), and the n is not pronounced when the article occurs between consonants, e.g. between níl and gasúr: /N'í:l'ə ga:su:r/.

3. ECLIPSIS

Tá éan ar an gcloch.

There is a bird on the stone.

Following almost all prepositions used with the definite article, the initial consonant of a singular noun is changed:

cloch → ar an gcloch.

The c in cloch is retained in spelling but is not pronounced, so that gcloch is pronounced as though spelt gloch. The c is said to be ‘eclipsed’ and this type of change is called ‘eclipsis’.

This table shows how the consonants affected by eclipsis change to a related sound:

		Pronounced as:
cloch	ar an gcloch	gloch
pota	faoiñ bpota	bota
gasúr	leis an ngasúr móir	ngasúr /ŋ/
bád	ár an mbád	mád
fuinneog	ar an bhfuinneog mhór	bhuinneog
fear	leis an bhfeáir	bheár

Although t, d are not affected, e.g. ar an doras, leis an tine, in all other cases where eclipsis is the rule, d changes to nd (pronounced as though spelt n /N/ before a ‘broad’ vowel, /N'/ before a 'slender' vowel) and t changes to dt (pronounced as though spelt d /d/ before a 'broad' vowel, /d'/ before a 'slender' vowel).

As can be seen from the table, the adjective is (as is normal, see Lesson 4) lenited following a feminine noun, e.g. ar an bhfuinneog mhór 'on the big window'; a masculine noun remains unlenited, e.g. ar an ngasúr móir 'on the big child'. The adjective is, however, lenited after a masculine proper noun, e.g. faoi Lochán Bheag 'about Lochán Beag').

A preposition ending in a vowel is written together with an, e.g. faoi bpota 'under the pot', showing the actual pronunciation (see App. 1.5). The n-sound in an is almost always pronounced broad before a 'broad' vowel, and slender before a 'slender' vowel: ar an abhainn /er'ən aʊn', but ar an éan /er'əN' e:N/.

In other circumstances, where eclipsis comes after words not written with a final n, n- is prefixed to the following vowel (examples see Lessons 10 and 11).

TEXT

SEOMRA MHÁIRTÍN

Tá garrai agus abhainn bheag in aice leis an gcoláiste. Tá bóthar ann freisin ach tá an bóthar ciúin. Tá cloch mhór ar an taobh eile agus tá éan ar an gcloch.

Tá an coláiste réasúnta móir agus tá seomraí go leor ann. Tá seomra Mháirtín agus seomra Dhonncha ar an orlár céanna. Tá cisteanach ann freisin.

Níl seomra Mháirtín móir ach mar sin féin tá sé go deas. Tá fuinneoig mhór dheas ann. Tá boird agus cupla cathaoir ann. Tá cathaoir in aice leis an bhfuinneog agus tá ceann eile in aice leis an doras. Tá bord beag in aice leis an tine. Tá an fón ar an mbord. Tá suilleáil bhreá ard ann. Tá páipéar ar an mballa. Tá clog ar an mballa in aice leis an doras. Tá mapa agus peictiúir ar an doras. Ar ndóigh, tá leaba ann freisin. Níl sí móir ach tá sí compóirteach mar sin féin. Tá peictiúir Mháire ar an mballa in aice leis an leaba.

Tá an oíche annanois agus tá leabhartha agus páipéir Mháirtín ar an mbord beag in aice leis an bhfón. Tá an lampa ar an mbord. Tá bia agus deoch anois ar an mbord móir. Tá pláta móir agus pláta beag ann. Tá scian agus farc in aice leis an bpláta. Tá cupán ann freisin agus tá sásar faoin gcupán. Tá spúnóig bheag ar an sásar. Tá gloine ar an mbord freisin. Tá Máirtín ansin. Tá a láimh ar an ngloine agus ar ndóigh, tá sé sásta. Tá sé bliain anseo anois. Tá sé sásta leis an múinteoir Béarla ach níl sé sásta leis an múinteoir Gaeilge. Mar sin féin, tá sé sásta leis an gcoláiste.

TRANSLATE:

1. Bríd's room is here. It is small but all the same it is nice.
2. There is a kitchen and it is big too.
3. The books are there on the floor. There are a lot on the table too.
4. Máire is on the phone. Where is the phone ? It is there near the door.
5. There is food on the plate.
6. There are a few chairs near the fire.
7. There are books and papers on the chair.
8. Máirtín's hand is on the glass.
9. Are you satisfied with the nation ?
10. There is a teaspoon on the saucer.
11. They are not satisfied with the teacher at all.
12. The nice place is on the map.
13. Is there French there ?
14. There is good French there.

LESSON 6

VOCABULARY

bróig fem.	/bro:g'/	pl. bróga	shoe
bus	/bus/	busanna	bus
cabhantar	/kaun'tar/	cabhantair	counter
carr	/ka:r/	carranna /ka:rənə:/	car, cart
'chuile shórt	/xil'ə ho:rt/		everything, every sort of tree
crann	/kra:N/	croinnté /kri:N'tə/
culaith fem.	/ku:lə/	cultacha	suit (of clothes)
deaide	/d'æ:d'ə/		dad, daddy
éadach	/e:dəx/	éadaí	cloth, clothes
geansaí	/g'æ:n'si:/	geansaóocha	jumper, jersey
gúna	/gu:Nə/	gúnáí	dress
léine fem.	/L'e:n'ə/	léinteacha	shirt
maime fem.	/ma:m'ə/	L'é:N'təxi:/	mam, mummy
máthair fem.	/ma:r'ı/	máthaireacha	mother
mórán¹	/mo:rd:N/		many, much
neart	/N'ær:t/		many, lots of
sciorta	/s'k'irtə/	sciortai	skirt
seachtain fem.	/s'æ:xtən'/	seachtaini	week
seacíead	/s' æ:k e:d/	seacíeid	jacket
siopa	/s'u:pə/	siopai	shop
sráid fem.	/sra:d'/	sráideanna	street
stoca	/stokə/	stocai	sock, stocking
treabhsar	/t'r'ausər/	treabhsair	pair of trousers
Baile Átha Cliath	/b'l'a: 'k'l'i:ə/	Dublin
cosúil (leis an)	/kosu:l'/	like (the)
daor	/di:r/	expensive, dear
saor	/si:r/	cheap
tinn	/t'i:N'/	sick, sore
ag	/eg'/	at
amáireach	/ə'ma:r'əx/	tomorrow
anuraidh	/ə'nɔrə/	last year
ariamh	/ə'r'i:əw/	ever, never go minic	/gə m'in'ik'/	often
inné	/ə'N'e:/	yesterday
mar sin	/ma:r s'in'/	so, like that muis(e)	/mus'(ə)/	indeed ! now !
nó	/Nu:/	or
bhí	/w'i:/	was, had been
ní/an/nach/go raighe	/...ro/	(see this lesson)
beidh	/b'eɪ/	will be, will have been ní bheidh	/N'i: w'eɪ/	will not be an/nach/go mbeidh	/...m'eɪ/	(see this lesson)

¹ Mórán is used only in a negative statement, e.g. Níl móráin..., or in a question, e.g. An bhfuil móráin ... ? Otherwise neart etc. are used.

bhíothadh	/w' i:u:/	one was, people were (see this lesson)
ní/an/nach/go rabhadh	/...rohu:/	one will be, people will be beifear	/b' eia:/r/	one will not be, people will not be (see this lesson)
ní bheifear	/w'eia:r/
an/nach/go mbeifear	/...m'eia:r/

GRAMMAR

1. PAST TENSE OF VERB TÁ

(i) Statement

Bhí Cáit anseo inné.

Cáit was here yesterday.

(ii) Negation

Ní raibh Cáit anseo inné.

Cáit was not here yesterday.

(iii) Questions

An raibh Cáit anseo inné ?

Was Cáit here yesterday ?

Nach raibh Cáit anseo inné ?

Was Cáit not here yesterday ?

(iv) Summary table

Bhí		raibh	Cáit, mé, mise, etc.	anseo inné.
Ní	An
Deir sé	go nach

(v) Autonomous form

Bhíothadh sásta anseo inné.

People were content here yesterday.

Table:

Bhíothadh		sásta anseo inné.
Ní	An	rabhadh	sásta anseo inné.
Deir sé	go nach

(vi) Meaning of past tense

Bhí Cáit anseo.

Cáit was here.

In the verb tá there is no distinction between a preterite 'was' and a pluperfect 'had been'. A perfect meaning can be expressed by using the present, e.g. Tá Cáit anseo seachtain anois 'Cáit is / has been here a week now'.

2. FUTURE TENSE OF TÁ

(i) Statement

Beidh Cáit anseo amáireach. Cáit will be here tomorrow.

(ii) Negation

Ní bheidh Cáit anseo amáireach. Cáit will not be here tomorrow.

(iii) Questions

An mbeidh Cáit anseo amáireach ? Will Cáit be here tomorrow ?
Nach mbeidh Cáit anseo amáireach ? Will Cáit not be here tomorrow ?

(iv) Summary table:

Beidh		Cáit, mé mise, etc.	anseo amáireach.
Ní	bheidh
An	mbeidh
Deir sé	go nach

(v) Autonomous forms

Beifear sásta anseo amáireach. People will be satisfied here tomorrow.

Beifear		sásta anseo amáireach.
Ní	bheifear
An	mbeifear
Deir sé	go nach

(vi) Meaning of future tense

Beidh Cáit anseo seachtain amáireach. Cáit will be / have been here a week tomorrow.

In Irish no distinction is made between a future, e.g. 'will be' and a future perfect, e.g. 'will have been'.

3. LENITION AND ECLIPSIS AFTER MAIN VERBAL PARTICLES

(i) Lenition

Ní always causes lenition: ní bheidh = ní + beidh
Níl (a contracted form of ní fhuil) = ní + fhuil

Raibh does not change as r is not affected by lenition.

(ii) Eclipsis

An, nach; go, nach always cause eclipsis:

An mbeidh ... ?	=	an + beidh
An bhfuil ... ?	=	an + fuil
Nach mbeidh ... ?	=	nach + beidh

Nach bhfuil ... ?	=	nach + fuil
... go mbeidh	=	go + beidh
... go bhfuil	=	go + fuil
... nach mbeidh	=	nach + beidh
... nach bhfuil	=	nach + fuil

Raibh does not change as r is not affected by eclipsis.

4. INDEPENDENT AND DEPENDENT FORMS

Where there is a difference, the form used in a statement, e.g. bhí, is called the independent form and that after ní, an, go, nach, e.g. raibh, the dependent form.

5. RESPONSES

There is no word corresponding to English ‘yes’ or ‘no’. The appropriate form of the verb is repeated:

Question or statement	Response
An bhfuil Cáit anseo ?	Tá.	Yes, she is.
Is Cáit here ?	Níl.	No, she is not.
Beidh muid anseo amáireach.	Beidh.	Yes, we will.
We will be here tomorrow.	Ní bheidh.	No, we won’t.
Nach bhfuiltear sásta anseo ?	Táthar.	Yes, they are.
Are people not content here ?	Níltear.	No, they are not.

In normal unstressed responses, unless the subject is included in the verb form, e.g. táthar, there is no need to repeat it, e.g. An bhfuil Cáit anseo ? Tá (not Tá Cáit.)

6. INDIRECT QUESTIONS (‘IF/WHETHER ... OR NOT’)

Níl mé cinnte an bhfuil Cáit anseo nó nach bhfuil.

I am not certain whether Cáit is here or not.

The indirect question in Irish is generally exactly the same as the indirect question, e.g. An bhfuil Cáit anseo nó nach bhfuil ? ‘Is Cáit here (or (is she) not) ?’

7. EXPRESSING ‘TO HAVE’

Tá teach ag an mbeán.

The woman has a house.

‘Somebody has something’ is expressed by saying (literally) ‘There is something at somebody’.

TEXT

BAILE ÁTHA CLIATH

Ní raibh Máire bheag ariamh ann. 'Tá Baile Átha Cliath mór, cinnte' a¹ deir máthair Mháire, 'tá neart sráideanna agus níl mórrán croinnte ann ar chor ar bith.' Bhí máthair Mháire seachtain ann anuraidh, ach bhí Máire tinn agus mar sin ní raibh sí ann ariamh.

'A Mhaime, an bhfuil mórrán carranna agus busanna ann ?' a deir Máire.

'Tá, agus ar ndóigh, tá go leor siopáí ann freisin.'

'An bhfuil siad go deas ?'

'Tá, cinnte. Tá siopa mór deas ann agus beidh muid ann amáireach.'

'An raibh tusa ansin ariamh, a Dheáide ?' a deir Máire.

'Bhí, muis, bhí mé ansin go minic. Níl sé cosúil leis an siopa anseo.'

'An bhfuil mórrán éadaí ann ?'

'Ar ndóigh tá 'chuile shórt ann. Tá cabhantair go leor ann. B'fhéidir go mbeidh cótaí agus seaicéid ag cabhantar amháin agus beidh treabhsair agus cultacha ag ceann eile.'

'Nach bhfuil léinteacha agus geansaíocha ann '

'Tá cinnte. Tá 'chuile shórt mar sin ann.'

'Tá gúnaí agus sciortáí ann freisin', a deir máthair Mháire. 'Bhí bróga agus stocáí ann anuraidh in aice leis an doras.'

'Bhí, a deir Máirtín, athair Mháire, 'agus tá mé cinnte go raibh siad daor.'

'Ní raibh, muis, ní raibh siad daor ar chor ar bith. Bhí siad réasúnta suor. Bhí bróga saor ann ar aon chaoi. Níl mé cinnte an mbeidh siad ann amáireach nó nach mbeidh. Tá Baile Átha Cliath go hiontach.'

TRANSLATE:

1. Dublin will be wonderful tomorrow.
2. I was a week there last year.
3. Were you (pl.) sick yesterday ?
4. Will you be here tomorrow ? We will be here certainly, at any rate.
5. He is not sure whether he will be here again or not.
6. The woman had a big house and there were lots of rooms.
7. Were there books and papers on the table ? - Yes, indeed.
8. Máire also has a nice coat and a wonderful dress. - Yes, she has indeed.
9. Were there many people ? Was one (were people) satisfied with the place ?
10. There will be lots and lots (go leor leor) of cars and buses on the road but there won't be many trees.
11. There were a few people at the gate again, so Cáit was pleased.
12. Diarmaid has a nice shirt, hasn't he ?
13. There was a street on the other side but there weren't many people.
14. Peige's father and mother were fairly pleased with the picture.
15. There were shirts and pairs of trousers and lots of other clothes on the floor near the window.

¹A deir is used instead of deir after direct speech.

LESSON 7

VOCABULARY

aimsir fem.	/æ:m' s'ær/	weather, time
an iomarca	/ən' umərkə/	too much, too many asal	/a:səl/	donkey
bainne	/ba:N'ə/	milk
beithíoch¹	/b'eix/	cow, beast
bó¹ fem.	/bo:/	cow
caora fem.	/ki:rə/	sheep
capall	/ka:pəl/	horse
cat²	/kut/	cat
cnoc	/kruk/	hill
créatúr	/k'r'e:tu:r/	poor thing, poor fellow
féar	/f'e:r/	grass
feilm fem.	/f'el'əm'/	farm
francach	/fra:ŋkəx/	rat
geimhreadh	/g'i:w'r'ə/	winter
ínín fem.	/in'i:n'/	daughter
madadh	/ma:də/	dog
mí fem.	/m'i:/	month
muic fem.	/mik'/	pig
peata	/p'æ:ta/	pet
rifineach	/rif'i:n'əx/	ruffian
samhradh	/saʊrə/	summer
saol	/si:L/	life
uisce	/is'kə/	water
bocht	/boxt/	poor, miserable
bradach	/bra:dəx/	thieving, sly
'chuile (with len.)	/xil'ə/	every dall	/də:L/	blind
fuar	/fu:ər/	cold
glic	/g'l'ik'/	cute, cunning
íseal	/i:s'əL/	low
óg	/o:g/	young
soibhir	/sew'ər/	rich
spéisiúil	/sp'e:s'u:l'	interesting
tábhachtach	/tə:wəxtəx/	important
uasal	/u:əsəl/	noble, pertaining to gentry or upper class
cé go/nach	/k'e: gə.../	although
chomh maith	/xə ma:/	as well
cineál³	/k'inə:l/	kind of, sort of
go díreach	/gə d'i:r'əx/	exactly, just, directly

¹*Bó* is normally used in the singular and beithígh in the plural ²Pronounced as though spelt cut.

³Pronounced as though spelt cionál.

i geónaf	/ə gu:Ni:/	always, still mar gheall ar ó shin	/mar ɣ'a:L er'/ /o: xin'/	because (of), concerning ago, since that

GRAMMAR

1. THE HABITUAL TENSES OF TÁ

(i) Present habitual

Bíonn Cáit anseo. Cáit is normally here / is wont to be here.

(ii) Past habitual

Bhíodh Cáit anseo. Cáit used to be here.

2. THE CONDITIONAL OF TÁ

Bheadh Cáit anseo. C. would be / would have been here.

3. SUMMARY TABLE OF VERB TÁ

is	was	will be	normally is	used to be	would be
tá mé	bhí mé	beidh mé	bím	bhínn	bheinn
tá tú	bhí tú	beidh tú	bíonn tú	bhíteá	bheifeál/bheitheá
tá sé	bhí sé	beidh sé	bíonn sé	bhíodh sé	bheadh sé
tá sí	bhí sí	beidh sí	bíonn sí	bhíodh sí	bheadh sí
tá muid	bhí muid	beidh muid	bíonn muid	bhíodh muid	bheadh muid
tá sibh	bhí sibh	beidh sibh	bíonn sibh	bhíodh sibh	bheadh sibh
tá siad	bhí siad	beidh siad	bíonn siad	bhídís	bheidís
táthar	bhíothadh	beifear	bítear	bhíti	bheifi

The statement form in the past, habitual past and conditional is always lenited. A final ch-sound in verbal endings, except in autonomous forms, is replaced by a t /t/ sound before a slender s, e.g. sé, sise, sibh, Seán.

Bhíodh muid anseo. /w'i:x/ We used to be here.

Bheadh sé go deas. /w'et's'e:/ It would be nice.

LESSON

4. COMBINED FORMS

bíonn + mé/mise	combine as	bím(se)	/b'i:m'/	I (normally) am bhíodh + mé/mise		bhínn(se)	/w'i:N'/	I used to be bheadh + mé/mise		bheinn(se)	/w'eN'/	I would be bhíodh + tú/tusa		bhíteá(sa)	/w'i:t'a:/	you used to be bheadh + tú/tusa		bheifeál(sa)	/w'ea:/	you would be bhíouth + siad /siadsan		bhídís(ean)	/w'i:d'i:s'/	they used to be bheadh + siad /siadsan		bheidís(ean)	/w'ed'i:s'/	they would be

All verbs have combined forms in the above persons and tenses¹. Contrast forms always add -se /s'ə/ (1.Sg.), -sa /sə/ (2. Sg.) and -sean /s'əN/ (3. Pl.).

The combined form is used in a response:

An mbeifeá ansin ? - Bheinn.	Would you be there ? - Yes.
Bhídísean sásta. - Bhídís.	They used to be content. - Yes, they used to.

The contrast forms, e.g. bhídísean, are never used in these responses.

5. ADJECTIVE MODIFYING NOUNS IN PLURAL

(i) After most nouns

fuinneogaí móra	big windows
daoine glice	cunning people

An unstressed vowel /ə/ is added. This is spelt a after a broad consonant, e.g. mór, and e after a slender consonant, e.g. glic.

(ii) After nouns with plurals spelt with a final consonant

gasúir bheaga	little children
francaigh mhóra	big rats

The adjective is also lenited.²

6. THE VOCATIVE PLURAL

A rifineachaí !	(You) ruffians !
A chearca !	Hens !
A dhaoine uaisle !	Ladies and gentlemen ! (lit. noble people)
A ghasúir bheaga !	(You) little children !
A rifineachaí bradacha !	You thieving ruffians !

The vocative particle a /ə/ always causes lenition (see Leeson 4). Adjectives follow the normal rules for the plural.

There are a few nouns which have a special vocative plural form, e.g. créatúr ‘poor thing’, créatúir ‘poor things’, a chréatúireacháí ! ‘(you) poor things !’; fear ‘man’, fir ‘men’, a fheara ! ‘(you) men !’.

TEXT

FEILM MHUINTIR MHÁIRTÍN

Tá feilm réasúnta móra ag muintir Mháirtín. Níl siad soibhir cé go bhfuil go leor feilméarai soibhir agus daoine uaisle anseo. Ar ndóigh, níl siad bocht ach a oiread ! Tá beithigh bhainne go leor ag Máirtín agus neart caoirigh. Tá cnoc beag in aice leis an bhfeilm agus bionn caoirigh Mháirtín ansin. Bionn beithigh Mháirtín ar an talamh maith go díreach in ¹A further combined form is bhíodar /w'i:dər/ which can be optionally used instead of bhí siad.

²In certain set phrases a noun used attributively (i.e. similarly to an adjective) is lenited in the same way, e.g. beithigh bhainne ‘milch cows’.

aice leis an teach. Tá an féar go maith anois. Ní bhíonn muca ann anois cé go mbíodh neart muca ann cupla bliain ó shin. Tá ceárca ann chomh maith agus ar ndóigh, tá cat agus madadh ann freisin. Tá an cat tábhachtach mar gheall ar go bhfuil an iomarca francaigh mhóra anseo. Tá an cat cineál dall anois ach tá sé glic go leor mar sin féin. Bíonn cait dhall mar sin go minic. Tá cait spéisiúil mar sin.

Tá gasúir bheaga ag Máirtín. Tá peata ag 'chuile dhuine. Tá asal ag Seánín, mac Mháirtín, agus ar ndóigh, bíonn sé bradach anois agus arís. Ní bhíonn móráin asail anseo anois ach cupla bliain ó shin bhíodh go leor leor asail anseo. Bíonn siad daor anois. Tá peata ag Bríd, inín Mháirtín, freisin. Tá capall beag ag Bríd.

Bhí Bairbre bheag anseo cupla mí anuraidh agus bhí sí sásta leis an saol anseo. Bíonn gasúir bheaga sásta leis an saol anseo. Bhí bliain mhaith ag Máirtín anuraidh. Bhí an aimsir go maith. Bhí an samhradh go hiontach, cé nach raibh go leor uisce ann.

'Bíonn an samhradh go deas anseo ach bíonn an geimhreadh go dona. Bíonn muintir Bhaile Átha Cliath mar sin i gcónaí ! Bheifeá sásta anseo anois ach b'fhéidir go mbeadh an geimhreadh fuar, agus an mbeifeá sásta ansin ?' a deir Máirtín leis an gcaillín óg.

'Bheinn,' a deir Bairbre Bheag.

'Níl mé cinnte an mbeifeá !' a deir Máirtín.

'Ó muise, an créatúr,' a deir Cáit, bean Mháirtín, 'bheadh sí sásta cinnte. Bíonn daoine óga sásta i gcónaí, nach mbíonn, a Bairbre Bheag ?'

TRANSLATE:

1. Máirtín had small children.
2. There are nice big windows here.
3. There are big trees and nice fields here now but there will be houses and colleges here.
4. There used to be lots of cows and horses here but now there aren't many at all.
5. They used to be satisfied with the farm, usen't they ?
6. The land usen't to be good here and there used to be too much water.
7. Would you be satisfied with the life on the farm ? Yes, certainly, I would.
8. The summer and the winter would be nice here.
9. There were many rich people here.
10. I was there a few weeks last year and the weather was wonderful.
11. The woman has a son and a daughter.
12. Oh now, the poor thing ! It is cold here again.
13. There are sheep and horses on the hill.
14. Ladies and gentlemen, is everybody satisfied with the place ?
15. I am sure that the book wouldn't be interesting anyway.

LESSON 8

VOCABULARY

aois fem.	/i:s'/		age, century
coicís fem.	/kaik' i:s'/		fortnight
cois fem.	/kos'/	pl. cosa	leg, foot
croí	/kri:/	croít	heart
deartháir	/d' r'a:r'/	deartháracha	brother
dínnéar	/d'i:N'e:r/	dínnéir	dinner
drioifúr fem.	/d'r'aur/	drioifúracha	sister
eochair fem.	/oxər'/	eochairacha	key
lá	/la:/	laethanta /le:Nti:/	day
óige fem.	/o:g'ə/		youth, childhood
posta	/posta/	postaí	job, post; post office
scéal	/s'k'e:L/	scéalta	story, news
scoil fem.	/skel'/	scoileanna	school
súil fem.	/su:l'/	súile	eye
tráthnóna	/, tra:'Nu:Nə/	tráthnónai	evening
uair fem.	/u:ər'/	uaireanta	time, hour, pl. sometimes
úlla	/u:Lə/	úllat	apple
Ruairí	/ru:ər'i:/	(man's name)
Úna	/u:Nə/	(woman's name)
cloisim	/klos'əm'/	I hear
sílim	/s'i:l'əm'/	I think
tigim	/t'ig'əm'/	I understand
cantalach	/ka:NtəLəx/	bad-humoured, cranky
ceart	/k'æ:rt/	right, correct
dána	/da:Nə/	bold
fliuch	/f'l'ox/	wet
marbh	/ma:ru:/	dead
sean	/s' æ:N/	old
tuirseach	/tors'əx/	tired
uilig¹	/ə'l'ug/	entire(ly), all, altogether
na	/Nə/	the (pl.)
arú amáireach	/a:ru: mə:r'əx/	the day after tomorrow
arú anuraidh	/a:ru: Nərə/	the year before last
arú inné	/a:ru: N'e:/	the day before yesterday
go háirithe	/gə hə:r'əd/	especially go hiondúil	/gə hu:Ndu:l'/	usually bí	/b'i:/	be !
bígí	/b'i:g'i:/	be ! (pl.)
bíodh	/b'i:x/	let ... be
bídís	/b'i:d'i:s'/	let (pl.)... be ¹Pronounced as though spelt uiliog.

ná	/nɑ:/	(with Imp., see this lesson)
má	/mɑ:/	if
mara	/ma:rə/	if not, unless

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. Tráthnóna can be used adverbially, e.g. Beidh sé anseo tráthnóna ‘He will be here in the evening’; Bhí sé anseo tráthnóna ‘He was here in the evening’.

2. seo chugainn /s'əo hʊgəN'/ and seo caite /s'əo kə:tə/ are used in the expressions an bhliain (an mhí, an tseachtain ...) seo chugainn ‘next year (month, week)’; an bhliain (an mhí, an tseachtain ...) seo caite ‘last year (month, week)’.

GRAMMAR

1. IMPERATIVE OF VERB TÁ

(i) Positive

Bí anseo amáireach !	Be here tomorrow !
Bígí anseo amáireach !	Be (pl.) here tomorrow !
Biodh Cáit anseo amáireach !	Have Cáit here tomorrow !
Bídís anseo amáireach !	Let Cáit be here tomorrow !

Biodh can also be used with sé, sí and uid; concerning pronunciation before slender s, see Lesson 7.

(ii) Negative

Ná bí anseo amáireach !	Don't be here tomorrow !
--------------------------------	--------------------------

Ná is used to negate all forms of the imperative.

2. 'IF' CLAUSES

(i) Positive

Má bhíonn Máirtín ann, bionn Cáit sásta.	If Máirtín is there, Cáit is (normally) pleased.
---	--

Má ‘if’ lenites all verb forms (except tá, e.g. má tá ...)

(ii) Negative

Mara bhfuil tusa sásta, ní bheidh mise sásta.	If you are not satisfied, I will not be satisfied.
--	--

Mara ‘if ... not, unless’ causes eclipsis and is followed by the dependent form.

(iii) Future

Má bhíonn Máirtín ann, beidh Cáit sásta.	If Máirtín will be there, Cáit will be pleased.
Mara mbeidh Máirtín ann, ní bheidh Cáit sásta.	If Máirtín will not be there, Cáit will not be pleased.

After má, the future is expressed by using the habitual present, e.g. bíonn.

(iv) In responses

*Ach tá mé sásta !
Bhoil, má tá !*

But I am satisfied !
Well, if that is so (that is alright).

Má/mara can be used in a response with the usual deletion of the subject pronoun (see Lesson 6) to express 'if that is (not) so, then that is alright'.

3. THE DEFINITE ARTICLE (SINGULAR)

(i) Before a feminine noun

*Tá an chloch anseo.
Tá an fhuinneog mhór ansin.*

The stone is here.
The big window is there.

The article lenites a following feminine noun, except t, d which tend to resist lenition after n, e.g. an tine 'the fire', an deoch 'the drink', and s.

*Bhí an tseachtain go maith.
Tá an tsráid bheag ansin.*

The week was good.
The small street is there.

The article prefixes a t to a feminine noun beginning with s followed by a vowel or l, n, r. The s is then not pronounced. Any prefixed t takes its quality from the following vowel or consonant, e.g. slender in an tseachtain, broad in an tsráid. The t is prefixed even when the article follows a preposition:

ar an tsráid	on the street
faoiin tsúil	under the eye

(ii) Before a masculine noun beginning with a vowel

*Tá an t-úlla anseo.
Tá an t-éan ansin.*

The apple is here.
The bird is there.

The article prefixes a t to a masculine noun beginning with a vowel.

(iii) Summary table

Before	with initial consonant	with initial vowel
masc.	an	an t-
noun	an fear	an t-úlla
fem.	an + lenition	an
noun	an bhean (but an tine, an deoch)	an eochair
fem.	an t before sl, sn, sr, s + vowel
noun	an tseachtain

4. USAGES OF DEFINITE ARTICLE

(i) Nouns used in a general sense

Tá an óige go maith.

Youth is good.

Ní bhíonn an iÉireannach leisciúil.

An Irishman is not (normally) lazy.

The article is used when speaking in a general way.

(ii) Expressing a relationship between an entity and its parts

Tá an teach go deas ach tá an doras go dona. The house is nice, but its door is bad.

Tá mé go maith ach tá an chois tinn. I am well but my foot is sore.

When there is no doubt about what or who the possessor is, the article can be used. This is usually the way of expressing possession where an inanimate noun is referred to, e.g. teach.

TEXTS

MUINTIR RUAIRÍ

Tá teach deas compóirteach ag Ruairí agus ag Úna ar an tsráid mhór in aice leis an scoil. Tá cupla gasúr óganois ann agus tá posta maith ag Ruairí. Bhíodh máthair Úna ann ach tá sí marbh anois. Bhí aois mhór ag an mbeann agus ní raibh an croí go maith. Bíonn deartháir Ruairí, Páidín, ann anois agus aríst. Níl drioifür ar bith ag Ruairí.

DONNCHA

Ní fheicim Donncha go minic anois. Ar ndóigh, tá sé sean agus bíonn sé tuirseach go minic, go háirithe tráthnóna. Go hiondúil, bíonn sé cineál cantalach leis an ngasúr anseo. 'Bí ciúnin!' a deir sé i gcónaí nó 'Ná bí dána mar sin !'. Cloisim go raibh an chois tinn aríst an mhí seo caite agus bhí sé coictís ar an leaba. Sílim nach bhfuil an chois ceart ó shin. Má bhíonn sé go maith an tseachtain seo chugainn, beidh sé anseo aríst.

AN SCOIL

Tá an scoil anseo. Tá sí mór go leor. Tá neart muínteoirí anseo, cé nach bhfuil mórán gasúir uilig ann. Tá posta ag athair Pháidín anseo.

Uaireanta, má bhíonn an aimsir go dona, bíonn an dínnéar ag na gasúir anseo. Inné agus arú inné bhí sé fliuch agus bhí na gasúir bheaga uilig tuirseach agus cantalach. Ar ndóigh, má bhíonn siad tuirseach, go hiondúil bíonn siad dána freisin. Má bhíonn an tseachtain uilig fliuch, deir na müínteoirí go mbíonn sé go dona. Tigim an scéal go maith.

TRANSLATE:

1. Úna's heart was never good. She is dead now, the poor thing.
2. There is one child and he is still fairly young.
3. If Páidín is here in the evening, usually he is bad-humoured, especially with the child.
4. Don't be (pl.) bold like that ! Be (pl.) quiet !
5. Usually we are tired in the evening.
6. If Seáinín was there, I am satisfied.
7. I see that the key is there on the table but I'm not sure where the door is.
8. If the apple is there tomorrow, Cáit will be pleased.
9. If the house isn't beside the school, Ruairí will be bad-humoured.
10. If you are here tomorrow, I'll be here too.
11. He was here one evening and he was sick.
12. If he is here in the evening everybody will be pleased.

LESSON 9

VOCABULARY

bricfásta	/b̄ɪçf̄ástə/	pl. bricfástaí	breakfast
buicéad	/b̄uic̄e:d/	buicéid	bucket
caraid fem.	/ka:r̄d̄:/	cairde /ka:rd̄:/	friend
dánlann fem.	/d̄a:nl̄ən/	dánlanna	art gallery
drama	/dra:mə/	dramaí	drama, play
dream	/d̄r̄'a:m/	dreamanna	crowd, group
earrach	/æ:r̄ax/	/d̄r̄'æ:mən:/	spring
farráige fem.	/fa:r̄e:ḡ:/	farráigí	sea
fáth	/f̄a:/	fáthanna	reason, cause fómhar	/fu:wər/		autumn
gaineamh	/ga:n̄ə/		sand
leabharlann fem.	/l̄aʊrl̄ən/	leabharlanna	library
leitir fem.	/l̄e:t̄ər̄:/	leitreacha	letter
maidin fem.	/ma:d̄ən̄:/	maidineacha	morning
scáthán	/sk̄a:n/	scátháin /sk̄a:n̄:/	mirror
sliabh	/s̄l̄i:b̄əw/	sl̄eib̄hte /sl̄e:f̄t̄ə/	mountain
sneachta	/s̄N̄æ:xtə/		snow
spáid fem.	/spa:d̄:/	spáideanna	spade
spóirt fem.	/spo:rt̄:/		sport, fun
teach ósta	/t̄æ:x 'o:stə/	tithe /t̄i:/ ósta	public house, inn
teas	/t̄æ:s/		heat
trá fem.	/tra:/	tránnna	strand
 Pádraig	 /pa:r̄æk̄:/	 (man's name)
 creidim	 /k̄r̄'ed̄əm̄:/	 I believe
 fairsing	 /fa:rs̄'ən̄:/	 plentiful
glan	/gl̄a:N/	clean, clear
náisiúnta	/Na:s̄'u:Ntə/	national
te	/t̄e/	warm, hot
 cé, cén/cé na	 /k̄e:/	 who/what is (the)
seo	/s̄o/	this (see this lesson)
sin	/s̄in/	that (see this lesson)
siúd	/s̄u:d/	that (see this lesson)
úd	/u:d/	that (see this lesson)
 ar maidin	 /er̄ ma:d̄ən̄:/	 in the morning
beagnach	/b̄ogNəx/	almost, nearly
fós	/fo:s/	yet, still
go moch	/ḡo mox/	early (in the morning)
i mbliana	/i m̄l̄i:a:ənə/	this year
maidir leis an	/ma:d̄ər̄:/	as for the ...
mar (go/nach)	/ma:r/	as
 thú, thusa	 /hu:/, /husə/	 you
é, eisean	/e:/, /es̄ən/	 he

f, ise	/i:/, /is'ə/	she
iad, iadsan	/i:əd/, /i:əpsən/	they

VOCABULARY NOTE:

The pronouns mé, é, sé may be pronounced short, i.e. /m'el/, /el/, /s'el/.

GRAMMAR

1. PLURAL OF DEFINITE ARTICLE

Tá na heochracha anseo ar na boird. The keys are here on the tables.
Tá na héanacha beaga ansin ar na clocha. The little birds are there on the stones.

The form na, which is unstressed, is used with all plural nouns. It prefixes h to any noun beginning with a vowel.

2. DISJUNCTIVE PRONOUNS

(i) Usage

Tá tú ansin. Feicim anois thú.	You are there. I see you now.
Tá sé ansin. Feicim anois é.	He is there. I see him now.
Tá sí ansin. Feicim anois í.	She is there. I see her now.
Tá siad ansin. Feicim anois iad.	They are there. I see them now.

When used disjunctively, that is, not as a subject directly following on a verb form, thú, é, i, iad or thusa, eisean, ise, iadsan are used. Mé/mise, muid/muide, sibh/sibhse remain the same.

(ii) Word order

Cloisim anois thú.	I hear you now.
Tigim thusa anois ach ní thigim iad sin.	I understand you now, but I don't understand those fellows.

When the ordinary form of a pronoun, e.g. thú, is used an adverb or adverbial phrase, e.g. Anois, precedes it.

3. USE OF FÉIN 'SELF'

(i) For emphasis (mé féin)

Tá mé féin sásta anseo.	I myself am content here.
Feicim féin an sagart anois.	I myself see the priest now.

Féin /he:n'/ is added to the pronoun, e.g. mé féin, tú féin, etc., or simply to the verb, where the pronoun is combined with it, e.g. feicim 'I see', feicim féin 'I myself see'.

(ii) For emphasis after a contrast form or after a noun (mise mé féin)

An bhfuil tusa thú féin sásta anseo ?	Are you yourself content here ?
Tá an múinteoir é féin anseo anois.	The teacher himself is here now.

After a contrast form or after a noun, mé féin, thú féin, é féin, etc. are added.

(iii) Reflexive use

Tá scáthán ansin agus feicim mé féin. There is a mirror there and I see myself.

4. COMPOUND SUBJECT OR OBJECT

Tá mé féin agus Ruairí sássta.

Ruairí and I are content.

Tá tú féin agus é féin anseo.

You and he are here.

Tá mise agus thusa agus ise anseo.

She and you and I are here.

Ní fheicim thusa ná iadsan.

I see neither you nor them.

Féin is added to the pronoun where there are two or more subjects or objects. The first person comes first, e.g. mé féin agus Ruairí. As only the first part of a compound subject directly follows the verb, a disjunctive pronoun is used for the other(s), e.g. tú féin agus é féin. Contrast is expressed in the normal way by use of contrast pronouns, e.g. mise agus thusa agus ise.

5. THE ADJECTIVES SEO, SIN, ÚD/SIÚD

(i) Use with nouns

Tá an fear seo sássta.

This man is satisfied.

Tá an chloch mhór sin go deas.

That big stone is nice.

Níl na fir úd sássta.

'Those' men are not satisfied.

The definite article is used, e.g. an fear seo 'this man', before any common noun followed by the invariable adjectives seo, sin, or úd. Names do not normally have the article, e.g. Máirtín sin 'that Máirtín'. These adjectives correspond to the adverbs anseo, ansin, ansiúd. The form úd (rather than siúd) is most often used with a noun.

(ii) With third person

Tá sé seo go maith.

This (fellow/thing) is good.

Bhí sí sin go deas.

That (woman/thing (fem.)) was nice.

Ní bheidís siúd sássta.

'They' would not be satisfied.

Seo, sin, siúd can be used with the ordinary third person pronouns to refer to people or things. Contrast forms, e.g. seisean, are not used. The form siúd (rather than úd) is used with a pronoun or combined form.

TEXTS

LEITIR

A Phádraig, a chara,¹

Baile Átha Cliath, 2

Tá Baile Átha Cliath go deas anois; níl fuacht ar bith ann cé go bhfuil sneachta fós ar na sléibhte. Bhí an fómhar agus an geimhreadh go hiontach anseo. Bhí dramáil nua beagnach 'chuile mhí agus peictiúr nua beagnach 'chuile sheachtain. Tá an dánlann agus an Leabharlann Náisiúnta in aice leis an teach. Maidir leis na tithe ósta, tá siad sin fairsing anseo! Deir siad go mbeidh an t-earrach agus an samhradh te anseo i mbliana. Ní chreidim féin go mbeidh an teas go dona mar tá an fharraige ar an taobh seo agus na sléibhte ar an taobh eile. Ní bhíonn Máirtín úd anseoanois cé nach dtigim cén fáth. An bhfuil an aimsir go maith ansiúd? An bhfuil Bríd agus Cáit agus an dream uilig ann i gcoíant? Ar ndóigh, ní fheicim ar chor ar bith anois iad, cé go bhfeicim Bairbre anois is arís. – B fhéidir go mbeifead-sa thú féin anseo an bhliain seo chugainn?

¹*Cara* /ka:rə/, the Official Standard Irish form of caraid, is generally used at the beginning of a letter.

Séainín.

AN FHARRAIGE

Bhí na gasúir uilig ag an bhfarraige inné. Bhí an aimsir go hálainn. Bhí an fharraige go deas agus bhí an t-uisce te go leor. Bhí an trá réasúnta, cé go raibh go leor gasúir eile ann. Bhí buicéid agus spáideanna beaga ag na gasúir. Bhí an trá glan agus bhí an gaineamh go deas. Bhí spóirt go leor ann. Bhí 'chuile dhuine sásta leis an lá.

Beidh scoil ann arís amáireach agus beidh bricfásta ag an dream uilig go moch ar maidin. Má bhíonn an aimsir go maith, b'fhéidir go mbeadh lá deas eile ag na gasúir an tseachtain seo chugainn.

TRANSLATE:

1. The teacher was tired, but the farmer himself was there also.
2. I understand it now. The door is there and the keys are on the table.
3. Are you there? I see you now.
4. She says the whole crowd will be at the sea tomorrow, but I don't believe her at all.
5. I understand you well, but I don't understand those (people) at all.
6. They say that the mountains are there but I myself don't see them at all.
7. There is a mirror here. I see myself now.
8. You and I will be satisfied with the autumn and with the spring here.
9. Were you yourself at the library yesterday?
10. 'They' (siúd) would be satisfied with the public houses here.
11. The weather was good this year although there was snow on all the mountains.
12. We were a fortnight here last year but you (pl.) weren't there at all.

LESSON 10

VOCABULARY

aifreann	/æ:f'r'ən/	aifreannacha	Mass
baile mó�	/ba:l'ə mo:r/	bailteacha móra	town
banaltra fem.	/ba:Nəltrə/	banaltraí	nurse
béal	/b'e:L/	béil /be:l'/	mouth, opening
blas	/bla:s/	buidéil /bid'e:l'/	taste; good accent; anything ¹
buidéal	/bid'e:L/	cácaí	bottle
cáca	/ka:ka/	carraigreacha	cake, soda bread
carraig fem.	/ka:rəg'/	cártaí	rock
cárta	/ka:rtə/	dathanna	card
céard ?	/k'e:rd/	dialanna	what (is it) ?
ceo	/k'o:/	dochtúirí	fog; anything ¹
cuid fem.	/kid'/	focla	part, share, deal
dath	/da:/	gaothanna	colour
Dé Domhnaigh	/d'e:(:) 'du:Nə/	goileacha 'guts'	Sunday
dialann fem.	/d'i:slən/	lóistíni	diary
dochtúr	/doxtu:r/	málaí	doctor
dóthain fem.	/do:n'/	méaracha	sufficiency; enough
focal	/fokəL/	oileán /il'a:n'/	word
gaoth fem.	/gi:/	ospidéil /osp'əd'e:l'/	wind
goile	/gel'ə/	snáthadaí /sna:di:/	stomach, appetite
lóistín	/lo:s't'i:n'/	strainséaraí	lodging
mála	/ma:la:/	tamallacha	bag
méir fem.	/m'e:r'/	tithe pobail	finger
oileán	/il'a:N/	teangacha	island
ospidéal	/osp'əd'e:L/		hospital
siúcra	/s'u:kra/		sugar
snáthaid fem.	/sna:d'/		needle, injection
strainséara	/stræ:n's'e:rə/		stranger, non-native
tamall	/ta:məL/		period, distance
teach an phobail	/t'æ:x ə 'fobəl'/		(Catholic) church
teanga fem.	/t'æ:ŋgə/		tongue, language
An Spidéal	/ə sp'id'e:L/	(place-name)
Ó Flaithearta	/o:fli:a:rtə/	(surname)
airím	/æ:r'i:m'/	I feel, hear
'spáin dhom	/spa:n'əm/	show me !
tháinig	/ha:n'ək'/	came
aisteach	/æ:s't'əx/	peculiar, strange, queer deacair	/d'æ:kər'/	difficult, hard
géar	/g'e:r/	sharp, sour
gráonna	/gra:Nə/	ugly, horrible
lán	/la:N/	full
nua	/Nu:/	new
sách	/sa:x/	satisfied (after a meal), enough

¹In negative or conditional sentences, or in questions.

mo	/mə/	my
do	/də/, /t/, /t'/	your
a	/ə/	his, her, theirs
ar	/ə/	our
'ur	/ə/	your (pl.)
ar ais	/ər' æ:s'/	back (again)
ar ball	/ər' bə:l/	in a while, a while ago
ar lóistín	/ər' lo:s'ti:n'/	lodging, in lodgings
aréir	/ə 'r'e:r'/	last night
dhá	/yə:/, /ə:/	if (see this lesson)
i bhfad	/ə wa:d/	a long time, far
mara	/mars/	if ... not, unless (see this lesson)
ní móide (go/nach)	/N'i: mu:d'ə/	it is unlikely (that (...not))

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. rud beag tinn ‘somewhat sore, a little bit sore’
2. Céard é féin? ‘What is it?’ (cé, céard are normally followed by the stressed personal pronouns, e.g. mé féin, thú féin, etc.)
3. mo dhóthain bainne ‘enough milk (for me)’
4. Ní raibh focal ag X ‘X hadn’t a word to say for himself.’

GRAMMAR

1. IF-CLAUSES TO EXPRESS A CONDITION

(i) Positive

Dhá mbeadh Máirtín anseo, bheadh Cáit sásta If Máirtín were here, Cáit would be content.

Dhá ‘if (... were)’ causes eclipsis and is followed by the conditional.¹ The dependent form (see Lesson 6) is used where this distinction is made.

(ii) Negative

Mara mbeadh Máirtín anseo, ní bheadh Cáit sásta. If Máirtín were not here, Cáit would not be content.

Mara ‘if (... were) not, unless (... were)’ causes eclipsis and is followed by the conditional¹. The dependent form is used where this distinction is made.

Dhá or similarly mara may be variously translated as ‘if ... were’, ‘if ... had been’, or as ‘if ... should be’, ‘if ... should have been’. It expresses a condition or hypothesis.

¹In a number of verbs where a distinction in pronunciation can be made between the conditional and a past subjunctive, older speakers may use a past subjunctive (see Lesson 36). The conditional is, however, the norm.

2. POSSESSIVE ADJECTIVES

(i) Forms

Before a consonant	Before a vowel	Contrast
mo dhoras /mə/ my door	m'uncail /m/ my uncle	mo chótasa my coat
do dhoras /də/ your door	t'uncail /t̪ə/ your uncle	do chótasa your coat
a dhoras /ə/ his door ¹	a uncail /ə/ his uncle	a chótá seisean ² his coat
a doras /ə/ her door ¹	a huncail /əh/ her uncle	a cóta sise ² her coat
ar ndoras /ə/ our door	ar n-uncail /ən/ our uncle	ar gcóta muide our coat
'ur ndoras /ə/ your door	'ur n-uncail /ən/ your uncle	'ur gcóta sibhse your coat
a ndoras /ə/ their door	a n-uncail /ən/ their uncle	a gcóta siadsan ² their coat

Note that -sa is suffixed, e.g. mo chótasa ‘my coat’; seisean, sise etc. are written separately, e.g. a bhord seisean ‘his table’.

(ii) Pronunciation

The possessive adjectives are invariable. They are all pronounced with a neutral vowel /ə/. Mo ‘my’ and do ‘your’ are written m, t showing the pronunciation (see Appendix I.5) before a vowel; m, t are pronounced broad or slender according to the following vowel. The adjectives ar ‘our’ and 'ur ‘your (pl.)’, which in Official Standard Irish are spelt ár and bhur, are in pronunciation reduced to /ə/.

(iii) Lenition / Eclipsis

In all cases mo, do, a ‘his/its’ lenite; ar, 'ur, a ‘their’ cause eclipsis.

(iv) Use with seo, sin, siúd

Bhí sé ag a gheata sin.

He was at that fellow’s gate.

Seo ‘this’, sin ‘that’, siúd ‘that’ can be used with a ‘his’, ‘her’, ‘their’ to mean ‘this/that person’s’, ‘these/those people’s’.

(v) Use with féin

Tá mo bhord féin anseo.

My own table is here.

‘Own’ is expressed by féin.

(vi) Use of cuid

(a) General use

Tá mo chuid leabhartha anseo.
Tá do chuid bainne ansin.
Tá a chuid Gaeilge go maith.

My books are here.
 Your milk is there.
 His Irish is good.

Cuid literally means ‘a share, a portion’. It is normally used before a noun in the plural, e.g. mo chuid leabhartha ‘my books’; a collective or mass noun, e.g. mo chuid bainne ‘my milk’; or before an abstract noun, e.g. mo chuid Gaeilge ‘my Irish’. It is, however, generally ¹This may also mean ‘its’. For use of article with inanimate nouns, see also Lesson 8.

²This is an exception to the rule given in Lesson 9 that seisean, sise, siadsan are only used directly after verbs.

omitted where the noun in question ‘inalienably’ belongs to the possessor, e.g. mo chosa ‘my legs’.

(a) Use in contrast and with féin

Tá mo chuid leabharhasa anseo.	My books are here.
Tá do chuid Gaeilge féin go maith.	Your own Irish is good.

The contrast endings -sa, seisean, etc. and féin ‘own’, are added to the noun, not to the word cuid.

(a) Before a noun in genitive relation

Tá cuid leabhartha Cháit anseo.	Cáit’s books are here.
--	------------------------

As well as after mo, do etc., cuid can optionally be used in similar circumstances, e.g. cuid leabhartha Cháit ‘Cáit’s books’, cuid Gaeilge Cháit ‘Cáit’s Irish’, before a noun in genitive relation.

3. USE OF CEANN/CUID TO EXPRESS ‘MINE’, ‘YOURS’, ETC.

Tá mo bhordsa anseo agus tá do cheannsa ansin.	My table is here and yours is there .
Tá do chuid leabharthasa anseo agus tá mo chuidsa ansin.	Your books are here and mine are there .
Tá a chuid Gaeilge seisean go maith ach tá do chuidsa go maith freisin.	His Irish is good, but yours is also good.

Ceann (lit. ‘head’ or ‘end’) can be used to mean ‘one’. ‘Mine, yours’ etc. when referring to a singular noun is expressed as mo, do ... cheann ‘my one, mine’ etc., and when referring to plurals, collective, mass or abstract nouns, as mo, do ... chuidsa ‘my share, mine’.

TEXTS

AG AN DOCHTÚR

Bhí Máirtín Beag ag an dochtúr inné. Tá ospidéal nuaanois in aice leis an mbaile móragus tá go leor dochtuíri ann. Tá a sheomra féin ag 'chuile dhochtúr.

Bhí banaltra ag bord in aice leis an doras.

‘Cá bhfuil do chárta ?’ a deir sí.

‘Tá sé anseo,’ a deir Máirtín Beag.

‘Níl an Dochtúr Ó Flaithearta anseo go díreach anois. Ní bhíonn sé anseo ag an am seo, ach beidh sé anseo ar ball beag.’

Bhí an seomra go deas cé go raibh dath gránna ar na ballaí. Bhí bord in aice leis an bhfuinneog. Bhí a mhála ar an mbord agus bhí snáthaid in aice leis an mála. Ansin tháinig an dochtúr ar ais. Bhí an cártá ag an dochtúr mar bhí timpiste ag Máirtín cupla mí ó shin agus bhí a láimh go dona.

'Feicim anseo' a deir an dochtúr, 'go raibh do láimh fós rud beag tinn mí ó shin. 'Spáin dhom do láimh. 'Spáin dhom do mhéir thinn aríst !' Bhí an láimh ceart aríst.

'Bhoil, anois ! Céard é féin an uair seo ?'

'Ní airím go maith. Níl mo ghoile go maith agus tá blas aisteach ar mo bhéal,' a deir Máirtín Beag.

'An iomarca siúcra !' a deir an dochtúr, 'nó an iomarca cácaí b'fhéidir ?'

Ní raibh focal ag Máirtín Beag mar uaireanta, bíonn an dochtúr sách cantalach.

'Tá buidéal anseo,' a deir an dochtúr, 'níl sé lán ach beidh do dhóthain ansin.'

Ní raibh Máirtín Beag i bhfad tinn.

DIALANN

Dé Domhnaigh

Tá mé anseo in aice leis an Spidéal aríst. Tá an teach seo compóirteach. Tá cupla strainséara eile ar lóistín anseo. Tá a gcuid Gaeilge go maith. Bhí mé tamall anseo anuraidh freisin agus bhí mé sách sásta leis an áit. Bhí aifreann ann go moch ar maidin agus bhí teach an phobail lán. Mara mbeadh na strainséarai uilig anseo, ní móide go mbeadh sé lán ar chor ar bith. Bhí ceo ann aréir agus maidin inniu, tá báisteach agus gaoth mhór ann. Dhá mbeadh aimsir bhreá ann, súlim go mbeinn sásta go leor anseo. Feicim an sharraige agus na carraigreacha ach ní fheicim na hoileáin ar chor ar bith.

TRANSLATE:

1. My mother and father were here last year. 2. Are your father and mother pleased with the new house ? 3. My books are here but yours aren't here at all. 4. Our Irish is good but yours (pl.) is not good. 5. Your own milk is sour. 6. His room is here. Her room is there. 7. She was at 'that' fellow's house again yesterday. 8. Máirtín's clothes are always nice. 9. Unless her English was good her uncle wouldn't be at all pleased. 10. His mouth is sore and there is an ugly taste on his tongue. 11. If his finger was right, the doctor at the hospital would be pleased enough. 12. It isn't likely that I'll be long lodging here. The weather is bad. There is rain and wind and I don't see the sea or the islands at all. 13. If there was a Mass early on Sunday, the church wouldn't be full at all. 14. "The doctor isn't here but he'll be back in a little while," says the nurse. "There is fog and there was an accident on the road a while ago." His bag was on the table and there was a strange needle beside the bag. 15. The bottle isn't full but I have enough here. 16. This language isn't difficult but they say that yours is difficult enough.

LESSON 11

VOCABULARY

arán	/a:rn/	with art.: an t-arán /ə tra:n/	bread
bean an tí fem.	/b'æ:Nə t'i:/		woman of the house
caife	/ka:f'ə/, /ka:fi:/	pl.	coffee
ceathrú fem.	/k'æ:ru:/	ceathrúnai	quarter, thigh
ciseán	/k'is 'a:N/	ciseáin /k'is 'a:n'/	basket
fata	/fa:tə/	fataí	potato
feoil fem.	/f'ɔ:l'/		meat
fiche fem.	/f'i:/	fichid /f'i:d'/	twenty galún	/ga:LU:N/	galúin /ga:Lu:n'/	gallon
iasc	/i:esk/		fish
im	/i:m'/		butter
liosta	/l'i:sta/	liostáí	list
oifige fem.	/e:f'ig'ə/	oifigí	office
orlach	/aurLəx/	orlaí	inch
páiste	/pa:s'tə/	páistí	child
pingin fem.	/p'i:N'/	pingineacha /pi:N'əxi:/	penny punt	/punt/	punta	pound (lb. or £)
saoire fem.	/si:r'ə/		holiday
scilling fem.	/s'k'il'əN'/	scilleacha	shilling (= 5p)
scíth fem.	/s'k'i:/	scítheanna	rest
scór	/sko:r/	scórtha /sko:ra:/	twenty, score
slat fem.	/SLa:t/	slata	yard, rod
tae	/t'e:/	taeanna	tea
tilleadh	/t'iL'ə/		more
toradh	/torə/	tortháí /tori:/	result, fruit, crop
troigh fem.	/tro/	troighthe /tre:/	foot (ft.)
uafás	/u:ə:s/		terror, great amount
ubh fem.	/u(w)/	uibheacha /i:w'əxi:/	egg

An Cheathrú Rua fem. (place-name)

fuair	/fu:ər'/	got
falamh	/fa:λə/	empty
plódaithe	/pLo:di:/	crowded
póstá	/po:stə/	married
trom	/tru:m/	heavy
uafásach	/u:ə:səx/	terrible
ar chúla	/er' xu:λə/	behind, at the back
ar fad	/er' fa:d/	altogether
cheana féin	/ha:Nə he:n'/	already, before
dháiríre	/ɣa:'r'i:r'ə/	in earnest, seriously
is	/əs/	is/are
ní	/N'i:/	is/are not
ar	/ər/	is/are?
nach	/Na:x/	is/are ... not ?
gur	/gər/	that ... is/are
más	/ma:s/	if ... is/are

VOCABULARY NOTE:

ar chúla an tí ‘at the back of the house’

GRAMMAR

1. THE COPULA IS

(i) Usage

Tá mé anseo agus tá mé go maith.	I am here and I am well.
Is mé Máirtín.	I am Máirtín.
Is thusa an dochtúr.	You are the doctor.
Is í sin mo bhean.	That woman is my wife.
Is é féin an múinteoir.	He himself is the teacher.

Is, traditionally called the copula, is used to link two nouns or pronouns. The appropriate disjunctive pronoun, e.g. mé/mise/mé féin, thú/thusa/thú féin etc. is used. Is is never stressed and is pronounced with a broad s /s/, except before a pronoun spelt with an initial i or e. The actual pronunciation is sometimes shown by spelling is é as 'sé, is í as 'sí, is iad as 'siad.

(ii) Definite noun as subject

Is é an fear sin an sagart.	That man is the priest.
Is í Cáit mo bhean.	Cáit is my wife.
Is iad Bríd agus Máirtín na gasúir.	Bríd and Máirtín are the children.

In any copula sentence, where the topic (i.e. the first noun, in these examples) is a definite noun, e.g. an fear sin ‘that man’, Cáit, or Bríd agus Máirtín, it is preceded by the appropriate pronoun é, í, iad.

(iii) é, í, iad as subject

Is é an dochtúr é.	He is the doctor.
Is í an múinteoir í.	She is the teacher.
Is iad na gasúir iad.	They are the children.

When the topic is é/í/iad, it must be repeated, e.g. is é an dochtúr é.

(iv) Table of forms of the copula

Is	Ní (h-)	mé/mise	an dochtúr
Ní (h-)	Ar²	t(h)ú/t(h)usa
Ar²	Nach
Nach
Deir sé	gur	muid/muide
	nach
		sibh/sibhse	na dochtúirí
	Más
	Mara

Má ‘if’ is written together with is as más.

¹*Tú/tusa* may also be used, though for other pronouns only the disjunctive forms are allowed.

²*An /ə/*, although the Official Standard Irish form, is less common.

(v) Table of forms of copula before third person pronouns

	Ní	hé/heisean, hí/hise, hiad/hiadsan
	Is	é/eisean	an dochtúr
	Ab	tíse
Deir sé	gurb nach	iad/iadsan	na dochtírí
	Más
	Mara

Más is pronounced with a final slender s /s'/ before third person pronouns.

(vi) Responses

Ar thusa an dochtúr ? - Is mé. Are you the doctor ? - Yes.
Ab í Cáit an múinteoir ? - Ní hí. Is Cáit the teacher ? - No.

The pronoun, which takes the stress, is repeated with the copula. Note that if the ordinary form of a disjunctive pronoun is used in responses, contrast forms are not used, e.g. Ar thusa ... ? Is mé. (not Is mise.)

(vii) Omission of is

(Is) mise an dochtúr. I am the doctor.
(Is) í sin an múinteoir. That woman is the teacher.

Is may be understood before mise, mé féin, mise mé féin; thusa, thú féin, thusa thú féin, etc. or é (í, iad) seo (sin, siúd), but not before the ordinary forms mé, thú, é, í, muid, sibh, iad.

2. USES OF COPULA WITH ADJECTIVE

Normally the verb tá is used with the adjectives, e.g. tá sé glic ‘he is cunning’, tá an leabhar spéisiúil ‘the book is interesting’. The copula is, however, has a limited use with adjectives.

(i) Certain adjectives

Is ionann iad !. They are the same.

With a certain few adjectives the copula is normally used, e.g. Is ionann iad; is mar a chéile iad ‘they are the same’.

(ii) Exclamatory use

Nach maith é !	Isn't he good ?
Is deas é !	It is nice !
Is deas í do léine !	Your shirt is nice !

The copula is optionally used with some very few adjectives describing a permanent quality and expressing emotional estimation in an exclamation.

In responses the adjective is repeated, e.g. Is ionann iad. - Is ionann. ‘They are the same.’ ‘Yeo, they are.’

¹ Ionann /a: nən/ is pronounced as though spelt anann.

3. NUMBERS ONE TO TEN

bád / bád amháin / aon bhád amháin		one boat
dhá bhád	/ða: wá:d/	two boats
trí bhád	/t'í: 'i: .../	three boats
cheithre bhád	/x'er'ə .../	four boats
chuíg bhád	/xu:g' .../	five boats
sé bhád	/s'e: .../	six boats
seacht mbád	/s'æ:xt mə:d/	seven boats
ocht mbád	/oxt .../	eight boats
naoi mbád	/Ni: .../	nine boats
deich mbád	/d'e .../	ten boats

Bád amháin literally means ‘only one boat’. For emphasis aon /e:N/, /e:N’/ (the n is slender before i or e) is used, e.g. aon bhád amháin.

These numbers do not stand alone. They are always followed by a noun. The numbers from aon ‘one’ to sé ‘six’ cause lenition, e.g. sé bhád ‘six boats’. The numbers from seacht to deich cause eclipsis, e.g. seachtí mbád ‘seven boats’, deich n-éan ‘ten birds’.¹

The singular of a noun follows all these numbers. However, certain nouns, mostly denoting a measurement², take the plural (or a special form used only in this case) after numbers higher than two. In this case initial consonants are unaffected and trí ‘three’, cheithre ‘four’, sé ‘six’ prefix h to an initial vowel:

trí cinn	/k'i:N'/	three (ones) (with any noun)
trí huaire	/hu:ər'ə/	three times
trí seachtainf	/s' æ:xtən'/	three weeks
trí bliana	/b'l'i:əNə/	three years
trí ceathrúnaí	/k'æ:ru:Ni:/	three quarters
trí pingine	/p'i:Nə/	three pence
trí scilleacha	/s'k'il.'əxi:/	three shillings
trí horlai	/haʊrlɪ:/	three inches
trí troighthe	/tre:/	three feet
trí slata	/sLa:tə/	three yards
trí clocha	/kl.oxə/	three stoneweight
trí galúin	/ga:Lu:n'/	three gallons
trí huibhe	/hiw'ə/	three eggs
trí scóir	/sko:r'/	three scores
trí fíchid	/f'i:d'/	three twenties

The forms clocha, slata are used only in the sense of ‘stoneweight’ or ‘yards’: trí chloch, trí shlat mean ‘three stones’, ‘three rods’.

Chúig lenites a few plural forms, e.g. chuíg bhliana ‘five years’, chuíg phingine ‘five pence’.

¹ Aon ‘one’ optionally prefixes t to s, e.g. aon tsagart amháin ‘one priest only’.

² Probably due to the use of parts of the body as units of measurement, e.g. ceann, this usage of a plural form spreads so that the plural of cois ‘leg’ is used, e.g. tri cosa ‘three legs’, and of teanga ‘tongue, language’, in the set expression na seacht dteangacha ‘seven (= several) languages’.

TEXTS

AR SAOIRE

LESSON 11

Bhínn ar saoire ansin in aice leis an gCeathrú Rua blianta ó shin, b'fheidir deich mbliana nó mar sin. Ní raibh mé póstá an uair sin.

I mbliana, bhí mé féin agus mo bhean agus na páistí cupla seachtain ann.

'Cé thú féin ?' a deir bean an tí.

'Mise Máirtín,' a deir mé féin.

'Muise, ar thú ? Ar thusa Máirtín ?'

'Is mé'.

'Agus ab í sin do bhean ?'

'Is í. Is í Cáit mo bhean agus is iad Bríd agus Máirtín na gasúir.'

'Ab iad ? Nach deas iad !'

*'Bhí go leor daoine thart agus ní raibh mé cinnte an mbeadh an teach lán nó nach mbeadh.
'An bhfuil mórrán strainséaraí anseo i mbliana ?' a deir mé féin.'*

'Tá, dháiríre ach cé go bhfuil na seomraí seo uilig lán tá tilleadh ar chúla an tí. Tá dhá sheomra faladh ansin i gcónaí, ach níl mé cinnte an mbeidís sách móir.'

'Spáin dhom iad !' a deir mé féin.

'Is ionann iad, dháiríre,' a deir bean an tí, 'ach tá dhá fhuinneog anseo agus trí fhuinneog ansin.'

Bhí mo bhean sásta leis na seomraí agus bhí muid trí seachtainí ar fad ann. Bhí an aimsir go maith agus bhí scíth bhreá ag 'chuile dhuine.

AN SIOPA

Tá siopa nua in aice leis an oifige. Cé nach bhfuil an siopa ann ach cupla seachtain, bhí Cáit ansin seacht n-uaire cheana féin ! Bionn liosta ag Cáit beagnach i gcónaí mar tá an siopa mór agus bionn an t-uafás daoine ann.

Bhí sí ann an tseachtain seo caite agus cé go raibh an áit plódaithe fuair sí 'chuile shórt ar a liosta. Fuair sí ceathrú punt tae, caife, trí bhuidéal bainne, dhá phunt siúcra, agus arán. Bhí an tae daor, tá sé beagnach punt an puntanois. Bhí an t-iasc daor freisin ach fuair sí feoil dheas. Fuair sí go leor tortaí agus mála beag fatal. Bionn málai móra cheithre clocha ann freisin ach tá siad uafásach trom agus níl carr ar bith ag Cáit. Bhí a ciseán beagnach lán; ach an raibh 'chuile shórt ann ? Ní raibh ! Bhí dhá rud eile ar an liosta. Fuair sí im agus sé huibhe ag cabhantar eile. Ansin, bhí 'chuile shórt ceart !

EXERCISES

A. Complete the following sentences with positive questions and responses, e.g. Ar thú Seánín? – Is mé.

- | | | |
|-----------|------------------------------|-------|
| 1. _____ | thú Seánín? | _____ |
| 2. _____ | thusa an múinteoir? | _____ |
| 3. _____ | sin do bhean? | _____ |
| 4. _____ | feín an dochtúr? | _____ |
| 5. _____ | an fear sin t'uncail? | _____ |
| 6. _____ | Bairbre do bhean? | _____ |
| 7. _____ | an múinteoir é? | _____ |
| 8. _____ | do mháthair í? | _____ |
| 9. _____ | na daoine uaisle iad? | _____ |
| 10. _____ | thú Donncha? | _____ |

B. Complete the following sentences with negative questions and responses, e.g. Nach i Bríd do bhean? – Ní hí.

- | | | |
|----------|----------------------------------|-------|
| 1. _____ | Bríd do bhean? | _____ |
| 2. _____ | na múinteoirí iad? | _____ |
| 3. _____ | an fear mór sin t'athair? | _____ |
| 4. _____ | sin do dhriofúr? | _____ |
| 5. _____ | thusa Cáit? | _____ |
| 6. _____ | thú Pádraig? | _____ |
| 7. _____ | do mháthair í? | _____ |
| 8. _____ | feín an múinteoir? | _____ |

C. Complete the following sentences with an appropriate form of the copula, e.g. Marab é sin an múinteoir, níl sé anseo ar chor ar bith.

1. Marab é sin an múinteoir, níl sé anseo ar chor ar bith.
2. Deir siad é sin a huncail.
3. thusa Donncha, beidh Cáit sásta.
4. thusa Cáit, ní bheidh sé sásta ar chor ar bith.
5. Deir siad thusa Cáit.
6. ionann iad.
7. N..... deas iad ?

TRANSLATE:

- | | |
|------------------|---------------------------|
| 1. one coat | 7. six pounds |
| 2. only one boat | 8. four pounds |
| 3. eight weeks | 9. nine pounds, ten pence |
| 4. seven apples | 10. two boats |
| 5. five years | 11. eight chairs |
| 6. three times | 12. six years |

1. My books are here. Yours are there. 2. His card is here. Hers is there. 3. Our own house is nice. 4. 'That' fellow's gate is there. 5. The lady of the house got fish and meat and butter and bread. She also got six eggs and potatoes and vegetables. 6. I was on holiday a while near Ceathrú Rua three years ago. There was a tremendous amount of people there. The place was crowded.

LESSON 12

VOCABULARY

ábhar	/a:wər/	ábhair	subject, material
buachaill	/bu:aχəL'/	buachaillí	boy
bun	/buN/	bunanna	bottom, base
bunábhar	/buNá:wər/	bunábhair	basic subject
bunscoil fem.	/buNskel'/	bunscoileanna	primary school
caipín	/ka:p'i:n'/	caipíní	cap
ceird fem.	/k'aird'/	ceirdeanna	trade, skill
ceist fem.	/k'es:t'/	ceisteanna	question
cigire	/k'ig' ər' ə/	cigírí	inspector
clár	/kla:r/	cláracha	board, lid, programme
clár dubh	/kla:r du(w)/	cláracha dubha	blackboard
cluife	/klif'ə/	cluifí	game, match
córas	/ko:rəs/	córais	system
difríocht fem.	/d'if'r'i:əxt/	difríochtaí	difference
faitós	/fa:t'i:əs/		fear, timidity
fuil fem.	/fil'/		blood
máistreás fem.	/ma:s't'r'ə:s/	máistreásaf	(school) mistress
meánscoil fem.	/m'a:Nskel'/	meánscoileanna	secondary school
oideachas	/ed'əxəs/		education
oiread ¹	/er'əd/		amount
ollscoil fem.	/oLskel'/	ollscoileanna	university
peann	/p'a:N/	peanna /p'æ:nə/	pen
péire	/p'e:r'ə/	péirí	pair, two (things)
pobal	/pobəl/	pobail	public, community
pobalscoil fem.	/pobəl.skel'/	pobalscoileanna	community school
rang	/ra:ŋg/	ranganna	(school) class
soitheach	/se:x/, /saix/	soithí / se:/, /sai/	vessel, dish
srón fem.	/sru:N/	srónanna	nose
toil fem.	/til'/		will, will power
truái fem.	/tru:əi:/		pity, sympathy
bris 1	/br'is'/
bruith 1	/bru/	break, sack
coinnigh 2	/kiN'ə/	boil, cook
cuir 1	/kir'/	keep, hold
dearg 1	/d'æ:rəg/	put, sow, bury
glan 1	/gla:N/	redden, light (cigarette etc.)
imir 2	/im'ər'/	clean, clear
leag 1	/L'æ:g/	play
léigh 1	/l'ē:e/	lay, place, knock down
mol 1	/moL/	read
nigh 1	/N'i/	praise, recommend
oscaill 2	/oskəl'/	wash
pacáil 1	/pa:kə:l'/	open
péinteáil 1	/p'e:n'̄t̄ a:l'/	pack
rith 1	/ru/	paint
salaigh 2	/sa:Lə/	run
		dirty

¹After an no t is prefixed to oiread (masculine): an oiread céanna ‘as much’.

Caitliceach	/ka:t'�'ək'əx/	Catholic
casta	/ka:stə/	complicated, involved
coitianta	/kit'i:əntə/	common, ordinary
dubh	/du(w)/	black
Éireannach	/e:r'ənəx/	Irish
Ghiúdach	/g'u:dəx/	Jewish
Pratastúnach	/pra:təstu:nəx/	Protestant
anocht	/ə'Noxt/	tonight
cé mhéad	/k'e: w'e:d/	how much (see this lesson)
ea	/æ:/
go deimhin	/gə d'i:w'ən'/	indeed, actually idir	/ed'r/	between, as well ... as
i dtosach	/ə dosəx/	in the beginning, in the front
i gceist	/ə g'es't/	in question, relevant, considered
in éindif	/əN' e:N'd'i:/	together, accompanying timpeall('s)	/t'i:mpəL(s)/	around about, approximately
Dé Luain	/d'e: lu:n'/ ¹	Monday
Dé Máirt	/d'e: ma:rt/	Tuesday
Dé Céadaoin	/d'e: k'e:di:n'/	Wednesday
Déardaoin	/d'e:rdi:n'/	Thursday
Dé hAoine	/d'e: hi:n'/	Friday
Dé Sathairn	/d'e: sa:rən'/	Saturday
Dé Domhnaigh	/d'e: du:Nəx/	Sunday

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. Bhí Máirtín anseo Dé Máirt ‘Máirtín was here on Tuesday’; the names of the days are used adverbially: no preposition is required.
2. Maidin, tráthnóna, oíche can be used adverbially with inniu, inné, aréir or with names of days, e.g. maidin inniu ‘this morning’, tráthnóna inné ‘yesterday evening’, oíche Dé Céadaoin ‘Wednesday night’.
3. Tá an lá inniu go deas ‘today is nice’; Bhí an oíche Dé Sathairn ciúin ‘Saturday night was quiet’; when not adverbial: (a) an lá is used with inniu, inné, amáireach, (b) an oíche is used with anocht, aréir, amáireach, or with names of days.
4. Más é do thoil é /ma:s' e: də hil' e:/ ‘please’
5. cur ceist ar ... ‘put a question to ..., ask’

GRAMMAR

1. THE COPULA (CTD.)

(i) Indefinite predicate

Is dochtúr mé.
Is múinteoir í sin.

I am a doctor.
 That woman there is a teacher.

When the predicate is an indefinite noun, e.g. dochtúr ‘a doctor’, múinteoir ‘a teacher’, it directly follows is.

¹*Dé* is frequently pronounced with a short e.

Is sagart é Máirtín.

Ar müíneoir í do bhean ?

Deir sé gur dochtaír iad na daoine sin.

Máirtín is a priest.

Is your wife a teacher ?

He says that those people are doctors.

The rule that in any copula sentence where the subject is definite, e.g. Máirtín, do bhean, na daoine sin, it is preceded by the appropriate pronoun é, í or iad (see Lesson 11) holds good.

(ii) Responses

*Ar dochtaír mé/mise ?
thú/thusa ?
etc.*

*Is ea.
Ní hea.
Ab ea ?
Nach ea ?*

/s'æ:/
/N'i: 'hæ:/
/ə'b'æ:/
/Nax 'æ:/

Yes.
No.
Yes ?
No ?

*Deir sé gurb ea.
nach ea.*

/gur'b'æ:/
/Nax 'æ:/

He says yes.
He says no.

In responses to sentences with an indefinite noun, ea (an old neuter third-person pronoun) is used. Is ea is often spelt 'sea, showing the stress and pronunciation.

(iii) Emphatic word-order

*Is duine deas é.
Is deas an duine é.*

He is a nice person.
He is a nice person.

When in copula sentences containing an adjective, e.g. Is duine deas é. ‘He is a nice person’, the adjective is emphasised, it precedes the noun and the article is used. This is the normal order in certain common expressions, e.g.

*Is móir an truaí é.
Is maith an scéal é.
Is bocht an rud é.*

It is a great pity
That is good news.
It is a miserable affair.

In responses the adjective is repeated, e.g. Is deas an duine é. ‘He is a nice person.’ – Is deas. ‘Yes, he is.’ Alternatively ea can be used, e.g. Is ea. ‘Yes, he is.’

2. IMPERATIVE OF REGULAR VERB

(i) Singular

*Glan an bord agus nígh na soithí !
Léigh an leabhar ach ná bris an chathaír !*

Coinnígh an cóta sin ach ná salaigh an caipín !

Oscail an doras agus imir cluife eile !

Clear the table and wash the dishes !
Read the book, but don’t break the chair !

Keep that coat, but don’t dirty the cap !

Open the door and play another game !

The second singular imperative, e.g. glan, bris is the root of the verb, that is, the form to which other endings are added. There are two basic types of regular verb; in the vocabularies, verbs are marked ‘1’ or ‘2’ according to whether they belong to the first or second type. The second singular of the first type has one syllable, e.g. *glan, bris, nígh, léigh*¹ while that of the second type has two syllables, e.g. salaigh, coinnígh, oscail, imir. There are certain differences in the endings which are added to these two types.

¹Exceptionally, verbs with roots ending in -(e)áil (pacáil, péinteáil etc.) belong to type 1; also verbs spelt with one syllable but pronounced with a helping vowel, e.g. dearg ‘redder’ (see Appendix I.2) belong to type 1.

(ii) Plural

Glanraigí an bord agus nígí na soithi !

Léigí an leabhar ach ná brisigí an chathaoir !

Coinnígí an cóta sin ach ná salaigí an caipín !

Osclaigí an doras agus imrígí cluife eile !

Type 1

adds -(a)igí /əg̊i:/

glan + aigí

bris + igí

lé(igh) + igí

ni(gh) + igí

glanaigí

brisigí

léigí

nígí

Clear the table and wash the dishes !

Read the book, but don't break the chair !

Keep that coat, but don't dirty the cap !

Open the door and play another game !

Type 2

adds -(a)ígí /i:g̊i:/

sal(aigh) + aigí

coinn(igh) + ígí

osc(ai)l + aigí

im(i)r + ígí

salaigí

coinnigí

osclaigí

imrigí

Final -igh is dropped after a long vowel.

After a short vowel a final -gh is dropped and the syllable is lengthened, e.g. ni- → nígí.

When the ending has an initial vowel the last syllable is always lost: -(a)igh is dropped; -(a)i- is dropped before a final l, n, r which will then be broad or slender according to the preceding consonant, e.g. oscaill → oscl- (broad), imir → imr- (slender).

The endings -aigí/-aigí are added to final broad consonants, e.g. glan-, sal-, oscl-. The endings -igí/-igí are added to final slender consonants, e.g. bris-, coinn-, imr-. All verbal endings are spelt with an initial 'broad' or 'slender' vowel according to whether the preceding consonant is spelt broad or slender.

NOTES:

1. pacáil: pacálaigí
péinteáil : péinteálaigí

Verbs with roots ending in -(e)áil are regular and behave exactly like glan, bris, except that the final l is normally made broad before any ending which does not begin with t.

2. rith /ru/ : rithigí /ri:g̊i:/ bruith /bru/ : bruithigí /bri:g̊i:/

In spelling, verbs with roots ending in -th are regular. In pronunciation, however, as th/h/ is dropped in this dialect (see App. I.4), the syllable is lengthened just as in nígí.

(iii) Negative

Ná hoscaill an doras seo !

Don't open that door !

Ná prefixes h to any verb with an initial vowel.

(iv) Contrast or emphasis

(a) Ordinary form

Glan é !
Osclaigí é !

Clean it !
Open (pl.) it !

(b) Emphasis

Glan féin é !
Osclaigí féin é !

Clean it yourself !
Open it yourselves !

(c) Contrast

*Glan thusa é !
Osclaígí sibhse é !*

You clean it !
You (pl.) open it !

(d) Contrast + Emphasis

*Glan thusa thí féin é !
Osclaígí sibhse sibh féin é !*

You clean it yourself !
You open it yourselves !

3. USE OF DEFINITE ARTICLE WITH NUMBERS

*an t-aon fhuinneog amháin an dá fhuinneog
na trí fhuinneog*

the only (one) window
the two windows
the three windows

An t- is used before aon, irrespective of gender, e.g. an t-aon bhord amháin ‘the only (one) table’, an t-aon fhuinneog amháin ‘the only (one) window’. Dhá ‘two’, which is the lenited form, is generally used, but after the article dá, the unlenited form, is required, e.g. an dá fhuinneog ‘the two windows’.

Na is always used with numbers over two, e.g. na trí fhuinneog ‘the three windows’, na cheithre shagart ‘the four priests’, and optionally before dá, e.g. na dá fhuinneog ‘the two windows’.

4. USE OF ADJECTIVES AFTER NUMBERS

*aon fhearr mór amháin
an dá fhuinneog mhóra
na trí theach bheaga*

only one big man
the two big windows
the three little houses

After aon the adjective is as normal, e.g. aon fhearr mór amháin ‘only one big man’, aon bhean mhór amháin ‘only one big woman’ (see Lesson 4). After the numbers dhá ‘two’ to deich ‘ten’ the adjective is in the plural and is lenited, e.g. an dá fhuinneog mhóra ‘the two big windows’, na trí theach bheaga ‘the three little houses’.

5. USE OF CEANN WITH NUMBERS

Ceann ‘one’ (lit. ‘head’) can stand for any noun:

*An bhfuil móran boird anseo ?
Bord amháin / Ceann amháin.
Dhá bhord / Dhá cheann / Péire.
Cheithre bhord / Cheithre cinn.*

Are there many tables here ?
One table / One.
Two tables / Two.
Four tables / Four.

Péire ‘pair’ is very often used in place of Dhá cheann.

TEXTS

AN BHUNSCOIL

Is múinteoir í Bairbre. Inniu Dé Luain agus tá sí cineál tuirseach. Bíonn na páistí óga i gcónaí tuirseach agus dána Dé Luain, go háirithe má bhíonn Dé Sathairn nó Dé Domhnaigh flúch. Tá gasúir cheithre bliana is chuíg bhliana ag Bairbre. Bhí timpiste beag ag Donncha agus tá fuil ar a shrón.

'Glan do shrónanois, a Dhonncha,' a deir an mháistreás. 'Is buachaill maith é Donncha, nach ea?'

'Is ea,' a deir an rang uilig.

'Glan thusa an clár dubh anois, a Dhonncha!'

Is mór an truaí go bhfuil na gasúir rud beag tuirseach mar beidh an cigire ann ar ball.

'Anois, leagaigí na leabhartha agus na peanna ar na boird,' a deir an mháistreás. 'Glanaigí 'ur láimha agus ná salaigí na boird ná na cathaoireacha mar beidh an cigire anseo ar ball. Osclaigí na leabhartha agus léigí iad!'

Ansin, tháinig an cigire.

'Cén lá é an lá inniu?' a deir an cigire leis an rang. Ní raibh focal ag an rang leis an bhfaítios.

'Cuir thusa thú féin na ceisteanna ar na páistí,' a deir an cigire leis an máistreás.

'Inniu Dé Luain,' a deir Bairbre, 'amáireach ...?'

'Amáireach Dé Máirt,' a deir an rang uilig.

'Agus arú amáireach?'

'Dé Céadaoin.'

'Agus ansin ...?'

'Déardaoin.'

'Agus ansin ...?' a deir an cigire é féin.

'Dé hAoine,' a deir an rang ar fad.

'Is iontach an rang é seo,' a deir an cigire.

OIDEACHAS

Tá an córas Éireannach mórán¹ cosúil leis an gcóras áit ar bith eile. I dtosach, tá an bhunscoil ann, ansin tá an mheánscoil ann, agus ansin tá an ollscoil ann agus coláistí eile cosúil leis an ollscoil. Go hiondúil, bíonn gasúir timpeall sé bliana ar an mbunscoil agus timpeall an oiread céanna ar an meánscoil. Tá cupla cineál meánscoil ann. Tá an phobalscoil coitianta go leoranois. Is meánscoil í an phobalscoil, dháiríre, ach bíonn ceirdeanna i gceist in éindí leis na bunábhair choitianta eile. Uair amháin, bhíodh scoileanna buachaillí agus scoileanna caillní ann ach anois, go hiondúil, bíonn na buachaillí agus na caillní in éindí. Tá scoileanna Caitliceacha agus scoileanna ¹mórán 'much, many' is used adverbially to mean 'more or less'.

Pratastúnacha ann. Go deimhin uaireanta bionn scoil Ghiúdach ann freisin. Deir daoine nach bhfuil mórán difríochtaí idir na scoileanna seo agus gur mór an truaí¹ nach bhfuil ann ach an t-aon chineál amháin. Deir daoine eile go bhfuil sé ceart go bhfuil na trí chinedí ann agus go bhfuil an difríocht tábhachtach. Tá an scéal seo casta go leor.

EXERCISES

A. Complete the following sentences, e.g. A. Is dochtúr mé. B. Ab ea ?

- | | | |
|---------------------|---------------------------------------|----------|
| 1. A. | dochtúr mé. | B.? |
| 2. A. | múinteoir í sin ? | B.? |
| 3. A. | sagart é Seánín. | B.? |
| 4. A. | múinteoirí iad na daoine sin ? | B.? |
| 5. A. N | feilméara é sin ? | B.? |

B. Complete these sentences with the appropriate adjective among the following: deas, bocht, maith, mór.

- | | |
|---|---------------------|
| 1. A. Is an duine é. | B. Is deas. |
| 2. A. Is an scéal é go bhfuil an aimsir go breá arís. | B. Is maith. |
| 3. A. Is an rud é. | B. Is ea. |
| 4. A. Nach an truaí nach bhfuil Cáit go maith ? | B. Is mór. |

C. Give the second singular imperative of: osclaígí, salaígí, nígí, pacálaigí.

D. Give the second plural imperative of: imir, bris, léigh, glan, péinteáil.

TRANSLATE:

1. the one nice woman 2. the four nice books 3. the three big windows 4. the one big man
5. the two big houses

1. I am not a nurse. I am a doctor. The hospital is there. Isn't it nice ? There is only one hospital here. 2. Are you a doctor too ? Yes. 3. Indeed, he says that all these people are either doctors or teachers. 4. Keep (pl.) the books but don't dirty (pl.) them with the pens ! 5. You clear the table. Then wash the dishes. Don't cook the meat again and don't open the door at all ! 6. "Clean your nose, please, and then clean the blackboard," says the school-mistress. "Clean it yourself, and clean your own nose !" says the boy. 7. It is a great pity that Máirtín was bold on Wednesday and Thursday. He was bold on Monday last week. 8. There are boys and girls together at the class on Tuesday and Friday.

¹The é in sentences of the sort is mór an truaí é can be omitted when indirect speech follows.

LESSON 13

VOCABULARY

amhrán	/o:rá:n/	amhráin	song
baile	/ba:l'ə/	bailte /ba:l't'ə/	home, village
barúil fem.	/ba:ru:l'/	barúlacha	notion, opinion
bealach	/b'æ:ləx/	bealach	way
cás	/kə:s/	cásanna	case
cathair fem.	/ka:r'/	cathracha	city
ceol	/k'o:l/	ceolta	music
comharsa fem.	/ku:rsə/	comharsanna	neighbour
craic fem.	/kræk'/		fun, 'gas'
damhsa	/dausə/	damhsaíocha	dance
deifir fem.	/d'ef'r'/		hurry, haste
deireadh	/d'er'ə/		end
deireadh seachtaíne	/d'er'ə s'æ:xtən'ə/		weekend
eitleán	/et'ələ:n/	eitleáin /et'ələ.nən'/	aeroplane
gnaithe	/gra:/	gnaithí /grai:/	business, affairs
leoráí	/l'ori:/	leoraís /l'oris/	lorry
meaisín	/'m'æ:s'i:n'/	meaisíneanna	machine
Nollaig fem.	/NOLæk'/	Nollaigeacha	Christmas
obair fem.	/obər'/	oibreacha /aib'r'əxi:/	work
píosa	/p'i:sə/	píosáí	piece, period
rásúr	/rə:su:r/	rásúirí	razor
seans	/s'æ:n's/	seansanna	chance
tada	/ta:də/		anything, nothing ¹
uaigneas	/u:əg'n'əs/		loneliness
uair an chloig fem.	/u:ər'ə xLeg'/		(clock) hour

a bheas	/ə w'eis/	(that) will be a bhíonn s	/ə w'i:ns/	(that) normally is	(see this lesson)
atá	/ə tə:/	(that) is
fanacht	/fa:Nəxt/	(to) stay, wait, remain
an-	/a:N/, /æ:N'/	very, excellent, great aon	/e:N/	any
barr-	/ba:r/	outstanding, extraordinary
deá-	/d'a:/	good
droch-	/drox/	bad
eicínt	/ə'k'i:N't'/	some
fada	/fa:də/	long
fior-	/fi:ər/	real, true, genuine
luath	/Lu:ə/	soon, early
ro-	/rə/	too, excessive, over-
sean-	/s'æ:n/	old
síor-	/s'i:ər/	constant, continual speisialta	/sp'es'i:əltə/	special
uaigneach	/u:əg'n'əx/	lonely
abhaile	/ə'wa:l'ə/	home(ward)
chomh luath is	/xə Lu:ə s/	as soon as ¹In negatives or questions only.

cuir i gcás	/kir' ə gá:s/	(take) for example
mar	/ma:r/	as, like
nuair¹	/Nuər'/	when
sol má	/soL (m)a:/	before
sa mbaile	/sa ma:l'ə/	at home

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. Níos /N'i:s/ means ‘more’, e.g. níos sásta ‘more pleased, happier’; also note níos fearr /N'i:s f'rə:t/ ‘better’, níos measa /N'i:s m'a:sə/ ‘worse’.
2. Tá Cáit mó leis an bhfeair sin. ‘Cáit is friendly with that man.’
3. Aon ‘any’ is not as forceful as ar bith ‘any at all’, e.g. Níl aon leabhar anseo. ‘There isn’t any book here.’; Níl leabhar ar bith anseo. ‘There isn’t any book at all here.’ Aon is confined to negative sentences or questions; ar bith can be used in positive sentence of the sort: Bheadh duine ar bith sásta anseo. ‘Anyone would be content here.’

GRAMMAR

1. DIRECT RELATIVE CLAUSES

(i) Positive

Feicim an fear	atá sásta.	I see the man who	is satisfied.
	a bhíonn sásta.		(normally) is satisfied.
	a bheas sásta.		will be satisfied.
	a bhí sásta.		was satisfied.
	a bhíodh sásta.		used to be satisfied.
	a bheadh sásta.		would be satisfied.

‘Who(m), that, which’ are expressed by the unstressed direct relative particle a /ə/ which lenites all verb forms (except tá, which has the special relative form atá).

A broad s is added to the present habitual, e.g. a bhíonn, and to the future, e.g. a bheas (from beidh; in spelling -idh is replaced by -(e)as) of all forms which are not combined (see Lesson 7). Combined forms do not add s, e.g. Tá an fear a thigim go deas. ‘The man whom I understand is nice.’

(ii) Negative

Feicim an fear nach bhfuil sásta.	I see the man who is not content.
Feicim an fear nach mbíonn sásta.	I see the man who is not (normally) content.

‘Who(m), which, that ... not’ is expressed by the negative direct relative particle nach which causes ellipsis and is followed by a dependent form of the verb, e.g. nach bhfuil, nach raibh.

(iii) Double direct relative

Feicim an fear a shílim a bheadh sásta.	I see the man that I think would be content.
--	--

¹/Nor’ often in fast speech.

In a direct relative clause verbs which are normally followed by go/nach, e.g. Sílim go mbeadh an fear sásta ‘I think that the man would be content’, are followed by another relative, e.g. an fear a shílim a bheadh ... ‘the man who I think would be ...’

(iv) Usage

*Cén bhean a bhí anseo inné ?
Bím sásta chomh luath is a fheicim
an dochtúr.*

*Tá Cáit go díreach mar a bhí sí inné.
Beidh sise anseo nuair a bheas tusa
ansin.*

What woman (is it who) was here yesterday ?
I am normally satisfied as soon as I see the doctor.

Cáit is exactly as she was yesterday.
She will be here when you will be there.

A direct relative is used after questions with cé/céard which contain the copula (cén is a contraction of cé ‘who/what is’ and an ‘the’), after conjunctions containing is, e.g. chomh luath is ‘as soon as’, mar ‘like’, and after certain other conjunctions, e.g. nuair ‘when’.

2. PRONOUNS STANDING ALONE

*Cé atá ansin ? – Mise.
Cé thusa ?*

Who is there ? – Me.
Who are you ?

The ordinary disjunctive form, e.g. mé, thú, é, can never stand alone. Contrast or emphatic forms are used, e.g. mise, thusa, eisean.

3. PREFIXED ADJECTIVES

(i) Adjectives given primary stress

Tá drochbhád agus seanchapall ag Máirtín.

*Tá an bád roshean agus tá an capall
ro-óg.*

Tá droch-sheanbhád eile ansin.

Máirtín has a bad boat and an old horse.

The boat is too old and the horse is too young.

There is another bad old boat there.

Ordinarily, the smaller number of adjectives which are prefixed are given the primary stress, e.g. in drochbhád, droch- takes the primary and -bhád the secondary stress. As is the case with all compound words, any prefix causes lenition.

(ii) Double stress

*Tá Cáit an-mhór
Tá an-charr ag Cáit.
Tá an carr sin fiormhaith.*

Cáit is very big.
Cáit has an excellent car.
That car is really good.

In the case of the intensive prefixes an ‘very’, fíor- ‘really’, barr- ‘outstanding’, deá- ‘good’, the compound word gets a double stress, e.g. an-mhór: an and -mhór are stressed equally.

Níl aon charr ag Máirtín.

Máirtín has no car.

Aon ‘any’ and the following noun get equal stress.

(iii) Spelling

Generally, the prefix is written together with the following word, e.g. drochbhád, roshean. However, two vowels, two identical consonants or two prefixes are separated by a hyphen, e.g. ro-óg, droch-chapall, droch-sheanbhád. The prefixes an- and deá are written with a hyphen, and aon as a separate word.

(iv) Adjectives ending in n

Nach bhfuil aon teach ag an seansfhear sin? Has that old man no house ?

Tá seanteach ag an bhfeair sin ach níl aon solas ann. That man has an old house but there is no light there.

All adjectives ending in n which come before the noun behave like an ‘the’ (see Lessons 5 and 8) in that:

(a) the n takes its quality from the vowel which follows it in spelling, e.g. n in seansfhear and aon fheair is pronounced /N̄l/.

(b) d, t resist lenition, e.g. *seanteach, seandoras*¹, aon teach.

An s also resists lenition, e.g. aon solas, although a t is frequently inserted, e.g. aon tsolas /e:N'toləs/.

4. FEMININE OF REFERENCE

Certain nouns, though masculine, are normally or frequently referred to by sí/it.

(i) Modes of conveyance, machines, containers

Tá carr ag Máirtín agus tá sí an-mhór. Máirtín has a car and she/it is very big.

Other nouns are bád, bus, leoráid, eitleán, meaisín, rásúr, soitheach.

(ii) Certain animals

Tá capall ansin agus tá sí fiormhór. There is a horse there and it is really big.

Another example is francach ‘rat’.

(iii) Certain garments

Tá caipín Mháirtín anseo ach tá sí robheag. Máirtín’s cap is here but it is too small.

Another example is geansaí ‘jersey’.

(iv) Leabhar ‘book’

Níl an leabhar sin ag Cáit. An bhfuil sí ag Máirtín? Cáit has not got that book. Has Máirtín got it ?

Leabhar is also exceptional in that, although it is masculine, a following adjective may be optionally lenited, e.g. leabhar mhór or leabhar mór ‘a big book’.

¹In a few words the d is not pronounced, e.g. seanduine /s'æ:Nɪn'ə/ ‘an old person’.

TEXT

AN DEIREADH SEACHTAINE

Nuair a bhíonn saoire ann Dé Luain, bíonn an deireadh seachtaine an-fhada. Is áit uaigneach í an chathair ag am mar sin. Faoi Nollaig, cuir i gcás, bíonn sí fioruaigneach. Tá go leor daoine anseo, go háirithe seandaoine, a bhíonn uaigneach ag an deireadh seachtaine. Bíonn an t-uaigneas níos measa anseo ná mar a bhíonn sé faoin tir. Ni bhíonn na comharsanna anseo mar a bheidís faoin tir. Ní bhíonn an t-am ag daoine anseo. Bíonn obair nó gnaithí eicint ag 'chuile dhuine. Bíonn siordheifir ann.

Tá barúil ag go leor daoine go bhfuil an baile mór níos fearr ag daoine óga. Deir daoine go bhfuil damhsaiocha agus ceol agus 'chuile chineál spóirt anseo agus go bhfuil seans níos fearr ar obair. Mar sin féin, tá go leor daoine óga nach mbíonn sásta fanacht anseo ar chor ar bith ag an deireadh seachtaine. Deir siad go mbíonn an chraic níos fearr sa mbaile agus nach mbíonn anseo ach drochdhamhsaiocha agus go mbíonn 'chuile áit plódaithe. Ar ndóigh, tá go leor cailín óga atá mór leis na buachaillí sa mbaile.

Bíonn busanna speisialta ann ag an deireadh seachtaine agus chomh luath is a bhíonn deireadh leis an obair tráthnóna Dé hAoine, bíonn na daoine óga ar a mbealach abhaile. Uaireanta, bíonn siad cheithre huairé an chloig ar an mbealach. Sílim féin go bhfuil sé sin rofhada, bheinn tuirseach sol má bheinn sa mbaile ar chor ar bith. Bheinn níos sásta dhá mbeadh eitleán ann. Bheadh sí sin níos fearr ! Mar sin féin, bíonn ceol agus amhráin ag na daoine óga ar an mbus agus cé go mbíonn sí lán, sílim go mbíonn siad sáth sásta. Ar ndóigh, bíonn go leor daoine barrthuirseach maidin Dé Luain.

EXERCISES

A. Complete the following sentences positively, e.g. Feicim an bhean a bhí anseo inné.

1. Feicim an bhean anseo inné.
2. Ní thigim an duine ag an doras anois.
3. Is é an muiúteoir an fear sásta amáireach.
4. Is í an mháistreachas an bhean anseo 'chuile Dé Máirt.
5. Feicim an fear a shílim sásta, dhá mbeadh Cáit anseo.

B. Complete the following sentences negatively, e.g. Tá sagart anseo anois nach bhfuil sásta ar chor ar bith.

1. Tá sagart anseo anois sásta ar chor ar bith.
2. Is é an cineál fear é an dochtúr, fear sásta mórán ar chor ar bith.
3. Feicim cailín anseo Dé Sathairn seo chugainn mar beidh sí sa mbaile.
4. Cén bhean a bhí anseo uair an chloig ó shin ? An bhean anseo inné.
5. Nuair a bhean ann, bhíodh Páidín níos sásta.

TRANSLATE

1. Cáit has the same bad old car, the car Bríd had when she was here last year.
2. Who is there ? – Me, open the door !
3. This place is exactly as it used to be when I used to be here a few years ago.
4. The bus is always early; as soon as you are at the shop, it is there.
5. My jumper is here but it is far too big.
6. All the neighbours were at the dance on Saturday. It was really good. There was music and songs.
7. People have the notion that the city is worse, especially around Christmas. I am sure that it is lonely at the weekend.

LESSON 14

VOCABULARY

beirt fem.	/b̄'ert/		two people
bosca	/boskə/		box
caoi fem.	/ki:/	caoíonna	way, means
coirce	/ker'k̄ə/		oats
cúigear	/ku:ḡər/		five people
fáinne	/fə:N̄ə/	fáinní	ring
fírinne fem.	/f̄i:r̄'əN̄ə/		truth
míle	/m̄'i:l̄ə/	mílte /m̄'i:L̄'t̄ə/	thousand monarcha fem.	/mu:N̄rxa/	monarchain	factory
seisear	/s̄'es̄ər/		six people
síol	/s̄'i:l̄/	síolta	seed
tuairim fem.	/tu:ər̄'əm̄/	tuairimeacha	opinion
aireachtáil fem.	/æ:r̄'əxta:l̄/	v.n. of airigh	feeling, hearing
airigh 2	/æ:r̄'əl̄/		feel, hear
bheith	/w̄'e/	bí	being briseadh	/b̄'r̄'is̄'ə/	bris	breaking
bruith	/bru:/	bruith	boiling, cooking
clois 1	/kłos̄/		hear
cloisteáil fem.	/kłos̄'t̄'a:l̄/	clois	hearing
coináil fem.	/ki:N̄'a:l̄/	coinnigh	keeping, holding
creid 1	/k̄'r̄'ed̄/		believe
creisdiúint fem.	/k̄'r̄'es̄'t̄'u:N̄'t̄/	creid	believing
cur	/kur/	cuir	putting, sowing, burying déan 1	/d̄'i:N/		do, make
déanamh	/d̄'i:Nə/	déan	doing, making
deargadh	/d̄'æ:r̄gə/	dearg	lighting, reddening
fás 1	/fa:s/		grow
fás	/fa:s/	fás	growing
feic 1	/f̄'ek'/		see
feiceáil fem.	/f̄'ek'ə:l̄/	feic	seeing glanadh	/gla:Nə/	glan	cleaning, clearing
goil	/gel'/		going
imirt fem.	/im̄'ərt/	imir	playing leagan	/l̄' æ:gəN/	leag	laying, knocking down putting (horizontally)
léamh	/L̄'e:w/	léigh	reading
níochán	/N̄'i:xa:N/	nigh	washing
oscailt fem.	/oskəL̄'t̄/	oscail	opening
pacáil fem.	/pa:ka:l̄/	pacáil	packing
péinteáil fem.	/p̄'e:n̄'t̄'a:l̄/	péinteáil	painting
pós 1	/po:s/		marry, get married
pósadh	/po:sə/	pós	marrying, marriage
salú	/sa:Lu:/	salaigh	dirtying
síl 1	/s̄'i:l̄/		think, be of the opinion
síleachtáil fem.	/s̄'i:l̄'əxta:l̄/	síl	thinking
siúil 1	/s̄'u:l̄/		walk, travel
siúil	/s̄'u:L/	siúil	walking, travelling

teacht	/t̪æ:xt/		coming
tig 1	/t̪ig/		understand
tiscint fem.	/t̪is'k̪əN't/	tig	understanding
tíocht	/t̪i:ɔxt/	= teacht
ar bun	/er' buN/		afoot, going on b'éigeann	/b'ē:g'əN/		it was necessary
gan	/gəN/		without (see this lesson)
in ann	/i:Nə:N/		able
tigh	/t̪i:/		at ... 's house

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. dúirt siad /du:rt' s'i:əd/ 'they said'
2. Sin é an rud. 'that is the point' (lit. the thing)
3. cur ar bun 'set up'

GRAMMAR

1. VERBAL NOUN

(i) Positive

Nil an crann in ann fás.	The tree cannot grow.
Tá mé sásta siúl.	I am content to walk.
Tá Cáit sásta pósadh.	Cáit is willing to marry.

The verbal noun or infinitive (it is more appropriate to look at it as a noun based on a verb) can (a) have the same form as the root, e.g. fás; (b) various endings added to the root, e.g. -(e)adh: pósadh, briseadh; -t: imirt.¹

There are three verbal nouns, e.g. goil 'to go', teacht/tíocht 'to come', bheith 'to be', which are preceded by an unstressed particle a /ə/ which lenites, e.g. tá mé sásta a thíocht anois 'I am content to come now'.

(ii) Negative

Tá mé sásta gan siúl.	I am content not to walk.
Tá Cáit sásta gan é a phósadh.	Cáit is willing not to marry him.

The word gan 'without', which is unstressed, is used before the verbal noun to form a negative.

(iii) Direct object

Tá mé sásta míle a shiúl.	I am satisfied to walk a mile.
Tá Cáit sásta gan é a phósadh.	Cáit is willing not to marry him.

A direct object, e.g. míle, é, precedes the verbal noun. There is a general rule in Irish that when the direct object comes before the verbal noun a /ə/ (+lenition) is used, e.g. a shiúl, a phósadh.

¹The verbal noun of every new verb is given in the vocabularies of each lesson. The formation of the verbal noun, however, is more fully dealt with in Appendix II.

(iv) Usage as ordinary noun

Tá an siúl go deas.

Níl an fás go maith anseo.

Bionn pósáiocha go leor anseo.

Walking is nice.

The growth is not good here.

There are plenty of marriages here.

Verbal nouns behave like ordinary nouns, are masculine or feminine and may have a plural form.

2. SEO, SIN, SIÚD 'THIS HERE / THAT THERE IS'

(i) Statement

Seo bord agus sin cathaoir.

Seo é an bord agus sin í an chathaoir.

Seo í Cáit, sin é Máirtín agus siúd iad na daoine eile.

This here is a table and that there is a chair.

This here is the table and that there is the chair.

This here is Cáit, that there is Máirtín, and those there are the other people.

Seo, sin, siúd, corresponding to anseo, ansin, ansiúd (see Lesson 2), are used before a noun to express 'this here/that there/'that' there (person, thing) is'. When a noun is definite, that is a noun with the article, the possessive adjective, or a proper noun, e.g. an bord, mo bhord, Cáit, é, í or iad are required and they follow the usages of sé, sí, siad (see Lessons 5 and 13). Before é, í or iad, seo is pronounced with a final /w/ as though spelt seobh.

(ii) Negation

Ní heo é an bord

This here is not the table.

Apart from the statement form, 'eo', 'in', 'iúd' are used. Ní prefixes a h.

(iii) Questions

Ab 'eo é an bord ?

Nach 'eo é an bord ?

Is this (thing) here the table ?

Is this (thing) here not the table ?

(iv) Indirect speech

Deir sé gurb 'eo é an bord.

Deir sé nach 'eo é an bord.

He says that this here is the table.

He says that this here is not the table.

(v) 'If' clauses

Más 'eo é an bord, tá mé sásta.

Marab 'eo é an bord, nil mé sásta.

If this here is the table, I am satisfied.

If this here is not the table, I am not satisfied.

(vi) Some particular expressions

In certain expressions, e.g. sin é mo bharúil 'that is my opinion'; sin é mo thuairim 'that is my way of thinking'; sin é an chaoi 'that is the way (it is)', é is used before a feminine noun. It can be thought of as referring to what has just been or is about to be said, rather than to the noun itself.

(v) Summary table

	Seo	(sin, siúd)
Ní	heo	(hin, hiúd)
Ab
Nach
Deir sé	gurb nach	'eo	('in, 'iúd)
	Más		(é an) bord.
	Marab

The use of ní, ab, nach, etc. before 'eo, 'in, 'iúd is the same as the special forms of is used before third person pronouns (see Lesson 11).

TEXT

AN SEAN AGUS AN NUA

Fuair muid scoil nua anseo dhá bhliain ó shin. I dtosach, bhí daoine sásta an seanteach a leagan. Ansin cupla mí ó shin, tháinig heirt strainséaraí thart agus dúirt siad go mbeadh na daoine óga in ann fáinní a dhéanamh anseo agus go mbeidís féin in ann a thíocht agus monarcha bheag a chur ar bun, dhá mbeiftí sásta an tseanscoil a choinneál.

Ansin, bhí na mná óga ag an tseanscoil 'chuile lá. B'éigean na ballaí a níochán agus na doirse a phéinteáil agus an áit ar fad a ghlanadh. Dúirt siad go mbeadh sé go hiontach dhá mbeadh obair ag na daoine óga.

'Nuair nach mbíonn obair ann,' a deir bean amháin, 'ní bhíonn an t-airgead ann. Ansin, ní bhíonn na daoine sásta fanacht anseo.'

'Nach 'in é an rud,' a deir bean eile, 'nuair nach mbíonn an t-airgead ann, ní bhíonn pósálocha ar bith ann. Beidh 'chuile shórt níos fearr anois.'

Ach, ar ndóigh, ní raibh 'chuile dhuine sásta. Bhí mé tigh Mháirtín (an teach ósta anseo) an oische cheana agus bhí mé in ann na seansfir a chloisteáil, cé nach raibh mé in ann iad uilig a sheiceáil. Sílim go raibh cùigear nó seisear thart ar an mbord.

'Deir siad go mbeidh obair anois ag na daoine óga,' a deir fear amháin.

'Ó muise !' a deir seanshear eile, 'níl mé in ann an dream óg a thiscint ar chor ar bith. Níl siad sásta an obair a dhéanamh. Nach bhfuil an talamh fairsing thart anseo ? Tá i bhfad an iomarca scoileanna ann agus níl siad sásta a láimha a shalú leis an talamh. Níl siad in ann síolta a chur na fataí ná coirce ná tada a fhás !'

'Nuair a bhí muide óg,' a deir seanshear eile, 'bhí muid in ann an obair a dhéanamh. Sin é mo thuairimsa !'

'Sin í an fhírinne,' a deir na fir uilig.

EXERCISES

A. Complete these sentences with an appropriate verbal noun from the following: léamh, oscailt, goil, pósadh, briseadh, tiscint, bheith, fás, creidiúint, teacht.

1. Tá mé in ann Gaeilge
2. Níl an crann in ann
3. An mbeifeá sásta an doras ?
4. Tá sé deacair an scéal sin
5. Bhí mé sásta gan an leabhar sin
6. Tráthnóna Dé hAoine beidh muid in ann abhaile.
7. Tá sé go deas anseo.
8. Ní raibh doras ann agus b' éigean an fhuinneog
9. Bhí sé sásta gan anseo inniu, mar bhí mo mháthair tinn.
10. Tá Cáit sásta gan mar tá Máirtín roshean anois.

B. Give positive responses to the following, e.g. Ab 'eo bord ? Is ea.

1. Ab 'eo bord ?
2. Nach 'eo í an chathaoir ?
3. Ab 'in iad na daoine a bhí anseo aréir ?
4. Ab 'iúd é an duine atá i gceist ?
5. Seo í do bhean.
6. Sin é an duine a bheas sásta é a dhéanamh

C. Give negative responses to the following:

1. Ab 'eo feilm ?
2. Ní hin í an fhírinne.
3. Ab 'eo í leabhar Mháirtín ?
4. Ab 'in é an chaoi ?
5. Sin teach eile.
6. Ab 'eo coirce ?

TRANSLATE:

1. There are five or six people here who can understand French. 2. Those there are the three priests who were at the church last Sunday. 3. This here is the young crowd who are willing to do the work. They are able to sow seeds and grow potatoes and oats. 4. It was necessary to go to the old house again last year and to paint the doors and windows and to clean the whole place. 5. There was only one person willing to come. 6. Make (pl.) the boxes but don't make too many !

LESSON 15

VOCABULARY

clóscríobhaí	/klo:s'k'r'i:wi:/	clóscríobhaiithe /...s'k'r'i:wi:/	typist
comhlacht¹	/ko:ləxt/	comhlachtaí	company, firm
cúrsa	/ku:rsə/	cúrsaí	course, pl. matters
dochar	/doxər/		harm
fion	/f'i:N/		wine
foighid fem.	/faid'/		patience
Gearmáinis fem.	/g'æ:rəma:n'əs'/		German language
imní fem.	/i:m'r'i:/		worry, anxiety
maith fem.	/ma:/		good
pái fem.	/pa:i:/		pay
pionta	/p'iNtə/	piontaí	pint
rúnaí	/ru:Ni:/	rúnaithe /ru:Ni:/	secretary
Spáinnis fem.	/spa:N'əs'/		Spanish language
buail 1	/bu:əl'/ ²		hit, beat, come briskly
bualadh	/bu:ələ/ ²	v.n. of buail	hitting, beating, etc.
caint fem.	/ka:N't'/, /kaiN't'/		talk, idiom
ceannacht fem.	/k'æ:Nəxt/	ceannaigh	buying ceannaigh 2	/k'æ:Nə/		buy
cóirigh 2	/ko:r'ə/		arrange, make (bed etc.)
cóiriú	/ko:r'u:/	cóirigh	arranging etc.
deirim	/d'er'əm'/		I say
díol 1	/d'i:əL/		sell
díol	/d'i:əL/	díol	selling
fág 1	/fa:g/		leave
fágáil fem.	/fa:gə:l'/	fág	leaving
faigh 1	/fa:/		get, find
fáil	/fa:l'/	faigh	getting, finding foghlaím 2 ³	/fо:Ləm'/		learn, teach
foghlaím fem.	/fо:Ləm'/	foghlaím	learning, teaching
iarr 1	/i:ər/		want, attempt, request
iarraidh	/i:ərə/	iarr	wanting, etc. ; blow
imeacht	/im'əxt/	imigh	going off, pl. events
imigh 2	/im'ə/		go off, depart
ól 1	/o:L/		drink
ól	/o:L/	ól	drinking
plé	/p'l'e:/	pléigh	dealing, etc. ; discussion
pléigh 1	/p'l'e:/		deal/have to do with saothraigh 2	/si:rə/		earn, achieve
saothrú	/si:ru:/	saothraigh	earning, achieving scríobh 1	/s'k'r i:w/		write
scríobh	/s'k'r i:w/	scríobh	writing
tóig 1	/to:g'/		take up, rear, build
tóigeáil fem.	/to:g'a:l'/	tóig	taking up, etc.

¹The pronunciation /ko:ləxt/ rather than the expected /ku:ləxt/ is due to this word being recently assimilated.

²In fast speech frequently pronounced /bol'/, /boLə/

³*Foghlaím* is slightly exceptional in that the second syllable is not contracted, e.g. foghlaímig! ‘learn !’

tosaigh 2 tosú, tosaí	/tosɔ:/ /tosu:, tosi:/	tosaigh	begin, start beginning, starting áirithe	/a:r'əd'	certain, special annamh	/a:Nə/	rare, seldom
bog	/bog/	soft, easy
crua	/kru:ə/	hard
cúramach	/ku:rəməx/	careful
díreach	/d'i:rəx/	straight, honest
lách	/la:x/	pleasant, courteous
réidh	/re:/	finished, ready, easy
chúns (+ dir. rel.)	/xu:ns/	while
go fóill	/gə fo:l'	for a while (yet)
sin nó ... ¹	/s'in' Nu:/	either that or ...

GRAMMAR

1. THE PREPOSITION AG WITH VERBAL NOUN

(i) In progressive construction

Tá an crann ag fás.

The tree is growing.

Tá Cáit ag pósadh.

Cáit is getting married.

Bhí siad ag ól fion agus ag imirt cluiftí.

They were drinking wine and playing games.

Bhí Máirtín ag moladh Cháit.

Máirtín was praising Cáit.

Ag /əg'/ ‘at’ which is unstressed precedes all verbal nouns (excepting bheith) in ‘progressive’ constructions of the sort ‘the tree is growing’.² The g in ag is pronounced only before a vowel. It is usually broad before a, o, u, e.g. ag ól /əgo:L/, and slender before e, i, e.g. ag imirt /əg' im'ərt/.

A definite noun preceded by the verbal noun is in a genitive relation and therefore (see Lesson 3) lenites names of people or places, e.g. ag moladh Cháit ‘praising Cáit’, lit. ‘at Cáit’s praising’.

In some set phrases, a common noun is lenited, e.g. ag ól bhainne ‘drinking milk’, ag imirt chártaí ‘playing cards’, ag cur fhataí ‘sowing potatoes’.

(ii) After certain verbs

Feicim fear ag siúl ar an tsráid.

I see a man walking on the street.

Beidh Cáit ag teacht anseo ag foghlaim Gaeilge.

Cáit will be coming here to learn Irish.

Tá Máirtín ag goil ag foghlaim Spáinnis.

Máirtín is going to learn Spanish.

Beidh sé ag tosaí ag foghlaim Spáinnis amáireach.

He will be starting to learn Spanish tomorrow.

¹ A pronoun sin ‘that’ is used in certain set phrases where it refers back to something just mentioned.

² It may help to think of the obsolete English construction ‘the tree is a’growing’.

Ag + verbal noun can be used after certain verbs of perception, e.g. feicim ‘I see’, cloisim ‘I hear’; of motion, e.g. teacht ‘coming’, goil ‘going’; and certain verbs marking the beginning or duration of an action, e.g. tosáí ‘beginning’, goil ‘going to’, ‘about to’.

2. USE OF A (+ LENITION) WITH VERBAL NOUN

*Cé atá Cáit a phósadh ?
Tá sí ag pósadh fear óg.*

Whom is Cáit marrying ?
She is marrying a young man.

The general rule that a + lenition is used before a verbal noun whose direct object precedes it (see Lesson 13) holds good, e.g. Cé (direct object) ... a phósadh ?

3. VERBAL NOUN WITH PRONOUN OBJECT

(i) General usage

Tá sé	do mo bhualadh	/gə mə/	He is hitting	me.
	do do bhualadh	/gə də/		you
	dhá bhualadh	/ɣə:/		him/it
	dhá bualadh	/ɣə:/		her/it
	dhár mbualadh	/ɣə:/		us
	dho'ur mbualadh	/ɣə:/		you (pl.)
	dhá mbualadh	/ɣə:/		them

When a pronoun object, e.g. mé is required in a sentence of the sort Tá sé ag bualadh ‘He is hitting’, do /gə/ (a preposition meaning ‘to’ which is unstressed and pronounced as though spelt go) and the appropriate possessive adjective is used:

Tá sé do mo bhualadh He is hitting me. (lit. He is to my hitting.)

Do combines with a and ar to give dhá and dhár. Dhá, dhár and dho'ur are all pronounced as though spelt dhá.

Contrast and emphasis are expressed in the normal way for possessive adjectives (see Lesson 10), e.g. tá sé do mo bhualadhsa ‘he is hitting me’, tá muid dhá bhualadh seisean ‘we are hitting him’.

(ii) Passive construction

This construction can also be used in a passive way:

Tá an teach dhá¹ thóigeáil.	The house is being built. (lit. ...is to its building)
Tá an balla dhá phéinteáil.	The wall is being painted.
Tá an fhuinneog dhá briseadh.	The window is being broken.

¹When used in this reflexive or passive way dhá is written as á in Official Standard Irish. In this dialect it may alternatively be pronounced as dhá or á.

4. FORMATION OF ADVERBS

Bíonn Cáit cúramach.

Cáit is (normally) careful.

Bíonn Bríd ag obair go cúramach.

Bríd works carefully.

Bíonn Bríd anseo go hannamh.

Bríd is rarely here.

Many adjectives used adverbially are preceded by go, e.g. cúramach ‘careful’, go cúramach ‘carefully’. Go prefixes h to vowels, e.g. go hannamh ‘rarely’.

Where there are two adjectives together, go may be dropped, e.g. (go) réasúnta cúramach ‘reasonably carefully’

5. PERSONAL NUMBERS

1 person	duine amháin ¹	/dɪn'ə wə:n'
2 persons	beirt	/b'ərt'
3 persons	triúr ²	/t'r'u:r/
4 persons	ceathrar	/k'æ:r/
5 persons	cúigear	/ku:g'ər/
6 persons	seisear ²	/s'es'ər/
7 persons	seachtar	/s'æ:xtər/
8 persons	ochtár	/oxtər/
9 persons	naonúr	/n'i:Nu:r/
10 persons	deichniúr	/d'iN'u:r/

These nouns, which are all masculine except beirt, e.g. an bheirt ‘the two people’, are used when counting people. Above ten, duine is used with ordinary numbers.³

With nouns denoting people, e.g. bean, sagart, múinteoir, ordinary numbers can be used: dhá bhean, trí shagart, cheithre mhúinteoir. Alternatively, personal numbers may be used followed by a plural form, e.g. *beirt mhná*⁴, triúr sagairt, ceathrar múinteoirí, or less frequently by the singular in such phrases as e.g. beirt shear.

TEXT

IMNÍ

Tá Máire pósta ag Pádraig. Is duine deas lách é Pádraig agus bhí mé sásta nuair a bhí Máire dhá phósadh. Tá siad póstaanois timpeall's seacht mí agus sílim go bhfuil Máire sásta leis an saol. Ach deirim i gcónai go bhfuil an-fhoighid ag Máire !

Bhí posta maith ag Máire agus ag Pádraig. Bhí páit mhaith ag Máire. Is clóscríobhaí í agus bíonn sí ag obair mar rúnáit. Bhí seisean ag obair ag comhlacht eicint ag díol is ag ceannacht seancharranna. Ansin lá amháin, tháinig sé abhaile agus díúirt sé go raibh sé réidh ag plé leis na carranna agus go raibh sé ag goil ag tosaí ag foghlaim ceird eicint eile.

'Ach céard atá sé a dhéanamh anois,' a deirimse, 'nó céard atá sé ag goil a fhoghlaim ?'

¹Aon duine amháin /e:N iN'əwə:n'/ ‘one person only’ is used for emphasis.

²*Beirt* nó thriúr ‘two or three people’, cúigear nó sheisear ‘five or six people’ sometimes have lenition after nó.

³Note that dháréag /yə:r'ə:g/ ‘twelve persons’ is sometimes also used.

⁴Note that mná is lenited following the feminine noun beirt (see Lesson 4).

'Níl mé cinnte go fóill, a athair, céard atá sé ag goil a dhéanamh,' a deir Máire. 'Tá sé ag goil ag déanamh cursa eicint. Beidh sé ag tosaí ag foghlaim Gearmáinis nó Spáinnis. Deir sé gur teanga mhór thábhachtach í an Spáinnis.'

'Tá sé ceart go leor a bheith ag caint ar an oideachas,' a deirimse, 'ach an mbeidh páí ar bith ag Pádraig chúns a bheas sé ag foghlaim teangacha ?'

'Ní bheidh, ach cén dochar ? Nach bhfuil mé féin ag saothrú go maith ? Tá muid óg agus cén mhaith a bheith ag déanamh imní ?'

Ach bím ag déanamh imní. Níl mé cinnte an dtigim na cursaí seo ar chor ar bith. Feicim Máire ag goil ag obair 'chuile mhaidin agus ag tíocht abhaile ansin tráthnóna ag níochán soithí agus éadaí agus ag círiú leapacha. Bíonn saol bog ag Pádraig ansin ag léamh agus ag scríobh. Feicim go minic é ag imeacht ag imirt chártaí nó ag ól pionta. Ach bíonn Máire ag obair i gcónaif. Nuaire a bhí mise óg, dhá mbeadh posta ag fear óg, bheadh sé ag iarraidh é a choinneál, sin nó bheadh sé ag obair go crua ag iarraidh ceann níos fíorr a fháil.

EXERCISES

A. Complete these sentences using an appropriate verbal noun from among the following: foghlaim, ól, fás, briseadh.

1. Tá an crann
2. Bhfí Cáit fíon ar éir.
3. Beidh muid ag tosaí Fraincis amáireach.
4. Feicim na gasúir fuinneogaí.

B. Complete these sentences using an appropriate verbal noun from among the following: déanamh, foghlaim, briseadh, tóigeáil, pacáil, iarraidh.

1. Céard atá tú ?
2. Seo é an teach atá siad
3. Cá bhfuil an fhuinneoig a bhí na gasúir ?
4. Cén teanga atá sí ag tosaí ?
5. Ab 'eo é an mála atá sé ag goil ?
6. Céard atá sibh ?

C. Complete these sentences, e.g. Beidh sí do mo phósadh.

1. Beidh sí.... ... (mé) (pósadh)
2. Tá siad (bualadh)
3. Bhfí siad (muid) (plé)
4. Tá an balla (tóigeáil)
5. Bíonn an t-athair..... (sibh) (moladh)
6. Bhfí an balla (péinteáil)

TRANSLATE

1. Máire has great patience. She is a good typist and she is a wonderful secretary. Her father is always praising Máire. 2. He was associated with buying and selling cars and he was earning well. Now he is going to learn German and Spanish. The poor fellow has no pay at all, but what harm ? 3. What is the good of learning (lit. to be learning) another trade carefully ? While he is learning it I am worrying about these matters. 4. There are certain people who are willing to do exactly what (lit. the thing) I say. 5. Sell (pl.) that car and then buy another one !

LESSON 16

VOCABULARY

aer	/e:r/		air, firmament, sky
adhmad	/a:m̪d/		timber, wood
bainis fem.	/ba:n̪'es'/	pl. bainiseacha	wedding feast
cead	/k'æ:d/		permission, leave
cíall fem.	/k'i:əl/		sense, cause
cláí	/klai/		stone wall
comhrá	/ko:ra:/		conversation
comrádaí	/kumra:di:/		comrade, pal
fios	/f'is/	fiosanna	knowledge, information
gealach fem.	/g'æ:Ləx/		moon
grian fem.	/g'r:i:əN/		sun
nóiméad	/Nu:m̪'e:d/	nóiméadacha	moment
píopa	/p'i:pə/	píopai	pipe
polaitíocht fem.	/polat'i:əxt/		politics
ruainne	/ru:N̪ə/		little bit
siúinéaraí	/s'u:n̪'e:ra/	siúinéaraí	carpenter, joiner
spéir fem.	/sp'e:r/		sky
tobac	/tə'ba:k/		tobacco
toitín	/tet'i:n̪/	toitíní	cigarette
tús	/tu:s/		beginning, start
bain 1	/ba:n̪'/		take, reap, dig, mine
baint fem.	/ba:N̪t'/	v.n. of bain	taking, reaping, etc.
breathnaigh 2	/b'r'æ:Nə/		look (at: ar)
breathnú	/b'r'æ:Nu:/	breathnaigh	looking, look
caith 1	/ka:/		use up, spend, wear, throw
caitheamh	/ka:/	caith	using, etc.
cas 1	/ka:s/		turn, sing, play
casadh	/ka:sə/	cas	turning, etc.
éirí	/air'i:/	éirigh	rising, becoming, etc.
éirigh 2	/air'ə/		rise, get up, become
ith 1	/i:/	ith	eat
ithe	/i:/		eating
roinn 1	/ri:N̪'/		divide
roinnt fem.	/ri:N̪t'/	roinn	dividing; division
sín 1	/s'i:n̪/		stretch, extend, pass
síneadh	/s'i:n̪'ə/	sín	stretching, etc.
tit 1	/t'it'/		fall
titim fem.	/t'it'əm̪'/	tit	falling deireanach	/d'er'əNəx/		late, last
éasca	/e:skə/		easy, speedy, supple
fánach	/fə:Nəx/		pointless, aimless
nádúrthach	/Nə:du:rəx/		natural
náireach	/Nə:r'əx/		shameful, disgraceful
suaimhneach	/si:m̪'r'əx/		peaceful, tranquil cheana	/ha:Nə/		previously
faoi cheann	/fi: x'a:N/		at the end of, after

VOCABULARY NOTES

1. Ag cur caoi ar ‘putting shape on, tidying, fixing’
2. Níl a fhios cén t-airgead ... ‘One doesn’t know what (how much) money ...’
3. Ag baint fhataí ‘digging potatoes’ (a set phrase with lenition)
4. ag caitheamh (tobac, piopa, toitín) ‘smoking (tobacco, pipe, cigarette)’
5. Tá sé ag éirí deireannach ‘It is getting late’; probably under the influence of English, fáil is sometimes used with an adjective to mean ‘become’: Tá sé ag fáil deireanach.
6. Roinnt is also used as an adverb meaning ‘somewhat’

GRAMMAR

1. PREPOSITIONAL PRONOUNS: AG

(i) Introduction

Bhí an dochtúr ag Cáit inné.	The doctor was at (i.e. visited) C. yesterday.
Bhí an dochtúr ag an mbean eile freisin.	The doctor was at the other woman too.
Bhí an dochtúr agam inné.	The doctor was at me yesterday.

Ag like most prepositions combines with mé, tú etc. to give a set of ‘prepositional pronouns’:

Ordinary form (corresp. to mé)	Contrast (corresp. to mise)	Emphasis (corresp. to mé féin)	Emphatic contrast (corresp. to mise mé féin)
agam /a:gəm/ 'am /a:m/ 'at me'	agamsa, 'amsa	agam féin, 'am féin	agamsa mé féin , 'amsa mé féin
agat /a:gəd/ 'ad /a:d/ 'at you'	agatsa, 'adsa	agat féin , 'ad féin	agatsa thú féin , 'adsa thú féin
aige /e:g̊/ 'at him'	aigesan	aige féin	aigesan é féin
aice /ek'əl/ 'at her'	aicese	aice féin	aicese í féin
againn /a:gəN'/ 'ainn /æ:N'/ 'at us'	againne, 'ainne	againn féin , 'ainn féin	againne muid féin , 'ainne muid féin
agaibh /a:gi:/ 'at you (pl.)'	agaibhse	agaibh féin	agaibhse sibh féin
acu /a:kəb/ 'at them'	acusan	acu féin	acusan iad féin

Second person plural pronouns pronounced with two syllables have a final long i, e.g. agaibh /a:gi:/; those pronounced with one syllable have a final slender b, e.g. sibh /s'ib/.

Third person plural prepositional pronouns are pronounced with a final broad b which is not shown in spelling, e.g. acu /a:kəb/.

The forms ag, aige, aice have an initial e sound and a slender consonant as though spelt oig, oige, oice.

The contrast forms (corresponding to mise, etc., see Lesson 2) are the same for almost all prepositions. The first and second singular add -sa to a broad consonant, e.g. agamsa, agatsa; -se is added to a final slender consonant (an example will be seen later in Lesson 22).

(ii) Usage

Bhí an dochtúr aige seo inné. The doctor was at this fellow yesterday.

Aige, aice, acu (the ordinary form of the third person prepositional pronouns) can be used with seo, sin, siúd, e.g. aige seo 'at this fellow/thing', acu siúd 'at those people/things'. The choice of aige or aice, as in the case of all pronouns, follows the rules given for sé/st (see Lessons 5 and 10).

Tá carr agam féin agus ag Cáit. Cáit and I have a car.

As is usual where there is a compound subject or object (see Lesson 9), the ordinary forms (agam, agat, etc.) are not used.

(iii) Word order

Bhí an dochtúr inné agam. The doctor was at me yesterday.

After the verb tá, when the ordinary form of a prepositional pronoun is used, an adverb or short adverbial phrase may precede it, e.g. inné agam, but agamsa inné, agam féin inné, etc.

2. MEANINGS OF AG

(i) Basic meaning 'at'

Tá Cáit ag an ngeata. Cáit is at the gate.

Idiomatically, ag expresses 'to have something' (see Lesson 6) or 'to have an ability, quality or knowledge':

	literally:
Tá Spáinnis agam.	I have Spanish.	I know Spanish.
Tá caint agam.	I have talk.	I can talk.
Tá ceol agam.	I have music.	I can make music.
Tá foighid agam.	I have patience.	I have patience.
Tá ciall agam.	I have sense.	I have sense.
Tá an ceart agam.	I have the right.	I am right / have the right.
Tá súil agam.	I have an eye.	I hope.
Tá a fhios agam. /ta:s a:(gə)m/	I have its knowledge.	I know.

An bhfuil a fhios agat é? 'Do you know it?'. – Tá a fhios. 'Yes, I do.' It is usual to repeat a fhios in a response.

Níl a fhios cé atá ann /N'i:l'əs .../ 'People don't know who is there'; Tá súil go mbeidh Cáit anseo amáireach 'People hope that Cáit will be here tomorrow'; a certain few idioms can be used without any preposition to mean 'people do...', 'one does ...', corresponding to the autonomous form of the verb; see Lesson 2.

(ii) Some other meanings

(a) 'to' (a person or place)¹

Tá Cáit ag goil ag an dochtúr. Cáit is going to the doctor.

¹In this sense ag has supplanted an older chuig which survives elsewhere and is still often written.

(a) 'of' (a person), 'for' (a person or thing)

Tá sé go deas ag Cáit a ghoil ansin. It is nice of Cáit to go there.
Similarly go dona 'bad', náireach 'shameful'.

Tá sé éasca ag Cáit a ghoil ansin. It is easy for Cáit to go there.

Similarly nádúrthach 'natural', fánach 'pointless', go maith 'good'.

(c) quantity (of persons or things)

Tá go leor acu anseo. There are plenty of them here.

Similarly roinnt 'some', neart 'lots of'.

3. A USE OF SEO/SIN WITH 'AMSA, 'ADSA, ETC.

Tá an teach sin 'amsa go deas.	That house of mine is nice.
Tá an doras seo 'ainne go dona.	That door of ours is bad.
Tá Máirtín seo agaibhse tinn.	This Máirtín of yours is sick.

Seo/sin are often used with the contrast forms, e.g. 'amsa', 'adsa', to express possession. Where there is a short form, it must be used, e.g. 'ainne', not 'againne'. Seo 'ainne' /s'æ:N'ə/ and seo agaibhse /s'æ:gɪ:s'ə/ are pronounced as though spelt seainne, seagaibhse. An emphatic form may also be used with féin, but without the contrast suffix -sal/se: Tá an teach seo 'ainn féin ansin' 'Our own house is there.'

TEXTS

OIFIGÍ NUA

Tá oifigí nua dhá dtóigeáil ar an tsráid in aice leis an teach seo 'ainne. Tá comrádaí ag Máirtín seo 'ainne agus is siúinéara é agus tá sé ag obair ann. Bhí an bheirt acu ag bainis in éindí an lá cheana agus bhí siad ag caint faoi na hoifigí.

'Tá a fhios 'am go bhfuil posta maith 'adsa ansin, a Sheáinín,' a deir Máirtín, 'ach dháiríre, an bhfuil ciall ar bith ag daoine atá ag leagan seantithe breá mar sin? Nach raibh na seantithe sin sách maith acu?'

'Ar ndóigh, tá an ceart 'ad,' a deir Seáinín. 'Bhí na doirse agus na fuinneogaí go hiontach agus bhí an t-adhmaid réasúnta maith. Bhí na horláir ag titim ruainne beag, cé go raibh cuid acu ceart go leor. Mar sin féin, is bocht an rud é titne mar sin a leagan.'

'Níl a fhios 'amsa, ach sílim go mbeidís in ann caoi a chur ar na horláir?'

'Bheidís, cinnte,' a deir Seáinín, 'ach tá sé fánach agat a bheith ag caint leis an dream úd. Níl a fhios céan t-airgead atá ag na comhlachtaí móra agus tá siad ag iarraidh é a chaitheamh.'

Ach bhíothadh ag cur túis anois leis an gceol agus leis an damhsa, cé go raibh roinnt daoine fós ag ithe agus ag ól. 'Tá duine eicint ag goil ag casadh amhrán faoi cheann cupla nóniméad,' a deir bean Sheáinín, 'agus tá súil agam nach bhfuil sibhse ag goil a bheith ag caint faoin bpolaitíocht arís. Níl cead ar bith anois agaibh a bheith ag caint faoi na cúrsaí sin anseo.'

Bhí deireadh ansin leis an gcomhrá faoi na hoifigí nua.

TRÁTHNÓNA

Bhí Ruairí agus Páidín ag obair ansin ag baint fhataí. Bhí sé ag éirí deireanach anois agus bhí an ghrian ag goil faoi. Bhí dathanna iontacha ar an spéir agus bhí an t-aer fuar. Bhí Ruairí ag éirí tuirseach agus bhí sé ag iarraidh scíth. 'Sín 'am mo phíopa agus an tobac sin! Cá bhfuil mo scian phóca?'

Ní raibh Páidín rothuirseach ach bhí sé sásta scíth a thóigeáil agus a ghoil abhaile ansin. Bhí seisean ag iarraidh a phíopa a dheargadh freisin. Bhí an bheirt acu ansin ag caitheamh tobac go suaimhneach in aice leis an gcláí agus ag breathnú ar an spéir. Bhí an oíche ag titim. Bhí an bhliain beagnach thart agus an geimhreadh ag tiocht. Faoi cheann píosa, bheadh an ghealach ag éirí.

EXERCISES

In these sentences replace the elements in brackets with the appropriate pronoun form of ag, e.g. Tá a fhios agam go bhfuil Cáit anseo.

1. Tá a fhios (ag) (mé) go bhfuil Cáit anseo.
2. Bhíodh teach mór (ag) (Bríd í féin).
3. Tá an ceart (ag) (an feilméara).
4. Níl ciall ar bith (ag) (é sin).
5. Beidh mé ag goil (ag) (an dochtúr) amáireach.
6. Bhí a fhios (ag) (thú féin) 'chuile shórt.
7. Sílim go bhfuil caint (ag) (Máirtín beag) anois.
8. Tá an ceart (ag) (sibhse) gan a ghoil ann.
9. Bheadh sé éasca (ag) (muide) a bheith ag caint.
10. Tá go leor leor (peanna) anseo.

TRANSLATE:

1. It was nice of Ruairí to come the other evening. I had another pal here and he is a carpenter who is working on the street near this one of ours. 2. It is a great pity to knock down old houses like that and to build new offices. The wood was good. Although the floors were falling a little bit, I am almost certain that one could fix up everything like that. 3. It is pointless for you to talk to 'that' crowd. There is no knowing (lit. one doesn't know) what money these people have. Companies like that are willing to do anything. 4. There were some people at the wedding who were eating and drinking. Others were singing songs and dancing. 5. I hope that you are right and that Cáit will be coming tomorrow. 6. It was getting cold and the night was falling. The two of them are smoking pipes peacefully near the stonewall and taking a rest.

LESSON 17

VOCABULARY

aiféal	/æ:f'e:l/		regret
aimhreas	/æ:w'r'əs/		doubt, suspicion
aisteoir	/æ:s't'o:r'/	aisteoirf	actor
amharc	/a:frak/		sight
amharclann fem.	/aurk'ləN/	amharclanna	theatre
áthas	/a:s/		joy
bás	/ba:s/	básanna	death
béilí	/b'e:l'i:/	béilliocha	meal
billeoig fem.	/b'il'o:g'/	billeogaí	leaf
brón	/bru:N/		sorrow
cliú	/k'u:u:/		fame
cloigeann	/kleg'ən/	cloigne /kleg'n'ə/	head
cosúlacht fem.	/kosu:l.əxt/	cosúlachtaí	appearance
cuairt fem.	/ku:ərt'/		visit
cuma fem.	/kumə/		shape, appearance
drogall	/drogəl/		reluctance
éadan	/e:dən/	éadain /e:dən'/	face, impertinence
eolas	/o:Ləs/		knowledge, information
fearg fem.	/f'æ:rəg/		anger
féasóig fem.	/f'i:so:g'/	féasógaí	beard
fonn	/fu:N/		desire, inclination
góaire	/ga:r'a/	gáirí	laugh(ter)
gruaig fem.	/gru:əg'/		hair
gual	/gu:əl/		coal
hata	/ha:tə/	hataí	hat
iontas	/i:Ntəs/		wonder, amazement
maide	/ma:d'ə/	maidí	stick
moill fem.	/maiL'/	moilleanna	delay
móin fem.	/mu:n'/		turf, peat
náire fem.	/nɑ:r'ə/		shame
ocras	/ukras/		hunger
slaghdán	/SLaiddə:N/	slaghdáin /si.aida:n'/	cold
stáitse	/sta:t'sə/	stáitsí	stage
strainc fem.	/stræ:ŋ'k'/	strainceanna	grimace
suíochán	/si:xə:N/	suíocháin /si:xə:n'/	seat
tart	/ta:rt/		thirst
tincéara	/t'ɪŋ'k'e:ra:/	tincéaraí	tinker
fan 1	/fa:N/		stay, remain
góairí	/ga:r'i:/		laugh(ing)
scrúdaigh 2	/skru:da:/	v.n. of scrúdaigh	examine, scrutinize
scrúdú	/skru:du:/		examining, examination
tóraigh 2	/to:rə/		look / search for tóraíocht fem.	/to:ri:əxt/	tóraigh	looking / searching for bán	/ba:N/		white
buí	/bi:/		yellow, tanned
dearg	/d'æ:rəg/		red

donn	/dauN/	brown
dorchá	/dorəxə/	dark
glas	/gla:s/	green (of plants), grey
gorm	/gorəm/	blue
liath	/l'i:ə/	grey
rúa	/ru:ə/	reddish brown
uaine	/wen'ə/	green
nó (go/nach)	/Nu:/	until (... not)

GRAMMAR

1. THE PREPOSITION AR

(i) Introduction

Tá bainne ar an mbord.

Bhí cóta ar chathaoir anseo inné.
Bhí hata orm inné.

There is milk on the table.

There was a coat on a chair here yesterday.
I had a hat on yesterday.

Ar /er/ ‘on’ causes lenition to a directly following noun, e.g. ar chathaoir ‘on a chair’, except in certain adverbial phrases, e.g. ar fad ‘all together’, ar cuairt ‘visiting’, ar ball ‘in a while’.

(ii) Prepositional pronouns

Ordinary forms	Pronunciation
orm	/ɔrm/
ort	/ɔrt/
air	/er'/
uirthi	/ɔrə/
orainn	/ɔrəN'/
oraibh	/ɔri:/
orthu	/ɔrb/

Both ar and air are pronounced with an e-sound and palatalized r, as though spelt oir.

The contrast forms and general usage is the same as that of ag and most other prepositional pronouns, e.g. orm, ormsa, orm féin, ormsa mé féin (see Lesson 15).

(iii) Meanings of ar

Basic meaning ‘on’:

Tá bainne ar an mbord.

There is milk on the table.

Idiomatically ar expresses:

(a) to wear, have on:

Tá hata agus fáinní orm.

I am wearing a hat and rings.

Similarly: cóta ‘a coat’, and any other item of dress.

(b) to have a natural aspect, feature or appearance:

Tá féasóg, lámha fada agus cuma thuirseach ar an mhuínteoir.	The teacher has a beard, long arms and a tired appearance.
---	--

Similarly: éadan deas ‘a nice face’, strainc ‘a grimace’, dath buí ‘a yellow colouring’, droch-chosúlacht ‘a bad appearance’. Also tá báisteach, sneachta etc. air ‘it looks like rain (snow etc.)’.

(c) an emotional or physical state (incl. disease) or estimation:

	literal meaning:
Céard atá orm ?	What is on me ?	What is the matter with me ?
Tá brón orm (go/nach)	There is sorrow on me.	I am sorry (that ... (not))
Tá áthas orm (go/nach)	joy	I am glad (that ... (not))
Tá imní orm (go/nach)	worry	I am worried (that ... (not))
Tá faítios orm (go/nach)	fear	I am afraid (that ... (not))
Tá náire orm (go/nach)	shame	I am ashamed (that ... (not))
Tá aiféal orm (go/nach)	regret	I regret (that ... (not))
Tá lontas orm (go/nach)	wonder	I am amazed (that ... (not))
Tá aimhreas orm (go/nach)	doubt	I am doubtful / suspicious ...
Tá ocras orm.	hunger	I am hungry.
Tá tart orm.	thirst	I am thirsty.
Tá fonn orm	a desire	I desire to ...
Tá drogall orm	reluctance	I am reluctant to ...
Tá deifir orm.	a hurry	I am in a hurry.
Tá moill orm.	a delay	I am delayed.
Tá fearg orm.	anger	I am angry.
Tá cliú orm.	fame	I am famous.
Tá slaghdán (etc.) orm.	a cold	I have a cold.

Note that a certain few idioms can be used impersonally (corresponding to the autonomous form of the verb).

Tá faítios nach mbeidh Cáit ann.	People are afraid that Cáit won't be there.
Tá aimhreas go mbeidh sé tinn.	People suspect that he will be sick.
Níl a fhios cé mhéad atá ansin.	People don't know how much there is there. There is a great deal there.

(d) to have a name, a price:

Máirtín atá orm.	Máirtín is my name.
Punt atá ar an leabhar seo.	(It is) a pound that book costs.

(The word order here will be explained in Lesson 34). – Somewhat similarly: Tá Máirtín sására é a dhéanamh ar phunt. ‘Máirtín is willing to do it for a pound.’

(e) to have to do something:

Tá orm bainne a ól.	I have to drink milk.
----------------------------	-----------------------

(f) to have or do something to someone's disadvantage:

Tá sé ag briseadh fuinneogáí orm.	He is breaking windows ‘on me’.
Tá airgead ag Cáit orm.	I owe Cáit money. (‘C. has money to my disadvantage’)
Bhí spóirt ag Cáit orm.	Cáit had fun at my expense.

(g) (adverbially) to describe a state:

Tá sé ar cuairt anseo.
Tá sí ar an gcoláiste.

He is visiting here.
She is attending the college.

(h) to strengthen the imperative of verbs expressing continued action:

Fan ort!
Foighid ort!

Wait (will you) !
Have patience !

A few verbs expressing continued action (and the quasi-imperatives of the sort in the second example above) use ort/oraibh to strengthen an imperative.

2. AG CUR AR ‘CAUSING’

(i) Introduction

Tá ocras ar Cháit.
Tá sé ag cur ocras ar Cháit.

Cáit is hungry.
It is causing Cáit to be hungry.
'It is putting hunger on C.'

Cur ‘to put’ can be used with most idioms containing the preposition ar to mean ‘to cause to ...’.

TEXT

AN AMHARCLANN

Tráthnóna Dé hAoine seo caite, bhí cuma thuirseach ar mo bhean Cáit. Bhí fáitós uirthi go raibh slaghdán ag tiocadh uirthi; ach mar sin féin, bhí fonn uirthi a ghoil ag an amharclann. Bhí áthas orm féin mar bionn drogall orm fanacht sa mbaile ag an deireadh seachtaine. I dtosach, bhí muid ag breathnú ar an bpáipéar ag tóraíocht drama eicint a bheadh go maith. Ansin dúirt Cáit go raibh fonn uirthi an drama nua Gaeilge ‘An Tincéara Rua’ a fheiceáil, cé go raibh aimhreas orm nach mbeadh sé go maith. Bhí sé ag éirí deireannach cheana féin. Bhí deifir orainn mar bhí fáitós orainn go mbeadh an amharclann lán.

Fuair muid suiocháin, cé nach raibh siad romhaith. Bhí aiféal orainn nach raibh muid in aice leis an stáitse mar tá an t-amharc go dona ag an mbeirt againn. Ní raibh sé i bhfad nó go raibh an áit plódaithe.

Ní raibh an drama é féin romhaith, ach bhí na haisteoírí go hiontach, cé nach bhfuil mórán clú orthu ar chor ar bith. Mar sin féin, bhí an chosúlacht air go raibh go leor daoine sásta. Bhí 'chuile dhuine ag gáirí faoin tincéara rua. Bhí gruaig rúa air agus féasóig mhór liath. Bhí hata buí ar a chloigeann agus treabhsar beag dearg air. Ní raibh bróga ar bith air agus bhí maide mór fada aige. Bhí iontas orm nach raibh sé fuar ag siúl thart mar sin !

Nuair a bhí an drama thart, bhí ocras orainn agus chuaigh muid ar cuairt ag cairde. Bhí béisí beag againn in éindí.

EXERCISES

A. Complete these sentences using an appropriate noun from among the following: drogall, tart, fonn, brón, fearg, faitíos, deifir, áthas, ocras, imní, e.g. Fuair m'athair bás anuraidh. Bhí brón mór orm.

1. Fuair m'athair bás anuraidh. Bhí mórmorm.
2. Fuair mé airgead inné. Bhí orm.
3. Tá máthair Cháit tinn. Tá uirthi a ghoil ag na peictiúir.
4. Tá an seomra seo dorcha. An bhfuil oraibh?
5. Tá go leor bia ann. An bhfuil ort?
6. Tá na gasúir ag briseadh fuinneogáí orm. Tá orm.
7. Beidh peictiúr maith anocht. Deir Máirtín go bhfuil air a ghoil aige.
8. Beidh scrídíú acu agus tá orthu.
9. Bhí an lá uafásach te agus bhí orainn.
10. Tá mé ag iarraidh a ghoil abhaile anois mar tá orm.

B. Complete these sentences using an appropriate colour from among the following: dearg, bán, dubh, buí, liath, donn, glas, rua, gorm, uaine.

1. Tá an sneachta.
2. Bhí an aimsir go hálainn. Bhí an spéir uilig.
3. Tá an mháistreás sean agus tá a cuid gruaige.
4. Tá an t-earrach ann aríst. Tá billeogaí ar na croinnte.
5. Tá an fhuil.
6. Tá an fómhar ann. Tá na billeogaí dearg agus.
7. Tá an gual agus tá an mhóin.
8. Bhíodh an clár dubh i gcónaí dubh. Anois bíonn cuid acu.
9. Bhí 'chuile dhuine ag gáirí faoin tincéara. Bhí a chuid gruaige.

TRANSLATE:

1. She was wearing a blue skirt and a yellow coat.
2. She was looking (ag breathnú) well although she had a tired appearance.
3. He is looking at the paper looking for information about the new play, the one I think will be good.
4. The theatre was crowded. All the same, we got seats near the stage for a pound. The play was wonderful but the actors were bad even though they are famous.
5. I had a pair of trousers and a shirt on. You had a skirt and jumper on. He was wearing a coat and cap as he had a cold.
6. We were hungry and thirsty and so we went visiting them. We felt like a good meal.
7. Look (pl.) everywhere ! Search (pl.) for the ring !

LESSON 18

VOCABULARY

aithne fem.	/æ:n'ə/		knowing, recognition
árasán	/a:rəsa:n/	árasáin /a:rəsa:n'/	flat, apartment
baladh	/ba:lə/		smell
buóchas	/bi:əxəs/		gratitude
ceimic fem.	/k'ēm'ək'/		chemistry
cion	/k'iN/		affection, fondness
cor	/kor/	coranna	stir, movement, twist
deis fem.	/d'es'/	deiseanna	opportunity, means eolaíocht fem.	/o:L:i:əxt/		science
físic fem.	/f'i:s'ək'/		physics
Francach	/fra:ŋkəx/	Francaigh /fra:ŋkə/	Frenchman
gráin fem.	/grɑ:n'/		hatred, detestation
léacht	/L'e:xt/	léachtanna	lecture
léachtóir	/L'e:xto:r'/	léachtóirí	lecturer
mac léinn	/ma:k 'L'e:N'/	mic léinn	student
marc	/ma:rk/	marcanna	mark, target
meabhair fem.	/m'aur'/		intelligence, mind
meas	/m'æ:s/		respect, esteem
raidió	/ra:d'i:o:/		radio
Rúis fem.	/ru:s'səs'/		Russian (language)
scoláireacht fem.	/skoLə:r'əxt/	scoláireachtaí	scholarship
spraoi	/spri:/		spree, playing
tóir fem.	/to:r'/		pursuit
torann	/torən/		noise
údar	/u:dər/	údaracha	cause, ground
Albain fem.	/a:Lə bən'/
Frainc fem.	/fræ:ŋ'k'/
Rúis fem.	/ru:s'/
Spáinn fem.	/spa:N'/
athraigh 2	/a:ra/		change
athrú	/a:ru:/		changing, change
codail 2 ¹	/kodəl'/		sleep
codladh	/koLə/		sleeping, sleep
goid 1	/ged'/		steal
goid	/ged'/		stealing
las 1	/La:s/		light
lasadh	/la:sə/		lighting
snámh 1	/sna:w/		swim
snámh	/sna:w/		swimming
paiteanta	/pa:t'əntə/		perfect, patient
as a chéile	/a:s ə x'e:l'ə/		in a row, consecutively
aníos	/ə'N'i:s/		from below

¹ Codl /koL/ before any ending

VOCABULARY NOTES

1. ar feadh píosa /er' f'æ: p'i:sə/ 'for a while'
2. ag baint spóirt as 'getting fun out of'
3. go maith as 'well off'
4. ag déanamh spraoi 'playing'

5. The article is generally used with the names of countries, e.g. an Fhrainc, an Rúis, an Spáinn; but Sasana, Meireacá never have the article. Éirinn and Albain only take the article in the genitive (which is dealt with in Lessons 31 and 33).

GRAMMAR

1. INDIRECT RELATIVE CLAUSES

Feicim an bord atá ansin.	I see the table which is there.
Feicim an bord a bhfuil an leabhar air.	I see the table which the book is on.
Feicim an bhean atá ansin.	I see the woman who is there.
Feicim an bhean a bhfuil an teach aici.	I see the woman who has the house.

Unstressed a /ə/, which causes eclipsis and is followed by the dependent form of the verb (see Lesson 2), is used when the noun which the relative clause refers to is not the topic of the clause, e.g. an bord a bhfuil an leabhar air 'the table which the book is on'; where an leabhar 'the book' and not an bord 'the table' is the topic of the relative clause. In practice, this indirect relative is required:

(i) if the clause contains a preposition: an bord a bhfuil an leabhar air!

(ii) if the clause is in genitive relation ('whose'): an fear a bhfuil a mhac anseo 'the man whose son is here'.

(iii) if the clause refers to:

(a) time:

Sin é an t-am a raibh Cáit anseo. That is the time that (at which) Cáit was here.

Similarly: an lá 'the day', an tseachtain 'the week', *an uair*² 'the occasion', etc.

(b) a reason:

Sin é an fáth a mbeidh Cáit anseo. That is (the reason) why Cáit will be here.

Similarly: following an t-údar 'the grounds for, the reason'.

(c) the word áit 'place':

Sin é an áit a bhfuil Cáit. That is where (the place at which) Cáit is.

In the same way cén t-am 'at what time', cén fáth 'why', cén áit 'where', are followed by an indirect relative, e.g. Cén t-am a raibh tú anseo? 'What time were you here at?'

¹An older construction an bord ar a bhfuil an leabhar 'the table on which the book is' is still often used in writing, and more rarely in speech.

²*An uair* 'the occasion, the time' may take either a direct or indirect clause: an uair a bhí tú anseo or an uair a raibh tú anseo 'the time you were here'.

2. DOUBLE INDIRECT RELATIVE

An bhfuil an leabhar ar an mbord a sílim a bhfuil sé air ? Is the book on the table which I think it is on ?

In an indirect relative clause, verbs which are normally followed by go/nach, e.g. sílim go bhfuil ... ‘I think ...’, are followed by another indirect relative, e.g. an bord a sílim a bhfuil sé air ‘the table which I think it is on’.

3. SOME IDIOMS COMBINING AG AND AR

Tá meas agam ar Cháit.	I have respect for Cáit.
Tá buíochas agam ar Cháit.	I am grateful to Cáit.
Tá aithne agam ar Cháit.	I am acquainted with Cáit; I know Cáit.
Tá cion agam ar Cháit.	I am fond of Cáit.
Tá ceist agam ar Cháit.	I have a question for Cáit.
Tá an ghráin agam ar Cháit.	I detest Cáit.
Tá eolas agam ar an áit seo.	I have a knowledge of (am familiar with) this place.
Tá an-tóir agam ar an áit seo.	I am very keen on this place.
Tá seans agam ar phosta.	I have a chance of a job.

4. THE PREPOSITION AS

(i) Introduction

Tóig leabhar as bosca.	Take a book out of a box !
Tóig an leabhar as an mbosca.	Take the book out of the box !

When used with the singular article as causes eclipsis to a following noun, e.g. as an mbosca ‘out of the box’.

(ii) Prepositional pronouns

Ordinary form	Pronunciation
asam	/a:səm/
asat	/a:səd/
as	/a:s/
aisti	/æ:s't̬ʃ/
asainn	/a:sɔ:N'/
asaibh	/a:si:/
astu	/a:stəb/

The contrast forms and general usage is the same as that of ag and most other prepositional pronouns, e.g. asam, asamsa, asam féin, asamsa mé féin (see Lesson 16).

Asat, asainn, asaibh have an alternative pronunciation /a:sdəd/, /a:sdəN'/, /a:sdɪ:/ resp.

(iii) Meaning of as

Basic meaning ‘out of’

Tóig leabhar anós as an málá !	Take a book (up) out of the bag !
---------------------------------------	-----------------------------------

More idiomatically as is used:

(a) to denote ‘out of a material’

Tá Cáit ag déanamh sciorta as an éadach. Cáit is making a skirt out of the cloth.

(b) to express ‘out of’, as a result of a state of mind:

Bíonn Cáit dhá dhéanamh as fearg. Cáit (normally) does it out of anger.

Similarly: as taghd /taid/ ‘in a fit of temper’.

(c) to express ‘from’ (a town, county, country, island):

Beidh Cáit ag teacht as Meireacá amáireach. Cáit will be coming from America tomorrow.

Similarly: as Baile Átha Cliath ‘from Dublin’, as an Spáinn ‘from Spain’, etc.

(d) to express ‘off, from, out of’ (smell¹, noise, movement):

Tá baladh as an madadh sin. That dog smells; there is a smell off that dog.

Similarly: torann as ‘noise from’, cor as ‘movement from’.

(e) to express ‘out , off’ (of fire, machines, etc.):

Tá an tine as. The fire is out.
Cas as an raidió ! Turn off the radio !

(f) with féin to mean ‘alone’

Tá Máirtín as féinanois. Máirtín is alone now.

(g) in certain adverbial expressions:

Tá sé as cuma. It is out of shape.

Similarly: as marc ‘off target, wrong’.

(h) with a chéile to express ‘consecutive’, ‘in a row’, ‘asunder’, ‘apart’:

Bhf Cáit anseo trí lá as a chéile. Cáit was here three days in a row.
Tá an teach ag titim as a chéile. The house is falling apart.

(iv) Idiomatic use of a with copula:

Cé as Cáit ? Is as Gaillimh í. Where is Cáit from ? She is from Galway.

The copula (is, ní, ar, nach, etc., see Lesson 11) is used with as to mean ‘is from’, ‘comes from’, e.g. Is as Baile Átha Cliath é ‘He is from Dublin’.

5. QUESTIONS WITH PREPOSITIONS

Cé air a bhfuil an leabhar ? On what is the book ?
Cé aige a bhfuil an teach ? Who has the house ?

Cé is used with the third person singular masculine form of the preposition, e.g. air, aige, and is followed by an indirect relative clause.

¹Also ar in case of smell.

TEXT

MAC LÉINN

Tá Bríd beagnach trí bliana ar an ollscoilanois. I dtosach, bhí sí ag plé leis an gceimic. Bhí meas mór aice ar an müínteoir eolaíocht a bhí aice ar an meánscoil agus bhí eolas maith aice ar an gceimic agus ar an bhfisic. Ag an am céanna, bhí an-tóir aice ar theanga. Ansin fuair sí seans ar athrú. Bhí deis aice Fraincis agus Rúisis a dhéanamh. Ní raibh Fraincis ná Rúisis aice mar ábhair ar an meánscoil agus mar sin, bhí sé an-deacair uirthi. Bhí sí ag goil ag cursa speisialta aisti féin ar feadh píosa agus ansin fuair sí cead a ghoil ag na léachtanna a raibh mic léinn eile ag goil acu.

Bhí sé fiordheacair an dá theanga a fhoghlaim in éindí. Ní raibh sé éasca na léachtanna a thiscint. Ansin, lá amháin, dúirt an léachtóir go mbeadh uirthi a ghoil ag an bhFrainc agus sé mhí as a chéile, nó b' fhéidir bliain féin, a chaitheamh ag foghlaim Fraincis.

Fuair Bríd scoláireacht anuraidh agus bhí sí in ann beagnach bliain a chaitheamh ar ollscoil Fhrancach. Ní raibh sí i bhfad ag cur eolas ar an gcoláiste sin ná ní raibh sé i bhfad go raibh aithne aice ar go leor mic léinn eile. Bhíodh na Francaigh i gcónaí ag cur ceisteanna uirthi: ‘Cé as thú ?’ – ‘Cén áit a bhfuil Gaillimh ?’ – ‘Cén fáth a bhfuil tú anseo ?’ Ach bhí sí sábháilte agus a ghráin aice ar an mbia ! Nuair a tháinig sí abhaile bhí Fraincis phaiteanta aice.

I mbliana bionn timpeall's deich léacht ag Bríd 'chuile sheachtain. Uaireanta bionn sí an-tuirseach. Ní bhíonn fonn uirthi rud ar bith a dhéanamh ach a ghoil abhaile agus an tine a lasadh agus an raidió a chasadadh air. Uaireanta eile, deir sí go mbíonn sé níos fearr an raidió a chasadadh as agus a ghoil a' chodladh tamall.

Cé go bhfuil mintir Bhríde go maith as agus go bhfuil teach móra acu in aice leis an bhfarraige, tá árasán aice féin. Tá an t-árasán in aice leis an ollscoil. Deir sí nach mbíonn sí in ann léamh sa mbaile. Bionn na gasúir óga ag déanamh torann agus ag goid leabhartha uirthi. Mar sin féin, tá cion aice orthu. Bionn sí ar cuairt acu ag an deireadh seachtaire. Bionn fonn uirthi a bheith ag déanamh spraoi leis na gasúir agus a bheith ag baint spóirt astu. Bionn siad uilig ag goil ag snámh in éindí.

Nach iontach an saol a bhíonn ag mic léinn !

EXERCISES

Make one sentence of the following, e.g. Tá crann ansin. Tá billeogaí glasa air:
Tá crann ansin a bhfuil billeogaí glasa air.

1. Tá crann ansin. Tá billeogaí buí air.
2. Feicim an bhean. Bhí cóta gorm uirthi.
3. Tá an fear anseo. Tá a mhac tinn.
4. Sin é an lá. Bhí Cáit anseo.
5. Sin é an fáth. Beidh mé sásta.
6. Sin é an uair. Ní raibh tú sásta.
7. Sin é an buachaill. Sílim go mbeidh an leabhar aige.

TRANSLATE

1. She was fond of the science teacher but she was very keen on languages. 2. The lecturers and the lectures were very bad. As for the exams, they were terrible ! 3. I was alone. Were you alone too ? It is hard to get to know people at the university. 4. I know Máirtín, but I don't know where he is now. 5. Where are those people from ? I am not sure whether they are from France or Spain. 6. I got a letter from America on two consecutive days. 7. There wasn't any noise from them for a while. 8. Turn (pl.) off the radio ! Light (pl.) the fire and change your clothes ! There are people coming visiting us. I don't know why they are coming now. 9. On what is the book ? On the table. 10. Take the book up out of the bag !

LESSON 19

VOCABULARY

aill fem.	/a:l'/	alltracha /a:lt̪rəxi:/	cliff
ainm	/æ:n'əm'/	ainmneacha	name
céad	/k'e:d/	céadha /k'e:tə/	hundred(=weight)
céibh fem.	/k'e:w'/	céibheanna	pier, quay
cósta	/ko:stə/	cóstai	coast
curach fem.	/korəx/	curacha	curragh (canvas boat)
domhan	/dauN/		world
fad fem. ¹	/fa:d/		length
halla	/ha:lə/	hallat	hall
leac fem.	/l'æk/	leacracha	slab, large flat stone
leath	/l'æ:/	leathacha	half
leathchéad	/l'æ'x'e:d/		fifty
leithead	/l'e:d/		width
ní	/N'i:/		thing (in set phrases)
seípéal	/s'e:p'e:L/	séipéil /s'e:p'e:l'/	chapel
staighre	/stair'ə/	staighrlí	(sets of) stairs
teilifís fem.	/t'el'əf'i:s'/		television
cas 1	/ka:s/		meet
castáil fem.	/ka:stə:l'/		meeting
gabh	/go/		go ! come !
iascach	/i:əskəx/		fishing
loigh ² 1	/Lo/		lie down, land
loighe	/Lai/		lying down, inclination, landing
mair 1	/ma:r'/		live, survive
maireachtáil fem.	/ma:r'əxtə:l'/		living tarlaigh 2	/tarlə/		happen
tarlú	/tarlu:/		happening
beo	/b'o:/		alive, quick
blasta	/bla:stə/		tasty
briste	/b'r'is't'ə/		broken
domhain	/daun'/		deep
fíor	/fi:i:ər/		true
furasta	/frusta/		easy, simple
míshásta	/m'i:ha:stə/		dissatisfied
péinteáilte	/p'e:n'tə:L't'ə/		painted
scioptha	/s'k'upi:/		quick
tanaí	/ta:Ni:/		thin, shallow
tirim	/t'ir'əm'/		dry
tiubh	/t'u(w)/		thick, dense

¹ Although fad is feminine, a following adjective is not lenited, e.g. fad móir ‘a great length’.

² When loigh /Lo/ is followed by an ending pronounced with an initial vowel, e.g. -(a)igf/ /ig'i:/, it combines with the ending to give /ai/, e.g. loighigf /laig'i:/ ‘lie (pl.) down !’.

a chéile ¹	/ə x̄'e:l̄'ə/	one another
ach amháin	/a:x ə'wɑ:n̄'/	except amach is amach	/ə'ma:χ əs ə'ma:χ/	completely, extremely ar éigin	/er̄' e:g'ən̄'/	just
ar fhad	/er̄' æ:d/	in length
ar leithead	/er̄' L̄'e:d/	in width
chomh	/χə/	as (see this lesson)
go leith	/ḡo L̄'e/	and a half
ná	/N̄ə:/	than

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. ag goil isteach ag an oileán ‘going to the island’, lit. into, (similarly ‘out of’)
2. má tá féin ‘even if it is’; féin may be used, mainly in an if-clause or negative sentence, to mean ‘even’.
3. tugaim faoi deara ‘I notice’
4. (a) mh' anam (go/nach) ‘indeed’

GRAMMAR

1. COMPARATIVE DEGREES OF ADJECTIVE

(i) Comparative

Tá an seomra seo níos dorcha.	This room is darker.
Is dorcha an seomra seo.	This room is darker.

A comparison is expressed:

(a) by níos (lit. ‘a thing which is’; ní ‘a thing’ written together with is, the relative form of the copula, ‘which is’) before a form of the adjective, e.g. dorcha ‘dark’, níos dorcha ‘darker’.

(b) by the copula is (see ‘Lesson 11) before the adjective, e.g. Is dorcha ‘is darker’.

(ii) Superlative

Tá an seomra is dorcha anseo.	The darkest room is here. (lit. The room which is darkest is here)
Sin í an deoch is blasta.	That is the tastiest drink.

To form a superlative, is (relative form of the copula) is used before the adjective.

(iii) Form of adjective

The form of the adjective (or adverb) used in the comparative and in the superlative is always the same.

Two-syllable adjectives which end in a vowel, e.g. dorcha, blasta, and all verbal adjectives, e.g. briste ‘broken’, péinteáilte ‘painted’, do not change.

¹When used with prepositions ending in a vowel, n /N/ may optionally be inserted: le a chéile or lena chéile ‘with each other’. Normally when n is not inserted, the actual pronunciation is shown by omitting the a: le chéile, ó chéile (see Appendix I.5).

One-syllable adjectives pronounced with a final vowel add -(o)cha /xə:/:¹

beo	live, quick	níos/is beocha
búi	yellow	níos/is búiocha
breá	fine	níos/is breácha
crua	hard	níos/is cruacha
rua	reddish brown	níos/is ruacha
luath	early	níos/is luathcha
liath	grey	níos/is liathcha
réidh	ready, easy	níos/is réacha

In two or three adjectives the syllable is lengthened:

tiubh	thick	níos/is tiúcha	also tibhe /t'íw'ə/
dubh	black	níos/is dúcha	duibhe /diw'ə/
te	hot	níos/is teocha /t'ó:xə/

Other regular types will be dealt with in later lessons.

(iv) Adjectives with irregular comparative form

maith	good	(níos/is) fearr	/f'ɔ:r/	better, best
dona	bad	measa	/m'æ:sə/	worse, worst
mór	big	mó	/mu:/	bigger, biggest
beag	small	lú	/lu:/	smaller, smallest
álainn	beautiful	áille	/a:L'ə/	more/most beautiful
gránna	ugly	gráinne	/gra:N'ə/	uglier, ugliest
fada	long	foide	/fed'ə/	longer, longest
tanaí	thin	tanaíocha	/ta:Ni:xə/	thinner, thinnest
minic	often	minicí	/m'in'ek'i:/	more/most often
tirim	dry	trioma	/t'r'umə/	drier, driest
furasta	easy	fusa	/fusə/	easier, easiest

All these forms are pronounced regularly in accordance with the table in Appendix I (with the exception of furasta /frustə/ in which the first syllable is dropped).

The forms níos dona, níos beige, níos furasta are also used, though probably less frequently than the forms given above.

2. USE OF CHOMH WITH ADJECTIVES

(i) With le

Tá Cáit chomh mór le Máirtín. Cáit is as big as Máirtín.

Chomh ... le is used before a noun to express 'as ... as', e.g. chomh mór le 'as big as'.

(ii) With is followed by a direct relative

Níl Cáit chomh sásta is a bhí Máirtín. Cáit is not as pleased as Máirtín was.

¹This -(o)cha /xə/ (or alternative form -chte /xt'ə/) is a feature of this dialect and is not written in Official Standard Irish.

*Chomh ... is followed by a direct relative (see Lesson 13) is used before a verb to express 'as ... as', e.g. chomh sásta is a bhí 'as pleased as ... was'. This is can be taken to be the shortened form of agus, which may also occur in this construction.*

(iii) With sin

Níl sé chomh maith sin. He is not all that good.

Bhí Máirtín chomh sásta sin go mbeidh Máirtín was so pleased that Cáit will Cáit sásta freisin. also be pleased.

Chomh ... sin (go/nach) is used to express 'all that ...', 'so that ...', e.g. chomh maith sin 'all that good', chomh sásta sin 'so pleased that ...'.

(iv) With céanna

Tá Máirtín chomh beag céanna. Máirtín is just as small.

Chomh ... céanna is used to express 'just as ...', e.g. chomh beag céanna 'just as small'.

(v) As exclamation

Chomh ard le Cáit ! How tall Cáit is !

Chomh ... le can be used to express 'how ... !'

(vi) In questions

Cé chomh ard le Cáit ? How tall is Cáit ?

Cé chomh ... can be used to express 'how ... is ?'

3. ADVERBS OF DIRECTION AND POSITION

(i) Introduction and table

Tá Cáit ag goil suas. Cáit is going up(wards).

Tá Cáit thusa. Cáit is up (above).

Tá Cáit ag teacht anuas. Cáit is coming down (from above).

The use of these adverbs depends on the position of the speaker. Suas 'up, upwards' implies motion or direction away from the speaker, thusa 'up, above', a position above, while anuas 'down from above' indicates movement or direction downwards from above the speaker.

Here is a table of these adverbs:

Motion or direction to	Stationary	Motion or direction from
Tá Cáit ag goil ...	Tá Cáit ...	Tá Cáit ag teacht ...
suas /su:əs/ up, upwards	thusa /hu:əs/ up, above	anuas /ə'Nu:əs/ down from above
síos /s'i:s/ down, downwards	thíos /hi:s/ down, below	aníos /ə'Ní:s/ up from below
soir /ser'/ east, eastwards	thoir /her'/ in the east	anoir /ə'ner'/ from the east

siar /s'i:ər/ west, westwards back, backwards	thiar /hi:ər/ in the west back (there)	aniar /ə'N'i:ər/ from the west from back (there)
sall /sa:l/ anonn /ə'nu:N/ over, across	thall /ha:L/ over there, across there	anall /ə'na:L/ i bhfus /ə'wus/ from over there, over here from across there
isteach /ə's'tæ:x/ in, inwards	istigh /ə'stɪʃ/ in, within
amach /ə'ma:x/ out, outwards	amuigh /ə'muɪʃ/ out, without

(ii) The adverbs ó thuaidh and ó dheas

Ó thuaidh /o: hu:əl/ ‘northwards, in the north, from the north’, and ó dheas southwards, in the south, from the south’ normally have only one form, e.g. Tá Cáit ag goil ó thuaidh; Tá Cáit ó thuaidh; Tá Cáit ag tiocht ó thuaidh. However, when they function as adjectives in set phrases, aduaidh /ə'du:əl/ and aneas /ə'N'æ:s/ are used:

siar/thiar/aniar aduaidh	‘northwestward, in the northwest, from the northwest’
siar/thiar/aniar aneas	‘southwestward’ etc.
soir/thoir/anoir aduaidh	‘northeastward’ etc.
soir/thoir/anoir aneas	‘southeastward’ etc.

Also: an ghaoth aduaidh ‘the north wind’, an ghaoth aneas ‘the south wind’.

(iii) Usage

(a)

Tá Cáit ag goil síos an bóthar.	Cáit is going down the road.
Tá Cáit ag goil soir an bóthar.	Cáit is going eastwards on the road.

In local directions soir, etc. ‘east ...’, siar, etc. ‘west ...’, síos, etc. ‘down ...’ (geographically north) and suas, etc. ‘up ...’ (geographically south) are used where English loosely employs ‘up’ or ‘down’.

(b)

an fear istigh	the man inside
na fir thall	the men over there
an fear isteach	the man who is just coming/going in

In this type of phrase the relative of the verb tá, as well as the notion of movement ('going/coming'), can be understood, e.g. an fear (atá) istigh ‘the man (who is) inside’, an fear (atá ag goil/teacht) isteach ‘the man (who is coming-going) in’.

(c)

Tá Cáit ag goil siar amach.	Cáit is going away off to the west.
Tá Cáit thiar amach.	Cáit is away in the west.

Amach/amuigh can be combined with siar/thiar to indicate greater distance.

(d)

Beidh mé aniar amáireach.	I will be (coming) from the west tomorrow.
----------------------------------	--

When an adverb implying motion or direction is used, a verb of motion can be understood.

(e)

an tuobh istigh	the inside
an taobh ó thuaidh	the northside

Taobh /t̬i:w/ ‘side’ can be used with stationary forms of these adverbs. When so used the final /w/ is not pronounced.

(f)

Tá sé in ann Cáit a bhualadh amach.	He can completely beat (= surpass) Cáit.
Tá sé ag glanadh suas.	He is cleaning up.

Amach and suas can be used with certain verbs to express the completion of an action.

4. NUMBERS ABOVE 10

	‘x boats’	‘x coats’	‘x years’
11	aon bhád déag	aon chóta dhéag	aon bliain déag
12	dhá bhád déag	dhá chóta dhéag	dhá bliain déag
13	trí bhád déag	trí chóta dhéag	trí bliana déag
14	cheithre bhád déag	cheithre chóta dhéag	cheithre bliana déag
15	chúig bhád déag	chúig chóta dhéag	chúig bhliana déag
16	sé bhád déag	sé chóta dhéag	sé bliana déag
17	seacht mbád déag	seacht gcóta dhéag	seacht mbliana déag
18	ocht mbád déag	ocht gcóta dhéag	ocht mbliana déag
19	naoi mbád déag	naoi gcóta dhéag	naoi mbliana déag
20	fiche bád	fiche cóta	fiche bliain
40	dhá fhichead bád	dhá fhichead cóta	dhá fhichead bliain
50	leathchéad bád	leathchéad cóta	leathchéad bliain
60	trí fichid bád	trí fichid cóta	trí fichid bliain
80	cheithre fichid bád	cheithre fichid cóta	cheithre fichid bliain
100	céad bád	céad cóta	céad bliain
200	dhá chéad bád	dhá chéad cóta	dhá chéad bliain
300	trí chéad bád	trí chéad cóta	trí chéad bliain
1000	míle bád	míle cóta	míle bliain
2000	dhá mhíle bád	dhá mhíle cóta	dhá mhíle bliain
1,000,000	milliún bád	milliún cóta	milliún bliain

The numbers from eleven to nineteen are similar to those from one to nine (see Lesson 11). They are, for the most part, formed by adding déag /d̬e:g/.

The lenited form dhéag /y̬e:g/ is used (i) from eleven to nineteen after a final vowel, e.g. dhá chóta dhéag ‘12 coats’, sé dhuine dhéag ‘16 people’; (ii) after scóir ‘scores’, e.g. trí scóir dhéag ‘13 scores’.

After fiche /f̬i:/ ‘20’, dhá fhichead /y̬a: i:d/ ‘40’, trí fichid /t̬i:r̬i: f̬i:d/ ‘60’, cheithre fichid /x̬er̬ə f̬i:d/ ‘80’, and following céad /k̬e:d/ ‘100’, míle /m̬i:l̬ə/ ‘1000’ and milliún /m̬i:l̬u:N/ ‘million’ the singular is always used, e.g. míle bád ‘a thousand boats’, milliún bliain ‘a million years’.

NOTES:

1. Scór /sko:rɪ/ ‘a score’ often replaces fiche ‘twenty’, e.g. dhá scór ‘40’, trí scóir ‘60’. Scór may be followed by a plural, e.g. scór bliain or scór blianta ‘20 years’. The word doiséinne ‘a dozen’ is followed by the plural, e.g. doiséinne uibheacha ‘a dozen eggs’.
2. Punta /puntə/ is generally used in place of punt /puntɪ/ ‘a pound’ in numbers between eleven and nineteen, e.g. seacht bpunt ‘seven pounds’, seacht bpunta dhéag ‘seventeen pounds’.
3. Na céadha, na míle are normally followed by the plural, e.g. na céadha leabhartha ‘hundreds of books’, na mílte mná ‘thousands of women’. However, in the case of certain nouns, the singular is used, e.g. na céadha fear ‘hundreds of men’. The latter may be regarded as set phrases (see also Lesson 15.5 Note 3).

TEXTS

AN tOILEÁN

Is oiléan beag é seo. Tá timpeall's sé mhile farraige idir é agus an cósta. Tá an t-oileán é féin timpeall's trí mhile ar leithéad agus míle ar fhad. Tá an talamh go dona amach is amach. Tá níos mó carraigreacha agus leacracha ann ná rud ar bith eile. Ar ndóigh, deir daoine gurb é an áit is áille ar an domhan é. Tá sé go hiontach an fharraige agus na halltracha a fheiceáil. Bíonn an fharraige an-domhain agus an-ghorm.

Níl níos mó ná dhá chéad nó dhá chéad go leith duine ann. Ach cén chaoi a bhfuil na daoine in ann maireachtáil ann? ‘Ar éigin’ a deir go leor daoine agus tá sé sin fior. Mar sin féin, bíonn siad in ann na clocha a bhriseadh agus garranta beaga a dhéanamh. B’eilgean cláiocha a dhéanamh leis na clocha briste. Tá beithigh agus caoire agus cearca acu. Bítear ag obair leis na caipile agus leis na hasail atá acu. Bítear ag cur fhataí agus ag fás torthaí. Bhíodh na daoine go hiontach ag obair in éindí agus bhídís in ann saol a bhaint as an oiléan.

Ar ndóigh, bhídís i gcónaí in ann maireachtáil ar an iasc, cé nach mbíonn an oiread céanna daoine óga ag iascachanois is a bhíodh. Tá bád beag áirithe acu. ‘Curach’ an t-ainm atá uirthi. Tá an churach coitianta thart ar Chonamara agus ar an gcósta thiar uilig.

Ach bhíodh an saol i bhfad níos cruacha leathchéad nó fiche bliain féin ó shin. Tá sé i bhfad níos fusa orthu anois. Bíonn bád ag tiocht acu go minic ach amháin nuair a bhíonnas farraigí móra ann. Is é an rud is measa nach mbíonn an bád in ann a ghóil isteach ag an gcéibh mar nach bhfuil sí sách fada. Bíonn eitleán ag loighe ann anois cupla uair ’chuile sheachtain.

Ach céard a bhíonnas na daoine a dhéanamh nuair nach mbíonn siad ag obair? Bíonn na fir ag goil ag an teach ósta. Bíonn na fir agus na mná in éindi ag an séipéal Dé Domhnaigh. Tá halla in aice leis an scoil. Uaireanta, bíonn an dream óg thiar ansin ag damhsa ná ag imirt chártaí, ná go díreach ag castáil ar a chéile.

Ach nach bhfuil athrúintí móra ar an saol anois? Tá, cinnte. Bíonn an dream óg ag goil ar an meánscoil taobh amuigh. Tugaim faoi deara go mbíonn na gasúir ag breathnú ar pheictiúir as Meireacá ar an teilifís. Níl an oiread sin daoine óga ag pósadh agus ag fanacht ann. Céard atá ag goil ag tarlú anois? Níl an saol chomh crua is a bhíodh sé ach an bhfuil sé ag athrú roscioibhtha? An mbeidh na daoine óga ag éirí míshásta? Sin í an cheist.

COMHRÁ

Bhí cupla bean ag siúl soir ag an bposta in éindí. Bhí siad ag caint mar seo:

'Is breá an lá é !'
 'Muise, má tá féin, bhí an lá inné níos breácha !'
 'B'fhéidir go raibh.'
 'Tháinig an samhradh an-luath i mbliana.'
 'Tháinig.'
 'Tá sé níos teócha agus níos trioma ná a bhí sé anuraidh.'
 'Mh'anam go bhfuil.'
 'Tá sé sách te ar aon chaoi.'

Bíonn muid ag síorchaint ar an aimsir anseo !

EXERCISES

A. Rewrite these sentences as comparatives using is, e.g.: Is dorcha an seomra seo ná an ceann eile. Then write them as superlatives using sin ..., e.g. Sin é an seomra is dorcha.

1. Tá an seomra seo níos dorcha ná an ceann eile.
2. Tá an t-adhmaid seo níos tiúcha ná an cineál eile.
3. Beidh an ubh seo níos cruacha ná do cheannsa.
4. Tá an leabhar seo níos fusa.
5. Beidh an peictiúr eile níos measa.
6. Tá an aimsir níos fearr.
7. Tá an bóthar eile níos foide.
8. Tá an teach seo níos lú.

B. Complete the following :

1. Tá Cáit ag goil amach. Anois beidh sí _____.
2. Tá sí ag goil síos an staighre. Beidh sí _____ arís ar ball.
3. Bhí Bríd thusa an staighre. Anois tá sí ag teacht _____ an staighre.
4. Tá Máirtín thiar. Beidh sé _____ amáireach.
5. Bhí an bád ag goil soir. Anois tá sí _____.
6. Tá muid ag goil suas ann. Tá na daoine eile _____ ann cheana féin.
7. Tá an teach go deas ar an taobh amuigh ach tá sé go dona ar an taobh _____.
8. Gabh isteach agus cuir ceist ar an bhfear _____.

C. Write in words:

1. 600 duine
2. 18 bád
3. 13 punt
4. 14 orlach
5. 16 pingin
6. 15 seomra
7. 13 cupán
8. 12 pláta
9. 40 bliain
10. 20 pingin
11. 10 uair
12. 15 cathaoir
13. 14 crann
14. 13 pingin
15. 80 míle
16. 19 cupán
17. 800 teach
18. 11 bord
19. 15 bliain
20. 3000 bliain.

TRANSLATE:

1. Life is not that hard now. I am sure that it is not as hard as it used to be.
2. I notice that the winter used to be harder years ago and it was drier too.
3. Bríd is smaller than Cáit. Bairbre is just as small.
4. How small that woman is !
5. Poor Máirtín will have to go away to the west. He is so dissatisfied that Bríd will have to go too.

LESSON 20

VOCABULARY

aird fem.	/a:rd'/		heed, notice
bua	/bu:ə/		victory
cogadh	/kogə/	cogaíocha	war
comhrialtas	/ku:ri:əltəs/		coalition government
droim	/drim:/	dramanna /dra:mənə:/	back
éad	/e:d/		jealousy
lucht	/Loxt/		people (connected with)
máistir	/ma:s't'er/	máistrí /ma:s't'r'i:/	(school) master
nuaíocht fem.	/Nu:i:əxt/		news
páirtí	/pa:rt'i:/	páirtithe /pa:rt'i:/	(political) party
rialtas	/ri:əltəs/		government
sáile	/sa:l'ə/		brine, sea water
sruth	/srū/	sruthanna	current, flow
toghachán	/tauxə:N/	toghacháin /tauxə:n'/	election
tuirse fem.	/turs'ə/		tiredness, fatigue
vóta	/wo:ta/	vótai	vote
Fianna Fáil	/f'i:əNə 'fa:l'/		(name of political party)
Fine Gael	/f'inə 'ge:L/		(name of political party)
Mícheál	/m'iə:L/		(man's name)
Páirtí an Lucht Oibre /pa:rt'i: N Loxt aib'r'ə/ (name of political party)
aontaigh 2	/i:Ntə/		agree, unite
aontú	/i:Ntu:/		agreeing, uniting cuidigh (le) 2	/kid'ə/		help, giving aid (to) cuidiú	/kid'u:/		helping cuimhnigh (ar) 2	/ki:m'r'ə/, /ki:w'r'ə/		recollect, remember, think (about)
cuimhniú	/ki:m'r'u:/, /ki:w'r'u:/		recollecting etc.
éist (le) 1	/e:s't'/		listen (to), keep quiet, not to interfere
éisteacht	/e:s't'əxt/		listening etc.
rá	/ra:/		saying
sáraíocht	/sa:ri:əxt/		disputing, arguing
seas 1	/s'æ:s/		stand
seasamh	/s'æ:sə/		standing
súil (le)	/su:l'/		expecting, looking forward (to) tabhairt fem.	/to:rt'/		giving contráilte	/ku:Ntrə:L'tə/		wrong
gnaoiúil	/gri:u:l'/		decent, generous mímhúinte	/m'i:,wu:N'tə/		rude
múinte	/mu:N'tə/		polite
spalptha	/spa:Lpi:/		parched
go gairid	/gə ga:r'əd'/		shortly
sa gcaoi go/nach ¹	/sə gi:/		so that ... (not), in order that ... (not)
thar sáile	/ha:r sc:l'ə/		overseas, abroad

¹ Optionally also sa gcaoi is go/nach. There is a general tendency for is to be used after subordinating conjunctions.

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. le seachtain (anuas) 'for a week (now)'
2. ag baint as duine 'teasing, egging on someone'
3. Is deacair a rá ... 'It is difficult to say.'
4. ag tabhairt aird ar rud 'heeding'
5. lucht oifige 'office people'

GRAMMAR

1. RELATIVE OF COPULA

(i) Direct relative

(a) Positive

Sin é an rud is féidir a dhéanamh. That is the thing that can be done.

The positive direct relative is the same as the statement form, e.g. ... is féidir... 'that/who can ...'

(b) Negative

Sin é an rud nach féidir a dhéanamh. That is the thing that cannot be done.

The negative direct relative is expressed by using nach 'that ... not', e.g. ... nach féidir... 'that/who cannot ...'

(ii) Indirect relative

(a) Positive

Sin é an fear ar maith leis an bord. That is the man who likes the table.

The positive indirect relative is expressed by using ar 'that, who', e.g. ... ar maith le ... 'that likes ...', ... ar leis ... 'that owns ...'.

(b) Negative

Sin é an fear nach maith leis an bord. That is the man who does not like the table.

The negative indirect relative is expressed by using nach 'that ... not', e.g. ... nach maith le ... 'that does not like ...'.

2. FUTURE OF COPULA

Is fiú airgead móra amach anseo é. It will be worth big money sometime in the future.

Is deacair fanacht anseo amáireach. It will be hard to stay here tomorrow.

These forms of the copula (is, ar, nach, etc.) can be used with a future meaning.

3. THE PREPOSITION LE

(i) Introduction

Tá Cáit anseo leis an mbosca.
Tá mé ag scríobh le peann mó�.
Níl Cáit sásta le hÚna.

Cáit is here with the box.
 I am writing with a big pen.
 Cáit is not satisfied with Úna.

Le ‘with’ prefixes a h (which is not normally pronounced) to a directly following noun which begins with a vowel, e.g. le hÚna /l'u:Nə/ ‘with Úna’. Before the singular article le takes the form leis (see Lesson 5).

(ii) Prepositional pronouns

Ordinary form	Pronunciation
liom with me	/l'um/
leat with you	/l'a:t/
leis with him/it	/l'es/
léi with her	/l'e:/
linn with us	/l'in/
libh with you (pl.)	/l'ib'/
leo with them	/l'o:b/

The preposition le and all its forms are pronounced with an initial lenited /l̪/. (Prepositions tend to be permanently lenited.)

The contrast forms and general usage are the same as that of ag and most other prepositional pronouns, e.g. liom, liomsa, liomsa mé fein (see Lesson 16). Note, however, that leis has the contrast form leisean, i.e. -sean rather than -san is added.

(iii) Basic meaning ‘with’

The basic meaning of le is accompaniment or instrumentality.

Tá Cáit anseo le Máirtín.
Tá Máirtín ag obair le spáid.

Cáit is here with Máirtín.
 Máirtín is working with a spade.

More idiomatically le expresses:

(a) ‘with the motion of’

Tá an bád ag imeacht le sruth.

The boat is going with the current.

Similarly: leis an ngaoth ‘with the wind’

(b) ‘at the same time as’

Bhí Cáit anseo leis an lá.

Cáit was here at daybreak.
 (lit. ‘with the day’)

Similarly: leis an oíche ‘at nightfall’

(c) ‘with’, ‘as a result of’

Tá Cáit tinn leis an tuirse.

Cáit is sick with the tiredness.

Similarly: tinn le himní / le hól ‘sick with worry / drink’, spalptha leis an tart ‘parched with the thirst’.

(d) 'away', 'continuing'

Tá Cáit ag obair léi.

Cáit is working away / working on / continuing to work.

Similarly: any verbal noun.

(iv) Secondary meaning: 'to'

(a) 'to', 'for the purpose'

Tá Cáit anseo le balla a phéinteáil.
Tá Cáit anseo le é a phéinteáil.

Cáit is here to paint a wall.
Cáit is here to paint it.

(b) 'to', 'due to be'

Tá balla ansin le péinteáil.

There is a wall there to paint.

In this usage le normally prefixes n/N'/ to an initial vowel, e.g. Tá neart le n-ithe agus le n-ól. 'There is plenty to eat and to drink.'

More idiomatically it expresses:

(a) 'to', 'towards'

Bhí Cáit go deas le Máirtín.
Tá fearg ar Cháit le Máirtín.
Tá foighid ag Cáit le Máirtín.

Cáit was nice to Máirtín.
Cáit is angry with Máirtín.
Cáit has patience with Máirtín.

Similarly: go dona 'bad', múinte 'polite', lách 'pleasant', gnaoiúil 'decent, generous', gráonna 'horrible'; Tá deifir ('hurry') ar Cháit le ...; Tá loighe ('an inclination')/ súil ('is expecting')/ éad ('jealousy') ag Cáit le

(b) 'to', 'against'

Tá droim Cháit leis an mballa.

Cáit's back is to the wall.

Similarly: leis an doras 'to the door', leis an gcláí 'to the ditch / stonewall'.

(c) duration

Tá Cáit anseo le seachtain.

Cáit is here a week.

Similarly: mí 'month', bliain 'year', cupla lá 'a few days'.

4. IDIOMATIC USES OF COPULA AND LE

(i) To express 'it seems'

Is maith le Cáit bainne.
Ní miste liom é.

Milk seems good to Cáit. / C. likes milk.
I don't mind it.

The copula is used with le in certain idiomatic expressions and has the general meaning of 'it seems'. Further examples are:

Is cuma /kumə/ le Cáit.
Ní fearn /f'ær/ le Cáit.

It seems all the same to Cáit.
It does not seem better to Cáit.
Cáit doesn't prefer.

Ar/ab' ionadh /i:Nəl le Cáit ?

Did it seem amazing to Cáit ?

Was Cáit amazed ?

Nach fiú /f'u:/ le Cáit ?

Does it not seem worthwhile to Cáit ?

Deir sé gur/gurb 'dóigh /do:/ le Cáit.

He says that it seems likely to Cáit.

...that Cáit supposes

Deir sé nach cuimhne le Cáit.

He says that Cáit doesn't remember.

Más féidir /f'e:d'ər'/ le Cáit ...

If Cáit can.

Mara/marab' miste /m'is'təl le Cáit ... If Cáit doesn't mind.

Is cuma le ... 'it seems all the same to ...' is generally only used positively, e.g. is cuma le ... , ar cuma le ... , gur cuma le ...

To a limited extend is ... le can be used with other adjectives, e.g. is deacair liom é a chreistiúint 'I find it hard to believe'. These are generally adjectives implying a relative estimation, e.g. réidh, 'easy', ard 'high', íseal 'low'.

Some of these idioms can be used impersonally (with no prepositional pronoun): Is fearr a bheith sásta 'it is better to be satisfied'. Similarly: is cuma faoi 'it seems all the same about it', 'it doesn't matter about it'; is dóigh go mbeidh tú anseo 'it is probable that you will be here', 'you will probably be here'; is féidir Gaeilge a fhloghlaim 'it is possible to learn Irish'. Note also: is deacair a rá 'it is difficult to say'.

(ii) To express ownership

Is le Cáit an teach seo.

Cáit owns this house.

Ar leatsa an leabhar sin nó cé leis í ?

Do you own this book or who owns it ?

Ní liom. Níl a fhios agam cé leis í.

No. I don't know who owns it.

The copula is used with le to express ownership. In responses the ordinary form of the prepositional pronoun (liom, leat, etc.) is repeated with the copula.

5. USE OF É IN RESPONSES

Is dóigh go mbeidh Cáit ag teacht.

Cáit will probably be coming.

Responses: Is dóigh go mbeidh.
 Is dóigh é.

Yes, she probably will.
Yes, probably so.

B'fhéidir go mbeadh Máirtín ann.

Perhaps Máirtín would be there.

Responses: B'fhéidir go mbeadh.
 B'fhéidir é.

Yes, perhaps he would.
Yes, perhaps so.

É can be used in responses to stand for indirect speech.

6. USE OF DIRECTIONAL ADVERBS WITH LE

Siar leat !

Back you go !

Anuas libh !

Down (from up there) you (pl.) come !

Síos an bóthar liom !

I went on down the road.

Adverbs expressing direction (see Lesson 19) can be used with the preposition le and the verb is understood. When used as a plural imperative the verbal ending -aigí (see Lesson 12) is sometimes added, e.g. amach(aigí) libh 'out you (pl.) go !'.

¹ Ab, gurb, marab before vowels, see Lesson 11.

TEXT

LEITIR

A Phádraig, a chara,

Is dóigh liom go bhfuil a fhios agat go mbeidh toghachán eile againn faoi cheann cupla seachtain. Le seachtain anuas, ní féidir gan aird a thabhairt ar chúrsaí polaitíochta. Má bhíonn tú ag éisteacht leis an raidió nó ag breathnú ar pháipéar nó ar an teilifís bionn 'chuile dhuine ag caint faoin toghachán. Ní féidir linn cuimhniú ar thada eile ! Bionn muid uilig ag sáraíocht faoin bpolaitíocht sa gcaoi go bhfuil sé cosúil le cogadh anseo ! Is móir an truaí go bhfuil tú thar sáile mar níl a fhios cén spóirt atá muid a bhaint as.

Tá Fine Gael agus Páirtí an Lucht Oibre ag seasamh le chéile arís an uair seo. Deir Úna gurb é an comhrialtas a bhí againn le cheithre bliana anuas an rialtas is fearr a bhí ariamh againn. Bionn Tomás ag aontú le hÚna ach bionn Cáit agus Bríd ag rá go bhfuil Fianna Fáil níos fearr ná an dá pháirtí eile. Bionn Ruairí ag baint astu uilig. Deir seisean gur cuma leis faoin bpolaitíocht agus nach fiú leis vóta a chaitheamh ar chor ar bith. Deir Deaide gur cuma leisean freisin faoin bpolaitíocht chúns atá a dhóthain le n-ithe agus le n-ól ag 'chuile dhuine.

Is deacair a rá cé aige a mbeidh an bua. Bionn na páipéir ag rá gur dóigh go mbeidh an bua ag an gcomhrialtas. Mar sin féin, is cuimhne liom go raibh siad contráilte an uair dheireannach.

Tá an teach le péinteáil arís an samhradh seo agus tá go leor le déanamh. Tá Maime ag obair léi ag glanadh agus ag péinteáil. Bím féin agus Ruairí ag cuidiú léi. Bionn Cáit ag cuidiú linn freisin (anois agus arís !)

Is dóigh go bhfuil teas móir thall ansiúd anois. Deir siad go mbíonn an Spáinn an-te ag an am seo. Ar ndóigh, is maith leatsa an teas. Is fearr liomsa an fuacht ná an teas !

Beidh muid ag súil le leitir eile go gairid,

Micheál.

EXERCISES

A. Use a relative clause to make one sentence of the following, e.g. Sin í an fhuinneog nach féidir a oscailt.

1. Sin í an fhuinneog. Ní féidir í a oscailt.
2. Sin é an doras. Is féidir é a oscailt.
3. Tá gloine nua anseo. Ní féidir í a bhrieadh.
4. An bhfuil aithne agat ar an gcaillín ? Is maith léi ceol.
5. Feicim an máistir thall. Ní maith leis gasúir bheaga.
6. Cá bhfuil an bhean sin ? Is maith léi a bheith ag foghlaim teangacha.

B. Complete these sentences (replacing the elements in brackets) by using the appropriate prepositional pronoun, e.g. Ní cuimhne leisean an focal sin.

1. Ní cuimhne (le) (seisean) an focal sin.
2. Is cuma (le Ruairí) faoin bpolaitíocht.
3. Bhí Micheál mímhúinte (leis na daoine sin).

4. Siar (le) (muid) ansin ag an bposta.
5. Nach cuimhne (le) (thusa) an lá sin ?
6. Ar fearr (le) (sibh) fanacht anseo ?
7. Ní dóigh (le) (mé) go mbeidh an aimsir go maith amáireach.
8. Bhí muid ag iarradh an doras a bhriseadh (leis an spáid).
9. Bhí fearg orm (leis an bhfear eile).
10. Ní maith (le) (Cáit) an teas.

TRANSLATE:

1. For a month now everybody is thinking about the election and talking about politics. I don't like any party. I am not going to cast a vote.
2. We are listening to the radio and looking at the news on the television almost every day. It is hard to say who will win (lit. who will have the victory).
3. All the walls and doors and windows are to be cleaned and painted again this year.
4. I don't remember the night you were here.
5. We don't like the heat. We prefer the cold.
6. Ruairí was horrible to Mícheál. He is jealous of him.
7. Máirtín's back was to the gate and he was smoking a cigarette.
8. Where are you from ?

LESSON 21

VOCABULARY

amadán	/a:məda:n/	amadáin /a:məda:n'/	fool
Bealtaine fem.	/b'á:lən̄e/		May
bláth	/bla:/	bláithanna	bloom
braon	/bri:N/	braonacha	drop
Cáisc fem.	/ka:s'k'/		Easter
citeal	/k'itl/	citealachá	kettle
clampar	/kLa:mpər/		commotion, quarrel
fuadar	/fu:ədər/		flurry
gabáiste	/guba:s't'ə/		cabbage
mairg fem.	/ma:r'əg'/		trouble, sorrow, regret
méid¹	/me:d'/		amount, size, volume
píosa aráin	/p'i:sə ra:n'/	píosaí aráin	bit of bread
póg fem.	/po:g/		kiss
Samhain fem.	/saun'/		Hallowtide
scuab fem.	/sku:əb/	scuabanna	broom
seol	/s'o:L/	seolta	sail
siopadóireacht fem.	/s'u:pədo:r'əxt/		shopping
smacht	/sma:xt/		control

bearr 1	/b'a:r/	shave, trim
bearradh	/b'a:ra:/	shaving
caill 1	/ka:L'/	lose, miss cailleadh	/ka:L'ə/	losing
dúin 1	/du:n'/	shut, close
dúnadh	/du:Nə/	shutting
dúiseacht	/du:s'əxt/	waking, awakening
dúisigh 2	/du:s'ə/	wake, awaken
gearr 1	/g'a:r/	cut
gearradh	/g'a:ra:/	cutting
lig 1	/L'ig'/	let
ligeann	/L'ig'ən/	letting
mothaigh 2	/mu:/	feel
mothaím	/mu:i:m'/	I feel
mothú	/mu:/	feeling, perception
póg 1	/po:g/	kiss
pógadh	/po:ga:/	kissing
réiteach	/re:t'əx/	preparing, clearing up, solving
réitigh 2	/re:t'ə/	prepare, etc.
rith 1	/ru/	run
rith	/ru/	running
scuab 1	/sku:əb/	sweep (away)
scuabadh	/sku:əbə/	sweeping
stócaíl 1	/sto:ka:l'/	prepare, get ready stócaíl fem.	/sto:ka:l'/	preparing súf	/s'i:/	sitting
suigh 1	/su/	sit

¹An adjective is lenited following méid e.g. méid mhór 'a great volume'.

tarraing 2	/ta:rəN'/	draw, pull
tarraingt fem.	/ta:rəN't'	drawing, pulling
gruama	/gru:mə/	gloomy
slán	/sλə:N/	sound, safe, whole and entire
amú	/ə'mu:/	astray, wasted
faoi láthair	/fi:lə:r'	at present
thar éis	/he:s'/	after

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. Cuir síos an cíteal 'put on (lit. down) the kettle'
2. ag fágáil slán ag duine 'taking leave of a person' (slán agat! is said by the leaver, slán leat! by the person remaining).
3. caithfidh mé 'I will have to, I must'
4. Tarraing agat ... 'get a hold of ...'

GRAMMAR

1. FUTURE TENSE OF REGULAR VERB

(i) Form used with noun or pronoun (corresponding to beidh)

Glanfaidh Cáit an bord agus nífidh sí na soithí.	Cáit will clear the table and she will wash the dishes.
Léifidh Cáit an leabhar ach ní bhrisfidh sí an chathaoir.	Cáit will read the book but she will not break the chair.
Coinneoidh sé an cóta agus salóidh sé é.	He will keep the coat and he will dirty it.
Osclóidh tusa an geata agus imreoidh muide cluifi.	You will open the gate and we will play games.

Type 1
(root with one syllable)
adds-f(a)idh ləl

glan + faidh	glanfaidh
bris + fidh	brisfidh
léi(gh) + fidh	léifidh
ni(gh) + fidh	nífidh

A final gh is dropped and a short syllable is lengthened; see Lesson 12.

Type 2
(root with two syllables)
adds-óidh,-eoidh ləl

sal(aigh) + óidh	salóidh
coinn(igh) + eoidh	coinneoidh
osc(ai)l + óidh	osclóidh
im(i)r + eoidh	imreoidh

The last syllable is always lost before an ending with an initial vowel; see Lesson 12.

All verbal endings are spelt with a 'broad' vowel, e.g. -faidh/-óidh after a broad consonant, e.g. glan-, sal-, oscl-), and with a 'slender' vowel, e.g. -fidh/-eoidh after a slender consonant, e.g. bris-, coinn-, imr- (see Lesson 12).

(ii) Autonomous form (corresponding to beifear)

Type 1
adds -f(e)ar /a:r/

glan + far	glanfar
bris + fear	brisfear
léi(gh) + fear	léifear
ni(gh) + fear	nifear

Type 2
adds -ófar, -eofar /a:r/

sal(aigh) + ófar	salófar
coinn(igh) + eofar	coinneofar
osc(ai)l + ófar	osclófar
im(i)r + eofar	imreofar

Although in pronunciation the ending is /a:r/ in all cases, type 1 and type 2 are spelt differently. The pronunciation /(o:)fər/ is, however, usually heard in neighbouring and other dialects.

(iii) Pronunciation of verbs with roots ending in b, d, g, bh, mh

A root-final

b (scuab)	is pronounced as	p (scuabfaidh, scuabfar)
d (goid)		t (goidfidh, goidfear)
g (póg)		c (pógfaidh, pógfar)
bh (scríobh)		f (scríobhfaidh, scríobhfar)
mh (snámh)		f (snámhfaidh, snámhfar)

before any verbal ending spelt with an initial f.

(iv) Direct relative

Type 1 Future	Future relative (‘that will ...’)	Type 2 Future	Future relative (‘that will ...’)
glanfaidh	a ghlanfas	salóidh	a shalós
brisfidh	a bhrisfeas	coinneoidh	a choinneos
léifidh	a léifeas	osclóidh	a osclós
nífidh	a nifeas	imreoidh	a imreos

In type 1 verbs, -(a)idh is dropped and -(e)as is added to any uncombined form; in type 2 verbs, -idh is dropped and -s is added to any uncombined form.

2. THE PREPOSITION FAOI

(i) Introduction

Tá an pota faoin mbord.
Tá an leabhar faoi bhosca.
Tá an chathaoir fím.

The pot is under the table.
The book is under a box.
The chair is under me.

Faoi ‘under’ causes lenition to a directly following noun, e.g. faoi chathaoir ‘under a chair’.

(ii) Prepositional pronouns

Ordinary form	Pronunciation
fím	/fu:m/
fít	/fu:t/
faoi	/fi:/
fíithi	/fu:/
fíunn	/fu:N'/
fíubh	/fu:b'/
fúthu	/fu:b/

The contrast forms and general usage are the same as those of ag and most other prepositional pronouns, e.g. fúm, fúmsa, fúm féin, fúmsa mé féin; see Lesson 16.

(iii) Meanings of faoi

Tá leabhar faoin gcathaoir.

There is a book under the chair.

Idiomatically faoi is used:

(a) to express intent

Tá fúm Cáit a phósadh.

I intend to marry Cáit.

(b) (with bualadh) to express impact

Bíonn na carranna ag bualadh faoi bhallaí.

The cars (as a rule) (are) hit(ting) against walls.

(c) to express motion (in certain phrases)

Tá siúl faoi.

lit. There is motion under him.

He is going fast.

Tá fuadar faoi.

There is a flurry under him.

He is in a hurry.

Tá fás faoi.

There is growth under him.

It is growing.

(d) in some common adverbial phrases

faoi smacht

under control

faoi bhláth

in bloom, flourishing

faoi lántseol

under full sail, in full swing

faoi bhealach

under way

(iv) secondary meaning ‘around, about’

In some particular usages, faoi has taken over the function of an older preposition um meaning ‘around, about, concerning’.

Tá mé ag caint faoin mbeán sin.

I am talking about that woman.

Similarly: Tá imní/áthas/brón/aiféal orm faoi ‘I am worried/glad/sorry/regretful about it’, and in the adverbial phrases:

faoi Nollaig

around Christmas

faoi seo

by now

faoi Cháisc

around Easter

faoi láthair

at present

faoi Bhealtaine around May

faoi dheireadh

at last

faoi Shamhain

around Hallowtide

faoin tír

in the country

3. THE PREPOSITION GO / GO DTÍ

Tá Cáit ag goil go dtí an áit chéanna.

Cáit is going to the same place.

Beidh Cáit anseo go dtí an lá sin.

Cáit will be here until that day.

Tá Máirtín ag goil go Sasana.

Máirtín is going to England.

Go dtí /gɔ'dt̬i:/ ‘to, as far as, up to’ is used with definite nouns, e.g. go dtí an áit ‘to the place’, go dtí Déardaoin ‘until Thursday’, go dtí Máirtín ‘to Máirtín’. However, go (which prefixes h to a following vowel) is used with place-names without the article, e.g. go Sasana ‘to England’, go Meireacá ‘to America’, go hÉirinn ‘to Ireland’, go hAlbain ‘to Scotland’, and in certain adverbial phrases, e.g. go maidin ‘until morning’, lán go béal ‘full to the (lit. mouth) brim’.

Go is generally omitted before certain place-names beginning with a consonant, e.g. ag goil Baile Átha Cliath ‘going to Dublin’, ag goil Gaillimh ‘going to Galway’.

4. PREPOSITIONS NOT COMBINING WITH PERSONAL PRONOUNS

Gan /gən/, ‘without’, go dtí /ga'd i:/ ‘to’, seachas /s'æ:xəs/ ‘besides, except for’ do not combine with following personal pronouns, e.g. gan mé, gan mise, gan mise mé féin ‘without me’.

Generally these prepositions cause no change to a noun following directly, e.g. gan bróga ‘without shoes’, seachas Cáit ‘besides Cáit’. Used following these prepositions, the article follows its normal rules, e.g. gan an bhean ‘without the woman’, go dtí an t-suinneog ‘to the window’, seachas an bord ‘besides the table’.

Gan ‘without’ normally lenites a directly following abstract noun which does not begin with d, t, s, f, e.g. gan mhoill ‘without delay’, gan mhairt ‘without good, no good’, gan mhaig ‘without regret’, gan mhothú ‘without feeling, unconscious’, gan phósadh ‘unmarried’.

Gan sometimes prefixes a t to a following s, e.g. dall gan tsúil ‘blind without an eye’.

TEXT

MAIDIN DÉ LUAIN

Bíonn sé go hiontach ag an deireadh seachtaine. Is féidir codladh amach ar maidin. Ach amáireach Dé Luain agus beidh ar 'chuile dhuine éirí go moch arist.

Éireoidh Pádraig i dtosach. Osclóidh sé an doras agus ligfidh sé amach an madadh. Cuirfidh sé síos an cíteal. Déanfaidh sé braon tae agus gearrfaidh sé cupla píosa aráin agus cuirfidh sé im orthu. Éistfidh sé leis an nuálocht ar an raidió chúns a bheas sé ag ithe a bhrífásta. Nuair a bheas an nuálocht thart, nífidh sé é féin agus bearrafaidh sé é féin agus cuirfidh sé air a chuid éadaí. Ansin, nuair a chloisfeas Cáit Pádraig ag imeacht, éireoidh sí féin agus dúiseoidh sí na gasúir. Réiteoidh sí an bricfásta chúns a bheas na gasúir ag éirí.

Ní maith leis na gasúir éirí maidin Dé Luain. Ní éireoidh siad go dtí go mbeidh an bricfásta réidh agus beidh fuadar fúthu ag tóraíocht a gcuid éadaí agus ag stócaíl le a ghoil ar scoil. Beidh rud eicint amú ar dhuine eicint. Ansin tosóidh an clampar: ‘Cá bhfuil mo chuid bróga?’

‘Caillfidh an t-amadán sin rud eicint i gcónaí !’

‘Éist do bhéal thusa !’

‘Tarraing ’ad do chuid stocáí ar aon chaoi ! Cén áit a raibh siad ’ad aréir?’

‘Ní féidir liom siúl go dtí an bus gan bróga.’

‘Breathnaigh ansin faoin gcathaoir iad !’

‘Ó an t-amadán !’

Ansin, tar éis bricfásta, pógfaidh na gasúir Cáit agus fágfaidh siad slán aice. ‘Caithfidh sibh deifir a dhéanamh nó caillfidh sibh an bus !’ a deir Cáit i gcónaí.

‘Caithfidh muid rith !’ a deir na gasúir.

Dúinfidh Cáit an doras. Suífidh sí síos agus ólfaidh sí cupán caife. ‘Bíonn an geimhreadh chomh dorcha agus chomh gruama sin,’ a deir Cáit léi féin i gcónaí, ‘chomh deas is a bheas sé amach anseo faoi Bhealtaine nuair a bheas na croinnte faoi bhláth arist. B’fhéidir i mbliana go mbeadh muid in ann a ghoil ar saoire go hAlbain ...’

Ach tá éadaí le níochán agus caithfear / an teach ar fad a ghlanadh agus a scuabadh. Tá an t-siopadóireacht le déanamh. Bíonn an méid sin le déanamh maidin Dé Luain !

¹ One must sweep and clean the entire house; sometimes the autonomous form is more naturally translated by the English passive construction: ‘The entire house must be swept and cleaned.’

EXERCISES

A. In the following sentences replace the imperative with the future tense, e.g. Imreoidh tú cluife eile amáireach.

1. Imir cluife eile amáireach.
2. Oscail an doras seo agus dúin an doras eile.
3. Breathnaigh ar an leabhar sin agus léigh an ceann seo.
4. Cóinnigh an mála. Pacáil ar ball é.
5. Athraigh do chuid éadaí agus glan an teach.
6. Nígh na soithí; ansin fág ar an mbord iad.

B. In the following sentences replace the future tense, e.g. *Nífidh sé soithí. ‘He will wash dishes’, by the progressive future, e.g. *Beidh sé ag níochán soithí. He will be washing dishes’.

1. Glanfaidh sé agus scuabfaidh sé na seomraí uilig.
2. Léifidh siad leabhartha agus foghlaimeoídh siad teangacha.
3. Éistfidh muid leis an raidió agus cuideoidh muid libh ag an am céanna.
4. Nuair a dhéanfas mé cupán tae breathnóidh mé ar an bpáipéar.
5. Nuair a chóireos sí na leapacha beidh sí sásta.

C. Complete these sentences using the appropriate prepositional pronoun, e.g. Tá fímsa teach a thóigeáil anseo.

1. Tá (faoi) (mise) teach a thóigeáil anseo.
2. Faoi dheireadh, fuair muid na bróga (faoiin mbord).
3. Tá fás anois (faoi na torthat) uilig seachas an gabáiste.
4. Tá (faoi) (muide) fanacht anseo go dtí Déardaoin.
5. Mh' anam go raibh siad ag caint faoi 'chuile dhuine seachas (faoi) (sibhse).
6. Caith (faoi) (thú) ar an gcathaoir sin !
7. Bhí mé ag caint le Máirtín (faoi Cháit); beidh sí ag imeacht go Sasana amáireach.

TRANSLATE:

1. I will get up early tomorrow. I will wake the children and prepare the breakfast. I am afraid that they will miss the bus again tomorrow. 2. Pádraig was here at Eastertime and she will be here shortly. 3. Let out that water ! I will wash myself and shave myself now. Then I will put on my clothes. 4. Máirtín intended to go to Dublin yesterday. I suppose he will be there now. I will be staying until Sunday. 5. I must go now without delay but put on the kettle and we will drink a drop of tea first. 6. Everybody was satisfied besides you.

LESSON 22

VOCABULARY

bean rialta fem.	/b̄'æ:n̄ ri:t̄ə/	pl. mná rialta	nun
binse	/b̄i:n̄s̄'ə/	binsí	bench
bolg	/bol̄g/		belly
broinn fem.	/bri:n̄'/		breast, womb
cogar	/kogər/		whisper
compóirt fem.	/ku:mpo:rt̄/		comfort
Dia	/d̄i:i:ə/		God
droichead	/dre:d̄/, /draid/	droichid	bridge
dúchas	/du:xəs/		background, quality
fál	/fá:L/	fálta	fence, hedge
fascadh	/fa:skə/		shelter, shade
lacha fem.	/la:xə/	lachain	duck
loch fem.	/Lox/	lochanna	lake
oibrí	/aib̄'r'i:/	oirbrite /aib̄'r'i:/	worker
pайдir fem.	/pa:d̄'ər/	pайдreacha /pa:d̄'r'əxi:/	prayer
páirc fem.	/p̄a:r'k/	páirceanna	park, large field
pinsinéara	/p̄'in's̄'ən̄'e:rə/	pinsinéarái	pensioner
rath	/ra:/		prosperity
scaitheamh	/ska:/	scaití /ska:t̄'i:/	period, pl. sometimes
scamall	/ska:məL/	scamaill	cloud
sruthán	/sra:N/	srutháin	stream
tom fem.	/tu:m/	tomacha /tuməxi:/	bush
aithneachtáil fem.	/æ:n̄'əxt̄al̄/		recognising aithnígh 2	/æ:n̄'ə/		recognise
bac 1	/ba:k/		hinder, bother
bacadh	/ba:kə/		hindering
beir 1	/b̄'er/		bear, give birth; catch (ar)
breith	/b̄'r'e/		bearing, etc.
braith 1	/bra:/		depend
brath	/bra:/		depending
cogarnaíl fem.	/kogəRNi:l̄/		whispering
féad 1	/f̄'e:d/		can, is able féadachtáil fem.	/f̄'e:dəxt̄a:l̄/		being able fiafraí	/f̄'i:əri:/		enquiring, asking
fiafraigh 2	/f̄'i:əra/		enquire, ask
fliuch 1	/f̄'l̄'ox/		wet
fliuchadh	/f̄'l̄'oxə/		wetting
gnóthachtáil fem.	/gru:xt̄a:l̄/		winning, gaining gnóthaigh 2	/gru:/		win, gain
labhair 2	/Laur̄/		speak
labhairt	/Laur̄t̄/		speaking
lean 1	/L̄'æ:N/		continue, follow
leanacht	/L̄'æ:Nəxt̄/		continuing
samhláigh 2	/saul̄ə/		imagine
samhlú	/saul̄u:/		imagining
scairt 1	/ska:rt̄/		shine
scairteadh	/ska:rt̄ə/		shining
siúlóid fem.	/s̄'u:Lo:d̄/		taking a walk

taithneachtáil fem.	/tæ:N'əxta:l'	pleasing
taithnígh 2	/tæ:N'ə/	please
tastaigh 2	/ta:stə/	need tastáil fem.	/ta:stə:l'	needing clí	/k'li:/	left
corr- ¹	/kaʊr/	occasional, odd
deas	/d' æ:s/	right
rialta	/ri:əltə/	regular
sínte	/s'i:N'tə/	stretched

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. ag breathnú uaim 'looking (idly) around me'
2. ag ligean mo scíth 'resting, relaxing'
3. ag déanamh bolg-le-gréin 'sunbathing'
4. ar mo chompoírt 'at my ease'
5. Tá sé ag tastáil uaim 'I need it'
6. Thaithneodh sé liom 'It would please me, I would like ...'
7. Níl a fhios agam beo 'I don't know for the life of me (at all)'
8. ar thaobh na láimhe deise/clí 'right/left'
9. Go ngnóthaí Dia dhuit! (lit. 'may God gain for you') 'Goodbye!' This is a reply to lá maith 'good day', tráthnóna maith 'good evening', olche mhaith 'good night'

GRAMMAR

1. CONDITIONAL OF REGULAR VERB

(i) Form used with noun or pronoun (corresponding to bheadh)

Ghlanfadh Cáit an bord agus nífeadh sí na soithí.	Cáit would clear the table and she would wash the dishes.
Léifeadh Cáit an leabhar agus ní bhrisfeadh sí an chathaoir.	Cáit would read the book but she would not break the chair.
Choinneodh sé an cóta agus shalódh sé é.	He would keep the coat and he would dirty it.
D'osclödh sibhse an geata ach ní imreodh muide cluife.	You (pl.) would open the gate but we wouldn't play games.

Type 1
(root with one syllable)

glan + fadh	ghlanfadh
bris + feadh	bhrisfeadh
léi(gh) + feadh	léifeadh
ni(gh) + feadh	nífeadh
flíuch + fadh	d'fhliuchfadh

The verb is lenited and adds -f(e)adh /əx/. A final gh is dropped and a short syllable is lengthened; see Lesson 12.

Type 2
(root with two syllables)

sal(aigh) + ódh	shalódh
coinn(igh) + eodh	choinneodh
osc(ai)l + ódh	d'osclödh
im(i)r + eodh	d'imreodh

The verb is lenited and adds -ódh, -eodh /ə:x/. The last syllable is always lost before an ending with an initial vowel; see Lesson 12.

All verbal endings are spelt with a 'broad' vowel, e.g. -fadh, -ódh, after a broad ¹Corr is a prefixed adjective, e.g. corrduine /'kaʊr, ɣɪn'ə/ 'the odd person'.

consonant, e.g. glan-, sal-, oscl-, and with a ‘slender’ vowel, e.g. -fidh, -eodh, after a slender consonant, e.g. bris-, coinn-, imr-; see Lesson 12.

The basic form is always lenited, e.g. ghlanfadadh sé ‘he would clean’¹; where a verb has an initial vowel or f, d’ is prefixed, e.g. d'osclódh sé ‘he would open’, d'fhlíuchfadadh sé ‘he would wet’. The d’ is normally pronounced broad or slender according to the following vowel.

Concerning the pronunciation of endings with a final -dh, see Lesson 7.

(ii) Combined forms (corresponding to bheinn, bheifeá, bheidís)

(a) First person singular

Type 1
adds -f(a)inn /ən'

ghlanfainn	I would clean
bhrisfinn	I would break
léifinn	I would read
nífinn	I would wash
d'fhlíuchfainn	I would wet

Type 2
adds -óinn, -eoinn /o:n'

shalóinn	I would dirty
choinneoinn	I would keep
d'osclóinn	I would open
d'imreoinn	I would play

(b) Second person singular

Type 1
adds -f(e)á /a:/

ghlanfá	you would clean
bhrisfeá	you would break
léifeá	you would read
nífeá	you would wash
d'fhlíuchfá	you would wet

Type 2
adds -ofá, -eofá /a:/

shalófá	you would dirty
choinneofá	you would keep
d'osclófá	you would open
d'imreofá	you would play

NOTE:

Although in pronunciation the ending is /a:/ in all cases, type 1 and type 2 are spelt differently.

(c) Third person plural

Type 1
adds -f(a)idís /əd'i:s'

ghlanfaidís	they would clean
bhrisfaidís	they would break
léifidís	they would read
níidís	they would wash
d'fhlíuchfaidís	they would wet

Type 2
adds -óidís, -eoidís /o:d'i:s'

shalóidís	they would dirty
choinneoidís	they would keep
d'osclóidís	they would open
d'imreoidís	they would play

(iii) Autonomous form (corresponding to bheifí)

Type 1
adds -f(a)í /i:/

ghlanfaí	one would clean
bhrisfi	one would break
léifi	one would read
nífi	one would wash
d'fhlíuchfafí	one would wet

Type 2
adds -ófaí, -eofaí /i:/

shalófaí	one would dirty
choinneofaí	one would keep
d'osclófaí	one would open
d'imreofaí	one would play

¹For the lenition of l, n, see Lesson 1, phonetic exercise 1 (c).

NOTE:

Although in pronunciation the endings are usually /i:/ in all cases, type 1 and type 2 are spelt differently. (A less common pronunciation of type 2 endings is, in fact, /o:f'i:/.)

(iv) Pronunciation of verbs with roots ending in b, d, g, bh, mh

A root-final

b (scuab)	is pronounced as	p (scuabfad)
d (goid)		t (goidfeadh)
g (póg)		c (pógfadh)
bh (scríobh)		f (scríobhfadh)
mh (snámh)		f (snámfadh)

before any verbal ending spelt with an initial f.

2. THE PREPOSITION Ó

(i) Introduction

Tá leitir anseo ó Mháirtín.
Tá bainne ansin ón mbó.

There is a letter here from Máirtín.
There is milk there from the cow.

The preposition ó 'from' lenites a directly following noun, e.g. ó Mháirtín 'from Máirtín'. When used with the singular article it causes eclipsis to a following noun, e.g. ón mbó 'from the cow'¹.

(ii) Prepositional Pronouns

Ordinary form		Pronunciation
uaim	from me	/wem'/
uait	from you	/wet'/
uaidh	from him/it	/wai/
uaithi	from her/it	/wo:/
uainn	from us	/wen'/
uaibh	from you (pl.)	/web'/
uathu	from them	/wo:b'/

The contrast forms and general usage are the same as those of ag and most other prepositional pronouns, e.g. uaim, uaimse, uaim fén, uaimse mé fén; see Lesson 16.

(iii) Meanings of ó

Basic meaning 'from, since':

Tá Cáit ar an mbealach ar ais ón bposta. Cáit is on the way back from the post office.
Tá Cáit anseo ón Nollaig. Cáit is/has been here since Christmas.

More idiomatically ó is used:

(a) to express desire

Níl uaith ach spóirt.

He only wants fun.

¹Sometimes ó may be replaced by uaidh, e.g. uaidh Mháirtín 'from Máirtín'.

(b) as a conjunction, to express 'from the time, since'

Níl Cáit go maith ó bhí sí tinn. Cáit is not well since she was sick.

(c) in some common adverbial phrases

ó dhúchas 'from nature'	Tá Fraincis ó dhúchas ag Cáit.	Cáit has French as a mother tongue.
ó bhroinn 'from (the) womb'	Tá marc ó bhroinn ar Cháit	Cáit has a mark from birth.
ó rath 'from prospering'	Tá na fataí ó rath.	The potatoes are ruined.
ó shin 'since that'	Tá Cáit anseo ó shin.	Cáit is here since.
ó mhaidin 'since morning'	Tá Cáit anseo ó mhaidin.	Cáit is here since morning.

3. USE OF A + LENITION BEFORE CERTAIN VERBAL NOUNS

Bhí Cáit ag iarraidh Cáit was trying	a fháil amach a dhéanamh amach a shamhlú a fhiafráí a thiscint	to find out to make out to imagine to ask to understand	cé a bhí ann aréir. who was there last night.
---	--	---	--

The particle a /ə/, which causes lenition, is used before verbs when they are followed by a sentence, or subordinate clause, which is syntactically complete in itself, e.g. cé a bhí ann aréir? 'Who was there last night?'; go bhfuil Bríd tinn 'that Bríd is sick'.

TEXTS

AN PHÁIRC

Níl a fhios cé chomh deas leis an bpáirc atá anseo. Is aoibhinn liom a bheith ag siúlódí anseo, go háirithe nuair atá na croinnte agus na tomacha faoi bhláth. Scaití, is fearr liom go díreach suí ar bhinse agus breathnú uaim. Bíonn 'chuile shórt duine anseo, idir sean agus óg. D'fheicfeá gasúir ag gáirí agus ag déanamh spraoi nó pinsinéaraí ag cogarnaíl agus ag comhrá lena chéile; d'fheicfeá mná rialta ag rá a gcuid paidreacha nó oibrithe óga sínte ar an bhféar ag ligeann scíth agus ag déanamh bolg-le-gréin.

Tá loch bheag agus sruthán ann agus tá droichead beag thar an sruthán. Tá fálta deasa ar thaobh na láimhe deise agus tá binse deas compóirteach ar thaobh na láimhe clí. Seo é an áit is fearr liom. Dhá mbeadh gaoth ann, bheadh fascadh anseo agat.

Aithním corrduinne thall is i bhffus ach is fearr liom gan labhairt le duine ar bith. Seo anois daoine ag caitheamh seanphíosaí aráin ag na lachain! Is mór an spóirt a bheith ag breathnú ar na lachain ag breith ar an arán.

Nach mór an truaí go mbionn an aimsir ag síorathrú! D'fhéadfadh an ghrian a bheith ag scairteadh mar seo anois, ar maidin agus gan scamall ar bith le feiceáil, ach ní bheadh a fhios agat céard a tharlódh tráthnóna. D'fhéadfadh sé a bheith ag báisteach nó b'fhéidir ag cur shneachta! Dhá bhféadfaí brath ar an aimsir anseo cé a bhacfadh le a ghoil ar saoire thar sáile? Ní thastóidh áit ar bith eile uainn. Ní bheadh uainn ach súl anseo ar ar gcompóirt. Ní bheadh áit ar bith ar an domhan a thaitheodh níos fearr liom ná an pháirc seo.

COMHRÁ FAOIN bPOSTA

'Níl a fhios 'am beo cén áit a bhfuil an posta. Beidh muid in ann ceist a chur ar an bhfear seo atá ag tiocht aníos an bóthar.'

'An bhfuil a fhios 'ad cá bhfuil an posta ?'

'Tá a fhios. Gabh síos an bóthar seo agus cas ar thaobh na láimhe deise. Lean ort soir an bóthar sin agus feicfidh tú an posta ar thaobh na láimhe clí.'

'Cén dath atá air ?'

'Tá sé bán agus tá doras uaine air.'

'An bhfuil a fhios 'ad cén t-am a mbeidh an posta ag imeacht ?'

'Níl a fhios; féadfaidh tú a fháil amach ón mbean arsin cén t-am a mbeidh sé ag imeacht.'

'Go raibh maith agat !'

'Lá maith anois agat !'

'Go gnóthaí Dia dhuit !'

EXERCISES

A. Rewrite the following sentences in the conditional:

1. Ní phósfaidh sé Cáit an bhliain seo chugainn.
2. Osclóidh siad an doras.
3. Ní bhacfaidh tú leis an leabhar sin go fóill.
4. Féadfaidh mé fanacht anseo ar feadh cupla seachtain.
5. Caillfidh sé an bus, mara ndéanfaidh sé deifir.
6. Ní scuabfaidh sí ná ní nífidh sí éadaí go deo aríst.
7. An osclófar na doirse ?
8. Labhróidh mé leis aríst amáireach.
9. Sutífidh siad síos.
10. Fliuchfaidh tú an tae.
11. Brisfear an t-adhmaid .
12. Salófar an cóta.

B. Complete these sentences using the appropriate prepositional pronoun, e.g. An mbeidh na leabhartha seo ag tastáil uainn aríst ?

1. An mbeidh na leabhartha seo ag tastáil (ó) (muid) aríst ?
2. Nil (ón bhfear) seo ach spóirt ó thíainig sé abhaile.
3. Mh'anan go bhfuair tú leitir (ón mbean rialta) inné.
4. An dtaithníonn sé libh sú ar an mbínse mar sin ag breathnú (ó) (sibh) ?
5. Bhí mé ag iarraidh a dhéanamh amach an dtastódh an carr (ó) (í).
6. Tastaíonn deoch (ó) (mise); an dtastaíonn ceann (ó) (thusa) ?
7. Tá fonn orm a fháil amach (ó) (é) cén teanga atá ó dhúchas ag an strainséara sin.

TRANSLATE:

1. Máirtín is here since morning. 2. I need to ask where the house is. 3. You might (would) see almost every sort of person here; nuns and pensioners, and students and workers, and priests and children. 4. If the weather were warm, I would like (i.e. it would please me) to relax and to sunbathe. 5. All he wanted was to find out where the post office was and what time would the post be going at. 6. The sun might be shining and tomorrow it could be raining or snowing. You wouldn't know what would happen. 7. I got a letter from you last week and one from them yesterday. 8. I must eat an apple every day since I was sick.

LESSON 23

VOCABULARY

búistéara	/bu:s'te:rə/	búistéaraí	butcher
casúr	/ka:su:r/	casúir	hammer
céir fem.	/k'e:r'/		wax
ceirnín	/k'erN'i:n'/	ceirníní	record, disc
críoch fem.	/k'r'i:əx/		finish
cúnamh	/ku:Nə/		help
dusta	/dustə/		dust
geall	/g'a:L/	geallta	bet
iascaire	/i:əskər'ə/	iascairí	fisherman
miosúr	/m'isu:r/		(tape) measure
poll	/pauL/	poill /paiL'/	hole
rásá	/ra:sə/	rásait /ra:sti:/	race
sábh	/sa:w/	sábhanna	saw salachar	/sa:Ləxər/		dirt
scriú	/s'k'r'u:/	scriúanna	screw
seilp fem.	/s'el'p'/	seilpeanna	shelf
siúinéaracht fem.	/s'u:n'e:rəxt/		carpentry, joinery
slainte fem.	/sla:N'tə/		health
spás	/spa:s/		space, period, respite
stól	/sto:L/	stóltá	stool
táirne	/ta:rN'ə/	tairní	nail
tiarna	/t'i:ərnə/	tiarnaí	lord
Muire	/mir'ə/		(The Virgin) Mary
Peadar	/p'æ:dər/		(man's name)
ceap 1	/k'æ:p/		think
ceapadh	/k'æ:pə/		thinking
clamhsán	/klausdə:N/		grumbling, complaining
cleacht 1	/k'læ:xt/		be accustomed to, practice
cleachtadh	/k'læ:xtə/		practicing, experience
críochnaigh 2	/k'r'i:əxNə/		finish
críochnú	/k'r'i:əxNə:/		finishing
geall 1	/g'a:L/		promise
gealladh	/g'a:Lə/		promising
gortaigh 2	/gortə/		hurt, injure
gortú	/gortu:/		hurting
magadh	/ma:gə/		mocking, joking
meas¹ 1	/m'æ:s/		think, reckon, estimate
meas	/m'æ:s/		thinking
seachain 2	/s'æ:χən'/		avoid
seachaint	/s'æ:χəN't/		avoiding
(ta)spáin² 1	/(tə')spa:n'/		show
(ta)spáint² fem.	/(tə')spa:N't/		showing

¹Meas tú? 'do you think?' (as well as the regular measann tú) is very common.

²The first syllable is very frequently dropped..

tomhais 1	/təs'/	measure
tomhais	/təs'/	measuring, measurement
déanta	/d̪i:ntə/	made, done
feiliúnach	/f̪el'ú:nəx/	suitable, appropriate
hóbair	/ho:bər'/	almost (see this lesson)

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. tabhair /tɔ:r'/ ‘give !’ (Also pronounced with a short /o/ in tabhair dhom /torəm/ ‘give me !’)
2. Dia dhuit ! (or Dia dhaoibh !) are used to greet a person (or people).
3. Cén chaoi a bhfuil tú ? /k̪e: xi: wil' tu:/ ‘How are you ?’
4. A dheartháir ! ‘Brother !’ A dhrioifír ! ‘Sister !’ A mhac ! ‘Son !’ are used as general forms of address.
5. Slainte ! ‘Your health !’

GRAMMAR

1. HABITUAL PRESENT OF REGULAR VERB

(i) Form used with noun or pronoun (corresponding to bíonn)

Glanann Cáit an bord agus níonn sí na soithí	Cáit clears the table and she washes the dishes.
Léann Cáit an leabhar ach ní bhriseann sí an chathaoir.	Cáit reads the book but she does not break the chair.
Coinníonn sé an cóta agus saláonn sé é.	He keeps the coat and he dirties it.
Osclaíonn tusa an geata agus imríonn muide cluift.	You open the gate and we play games.

Type 1
(root with one syllable)
adds -(e)ann,-onn /əN/

glan + ann	glanann
bris + eann	briseann
lé(igh) + eann	léann
ni(gh) + onn	níonn

After a long vowel gh is dropped;
after a short vowel gh is dropped
and the syllable is lengthened;
see Lesson 12. After í, the ending is spelt -onn, cf. bí + onn: bíonn.

Type 2
(root with two syllables)
adds -(a)íonn /i:N/

sal(aigh) + aíonn	salaíonn
coinn(igh) + ionn	coinníonn
osc(ai)l + aíonn	osclaíonn
im(i)r + íonn	imríonn

The last syllable is always lost
before an ending with an initial vowel;
see Lesson 12.

All verbal endings are spelt with an initial ‘broad’ vowel, e.g. -ann, -aíonn, after a broad consonant, e.g. glan-, sal-, oscl-, and with an initial ‘slender’ vowel, e.g. -eann, -íonn, after a slender consonant, e.g. bris-, coinn-, imr-; see Lesson 12.

(ii) Combined form (corresponding to bím)

First person singular

Type 1

adds -(a)im /əm'/glanaim

I clean, clear

brisim

I break

léim

I read

núm

I wash

Type 2

adds -(a)im /i:m'/saláim

I dirty

coinním

I keep

osclaílm

I open

imrím

I play

(iii) Autonomous form (corresponding to bítear)

Type 1

adds -t(e)ar /tər/, /t'ər/glantar

one cleans, clears

bristear

one breaks

léitear

one reads

nítear

one washes

Type 2

adds -(a)ítear /i:tər/salaítear

one dirties

coinnítear

one keeps osclaítear

one opens

imrítear

one plays

Before an ending with an initial consonant a short syllable can optionally remain short, e.g. nítear.

The last syllable is always lost before an ending with an initial vowel; see Lesson 12.

(iv) Direct relative

S is added to any non-combined form (see Lesson 13): a ghlananns ‘that cleans’, a shalaíonn ‘that dirties’, etc.

2. THE PREPOSITION DO

(i) Introduction

Tá muid ag tabhairt airgead do Cháit.
Tá muid ag tabhairt airgead don bhean eile.

We are giving money to Cáit.
 We are giving money to the other woman.

Do /gɔ:/ causes lenition to a directly following noun, e.g. do Cháit ‘to Cáit’. Before a vowel it is written d, e.g. d'Úna ‘to Úna’. When used with the singular article it is written as don /gən/ and a following noun is lenited, e.g. don bhean ‘to the woman’.

As normal after a preposition, the singular article prefixes t to feminine nouns beginning with s and followed by a vowel or l, r, n, e.g. don tsúil ‘to the eye’; see Lesson 8. After don, t may be optionally prefixed to similar masculine nouns, e.g. don tsagart ‘to the priest’.

(ii) Prepositional pronouns

Ordinary form

dhom	to me
dhuit	to you
dhó	to him/it
dhi	to her/it
dhúinn	to us
dhaobh	to you (pl.)
dhóibh	to them

Pronunciation

/yəm//yɪt'/ /yo:/ /y'i:/, /yi:/
/yu:N'/
/yi:b'/
/yo:b'/

The contrast forms and general usage are the same as those of ag and most other prepositional pronouns, e.g. dhom, dhomsa, dhom féin, dhomsa mé féin; see Lesson 16. Often the initial dh is dropped in pronunciation, e.g. 'om/um/, 'uit/it/, 'ó/o:/, and less frequently it is unlenited, e.g. dom/dum/, duit/dit/, dó/do:/. We have already seen in Lesson 15 how do is used with mo, do, etc. (do mo, do do, dhá, dho'ur).

(iii) Meaning of do

Basic meaning 'to' or 'for'

Tá mé ag tabhairt leabhar do Cháit. I am giving a book to Cáit.
Tá mé ag scríobh leitir do Cháit. I am writing a letter for Cáit.

Do is used in a giving or dative sense; ag (see Lesson 16) is in most cases used of 'direction to' or 'movement to', e.g. Tá mé ag scríobh leitir ag Cáit 'I am writing a letter to Cáit.' Exceptionally do expresses motion with certain place-names which are used with the article, e.g. don Lochán Bheag 'to Lochán Beag'.

More idiomatically do is used in:

(a) Thar éis do:

Thar éis do na daoine imeacht, għlan Cáit After the people had gone, Cáit cleared an bord. the table.

(b) Hóbair do:

Hóbair do Cháit titim. Cáit almost fell.

In both these idioms the subject, e.g. na daoine, Cáit, follows do and a verbal noun is used.

3. IDIOMATIC USES OF DO WITH THE COPULA

Is fiú dhuit imeacht.	It is worth it for you to go off.
Ní gá dhuit fanacht.	It is not necessary for you to stay.

The copula (see Lesson 11) is used with do in certain idiomatic expressions. Further examples are:

Is	breá	/b'r'a:/	do Cháit ...	It is fine	for Cáit ...
Ní	gá	/ga:/		It isn't necessary
Ar	leor	/L'o:r/		Is it enough
Nach	furasta	/frustə:/		Isn't it easy
Deir sé gur	fearr	/f'a:r/		He says that it is better
Deir sé nach	ceart	/k'æ:rt/		He says that it isn't right
Más	fior	/f'i:ər/		If it is true
Mara	cuma	/kumə/		If it is not all the same

There are some idioms which are only used in a negative, e.g. ní foláir /f'l'a:r/ do Cháitimeacht 'Cáit must go off'.

Some of these idioms can be used impersonally (with no prepositional pronoun), e.g. ní gáimeacht 'it is not necessary to go off', is fiú a theacht 'it is worth coming', is leor sin 'that is enough', is fior sin 'it is true'.

TEXTS

SIÚINÉARACHT

Ní thaithníonn sé le Peadar a bheith ag obair sa mbaile. Bionn sé tuirseach tráthnóna agus bionn fonn air a scíth a ligean. Taithníonn sé leis leabhar a léamh nó éisteacht le ceol. Is fearr leis an obair a sheachaint, más féidir leis. Bionn a bhean i gcónai ag magadh faoi. Deir sí go mbíonn sise ag obair i bhfad níos cruacha ná eisean. Scaití, tosaíonn sí ag clamhsán.

'Nach aoibhinn dhuitse é atá in ann suí ansin ag éisteacht le ceirníní ! Breathnaigh an méid a chaithfeas mise a dhéanamh. Réitím na béisíocha agus ním na soithí agus glanaim an chisteanach. Cóirím na leapacha agus coinním an teach ar fad glan. Ní bhíonn tusa ag tabhairt cúnamh ar bith dhom ! Caithfidh tú seilpeanna a dhéanamh do do chuid leabhartha uilig !'

'Ach tabhair spás dhom, tá mé tuirseach anocht,' a deir Peadar, 'ach geallaim dhuit go ndéanfaidh mé amáireach iad.'

Is siúinéara maith é Peadar. Tá cleachtadh aige ar an tsíúinéarach. Má thosaíonn sé ar an obair, ní bhíonn sé i bhfad dhá críochnú.

'Cá bhfuil an casúr agus an sábh ?' a deir sé lena bhean. 'Tá siad ansin ar an stól.'

'An bhfuil táirní agus scriúanna ann freisin ? Tabhair dhom iad !'

'An bhfuil do dhóthain ansin ?'

'Is leor sin. Ní gá an oiread sin. 'Spáin dhom an t-adhmaidanois !'

Ní raibh na cláracha feiliúnach don bhalla. Bhí siad rofhada. B'éigean dhó iad a ghearradh leis an sábh. Fuair sé miosúr le iad a thomhais. Bhí siad ceart an uair seo.

Bhí sé deacair poill a dhéanamh do na scriúanna. Hóbair dó a mhéir a ghortú leis an gcasúr. Mar sin féin, ní raibh sé i bhfad ní go raibh an obair déanta. Bhí a bhean sássta, cé go raibh dusta agus salachar 'chuile áit. B'éigean dhi an t-owlár a scuabadh agus an seomra a ghlacadh arfis.

AN TEACH ÓSTA (CÓMHRÁ)

'Dia dhuit, a Mháirtín !'

'Dia is Muire dhuit ! Cén chaoi a bhfuil tú ?'

'Tá mé réasúnta,' a deir Seánín, 'cén chaoi a bhfuil tú féin ?'

'Tá mé go maith, a dheartháir. Céard a ólfas tú ?'

'Ólfaidh mé pionta mar sin.'

Fuair siad pionta an duine. 'Slainte !' a deir Seánín. 'Beidh mé ag goil Gaillimh amáireach,' a deir Máirtín. 'Tá mé ag goil ag na rástaí. Meas tú cé a ghnóthós an rása móir ?'

'Bláth an lascaire, sin nó An Tiarna.'

'B'fhéidir é,' a deir Máirtín, 'ach sílim'¹ gur fearr an t-airgead a chur ar Scian an Bhúistéara.

'Muise, ní fiú dhuit geall a chur ar an seanchapall sin !' a deir Seánín ag gáirí.

'Feicfidh muid,' a deir Máirtín.

EXERCISES

A. In the following sentences replace anois by 'chuile lá' and replace the verbal noun constructions by the habitual present of the corresponding verbs, e.g. Scairteann an ghrian 'chuile lá'.

1. Tá an ghrian ag scairteadh anois.
2. Tá sé ag cleachtadh a chuid Gaeilge anois.
3. Tá mé ag níochán soithí agus ag cóiriú leapacha anois.
4. Tá sí ag breathnú go maith anois.
5. Tá siad ag oscailt fuinneogaí agus ag dúnadh doirse anois.
6. Tá mé ag léamh leabhartha ach níl mé dhá salú anois.
7. Tá mé ag seachaint Bhaile Átha Cliath anois.

B. Complete these sentences using the appropriate prepositional pronoun, e.g. Hóbair dhúinn titim ar an mbealach abhaile.

1. Hóbair (do) (muid) titim ar an mbealach abhaile.
2. Ní fiú (do) (mise) a ghoil ann anois.
3. An scriobhfá leitir eile (don fhearr) sin ?
4. Ní gá (do) (sibh) airgead a thabhairt do Cháit.
5. Bhí muid ag iarraidh an seomra a 'spáint (do Cháit).
6. Sin é an rud is ceart (do) (thusa) a dhéanamh.
7. Mh 'anam nach mbíonn sé ag tabhairt cúnamh (do na daoine iad) féin.
8. Is fior (do) (thú). Níl an tairne feiliúnach (don bhalla).

TRANSLATE:

1. I like being (i.e. it pleases me to be) here. I need to read and listen to records. I can avoid people from Dublin. 2. If you start writing a letter, it is not difficult to finish it. 3. Show me the saw and the hammer ! Where are the nails and the screws ? Are they suitable for this hole ? 4. If you are going to the big race, put a bet on 'The Butcher's Knife' (Scian an Bhúistéara). 5. After the public house shut, he came home. 6. He almost fell on the road. The road was very wet. 7. It is easy for you to (be) joke(ing) about him.

¹ Sílim 'I (am) think(ing), I am (wont to be) of the opinion' like other 'stative' verbs (e.g. breathnaím, measaim, cloisim, feicim, tigim, airím, mothaím) can be either habitual or progressive. Ceapaim 'I think' can be also used progressively: Tá mé ag ceapadh.

LESSON 24

VOCABULARY

ádh	/a:/		luck
bráillín fem.	/bra:l'í:n'/	bráillíní	sheet
buille	/bi'l'ə/	buillí	blow, stroke
ceacht	/k'æ:xt/	ceachtanna	lesson
ceathrú uaire fem.	/k'æ:ru: u:ər'ə/		a quarter of an hour
ciumhais fem.	/k'u:s'/	ciumhaiseanna	blanket
ginn fem.	/g'i:N'/	geanntracha /g'a:ntrəxi:/	wedge
gliogar	/g'l'igər/		crock, sth. unstable
leathuair fem.	/l'æ:u:ər'/		half hour
peiliúr	/p'el'u:r/	peiliúracha	pillow, cushion
pluid fem.	/plid'/	pluideanna	double blanket
plump	/pl.ump/	plumpaíl	bang, thunder
scoil chónaí fem.	/skel' xu:Ni:/	scoileanna cónat	boarding school
seafóid fem.	/s'æ:fo:d'/	seafóideacha	nonsense
suipéar	/sip'e:r/	suipéir	supper, evening meal
ceangail 2	/k'æ:ŋgəl'/		tie, bind
ceangal	/k'æ:ŋgəl/		tying
guidh 1	/giw'/		pray
guidhe	/giw'ə/		praying
iompaigh 2	/u:mpə/		turn
iompú	/u:mpu:/		turning
léim 1	/l'è:m'/		jump
léimt fem.	/l'è:m't'/		jumping
múch 1	/mu:x/		extinguish, quench
múchadh	/mu:xə/		extinguishing
múin 1	/mu:n'/		teach
múnadh	/mu:Nəl/		teaching
scanraigh ¹ 2	/ska:Nt'rə/		take fright, frighten
scanrú	/ska:Nt'rə:/ pl. scanraiocha		taking fright, frightening
socraigh 2	/sokrə/		settle, arrange
socrú	/sokru:/ pl. socraiocha		settling, settlement
stop 1	/stop/		stop
stopadh	/stopə/		stopping
bréan	/b'r'e:N/		rotten (smelling)
pointeáilte	/pi:Nt'a:Lt'ə/		punctual, precise, punctilious
a chlog	/ə xlɔg/		... o' clock
a chodladh	/ə xołə/		asleep
ina dhiadh sin	/ənə y'i:ə s'in'/		after that ceachtar (de)	/k'æ:xtər/		either/any (of)

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. déanamh ar ‘making for’ 2. taobh amuigh de ‘outside of, apart from, besides’
 3. a leithéide de ... (is a ...) ‘such ... as ...’ 4. dhá dtaspáint fén ‘showing off’ (lit. ‘showing themselves’)

LESSON 24

¹The sound /t/ (and in certain cases /d/) is frequently (though optionally) inserted between n and r.

GRAMMAR

1. HABITUAL PAST OF REGULAR VERB

(i) Form used with noun or pronoun (corresponding to bhíodh)

Ghlanadh Cáit an bord agus níodh sí na soithí.

Léadh Cáit an leabhar agus ní bhriseadh sí an chathaoir.

Choinníodh sé an cóta agus shalaíodh sé é.

*D'osclaíodh sibhse an geata ach ní
imríodh muide cluifí.*

Cáit used to clean the table and she used to wash the dishes.

Cáit used to read the book and she used
not to break the chair.

He used to keep the coat and he used to dirty it.

You (pl.) used to open the gate but we used not to play games.

Type 1
(root with one syllable)
is lenited and adds -(e)adh /ɔx/

glan + adh	ghlanadh
bris + eadh	bhriseadh
lé(igh) + adh	léadh
ni(gh) + odh	níodh
fliuch + adh	d'fhliuchadh

Type 2
(root with two syllables)
is lenited and adds -(a)íodh /i:x/

sal(aigh) + aíodh	shalaíodh
coinn(igh) + íodh	choinníodh
osc(ai)l + aíodh	d'osclaíodh
im(i)r + todh	d'imríodh

After a long vowel gh is dropped;
after a short vowel gh is dropped
and the syllable is lengthened;
see Lesson 12. After í, the ending is spelt -odh, cf. bhíodh.

The last syllable is always lost
before an ending with an initial vowel;
see Lesson 12.

The basic form is always lenited, e.g. ghlanadh sé ‘he used to clean’¹; where a verb has an initial vowel or f, d' is prefixed, e.g. d'osclaíodh sé ‘he used to open’, d'fhliuchadh sé ‘he used to wet’. The d' is normally pronounced broad (/d/) or slender (/d'/) according to the following vowel.

Concerning the pronunciation of final dh, see Lesson 7.

All verbal endings are spelt with an initial ‘broad’ vowel, e.g. -adh, -aíodh, after a broad consonant, e.g. glan, fliuch, sal-, oscl-, and with an initial ‘slender’ vowel, e.g. -eadh, -íodh, after a slender consonant, e.g. bris, coinn, imr-; see Lesson 12.

(ii) Combined forms (corresponding to bhínn, bhíteá, bhídís)

(a) First person singular

Type 1
adds -(a)inn /əN'/

ghlanainn	I used to clean
bhrisinn	I used to break
léinn	I used to read
nínn	I used to wash
d'fhliuchainn	I used to wet

Type 2
adds -(a)ínn /i:N'/

shalaínn	I used to dirty
choinnínn	I used to keep
d'osclaínn	I used to open
d'imrínn	I used to play

¹For the lenition of l, n, see Lesson 1, phonetic exercise 1 (c).

(b) Second person singular

Type 1

adds -t(e)á /ta:/, /t'ɑ:/

ghlantá	you used to clean
bhristeá	you used to break
léiteá	you used to read
níteá	you used to wash
d'fhliuchtá	you used to wet

Type 2

adds -(a)íteá /i:t'ɑ:/

shalaíteá	you used to dirty
choinníteá	you used to keep
d'osclaíteá	you used to open
d'imríteá	you used to play

(c) Third person plural

Type 1

adds -(a)idís /əd'i:s'/

ghlanaidís	they used to clean
bhrisidís	they used to break
léidís	they used to read
nídís	they used to wash
d'fhliuchaidís	they used to wet

Type 2

adds -(a)ídís /i:d'i:s'/

shalaídís	they used to dirty
choinnídís	they used to keep
d'osclaídís	they used to open
d'imridís	they used to play

(iii) Autonomous form

Type 1

adds -t(a)í /ti:/, /t'i:/

ghlantai	one used to clean
bhristí	one used to break
léiti	one used to read
nítí	one used to wash
d'fhliuchtaí	one used to wet

Type 2

adds -(a)ítí /i:t'i:/

shalaítí	one used to dirty
choinnítí	one used to keep
d'osclaítí	one used to open
d'imrití	one used to play

Before an ending pronounced with an initial consonant a short syllable can remain, e.g. nítí.

2. THE PREPOSITION DE

(i) Introduction

Bain an caipín de Mháirtín.
Tóig do chois den chathaoir.

Take the cap off Máirtín !
Lift your leg off the chair !

*De /gə/*¹ causes lenition to a directly following noun, e.g. de Cháit ‘off Cáit’. Before a vowel it is written d, e.g. d'Úna ‘off Una’. When used with the definite article it is written as den /gəN/ and a following noun is lenited, e.g. den chathaoir ‘off the chair’.

As normal after a preposition, the singular article prefixes t to feminine nouns beginning with s and followed by a vowel or l, r, n, e.g. den tsráid ‘off the street’; see Lesson 8. After den (or don, see Lesson 23) t may be optionally prefixed to similar masculine nouns, e.g. den tsagart ‘off the priest’.

¹ Pronounced as though spelt go. (In pronunciation, before nouns, de is exactly like do.)

(ii) Prepositional pronouns

Ordinary form	Pronunciation
dhíom	/ȳ i:m/
dhíot	/ȳ i:t/
dhe	/ȳ e/
dhi	/ȳ i/
dhínn	/ȳ i:N̄/
dhíbh	/ȳ i:b'/
dhíobh	/ȳ i:b/

The contrast forms and general usage are the same as those of ag and most other prepositional pronouns, e.g. dhíom, dhíomsa, dhíom féin, dhíomsa mé féin; see Lesson 16.

Similarly to do (see Lesson 23) the initial dh is often dropped in pronunciation, e.g. 'iom /i:m/, 'ot /i:t/, and less frequently it is unlenited, e.g. díom /d̄i:m/, díot /d̄i:t/. On account of its general similarity with the preposition do, the third person pronouns may often be replaced by those of do, e.g. dho for dhe.

Do is used with mo, do, etc. in a similar way to do, e.g. de mo 'off my', de do 'off your', dhá 'off his, her, its, their', dhár /ȳa:/ 'off our', dhe'ur /ȳa:/ 'off your (pl.)'.

(iii) Basic meaning of de 'off'

Tá an cóta ag titim den chathaoir.
Bain dhíot do chóta.

The coat is falling off the chair.
Take off your coat !

(iv) Secondary meaning of de 'of'

Tá cuid de na daoine sásta.

Some of the people are content.

After certain words used partitively de corresponds to 'of', e.g. cuid! den bhalla 'a part of the wall', píosa de lá 'a portion (bit) of a day', go leor de na rudaí 'a lot of the things', ceachtar den bheirt 'either of the two people', níos mó den am 'more of the time'. Somewhat similarly: buille de mhaide 'a blow of a stick', peictiúr de dhuine 'a picture of a person', a leithéide de dhuine 'his type of a person, such a person'.

Ag is usually used instead of de to refer to the plural, e.g. go leor dhe 'a lot of it', but go leor acu 'a lot of them'; see Lesson 16.

(b)

Níl ann ach amadán de dhuine.

He is a fool-like person.
(lit.² a fool of a person).

Similarly: ginn d'fhearr 'a wedge of a man, i.e. a stocky, well-built man', gliogar de chathaoir 'a crock of a chair, i.e. a rickety, unstable chair'.

(c)

Níl sé d'am agam caint léi

I have not (the amount of) time (required)
to talk to her.

De is used with certain abstract nouns to express 'the required amount of, the necessary, by way of'. Similarly: d'fhoighid 'the necessary patience', de spás 'the necessary period of time', d'ádh 'the necessary luck'.

¹In this usage cuid /kid/ often takes the form cuide /kidə/.

²This type of sentence is common in English as spoken in Ireland.

(d)

Tá mé tuirseach den chaint.

I am tired of the talk.

De corresponds to 'of' after certain adjectives. Similarly: bréan de 'fed up', cinne de 'certain of', lán de 'full of'.

(e)

Tá siad ag déanamh amadán de Mháirtín. They are making a fool of Máirtín.

De corresponds to 'of' after certain verbs. Similarly: Síleann siad a domhan de Mháirtín 'they think the world of Máirtín'

(f)

*Bhí sé ag goil ag pósadh de léim.*He was going to marry suddenly.
(lit. 'of a jump').

De is used in some adverbial phrases to express a sudden movement or sound. Similarly: de phlump 'with a bang', d'iarraidh amháin 'in one go'.

3. COUNTING: INDEPENDENT NUMBERS

1	a haon	/hi:N/	11	a haon déag	/hi:N'e:g/
2	a dó	/do:/	12	a dó dhéag	/do:y'e:g/
3	a trí	/t'r'i:/	13	a trí déag	/t'r'i: d'e:g/
4	a ceathair	/k'æ:r'/	14	a ceathair déag	/k'æ:r d'e:g/
5	a cúig	/ku:g'/	15	a cúig déag	/ku:g' d'e:g/
6	a sé	/s'e:/	16	a sé déag	/s'e: d'e:g/
7	a seacht	/s'æ:xt/	17	a seacht déag	/s'æ:x d'e:g/
8	a hocht	/hoxt/	18	a hocht déag	/hox d'e:g/
9	a naoi	/Ni:/	19	a naoi déag	/Ni: d'e:g/
10	a deich	/d'e/

These numbers are written with a /ə/ (which prefixes h to vowels), although a is not normally pronounced, except between two consonants.

Usage:

(a) For counting, e.g. a haon, a dó, a trí... 'one, two, three ...', or where numbers are used abstractly, e.g. a dó agus a dó, sin a ceathair 'two and two are four', or in a telephone number.

Dhó /yo:/ is used in expressions of the sort leabhar nó dhó 'a book or two', bord nó dhó 'a table or two'.

(b) With de /gə/, often reduced to /ə/ (which causes lenition, see above) to express an approximate number, e.g. a sé nó a seacht de sheachtainí 'six or seven (of) weeks'.

(c) After a noun, e.g. cuid a haon 'part 1', seomra a dó 'room 2'.

(d) After a noun to express a time, e.g. bus a hocht 'the eight o'clock bus', Aifreann a deich 'ten o'clock Mass'.

(e) With the article an replacing a to express the time of day, e.g. tá sé an dó (a chlog) /ta:s'e: N do:/ 'it is two (o'clock)', tá sé an haon déag /ta:s'e: N 'hi:N'e:g/ 'it is eleven (o'clock)'.

Although the article is used h is prefixed to a vowel, e.g. tá sé an haon 'it is one'. In this case déag, in haon déag 'eleven', is also stressed: /hi:N'e:g/.

¹ lán le is also used.

TEXT

AN SCOIL CHÓNAÍ

Bhí mé cùig nó sé de bhlianta ar scoil chónaí. Scaití, nuair a éirím ar maidin, cuimhním aríst ar an scoil úd.

Bhualt í an clog agus lastaí na soilse ag deich nóiméad don seacht 'chuile mhaidin. I dtosach, scanraíodh an clog thú. Ar ndóigh, ní bhíodh fonn ar bith ort éirí. Bhíodh na bráillíní agus na ciurmhaiseanna chomh compóirteach sin agus bhíodh an saol taobh amuigh den leaba chomh fuar sin! Dhá bhféadfá go díreach do pheiliúr a shocrú agus iompú thart agus titim a chodladh aríst! Ach b'éigean dúinn éirí. B'éigean duit do chuid éadaí a chur ort is do chuid bróga a cheangal agus déanamh ar an séipéal.

Bhíodh an bricfásta againn ag an hocht a chlog. Thar éis bricfásta, bhíodh orainn ceathrú uaire a chaitheamh ag siúl thart amuigh faoin aer agus ansin chóirfodh muid na leapacha. D'fhoghlaímíodh muid ceachtanna ansin go dtí go dtosafodh na ranganna ag fiche nóiméad thar éis an naoi. Bhíodh na ranganna ar bun uaidh sin go dtí leathuair thar éis an dó dhéag, taobh amuigh de cheathrú uaire nuair a bhíodh cead againn ar gcuid leitreacha a léamh.

Bhíodh an dínnéar againn ag an haon. A leithéide d'ocras is a bhíodh orainn! Ach ní raibh cead agat rith. B'éigean dhuit siúl go deas múinte. Dhá rithfeá, bheadh múinteoir pointeáilte eicint ag an doras a stopfadhbh thú. Chuirfeadh sé ar ais thú agus chaithfeá siúl aríst go deas réidh.

Mhúintí aríst muid idir an dó agus an ceathair. D'imríodh muid cluift idir an ceathair agus an cùig. Ansin d'óladh muid cupán tae agus d'itheadh muid píosa aráin, sol má thosafodh muid ag déanamh ar gcuid ceachtanna.

Bhíodh an suipéar againn ag leathuair thar éis an seacht. Ina dhiaidh sin, bhíodh beagnach uair an chloig againn dhúinn féin. A leithéide de spóirt is a bhíodh againn ag caint agus ag sárafocht! Bhíodh cead ag rang a sé tobac a chaitheamh. Thaitheáimid sé go mór leo sin a bheith ag deargadh a gcuid píopáí agus a bheith dhá 'spaint féin!

Ag ceathrú don naoi bhíodh orainn a ghoil ag guidhe aríst. Ansin, nuair a bhíodh na paidreaca thart, bhíodh cead againn a ghoil a chodladh. Bhínnse chomh tuirseach sin nach mbíodh fonn ar bith orm mo chuid éadaí a bhaint dhíom ar chor ar bith. D'fhéadfainn go díreach síneadh siar ar an leaba agus titim a chodladh! Mhúchtaí na soilse ag leathuair thar éis an deich.

EXERCISES

A. In the following sentences, replace the progressive construction, e.g. Bhínn ag ól bainne 'chuile lá, with the past habitual of the verb, e.g. D'ólann bainne 'chuile lá'.

1. Bhíodh muid ag caitheamh píosa den lá ag foghlaim Gaeilge.
2. Bhíodh cuid de na daoine ag léamh leabhartha, ach bhíodh cuid acu nach mbíodh ag léamh rud ar bith.
3. Ní bhíodh ceachtar acu ag breathnú ar an teilifís.
4. Bhíodh an t-amadán úd de dhuine ag éirí de léim 'chuile nóiméad ag caint agus ag sárafocht.
5. An mbíteá ag ól tae nó bainne?
6. Bhínnse ag ceangal mo chuid bróga féin cuid mhaith den am.
7. Cé a bhíodh ag níochán na soithí, nó an mbíteá dhá níochán ar chor ar bith?
8. Mh'anam go mbíteá ag imirt cluifi 'chuile lá!

B. Complete these sentences using the appropriate prepositional pronoun, e.g. Bhí an caipín ag titim dhiom.

1. Bhí an caipín ag titim (de) (mé).
2. Bhíodh na gasúir ag magadh fút agus ag déanamh amadán (de) (thú).
3. Bíonn sé ag baint airgead (de) (muide).
4. Tóig do chois (den chathaoir)!
5. Bainigí (de) (sibh) na cótaí!
6. Ná bain an t-éadach (den bhord)!
7. Tá an scoil i féin réasúnta ach d'éireofá tuirseach (de na muinteoirí) sin.
8. Tá mé bréan (den tseafóid) seo.

C. Write in words the following times, e.g. 8.40: Tá sé fiche nóiméad don naoi.

- | | |
|---------|-----------|
| 1. 3.30 | 6. 3.05 |
| 2. 8.45 | 7. 12.15 |
| 3. 7.20 | 8. 9.20 |
| 4. 1.00 | 9. 10.00 |
| 5. 5.40 | 10. 11.30 |

TRANSLATE:

1. I used not to feel like raising my head off the pillow.
2. The sheets and blankets are falling off the bed.
3. The teacher wanted to give the boy a good blow of a stick.
4. We hadn't the (required) time to jump down off the wall before the teacher came.
5. I am tired of everything !
6. Have you a picture of her ?
7. Take off your coat, put on your jacket and tie your shoes.
8. Put off the big light and light the lamp.
9. I used always take fright when the car used to stop at the lights.
10. Máirtín used to teach children here too.
11. He used to be very punctilious.
12. Everyone was fed up with him.
13. One (lit. a person) of his sons was at school here too.

LESSON 25

VOCABULARY

acra	/a:kɾə/	acrai	acre
cainteoir	/ka:N̄t' o:r'/	cainteoiri	talker, speaker
cathaoirleach	/kairl'əx/	cathaoirligh	chairman
céilí	/k'ē:l'i:/	céiltlocha	dance
cíos	/k'i:s/	cíosanna	rent
coiste	/kos't'ə/	coistí	committee
contúirt fem.	/ku:Ntu:rt'/	contúirteacha	danger
costas	/kostəs/	costaisí	cost, expense
cruinniú	/krin'u:/	cruinníocha /krin'i:əxi:/	meeting
cuisliméara	/kis'l'əm'e:rə/	cuisliméarái	customer
cumann	/kumən/		society
dearmad	/d'æ:rəməd/	dearmadacha	mistake
druncaera	/drukke:rə/	druncaeraí	drinker
glac fem.	/gla:k/		handful, grasp intinn fem.	/i:N̄t'əN'/		mind, intention leas	/L'æ:s/		benefit, use
paráiste	/pura:s't'ə/	paráistí	parish
sáibhéara	/sa:w'e:rə/	sáibhéarái	sawyer
úinéara	/u:n̄'e:rə/	úinéarái	owner
coisin 2	/kos'ən'/		cost, protect
coisint fem.	/kos'ən't'/		costing, protecting cruinneál fem.	/krin'a:l/	pl. cruinnédlacha	gathering, collecting
cruinnigh 2	/krin'ə/		gather, collect
glac 1	/gla:k/		take, seize, accept glacadh	/gla:kaθ/		taking
innis¹ 2	/in'əs'/		tell, relate inseacht	/i:n's'əxt/		telling
foc 1	/i:k/		pay (ar: for) foc	/i:k/		paying
líon 1	/L'i:N/		fill
líonadh	/L'i:Nə/		filling
sábháil 1	/sa:wa:l'/		save
sábháilt fem.	/sa:wa:L't'/		saving
togh 1	/tau/		choose, elect
togha	/tau/		choosing
túin 1	/tu:n'/		urge, put pressure on túint fem.	/tu:N't'/		urging
úsáid fem.	/u:sə:d'/		using, usage
contúirteach	/ku:Ntu:rt'əx/		dangerous
costasach	/kostəsəx/		costly, expensive
'chuile sheans (go/nach)	/xil'ə hae:ns/		it is most probable (that) ²
drochsheans (go/nach)	/'drox, hae:ns/		it is most unlikely (that) ²

¹Pronounced as though spelt inis.

²lit. 'every chance (that), a bad chance (that)'

ar shon	/ər' huN/	(with gen.)	for the sake of, on behalf of
i lár	/ə lɑ:r/	(with gen.)	in the middle of
in aghaidh	/ə Nai/	(with gen.)	against le haghaidh	/l' ai/	(with gen.)	for (the purpose of)
os¹ cionn	/a:s k'i:N/	(with gen.)	above
os¹ comhair	/a:s ku:r/	(with gen.)	opposite
treasna	/t'r'æ:sNə/	(with gen.)	across

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. caint ar 'talking of'
2. glacadh le 'accepting, assuming'
3. leas a bhaint as rud (lit. 'to get benefit out of'), 'to use'
4. éirí le 'succeed'
5. Tá sé ar intinn ag X 'X intends'
6. ar cíos 'on hire, rented'

GRAMMAR

1. THE GENITIVE

(i) Masculine nouns

(a)

Tá an bhuistéara anseo.
Tá mac an bhúistéara anseo.
Tá an t-iascaire anseo.
Tá mac an iascaire anseo.

The butcher is here.
The butcher's son is here.
The fisherman is here.
The fisherman's son is here.

When the article is used with a masculine noun in the genitive, the initial consonant of that noun is lenited, e.g. an bhuistéara 'the butcher', an bhúistéara 'of the butcher'. Initial t and d resist lenition, e.g. mac an tincéara 'the tinker's son', mac an druncaera 'the drunkard's son'. Initial vowels are unaffected, e.g. mac an iascaire 'the fisherman's son', as opposed to the nominative an t-iascaire 'the fisherman'; see Lesson 8.

(b) Masculine nouns beginning with s

Tá an siúinéara anseo.
Tá mac an tsíuinéara anseo.

The carpenter is here.
The carpenter's son is here.

A t is prefixed to a masculine noun beginning with s followed by a vowel, l, n, or r. It takes its quality from the following vowel or consonant, e.g. slender in ... an tsíuinéara /ə t' u:N e:rə/ '... of the carpenter', broad in ... an tsáibhéara /ə ta:w'e:rə/ '... of the sawyer'.

LESSON
25

(ii) Feminine nouns

(a)

Tá an Ghaeltacht anseo.
Tá muintir na Ghaeltacht anseo.

The Gaeltacht is here.
The people of the Gaeltacht are here.

¹Pronounced as though spelt as.

Before a feminine noun the genitive of the article takes the form na, which is unstressed and causes no change to a consonant.

Muintir na Gaeltacht could also be translated as ‘the Gaeltacht people’. Similarly: fear an bhainne ‘the man of the milk’, the man (associated) with the milk, the milkman’.

(b) Feminine nouns beginning with a vowel

Tá an oifige anseo.
Tá doras na hoifige anseo.

The office is here.
The door of the office is here.

Na prefixes h to a feminine noun with an initial vowel.

(iii) Plural nouns

Tá na tithe anseo.
Tá úinéaraí na dtithe anseo.
Tá na hiascairí anseo.
Tá báid na n-iascairí anseo.

The houses are here.
The owners of the houses are here.
The fishermen are here.
The fishermen’s boat is here.

In the genitive plural na causes eclipse, e.g. ... na dtithe ‘... of the houses’, na n-iascairí ‘of the fishermen’.

(iv) Summary table

Before:	an initial consonant	an initial vowel
masculine nouns	an + lenition mac an bhúistéara an t (before s) mac an tsíuinéara	an mac an iascaire
feminine nouns	na	na h
plural nouns	muintir na Gaeltacht na + eclipse úinéara na dtithe	doras na hoifige na n- báid na n-iascairí

(v) No special genitive form

Except for the effects of the article (lenition, eclipse, or prefixed h), the form of the noun in the above examples is substantially the same in the genitive. This is so in the case of:

- (a) the large majority of nouns with a final /s/, e.g. siúinéara, oifige;
- (b) two-syllable nouns ending in -acht, ¹ e.g. Gaeltacht;
- (c) nouns ending in -ín, e.g. cailín, caipín;
- (d) nouns ending in -(a)í, e.g. scéalaí;
- (e) personal numbers triúr to deichniúr (see Lesson 15);
- (f) several other nouns ending in a consonant.

2. TWO NOUNS IN GENITIVE RELATION TREATED AS A PROPER NOUN

Tá teach an bhúistéara anseo. The house of the butcher is here.

Although this sentence can be translated as ‘the house of the butcher’, in Irish there is only one article: teach an bhúistéara. Teach an bhúistéara is felt to be a proper noun exactly like Cáit, Bríd, etc. and behaves accordingly:

Cáit sin (see Lesson 9)	teach an bhúistéara sin ‘that butcher’s house’
geata Cháit (see Lesson 3)	geata theach an bhúistéara ‘the gate of the butcher’s house’

¹ These are in Official Standard Irish written with a final a bʃ/, e.g. Raidió na Gaeltachta.

3. MAIN USAGES OF GENITIVE

(i) Genitive after verbal noun

Tá sé ag moladh Mháirtín.
 Tá sí ag pósadh mhac an bhúistéara.
 Ta sí ag moladh an bhúistéara.
 Tá sí ag glanadh na hoifige.

He is praising Máirtín.
 She is marrying the butcher's son.
 She is praising the butcher.
 She is cleaning the office.

A verbal noun is in genitive relation with a following noun. Proper nouns are lenited, e.g. ag pósadh mhac an bhúistéara 'marrying the butcher's son' (see Lesson 15), and definite nouns are in the genitive, e.g. ag moladh an bhúistéara 'praising the butcher'.

(ii) Genitive after certain prepositions

Tá Cáit anseo ar shon Mháirtín.
 Tá fuinneog os cionn bhold an bhúistéara.
 Tá Máirtín anseo ar shon na n-iascairf.
 Tá seomra eile os cionn na hoifige.

Cáit is here on behalf of Máirtín.
 There is a window above the butcher's table.
 Máirtín is here on behalf of the fishermen.
 There is another room above the office.

After certain prepositions (originally containing nouns) nouns are in a genitive relation and therefore proper nouns are lenited, e.g. os cionn bhold an bhúistéara 'above the butcher's table', and definite nouns are in the genitive, e.g. ar shon an tsáibhéara 'on behalf of the sawyer'.

Possessive pronouns (mo, do, a etc.) are used with these prepositions to express pronominal objects: Tá Cáit anseo ar mo shon 'Cáit is here on my behalf'; Tá seomra eile os do chionn 'There is another room above you'.

4. NUMBERS ABOVE TWENTY

x	boats	years
20	fiche bád	fiche bliain
21	bád is fiche	bliain is fiche
22	dhá bhád fhichead	dhá bliain fhichead
23	trí bhád fhichead	trí bliana fhichead
	etc.	etc.
30	deich mbád fhichead	deich mbliana fhichead
31	aon bhád déag is fiche	aon bhliain déag is fiche
32	dhá bhád déag is fiche	dhá bhliain déag is fiche
33	trí bhád déag is fiche	trí bliana déag is fiche
	etc.	etc.
40	dhá fhichead bád	dhá fhichead bliain
41	bád is dá fhichead	bliain is dá fhichead
42	dhá bhád is dá fhichead	dhá bhliain is dá fhichead
43	trí bhád is dá fhichead	trí bliana is dá fhichead
	etc.	etc.
51	aon bhád déag is dá fhichead	aon bhliain déag is dá fhichead
	etc.	etc.
60	trí fichid bád	trí fichid bliain
61	bád is trí fichid	bliain is trí fichid
62	dhá bhád is trí fichid	dhá bhliain is trí fichid
63	trí bhád is trí fichid	trí bliana is trí fichid
	etc.	etc.

70	deich mbád is trí fichid	deich mbliana is trí fichid
71	aon bhád déag is trí fichid	aon bhliain déag is trí fichid
	etc.	etc.
80	cheithre fichid bád	cheithre fichid bliain
81	bád is cheithre fichid	bliain is cheithre fichid
82	dhá bhád is cheithre fichid	dhá bhliain is cheithre fichid
83	trí bhád is cheithre fichid	trí bliana is cheithre fichid
	etc.	etc.
90	deich mbád is cheithre fichid	deich mbliana is cheithre fichid
91	aon bhád déag is cheithre fichid	aon bhliain déag is cheithre fichid
	etc.	etc.
100	céad bád	céad bliain
101	céad is bád	céad is bliain
102	céad is dhá bhád	céad is dhá bhliain
	etc.	etc.

The use of numbers between twenty and a hundred can be seen in the above table. Directly following a noun, fichead is lenited, e.g. trí bád fhichead '23 boats', cheithre cinn fhichead '24 (ones)', except where a plural, or special form ending in a vowel (see Lesson 11) is used, e.g. trí bliana fichead '23 years'.

Fiche '20' is pronounced /f'i:/, but after is, e.g. bád is fiche '21 boats' it is pronounced with a short vowel: /f'i/. Scór may optionally replace fiche, e.g. dhá scór is aon cheann déag '51'.

An older system based on tens has a certain currency: fiche, triocha, daichead, caoga, seasca, seachtó, ochtó, nócha '20 ... 90'. It has been reintroduced through the school system.

TEXT

AN CRUINNIÚ

Tá mná an bhaile seo ag iarraidh halla a chur ar bun, áit a d'fhéadfadh muintir an bhaile a úsáid le haghaidh dramaí nó céilíocha. Tá Cumann na bhFeilméaraí agus Cumann an Pharáisté ag caint ar a leithéide le chúig bhliana fichead ach ní raibh toradh ar bith ar an gcaint uilig. Le gairid, tháinig bean an tsiopa agus bean an bhúistéara le chéile leis an scéal a phlé. Anois tá siad ag túint ar mhírád an bhaile rud eicint a dhéanamh faoin scéal. Bhí cruinniú acu an oíche cheana.

Ní raibh an seomra i bhfad ag líonadh. Ag an hocht a chlog, bhí trí dhuine dhéag is fiche ann. B'éigean dhúinn cathaoirleach a thogha. Bhí cuid de na mná ag moladh bhean an bhúistéara, ach ní raibh 'chuile dhuine sásta glacadh léi. Bhí an mháistreás ag moladh bhean an phosta. Faoi dheireadh, bhí 'chuile dhuine sásta glacadh le bean an tsiopa mar chathaoirleach. Ansin, bhí muid in ann tosaí ag plé chúrsaí an halla.

Bhí daoine áirithe ag iarraidh leas a bhaint as an tseanscoil mar halla. Dúirt siad go mbeadh sé rochostasach halla nua a thóigeáil. Choisneodh an talamh é fein an iomarca. B'éigean don mháistreás a inseacht dhóibh go bhfuil an tseanscoil contúirteach agus go mbíonn clocha ag titim de na ballaí. Ní bheadh an tseanscoil feiliúnach ar chor ar bith.

Bhí an cruinniú seo mar a bhíonn cruinniú ar bith eile. Bhí go leor leor daoine ag iarraidh caint. 'Seans go bhféadfai teach a thóigeáil ar cíos ?' a deir cainteoir amháin, 'd'fhéadfai costas a shábháilt mar sin.'

'Ach cén áit a bhféadfadh muid teach a fháil ?' a deir cainteoir eile, 'sílim gur dearmad é teach a thóigeáil ar cíos agus gur fearr halla nua a thóigeáil.'

'Ach cén áit a bhféadfadh muid an talamh a cheannacht ?' a deir bean eile.
 'Cé mhéad a d'íocfaíanois ar acra ? Drochsheans go mbeadh an t-airgead againn.'

'Chuile sheans nach mbeadh duine ar bith sásta an talamh a dhíol linn,' a deir duine eicínt eile.

Ansin dùirt bean an tsíopa go mbeadh sí féin agus a fear sásta an garraí atá os comhair an tsíopa nua a dhíol. An mbeadh 'chuile dhuine sásta leis sin ? Ní bheadh. Bhí bean an phosta ina aghaidh. Bhí sí ag déanamh amach go raibh bean an tsíopa ag iarraidh tilleadh cuislímearaí a tharraingt ar a siopa féin. Dùirt sise go mbeadh an garraí atá os comhair na dtithe nua níos fíorr.

Ní raibh an cruinniú thart go dtí an haondéag. Ní raibh ag éirí linn tada a shocrú. Faoi dheireadh, b'éigean dhúinn coiste a thogha leis an scéal a scrúdú.

Tá fáitios orm go mbeidh muid féin níos measa ná Cumann na bhFeilméaraí nó Cumann an Pháistíste.

EXERCISES

A. Complete these sentences, using the appropriate form of the words in brackets.

(a)

1. Bhí Máirtín ag doras (an oifige).
2. Tá scian (an búistéara) ansin ar an mbord.
3. An bhfuil muintir (an Ghaeltacht) sásta ?
4. Bhí muid ag caint le bean (an tincéara) ina dhiaidh sin.
5. Tá báid (na hiascairí) ansin ag an gcéibh.
6. Níl lucht (na tithe) nua sásta faoin halla.

(b)

1. Beidh Cáit ag pósadh (an búistéara).
2. Tá Bríd ag glanadh (an oifige).
3. Bíonn Úna i gcónat ag moladh (Seáinín).
4. Bhí muid ag moladh (muintir na Gaeltacht).

(c)

1. Tá fear eile atá os cionn (an búistéara) seo.
2. Tá seomra os comhair (an seomra) seo.
3. Leag do mhála ansin in aghaidh (an balla).
4. Bhí an bord i láir (an oifige).
5. Bíonn na báid ag goil treasna (an fharraige).
6. Tá an halla nua dhá thíopeáil os comhair (na tithe) nua.
7. Beidh muintir Chiarráí ag imirt in aghaidh (muintir Chonamara).

B. Complete the following using the appropriate possessive pronoun.

1. Tá an máistir eile os cionn (mé).
2. Bhí an bhean eile os comhair (muid)
3. Tá oifige eile os cionn (na hoifige) seo.
4. Bíonn Bríd i gcónat os comhair (Mháirtín).
5. Tá siad ag thíopeáil teach le haghaidh (thú).
6. Cé atá anois os cionn (thusa) ?

C. Write out fully in words:

- | | |
|---------------------|------------------------|
| 1. 63 bád | 10. 40 peann |
| 2. 51 leaba | 11. 27 punt |
| 3. 21 bliain | 12. 88 crann |
| 4. 90 úlla | 13. 30 cathaoir |
| 5. 70 punt | 14. 46 duine |
| 6. 20 bád | 15. 99 ceann |
| 7. 35 seomra | 16. 46 pingin |
| 8. 71 éan | 17. 102 bád |
| 9. 80 duine | 18. 60 bliain |

TRANSLATE:

1. It is most unlikely that the proprietress (i.e. woman) of the shop will agree with the postmistress.
2. They are building the new hall opposite the new houses.
3. Land is very expensive now. How much would you pay for an acre ?
4. The committee will accept the butcher's wife as chairman. There will be no election.
5. Everything costs too much now.
6. I intend to hire a car.
7. The office door is opposite the post office.

LESSON 26

VOCABULARY

arm	/a:rəm/	airm /æ:r'əm'/	army, weapon
barr	/ba:r/		top
coirnéal	/kaurN'e:l/	coirnéil	corner
cúinne	/ku:N'ə/	cúinní	internal corner, nook
cúirtín	/ku:rt'i:n'/	cúirtíní	curtain
foireann fem.	/fer'ən/		crew, team, staff, set
gaisce fem.	/ga:s'g'ə/		feat, boast
galaoireach fem.	/ga:li:r'əx/		soap
garda	/ga:rdə/	gardaí	guard, policeman
grá	/gra:/		love
gunna	/guNə/	gunnai	gun
íochtar	/i:əxtər/		bottom part
meisce fem.	/m'is'k'ə/		drunkenness
peileadóir	/p'e:l'ədo:r'/	peileadóirí	footballer
pointe	/pi:N't'ə/	pointí	point, point of time
praiseach fem.	/præ:s'əx/		mess
saighdiúr	/said'u:r/	saighdiúirí	soldier
scór	/sko:r/	scóranna	score (in game)
túáille	/tu:a:l'ə/	túáillí	towel
tuarastal	/tu:ərəstəl/		salary
uachtar	/u:əxtər/	uachtairí	upper part, cream
bailigh 2	/ba:l'ə/		collect, pass
bailiú	/ba:l'u:/		collecting
caoin 1	/ki:n'/		cry, lament
caoineadh	/ki:n'ə/		crying
cónaí	/ku:Ni:/		residing cónaigh 2	/ku:Nə/		reside
dó	/do:/		burning
dóigh 1	/do:/		burn
mill 1	/m'i:L'/		destroy, ruin
milleadh	/m'i:L'ə/		destroying
réab 1	/re:b/		tear, smash, act violently
réabadh	/re:ba:/		tearing, upheaval
scóráil 1	/sko:ra:l/		score
scóráil fem.	/sko:ra:l'/		scoring
troid fem.	/tred'/ pl. troideanna		fighting, fight
bodhar	/baur/		deaf
geal	/g'æ:l/		bright, white
lag	/l.a:g/		week
reamhar	/raur/		fat, thick
ar meisce	/er' m'is'k'ə/		drunk, intoxicated
i ndiaidh	/ə N'i:ə/		after, following
thrí thine	/hri: hin'ə/		(lit. through fire), on fire

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. ag deanamh gaisce 'boasting'
2. mar bharr ar an gclampar 'to make matters worse, to top everything'
3. fios a chur ar 'to send for'
4. marach é sin 'only for that'
5. Bhailigh 'chuile dhuine leis. 'everybody cleared off'
6. D'éirigh mé aniar. (lit. 'I rose from (lying) backwards'), 'I sat up'

GRAMMAR

1. PAST TENSE OF REGULAR VERB

(i) Form used with noun or pronoun (corresponding to bhí)

Għlan Cāit an bord agus nigh sí na soothi	Cáit cleaned the table and she washed the dishes.
Léigh Cāit an leabhar agus bhris sí an chathaoir.	Cáit read the book and she broke the chair.
Choinnigh siadsan an cóta agus shalaigh seisean é.	They kept the coat and he dirtied it.
D'oscaill tusa an geata agus d'imir muide cluiffi.	You opened the gate and we played games.

Type 1
(root with one syllable)
is lenited

ghlan	cleaned
bhris	broke
léigh ¹	read
nigh ¹	washed
d'fħliuċċi	wet

Type 2
(root with two syllables)
is lenited

shalaigh	dirtied
choinnigh	kept
d'oscaill	opened
d'imir	played

Where the verb has an initial vowel or f, d' is prefixed, e.g. d'oscaill sé 'he opened', d'fħliuċċi sé 'he wet'. The d' is normally pronounced broad (/d/) or slender (/d'/) according to the following vowel.

(ii) Optional combined forms (corresponding to bhíodar)

Type 1
adds -(a)dar, -odar /ədər/

ghlanadar	they cleaned
bhriseadar	they broke
léadar	they read
níodar	they washed
d'fħliuchadar	they wet

Type 2
adds -(a)fodar /i:dər/

shalaídar	they dirtied
choinníodar	they kept
d'oslaídar	they opened
d'imriódar	they played

After a long vowel gh is dropped;
after a short vowel gh is dropped
and the syllable is lengthened;
see Lesson 12. After t, the ending is spelt -odar, cf. bhíodar, see Lesson 7.

The last syllable is always lost
before an ending with an initial vowel;
see Lesson 12.

¹For the lenition of l, n, see Lesson 1, phonetic exercise 1 (c).

(iii) Autonomous form (corresponding to bhíothadh)

Type 1
adds -(e)adh /u:/

glanadh	one cleaned
briseadh	one broke
léadh	one read
níodh	one washed
flíuchadh	one wet

Type 2
adds -(a)íodh /i:w/

salaíodh	one dirtied
coinníodh	one kept
hoscláiodh	one opened
himríodh	one played

After i, the ending is spelt -odh.

The past tense autonomous form is never lenited (even after particles) and no d' is prefixed. Where the verb has an initial vowel, h is prefixed (even after particles).

(iv) Use of particles

A regular verb in the past uses níor /N'i:r/ (in place of ní), ar /ɔ:r/ (in place of an), nar /Na:r/ (in place of nach), gur /gɔ:t/ (in place of go), marar /ma:rər/ (in place of mara), and ar /ɔ:r/ (in place of the indirect relative particle a). All of these particles cause lenition as shown in this table:

	Għlan D'oscail
Níor
Ar
Nar
gur	ghlan
nar	oscail
Marar
Má	ghlan d'oscail
Sin i an scian	ar	ghlan oscail	Cáit an geata.
	a	ghlan d'oscail	Cáit an geata léi.
			an geata.

As pointed out in (iii) above the autonomous form is not lenited after particles, e.g. níor glanadh, ar glanadh ?, and h is prefixed to a vowel irrespective of particles, e.g. hoscláiodh, níor hoscláiodh, ar hoscláiodh ?

(v) Meaning of past tense

Léigh sé an leabhar.
Léigh sé an leabhar an lá sin.

He (had) read the book.
He (had) read the book that day.

Generally in Irish no distinction is made between a preterite, e.g. ‘he read’, a perfect, e.g. ‘he has read’, and a pluperfect, e.g. ‘he had read’. (The verb tá is slightly exceptional, see Lesson 6).

¹ Nár /Na:r/, which is the Official Standard Irish form, is also used, though it would seem, less frequently.

2. THE PREPOSITION I

(i) Introduction

Tá na leabhartha i mbosca.
Tá na leabhartha sa mbosca.

The books are in a box.
 The books are in the box.

The preposition i/ə/ causes eclipsis to a directly following noun, e.g. i mbosca. ‘in a box’. Before a vowel it is written in, e.g. in Éirinn ‘in Ireland’. When used with the article it combines with it and is sa/sə/ before a consonant, and san/sən/ before a vowel. Sa causes eclipsis to a following noun, e.g. sa mbosca ‘in the box’. Sna/sən/, causing no change, is used in the plural.

(ii) Prepositional pronouns

Ordinary form	Pronunciation
ionam	/uNəm/
ionat	/uNət/
ann	/a:N/
inti	/i:N't'ə/
ionainn	/uNəN'/
ionaibh	/uNi:/
iontu	/uNtəb/

The contrast forms and general usage are the same as those of ag and most other prepositional pronouns, e.g. ionam, ionamsa, ionam féin, ionamsa mé féin; see Lesson 16.

3. MEANING OF I

(i) Basic meaning ‘in’

Tá uisce sa bpota.

There is water in the pot.

More idiomatically i is used:

(ii) to express ‘to’ (an indefinite place)

Tá Cáit ag goil in áit eicínt.

Cáit is going somewhere.

Somewhat similarly: ag goil sna sagairt ‘going to (join) the priests, to become a priest’.

(iii) to express possession of a quality or power

Tá slainte sa ngrian.

The sun has a healthgiving quality.
 (‘There is health in the sun.’).

Níl maith ar bith sa leabhar seo.

This book is no good.
 (‘There is no good in this book.’)

(iv) in some common adverbial phrases:

in ann	/əN a:N/	able, capable of
in am	/əN a:m/	in time
i bhfad	/i wə:d/	far, a long way
i gcónai	/i gu:Ni:/	always

i bhfalach	/ə wə:ləx/	in hiding, hidden
i gceist	/ə g'es't/	in question, under consideration
i ngrá	/ə ngrá:/	in love
in éindí	/əN e:N'd̪i:/	together, suddenly
in aonturas	/əN e:Ntɔrəs/	on purpose
in áirde	/əN a:rd̪'ə/	(high) up
in uachtar	/əN u:xtər/	on top
in fochtar	/əN' i:xtər/	at the bottom
i dteannta	/ə d'ə:Ntə/	in a fix/dilemma

(v) with possessive pronouns (mo, do, etc.) to express a state

Tá an seomra ina phraiseach.

The room is in a mess. (lit. ‘in its mess’)

Tá Cáit ina múinteoiranois.

Cáit is a teacher now. (lit. ‘in her teacher’)

Tá sé ina shamhradh.

It is summer; summer has arrived.

(lit. ‘in its summer’)

This idiom, at least to a certain extent, emphasised the state of having become something; ‘I am a teacher’ can be expressed by Is múinteoir mé (see Lesson 11) or by Tá mé i mo mhúinteoir. On the other hand, ‘I am an Irishman’ is normally Is Éireannach mé, as this is felt as a permanent state.

Tá sé ina mhúinteoir mhaith ‘he is a good teacher’; in this construction after the third person singular masculine an adjective may be lenited after a masculine noun.

(vi) an alternative way of expressing this idiom

Múinteoir atá ionam.

I am a teacher.

(lit. ‘it is a teacher that is in me’¹)

In this construction in (causing no change) may be used with personal names, e.g. Múinteoir atá in Bríd ‘Bríd is a teacher’. Also ansin is used, e.g. Siúinéara atá ansin ‘that fellow is a carpenter’, rather than ann sin.

(vii) with possessive pronouns, instead of ag before a certain few verbal nouns to describe a state:

Tá mé i mo chodladh.

I am sleeping/asleep. (lit. ‘in my sleep’)

Similarly: i mo dhúiseacht ‘awake’, i mo sheasamh ‘standing’, i mo loighe ‘lying’, i mo shuí ‘sitting up, out of bed’, i mo chónaí ‘living, standing idle’, i mo riith ‘running’.

TEXT

CLAMPAR

Bhí cluife againn inné. Bhí muid ag imirt in aghaidh an choláiste nua. Ghnóthaigh muid an cluife agus scóráil mé féin dhá phointe.

Tháinig go leor den fhoireann ar ais anseo ag an árasán i ndiaidh an cluife. Bhí dream mic léinn as an gcoláiste nua in éindí linn. Bhí an-chraic againn. Bhí cuid de na daoine ina suí sa gcúinne ag casadh amhráin. Bhí tilleadh acu ag damhsa i láir an tseomra. Bhí dream mic léinn ina seasamh ar an taobh eile den tseomra ag sáralócht faoin gcluife. Bhí duine acu ar meisce agus thosaigh sé ag déanamh gaisce. Dúirt sé gur imir sé féin níos fearr ná duine ar bith eile. Dúirt duine eicint eile leis nar imir sé go maith ariamh agus nach raibh maith ar bith ann mar pheileadóir. Thosaigh siad ag troid. Mar bharr ar an glampar, nar chuir duine de na comharsanná fios ar na gardaí! (Bhí sé ina chodladh nó gur dhuisigh an torann é.) Ansín nuair a bhí an bheirt acu ag réabadh leo, dhóigh duine eicint poll sa gcúirtín le toitín. Hóbair dhó an teach ar fad a chur thrí thine.

¹This word-order is further dealt with in Lesson 34.

D'éirigh linn an troid a stopadh go díreach in am, nuair a d'airigh muid carr na ngardaí ag tiocht thart ar an gcoirnéal. Marach é sin, bheadh muid i dteannta. D'aithin na gardaí cuid de na daoine agus scríobh siad síos ainmneacha na ndaoine uilig.

Nuair a d'imigh na gardaí, bhailligh 'chuile dhuine leis abhaile.

Bhí sé ina lá gheal nuair a dhuisigh mé. Is dóigh liom go raibh sé thart ar an deich a chlog. Ní raibh mé i bhfad i mo dhuiseacht nuair a chuimhnigh mé ar an oíche aréir. D'éirigh mé aniar sa leaba agus bhreathnaigh mé thart orm féin. Bhí an seomra ina phraiseach. Bheadh fonn ar dhuine a ghoil ag caoineadh. Milleadh 'chuile shórt sa réabadh.

Nuair a d'éirigh mé, chuir mé orm mo chuid éadaí. Níor nígh mé féin ná níor bhearr mé féin mar níor éirigh liom túáille ná galaoireach ná rásúr a fháil sa bpraiseach. D'oscail mé an fhuinneog agus thosaigh mé ag glanadh an tseomra.

EXERCISES

A. Turn the following statements into questions, e.g. Ar shalaigh tú do léine arís?

1. Shalaigh tú do léine arís?
2. Nígh tú arís ansin í.
3. Níor léigh tú an leabhar sin ariamh.
4. D'oscail tú an fhuinneog.
5. Níor bhris tú an chathaoir.
6. D'imir tú go maith ach tá tú ag éirí roreamhar.
7. D'fhoghlaím tú do chuid Gaeilge thall i Meireacá.
8. Tóigeadh in Éirinn thu.
9. hOsclaíodh an geata arís.
10. Níor glacadh le bean an tsiopa mar chathaoirleach mar tá sí rud beag bodhar.

B. Prefix deir siad to the above sentences and make the necessary adjustments, e.g. Deir siad gur shalaigh tú do léine arís.

C. Complete the following sentences, using the appropriate pronominal pronoun, e.g. Múinteoir maith a bhí inti; bhí tuarastal maith aice.

1. Múinteoir maith a bhí (in Bríd); bhí tuarastal maith aice.
2. Peileadóirí maith atá (i) (muide); gnóthaíonn muid 'chuile chluife.
3. Mac léinn iontach a bhí (i) (tusa); léigh tú 'chuile leabhar ar an gcúrsa.
4. Drochléachtóir a bhí (i) (é) sin; bhíodh sé ag tlocht deireanach ag na léachtanna in aonturas.
5. Síuinéaráí a bhí (i) (iad); bhí páí mhór acu ag déanamh cathaoireacha i mBaile Átha Cliath.
6. Dochtír atá (i) (mé); tá mé ag obair sna hospidéil i nGaillimh.
7. Saighdiúirí san arm atá (i) (sibh); tá 'ur gcuid gunnai i bhfalach.
8. Tincéara atá (in Seáinín); ar ndóigh, bíonn an fear lag in fochartar i gcónai.
9. Banaltra atá (in) (i) siúd; deir siad go bhfuil sí i ngrá le dochtiúr san ospidéal.

TRANSLATE:

1. The doctor is in love with a nurse who resides in the hospital.
2. I am a student. I am living in this flat now for six years.
3. I hid (lit. put in hiding) the bottles on purpose.
4. Some of the people were sitting in the corners playing cards. More of them were standing in the middle of the room boasting about the match.
5. Somebody burned a hole in the curtain.
- To top everything, a neighbour was awake and he sent for the guards.
6. I was up at six yesterday morning. I was so tired that I couldn't find my towel or the soap.
7. When the soldiers and the guards go away, we will clear off home.
8. The child was ruined (lit. one ruined the child).

LESSON 27

VOCABULARY

achar	/a:xər/		distance, period
allas	/a:Ləs/		sweat
aonach	/i:Nəx/	aontáí /i:Ntí:/	fair
beagán	/b'oga:N/		a little
binn fem.	/b'i:N'/	beanna /b'æ:Nə/	gable wall
caiptín	/ka:p'ti:n'/	caiptíní	captain ceantar	/k æ:Ntər/	ceantracha /k æ:Ntrəxi:/	district, area
cliabh	/k'l'i:əw/	cléibh /kl'e:w'/	pannier basket
comhlódar	/ku:Lo:dər/	comhlódair	family, company
corp	/korp/	coirp /ker'p'/	corpse
cró	/kro:/	cróúí	outhouse
cúirt fem.	/ku:rt'/	cúirteanna	court
cúram	/ku:rəm/		care, responsibility
dlí	/d'l'i:/	dlíonna	law
dlíodóir	/d'l'i:do:r'/	dlíodóirí	lawyer
donacht fem.	/duNəxt/		badness, illness
faisean	/fa:s'əN/		fashion, habit
geard	/g'a:rd/	geardanna	yard
gob	/gob/		beak, spout, prow
luach	/Lu:əx/		value, price
misneach	/m'i:s'n'əx/		courage
nead fem.	/N'æ:d/	neadracha /N'a:drəxi:/	nest
pórtar	/po:rtər/		stout, porter
scoilt fem.	/skeL't'/	scoilteanna	split, crack
seanhfocal	/s'æ:NokəL/	seanfhoclá	proverb
stór	/sto:r/	stóir	storey amhdachtáil fem.	/audəxta:l'/	admitting amhdaigh 2	/audə/	admit
ardaigh 2	/a:rdə/	raise, rise
ardú	/a:rdu:/	raising
comhair 1	/ku:r'/	count
comhaireamh	/ku:r'ə/	counting
corráí	/kori:/	stirring
corraigh 2	/korə/	stir, move
feil 1	/f el'/	suit, be appropriate (do: for) feiliúint	/f el'u:N't'/	suiting
lobh 1	/Lau/, /Low/	rot
lobhadh	/Lau/, /Lowə/	rotting
oibrigh 2	/aib'r'ə/	work (up), use
oibriú	/aib'r'u:/	working (up)
scar 1	/ska:r/	separate, part, spread out
scaradh	/ska:rh/	separating
scoilt 1	/skeL't'/	crack, split
scoilteadh	/skeL't'ə/	cracking
beag bídeach	/b'og b'i:d'əx/	tiny little cliste	/k'l'i:s'tə/	clever

congarach	/kungərəx/	adjacent (do: to)
ládir	/la:d'ər/	strong
(ar)¹ feadh	/er' f'æ:/	during, for the duration of de bharr	/gə wa:r/	on account of, as a result of de réir	/gə r'e:r/	according to

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. ó aimsir an chogaidh amach 'from wartime onwards'
2. gan móráin achair 'before long, in a short time'
3. d'fhéadfá a rá (go/nach) 'you could say ..., to be sure ...'

GRAMMAR

1. VERBAL ADJECTIVE OF REGULAR VERB

(i) Formation

Tá an bord glanta agus tá na soithí nite.

The table is cleared and the dishes are washed.

Tá an leabhar léite agus tá an chathaoir briste.

The book is read and the chair is broken.

Beidh an cóta coinnithe go maith agus ní bheidh sé salaithe.

The coat will be kept well and it will not be dirtied.

Bhí an geata osclaithe agus an cluife imrithe.

The gate was opened and the game played.

Type 1

(root with one syllable)

adds -ta/-te /tə/, /t'ə/

glanta	cleaned
briste	broken
léite	read
nite	washed

Type 2

(root with two syllables)

adds -(a)ithe /i:/

salaithe	dirtied
coinnithe	kept
osclaithe	opened
imrithe	played

A final gh is dropped;
see Lesson 12.

Verbs with roots in l, n, r may alternatively add -te /tə/, /t'ə/: oscailté, imirte. In this case the second syllable of the root is not dropped as the ending does not have an initial vowel; see Lesson 12.

Type 1

adds -tha/the /i:/ to roots ending in b, p, t, d, g, c, bh, mh

scuabitha	swept
ceaptha	thought
fágtha	left
goite, goidthe	stolen
scríobhtha	written (now spelt scríofa)
snámhtha	swum (now spelt snáfa)

¹Ar is often dropped.

All verbal endings are spelt with a 'broad' vowel, e.g. -ta, -aithe, after a broad consonant, e.g. glan, sal-, oscl-, and with a 'slender' vowel, e.g. -te, -ithe, after a slender consonant, e.g. bris, coinn-, imr-; see Lesson 12.

Some type 1 verbs with roots ending in r, e.g. bearr 'shave', gearr 'cut', scar 'separate', comhair 'count', add -tha, -the /əl, e.g. bearrtha 'shaved', gearrtha 'cut', scartha 'separated', comhairtha 'counted'.

(ii) Pronunciation of verbs with roots ending in b, d, g, bh, mh

b	scuab	is pronounced	p	scuabtha
d	goid		t	goite , goidthe
g	fág		c	fágtha
bh	scríobh		f	scríobhtha/scríofa
mh	snámh			snámhtha/snáfa

(iii) Meaning of verbal adjective

The verbal adjective describes a state resulting from an action.

Tá an bord briste.

The table is (in the state of having been) broken.

Usually, it can be used attributively like any other adjective:

Tá an bord briste thall ansin.

The broken table is over there.

2. THE PREFIXES SO-, DO-, IN-

Tá an ghloine sobhriste.

The glass is easily breakable.

Tá an obair sin dodhéanta.

That work is impossible to do.

Nil sé sin inite.

That is not edible.

The prefixes so- 'easily possible', do- 'impossible' and in- 'possible' are prefixed to a form of the verb which is the same as the verbal adjective, e.g. briste, déanta, ite. So is pronounced /su/ before a broad consonant or vowel, and /si/ before a slender consonant. Similarly, do is pronounced /du/ or /di/. In is pronounced /əN/. So- and do- are given primary stress while the verbal form takes the secondary stress, e.g. sobhriste /sí, w'r'is't'ə/ 'breakable', so-ólta /su,o:Ltə/ 'easily drinkable', dobhriste /dí,w'r'is't'ə/ 'unbreakable', dóthóigthe /du,ho:k'i:/ 'impossible to raise'. In is not stressed, e.g. inite /əNit'ə/ 'edible'.

3. GENITIVE WITH SLENDER CONSONANT

bád	boat	caiptín an bháid	the captain of the boat
Peadar	Pedar	cóta Pheadair	Pedar's coat
doras /ol/	door	láimh an doirís /el/	the door handle
éan	bird	nead an éin¹	the bird's nest
airgead	money	mála an airgid²	the money bag
aonach	fair	lá an aonaigh	the fair day
cogadh	war	aimsir an chogaidh³	the time of war
clog /ol/	clock	éadan an chloig /el/	the face of the clock
poll /au/	hole	béal an phoill /ai/	the mouth of the hole

¹By spelling convention éa is written éi before a slender consonant.

²By spelling convention ea is replaced by i before a slender consonant.

³From the point of view of pronunciation, nouns ending in -(e)adh have no special form in the genitive, e.g. cogadh /kogə/: aimsir an chogaidh /...əxəgə/. From the point of view of spelling, however, they belong here.

poll /au/	hole	béal an phoill /ai/	the mouth of the hole
cnoc /u/	hill	barr an chnoic /i/	the top of the hill
arm /a:/	army	lucht an airm /æ:/	the people of the army
iasc /i:ə/	fish	mála an éisc /e:/	the fish bag

In pronunciation all these forms are in accordance with the rules in Appendix I. Where the vowel changes, this is shown in the table above.

The majority of masculine nouns ending in a broad consonant are made slender in the genitive singular, e.g. bád – an bháid /bɑ:d/ – /wɑ:d/ ‘boat – of the boat’.¹ In a few words, e.g. doras, arm, the medial consonant is also made slender, e.g. doras – an doiris /dorəs/ – /dər'əs'/ ‘door – of the door’, arm – an airm /a:rəm/ – /æ:r'əm'/ ‘army – of the army’. When the final consonant is made slender, ia /i:ə/ becomes éi /e:/, e.g. iasc – éisc /i:əsk/ – /e:s'k/ ‘fish – of the fish’. A final (e)ach /əx/ becomes -(a)igh /əl/, aonach – aonaigh /i:Nəx/ – /i:Nəl/ ‘fair – of the fair’.

4. GENERAL SUMMARY OF THE USE OF GENITIVE²

(i) Usage with definite noun

noun	ainm ...	... na hoifige
verbal noun	(ag) moladh ...	... mo bháid genitive preposition	ar shon ...	... Cháit, Pheadair ... theach an bhúistéara

After a noun, verbal noun or genitive preposition, (a) a definite noun, e.g. an bhúistéara, mo bháid, Peadar, Cáit, in the genitive, (b) all proper nouns, e.g. Peadar, Gaillimh, teach an bhúistéara, are lenited.³

(ii) Usage with indefinite noun

noun	ainm ...	Indefinite noun
verbal noun	(ag) moladh ...	... gasúr
genitive preposition	ar shon ...

Generally after a noun, verbal noun or genitive preposition, the nominative is used with an indefinite noun (one which neither comes after an, na; mo, do etc. nor is a proper noun). However, a genitive is used in certain set expressions:

- (a) after a noun⁴, e.g. éadach boird ‘tablecloth’, *deoch phórtair*³ ‘a drink of stout’;
- (b) after a verbal noun, e.g. ag cur allais ‘sweating’, *ag fáil bháis*³ ‘dying’;
- (c) after a preposition taking the genitive, e.g. ar feadh tamail ‘for a while’.

¹We have already seen examples of this genitive formation after Dé in Dé Domhnaigh (Domhnach /du:nɔχ/), Dé Luain (Luan /lu:N/), Dé Sathairn (Satharn /sa:tɔ:n/). Less frequently Dé can be dropped and the article used with the days of the week, e.g. ar an Domhnaich ‘on Sunday(s)’; or in certain phrases without the article, e.g. ó Dhéardaoin go Domhnaich ‘from Thursday to Sunday’.

²In certain cases, the use of the genitive is optional, particularly among younger speakers of the dialect. However, it is felt that the rules given here are a reasonable compromise.

³Concerning the lenition see Lessons 9 and 15.

⁴Particularly where the second noun is used as an adjective ('attributively') and the two nouns felt as one lexical unit.

(iii) Usage following chun or partitive words

- (a) Tá sé ag goil chun feabhas. He is improving (lit. going towards excellence).

Chun /uN/ is generally followed by a genitive, e.g. nom. feabhas, gen. feabhas. Other examples are: chun báis ‘to death’, chun deiridh ‘backwards’, chun bealaigh ‘away’.

- (b) Tá neart airgid anseo. There is plenty of money here.

Partitive nouns such as neart ‘plenty of’ (in statements), mórán ‘much of’ (in questions or negatives), go leor ‘lots of’, beagán ‘little of’, roinnt ‘some’, leath ‘half’, ceathrú ‘quarter’, cuid ‘share/portion of’ etc., are normally followed by a genitive.

5. USE OF ADJECTIVE WITH GENITIVE OF MASCULINE NOUNS

barr an gheata bhui	the top of the yellow gate
muintir an bhaile mhóir	the people of the town
ainm an leabhair bháin	the name of the white book

An adjective following a masculine noun in the genitive is lenited and in the case of adjectives having one syllable in spelling (and not ending in ll, nn, rr, m), the final consonant is made slender, e.g. mór ‘big’, ... an bhaile mhóir ‘of the town’. Adjectives ending in -(e)ach ləx/ change to -(a)igh ləl, e.g. obair an duine bhradaigh ‘the work of the dishonest person’. The following forms are somewhat exceptional: uasal ‘noble’, mac an duine uasail ‘the gentleman’s son’; beag ‘little’, mac Shéamais Bhig ‘Séamas Beag’s son’.

TEXT

PEADAR AGUS A THEACH

Tá teach Pheadair i láir an bhaile mhóir. Níl ann ach ‘teach beag bídeach’ mar a deir sé féin. Tá dhá stón ann. Tá seomra amháin agus cisteanach bheag thíos an staighre. Tá dhá sheomra codlata thusas an staighre. Tá geard ar chúla an tí. Tá cró beag sa ngéard le haghaidh an ghuail.

Níor choisin an teach mórán airgid. Bhí sé i gceantar a raibh na tithe ligthe chun donacht ann. Ó aimsir an chogaidh amach, bhí muintir an bhaile mhóir ag fágáil ceantracha mar seo ar shon na dtithe nua, atá tamall amach ón mbaile mór. Ansin, gan mórán achair, ní raibh mórán comhlódaracha fanta ann. De réir mar a bhí na seandaoine ag fáil bháis, bhí an ceantar uilig ag goil chun donacht. Ach le bliain nódho anuas, tá sé go mór sa bhfaisean ag daoine óga tithe mar sin a cheannacht.

Níor thig Peadar nó go raibh sé ceannaithe cé chomh dona is a bhí an teach. Bhí an t-orlár thusas an staighre lofa. Go deimhin, bhí an staighre é féin ag tosaí ag lobhadh. Bhí ceann de na ballaí sa gcisteanach scoilte¹. Sílim féin go raibh scoilt i mbinn an tí. Bhí ’chuile dhuine ag rá leis gur dearmad é seanteach a cheannacht. ‘Ceannaigh seanrud agus bí gan aon rud’ a bhí daoine a rá. Blonnaí seanshocla mar sin i gcónaí ag daoine cliste i gcás mar sin.

D’amhdaigh Peadar go raibh droch-chaoi ar an teach. Ach ní raibh neart anois air ach tosaí ag obair. Ní bhíonn obair ar bith dodhéanta má choinníonn tú do mhisneach.

¹Exceptionally scoilte is normally pronounced /skel’ti:/. The pronunciation of the verbal adjective with a final /i:/ is optional, though rare, in case of verbs of type 1 whose roots end in t.

D'fhéadfá a rá nar chaill Peadar a mhisneach. D'fheicfeá ansin é 'chuile oíche den tseachtain ag obair agus ag cur allais. Siúinéara iontach atá ann agus tá sé breá láidir. Tá sé go maith ag oibriú an chasúir nō ag plé leis an sábh. Ní raibh sé i bhfad nō go raibh adhmaid nua curtha in áit an tseanadhmaid agus an staighre agus na doirse uilig péinteáilte. Gan móran achair, bhí caoi curtha ar na ballaí uilig.

Is dlíodóir é Peadar agus is maith leis cónaí i lár an bhaile mhóir. Tá an teach congarach do na círteanna agus feileann sé sin dhó. Ar ndóigh, tá luach an tí ag ardú de réir mar atá daoine óga ag ceannacht agus ag socru suas seantithe eile sa gceantar. Is fiú slam airgid amach anseo é. 'Ach ní hé an t-airgead a chomhaireanns,' a deir Peadar, 'tá mé sásta anseo agus níl sé ar intinn agam corraí as seo ar shon an airgid.'

EXERCISES

A. Complete the following, e.g. Tá mé ag glanadh an tseomra. Beidh sé glanta gan móran achair.

1. Tá mé ag glanadh an tseomra. Beidh sé gan móran achair.
2. Tá mé ag péinteáil an doiris. Beidh sé gan móran achair.
3. Bhí sé ag athrú a sheaicéid. Anois tá an seaicéad
4. Bhí siad ag níochán a gcuid éadaí. Tá siad anois.
5. Oscail an fhuinneog. Nuair a bhéas an fhuinneog , ní bheidh an seomra rothe.
6. Tá sé ag dúnadh an phoill. Tá sé beagnach cheana féin.
7. Bhí leitir agat le cur chun bealaigh. An bhfuil sí chun bealaigh fós ?
8. Bhí siad ag caint ar theach nua a cheannacht. Anois, faoi dheireadh tá sé
9. Bhíodh na seandaoine ag ligean tithe chun donacht. Anois tá siad uilig chun donacht.
10. Bhí sibh ag dó na seanpháipéir. An bhfuil siad uilig ?
11. Bhí an t-irlár le scuabadh, ach tá sé faoi dheireadh.
12. Níl an obair dodhéanta. Má choinníonn tú do mhisneach, beidh sí anocht.

B. In the following, write out the nominative singular of the nouns which are in the genitive, e.g. casúr.

1. ag oibriú an chasúir, ainm an ghasúir, mála an dochtúir, gunna an tsraigdiúir
2. i lár an orláir, ag gearradh an chláir, doras an chairr
3. deoch phróntair, teach Pheadair, ar bharr an chabantair, treasna an bhóthair, póca mo threabhsair
4. ag baint an fhéir, ag léamh an pháipéir, ag ithe mo shuipéir
5. i mbéal an doiris, in áit an tsolais, de bharr an turais
6. leaba mo bháis, cóta Thomáis
7. barr mo bhéil, geata an tséipéil, deireadh an scéil, gob an éin
8. ar feadh tamall, cloigearn an chapaill, in áit an tuarastail, teach an phobail
9. ag casadh an cheoil, cois an stóil
10. tilleadh aráin, lá an amadáin, muintir an oileáin, treasna an tsrutháin
11. mála an airgid, treasna an droichid
12. ag socru an chloig, ag leagan amach an choirp
13. súil an chait, barr an chnoic
14. i lár an aonaigh, chun bealaigh, teanga an tSasanaigh
15. aimsir an chogaidh, ar feadh an tsamhraidh, i lár an gheimhridh, chun deiridh
16. mála an éisc, béal an chléibh
17. cois an bhoird, mo chuid neairt, teach an tsagairt, os comhair an tsuoil

TRANSLATE:

1. Tomás admitted that the bottom of the door was rotten and that the wall was cracked. He didn't know it until the house was bought. 2. He kept his courage and the house was washed and cleaned and painted before long. 3. According as the families were leaving the district and the old people were dying, the whole district was going to the bad. 4. They say that it is courage which counts. If you keep your courage, no work will be impossible. 5. The priest's car was across the road from me at the chapel gate. 6. Don't stir ! Stay where you are ! I won't be staying long.

LESSON 28

VOCABULARY

baintreach fem.	/ba:n̄t̄r̄'æk̄/	baintreacha	widow
bairille	/ba:r̄'eL̄/	bairillí	barrel
ball	/ba:L/		part, spot, member
breac	/b̄'r̄'æ:k/		fish
cluasánach	/klu:əsə:Nəx/		fat-head
col ceathar	/kol'k̄'æ:r/	col ceathracha	cousin
cónra ¹ fem.	/ku:n̄tr̄a/	cónraíocha	coffin
contae	/ku:Nde:/	contaecha	county
diabhal	/d̄'auL/	diabhala	devil
dúil fem.	/du:l'/		desire
fainic fem.	/fa:n̄'æk̄/	fainiceacha	warning
feall	/f̄'a:L/		treachery, shame
glas	/gla:s/	glasanna	lock
grásta	/gra:stə/		grace(s), mercy
greann	/ḡ'r̄'a:N/		fun
greim	/ḡ'r̄'i:m'/	greamanna	grip, bite, stitch
iasacht fem.	/i:əsəxt/	iasachtaí	loan
leanbh ²	/l̄'æ:Nə(w)/		young child
muineál	/min̄'a:L/	muineáil /min̄'a:l'/	neck
mullach	/muLəx/	mullaí	top, summit
roiligeach ³ fem.	/riL̄'æk̄/	roiligeacha	graveyard
rópa	/ro:pə/	rópaí	rope
sac	/sa:k/		sack
sochraide fem.	/soxr̄d̄'ə/	sochraídí	funeral
stócach	/sto:kəx/	stócaí	youth
stór	/sto:r/	stórtha /sto:rə/	store, treasure
tórramh	/to:r̄/	torráiocha	wake
trioblóid fem.	/t̄'r̄'ibLo:d̄/	trioblóidí	trouble, illness
tumálaí	/tuma:Li:/	tumálaithe /tuma:Li:/	driver
uaigh fem.	/u:ə/	uaigheanna	grave

Contae Mhaigh Eo /kunde:, fi:o:/

Seán	/s'a:N/	Co. Mayo (man's name)
Séamas	/s'e:məs/	(man's name)
Tomás	/tuma:s/	(man's name)

báigh 1	/ba:/	drown
bá	/ba:/	drowning
brionglóidí fem.	/b̄'r̄'i:ŋLo:d̄'i:/	dreaming
croch 1	/krox/	lift, hang
crochadh	/kroxə/	lifting
fuagair 2	/fu:əgər̄/	call out, announce
fuagairt fem.	/fu:əgər̄t̄/	calling out
glasáil 1	/gla:sa:l'/	lock
glasáil fem.	/gla:səl'/	locking

¹See note to vocabulary of Lesson 24.

²Páiste is normally used. Leanbh has only a limited use.

³Pronounced as though spelt rillig.

iompair 2	/u:mpər'/	carry iompar	/u:mpər/	carrying
maraigh 2	/ma:rə/	kill
marú	/ma:ru:/	killing
scaoil 1	/ski:l'/	loosen, free
scaoileadh	/ski:l'ə/	loosening
tumáil 1	/tuma:l'/	drive
tumáilt fem.	/tuma:L't/	driving
cam	/ka:m/	crooked, bent
cúng	/ku:n̩g/	narrow
cútháil	/ku:t̩l/	shy
mór millteach	/mo:r m̩:i:L't̩əx/	huge
sleamhain	/s̩l'aun̩/	slippery, smooth
teann	/t̩'a:N/	taut, firm
tobann	/tobəN/	sudden
ar fud	/er' fud/ (with gen.)	around about, among
ar iasacht	/er' i:əsəxt/ (with gen.)	on loan
i dtaoibh	/ɔ di:w/ (with gen.)	concerning, about

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. san oíche Dé Máirt 'on Tuesday night'2. ag tabhairt faoi deara 'noticing'3. Grásta ó Dhia ar a anam / a hanam! (lit. 'grace from God on his/her soul'), 'God rest him/her' (said when speaking of the dead).4. Fainic (thú féin)! 'Beware!', 'Watch out!' (can also be followed by indirect relative: fainic a dtiiféad! 'Beware lest you fall!')5. teacht as. (lit. 'come out of'), survive, recover'6. le cúnamh Dé (lit. 'with the help of God'), 'please God' (Dé is the irregular genitive of Dia).7. Ní maith liom do thrioblóid (lit. 'I don't like your trouble'), 'I am sorry for your trouble' (said when sympathising with persons recently bereaved).

GRAMMAR

1. SIX IRREGULAR VERBS

	Imperative Singular	Verbal Noun	Habitual Tenses	Future/ Conditional	Past Tense	Verbal Adjective
'hear'	clois /klos'/	cloisteáil /klos't̩ a:l'/	clois-	clois-	chuala /χuələ/	cloiste /klos't̩ ə/
'eat'	ith /i:/	ithe /i:/	ith-	tos-	d'ith /d'i:/	ite /it'ə/
'give'	tabhair /to:r̩/	tabhairt /to:r̩t̩/	tug- /tug/	tabhar- /t̩'u:r/	thug /hug/	tugha /tuki:/
'give birth'	beir /b'er/	breih /b'r̩e/	beir-	béar- /b'e:r/	rug /rug/	beirthé /b'erə/
'say'	abair /a:bər/	rá /ra:/	deir- /d'er/	déar- /d'e:ər/	dúirt /du:rt̩/	ráite /ra:t̩ə/
'come'	teara /t̩'æ:ra/	teacht /t̩'æ:xt/	teag- /t̩'æ:g/	tio- /t'uk/	tháinig /ha:n'æk/	teagtha /t̩'æ:ki:/

¹Also /d'i:ər/.

The above table contains six of the ten (excluding the verb tá) irregular verbs. Generally, irregular verbs are lenited or eclipsed just like any verb and take the same endings as Type 1 regular verbs, e.g. an dteagann tú ? ‘do you come ?’, ní thiocfaidh mé ‘I won’t come’, nar tháinig siad ? ‘did they not come ?’, ní thiocfainn ‘I would not come’.

The verb abair ‘say’ is somewhat exceptional:

(i) When lenition would normally be expected, the initial d is omitted, e.g. ní 'éarfainn /N'i: e:rɔN' ‘I wouldn’t say’, ar 'úirt sé /ər u:rt' ‘did he say ?’.

(ii) Initial d is not lenited after a in a direct relative, e.g. sin é an fear a déarfas é ‘that is the man who will say it’, or after má in the past tenses, e.g. má duírt sé ‘if he said’.

(iii) There is an alternative direct relative form (a deir ‘says’) with a present or past meaning, e.g. cé a deir tú ‘what are you saying ?’, tá mé sásta, a deir sé ‘I am content, says he’.

Somewhat less frequently ní, nach, go, mara may be used in the past tense (similarly to the verb tá) instead of níor, ar, gur, marar; e.g. ar tháinig sé ? / an dtáinig sé ? ‘did he come ?’.

2. THE PREPOSITION IDIR

(i) Introduction

Tá spás idir an bord agus an balla. There is a space between the table and the wall.

Idir '/ed'r/ causes no change to a following noun, alone or with the article. The article affects the noun as normal, e.g. an bord ‘the table’, idir an bord ... ‘between the table ...’; an bhean ‘the woman’, idir an bhean ... ‘between the woman ...’; see Lesson 8.

(ii) Prepositional pronouns

Ordinary form	Pronunciation
idir mé ...	between me ...
idir thú ...	between you ...
idir él/í ...	between him/her/it ...
eadrainn	between us /a:tɾəN'/
eadraibh	between you (pl.) /a:tri:/
eadarlu	between them /a:trəb/

Idir does not combine with the singular personal pronouns, e.g. idir mé, idir mise, idir mé féin, idir mise mé féin. The contrast forms and general usage of plural forms are the same as those of ag and most other prepositional pronouns, e.g. eadrainn, eadrainne, eadrainn féin, eadrainne muid féin; see Lesson 16.

(iii) Meaning of idir

(a) Basic meaning ‘between’

Beidh Cáit anseo idir an dó agus an trí. Cáit will be here between two and three.

(b) Secondary meaning ‘both’

Bhí idir sean agus óg ann.

There were both old (people) and young (people) there.

Tá idir balla agus ceann briste.

Both wall(s) and roof are broken.

No article is required after idir ‘both’ and the singular can be used in a general sense. Also idir ‘both’ may lenite following nouns (though not usually those with initial t or s), e.g. idir fhear agus bhean ‘both men and women’, idir bheithigh agus chaoirigh ‘both cows and sheep’, idir mhagadh is dháiríre ‘half in mocking (lit. both joking and serious)’.

¹ Idir is pronounced as though spelt eidir.

3. GENITIVE WITH SLENDER CONSONANT AND IRREGULAR VOWEL CHANGE

The genitive form of some dozen or so masculine nouns is formed by making the final consonant slender and by changing in spelling:

(i) ea to i

leanbh /æ:/ child	caipín an linbh /i/ the child’s cap
ceann /a:/ head	mullach mo chinn /i:/ the top of my head

Similar to leanbh are: fear ‘man’, cóta an fhir ‘the man’s coat’, breac ‘fish’, ag marú an bhric ‘catching (lit. killing) the fish’. Similar to ceann is greann ‘humour’, údar grinn ‘a source of humour’.

Note also feall /a:/, buille feill /ai/ ‘a treacherous blow’, in which ea changes to ei.

(ii) a to o

glas /a:/ lock	poll an ghlois /e/ the key (lit. lock) hole
crann /a:/ tree	barr an chroinn /i:/ the top of the tree
ball /a:/ place	i lár boill /ai/ right in the middle (lit. in the middle of the place)

Similar to glas are: tarbh ‘bull’, cloigean an toirbh ‘the bull’s head’, ‘sac ‘sack’, béal an tsoic ‘the mouth of the sack’.

The following nouns are entirely irregular: muineál ‘neck’, greim cún muinil ‘a grip of (the) back of (the) neck’, Micheál: cóta Mhícheáil ‘Micheál’s coat’; mac son, bean mo mhic ‘my son’s wife’.

4. THE VOCATIVE SINGULAR

A Pheadair !	Peadar !
A Cháit Mhór !	Cáit Mhór !
A Thomáis Mhóir !	Tomás Mór !
A shaighdiúir !	Soldier !
A dheabhal bhradaigh !	You sly devil !

After the vocative particle a /ə/, which is not stressed, all nouns and adjectives are lenited (see Lesson 4). In the case of masculine nouns, the noun and adjective change exactly as in the genitive singular¹ (see Lesson 27), with the following exceptions:

(i) Nouns ending in -(e)ánach

A chluasánaí ! You fat-head !

Nouns ending in -(e)ánach, (and stócach ‘young man’, madadh ‘dog’) have -aí /i:/ in place of the final syllable.

¹Mac, leanbh, Micheál have two forms: a mhac, a mhic; a leana, a linbh; a Mhícheáil, a Mhícheál.

(ii)

*A stór !
A bhéal mór !
A chloigeann pota !*

Oh darling ! (lit. treasure)
You big-mouth !
You pothead !!

When inanimate nouns are used as terms of endearment or abuse, the final consonant is not made slender and a following adjective is not lenited.

5. THE DIMINUTIVE SUFFIX

bád	báidín	a little boat
fuinneog	fuinneoigín	a little window
cró	crón	a little shed
geata	geaitín	a little gate
gob /ɒ/	goibín /e/	a little beak
siopa /u/	sipín /i/	a little shop
hata /a:/	haitín /æ:/	a little hat
teach	teachaín	a little house
coileach	coileachaín	a little cock

The suffix -ín is used to express smallness, e.g. bád ‘a boat’, báidín ‘a little boat’. It may also be used to express endearment, or in a pejorative sense.

The suffix -ín may be added to all nouns. A final unstressed vowel /ə/ is dropped; see Appendix I, 5(i). Final broad consonants (except ch, e.g. teach: teachaín) become slender. The gender of a noun remains the same when the basic meaning of the noun is unaltered.

The pronunciation of all these forms is regular and in accordance with the tables in Appendix I. Examples of how the vowel changes are shown in the above table.

NOTES:

1. doras, doirisín ‘a little door’; in a few words the medial consonant is also made slender (see Lesson 27).
2. coileach, coileachaín, coilín; two-syllable words with the ending /ɔx/ can optionally drop it before the -ín. In this case a broad medial consonant is made slender.
3. cliabh, cliaibhín, cléibhín; fear, feairín, firín; glas, glaisín, gloisín; ia may optionally become é (see Lesson 27) and similarly where there is an irregular vowel change (see 3. above) the change may optionally take place.

TEXT

AN TIMPISTE

Maraíodh Tomás Mór san oíche Dé Máirt. Tharla¹ sé chomh tobann sin. Ní raibh súil ag duine ar bith leis. (Cé go gcaithfidh mé a rá go raibh brionglóidí aisteacha 'am i dtaoibh an bháis san oíche Dé Luain.)

Fear mór millteach a bhí in Tomás. Duine cuthal a bhí ann; an fear bocht - grásta ó Dhia ar a anam.

¹Although tarlaigh is a type 2 verb, a more historical spelling tharla is preserved in the past tense (where we might expect tarlaigh).

Bhí sé ar saoire tháos i gContae Mhaigh Eo nuair a tharla an timpiste. Bhí an-dúil aige san iascach agus bhí sé ag goil ag caitheamh coicís ag iascach ar fud Chontae Mhaigh Eo in éindí le Seán. Is col ceathar dhó é Seán.

Tráthnóna Dé Máirt, bhí sé ag iarraidh a ghoil ar cuairt ag bean a mhic i nGaoth Sáile. (Bhí leanbh aici le gairid.) Bóthar cam cúng a bhí ann. Bhí sé sleamhain freisin mar gheall ar go raibh sé ag báisteach. Bhí leoráí mór trom i lár an bhóthair a raibh bairillí ceanglaithe le rópaí uirthi. Ní raibh na rópaí uilig sách teann. Go tobann, thug Seán faoi deara go raibh ceann acu scaoilte sa gcaoi nach raibh greim ceart aige ar cheann de na bairillí. Thosaigh sé ag fuagairt ar thumálaí an leoráí. Fainic ! Fainic !

Bhí sé romhall. Thit an bairille anuas i mullach an chairr. D'imirgh sí ó smacht. Crochadh den bhóthar í agus buaileadh faoin gcláí í. Caitheadh Tomás Mór amach i mullach a chinn. Eadrainn fein, is mór an feall nach raibh an doras glasáilte.

Tháinig tumálaí an leoráí slán as. Níor gortaíodh ar chor ar bith é. Tugadh Tomás Mór agus Seán ag Ospidéal an Chontae. Bhí muineál Thomáis Mhóir briste agus fuair sé bás uair an chloig ina dhiaidh sin. Bhí cosa Sheáin briste ach tiocfaidh seisean as, le cúnamh Dé.

Tugadh corp Thomáis Mhóir abhaile anseo mar rugadh agus tóigeadh sa bparáiste seo é. Bhí an tórramh ann san oíche Dé Máirt agus bhí an tsochaide ann maidin Déardaoin. Cuireadh é thar éis Aifreann a dó dhéag.

Bhí sochaide mhór ann. Bhí idir sean agus óg ann. Bhí isteach is amach le céad carr taobh amuigh den roiliog. Bhí na daoine anonn is anall ag caint leis an mbaintreach. 'Ní maith liom do thríoblóid,' a deir siad (sin é a deireannns 'chuile dhuine anseo'). 'Tá a fhios agam é, a stóir,' a dúirt an bhaintreach. 'Muise, ancreatúr, d'imirgh sé go tobann,' a bhí na daoine a rá. D'iompair na fir an chónra go dtí an uaigh. Ansin dúirt an sagart na paidreaca.

Cuireadh Tomás Mór san uaigh ar cuireadh a athair inti fiche bliain ó shin nuair a bádh¹ é.

EXERCISES

A. Complete these sentences using the appropriate irregular verb.

1. Cloiseann an bhean úd an iomarca scéalta. sí inné go raibh Máirtín ag ól arís.
2. Ithim 'chuile shórt. Is cuma céard a thabharfas tú dhom, mé é.
3. Tháinig Francach inné Sasanach amáireach go leor stráinseáráil anseo 'chuile bhláin.'
4. Cé fá leis an mbean sin ? Deireann Séamas i gcónai gur bean an-bhreá í.
5. Eadrainn fein, abair liom cé dúirt tú leis ansin ? Nar tú rud ar bith leis ? Nach mbeadh sé níos fearr rud eicint a ?
6. Beireann an bhó ag an am seo 'chuile bhláin' sí aréir.
7. Cén áit ar tóigeadh thú ? Ar agus tóigeadh anseo thú ?
8. ar ais anseo arís amáireach agus beidh mé in ann airgead a thabhairt dhuit.
9. An síleann tú go diocfaidh sé ? Ní é.
10. Teara arís gan mórán achair. Ná bíodh sé i bhfad nó go tú ar ais arís.
11. Beir thusa ar mo mhála ar feadh nóiméad agus féadfaidh tusa ar mo mhaide.

¹Although the ending of the autonomous form in the past tense is -(e)adh for type 1 verbs (see Lesson 20), when the root ends in a the second a is omitted in spelling, e.g. bádh rather than báadadh (see Appendix I).

12. Rugús¹ ar an bhfeair a ghoid an t-airgead. Is móir an feall nach féidir ar an bhfeair eile.

B. Write out the nominative singular of the bracketed nouns in the following sentences.

1. Tá nead ag an éan i mbarr (an chroinn).

2. Ní raibh béal (an tsoic) sáach móir.

3. Thit mé ar chúl (mo chinn).

4. Bhí cóta (an linbh) bán.

5. Croch suas cóta (an fhír).

6. Tá bean (mo mhic) inn.

C. Add the diminutive suffix -ín to the following words.

- | | |
|-----------------|---------------------|
| 1. cóta | 5. leabhar |
| 2. teach | 6. saighdiúr |
| 3. maide | 7. bróg |
| 4. deoch | 8. doras |

TRANSLATE:

1. I was dreaming again last night about death. I was sweating with (the) fear. 2. Watch out ! There is a rope loose. It has no grip on the barrel. Watch out lest it might fall ! 3. I was calling out to the driver of the lorry. 4. Although the barrel fell suddenly down on top of the car, nobody was hurt. 5. Tomás Mór's wife was born and raised in this parish. She was buried in the same grave. There was a big funeral. 6. Seán is very fond of the cars. He is a dangerous driver. Is the car door locked ?

¹*Breith ar* means 'to take, catch hold of'. In this sense of 'catch' rugús replaces rugadh.

LESSON 29

VOCABULARY

babhal	/bauL/	babhalanna	bowl
bagún	/ba:gu:N/		bacon
beainc fem.	/b'æ:ŋ'k'/	beainceanna	bank (money)
bille	/b'iL'ə/	billí	bill
blaosc fem.	/bLi:sk/	blaoscanna	skull, eggshell
bonn	/bu:N/	boinn /bi:N'/	coin
		bonnúcha /buNu:xi:/	sole
cill fem.	/k'i:L'/		churchyard
cluais fem.	/klu:əs'/	cluasa	ear
clúdach	/klu:ðəx/	clúdaí	cover
cócaireacht fem.	/ko:kər'əxt/		cooking
coil fem.	/kaiL'/	coilte	wood, forest
coinneal fem.	/kiN'əL/	coinnle /ki:N'L'ə/	candle
corc	/kork/	coirc /ker'k'/	cork, plug
cré fem.	/k'r'e:/		earth
cuireadh	/kir'ə/	cuiríocha	invitation
cúis fem.	/ku:s'/	cúiseanna	cause, case
cuntas	/ku:Ntəs/	cuntasí	account
jug	/dʒug/	juganna	jug
leathanach	/l'æ:Nəx/	leathanaí	page
leictreachas	/l'ek't'r'əxsəs/		electricity
meall	/m'a:ʃ/	mealltracha	lump, mess
meán lae	/m'a:q:N le:/		midday
oinniún	/iN'u:N/	oinniúin /iN'u:n'/	onion
peain	/p'æ:n'/	peaineanna	pan
pros	/pros/, /pres/	prosanna	press, cupboard
robar	/robər/	robair	dishcloth
salann	/sa:LəN/		salt
sáspan	/sa:spəN/	sásپain /sa:spən'/	saucepan
slinn fem.	/s'l'i:N'/	sleantracha /s'l'a:Ntrəxi:/	roof slate
sluasaid fem.	/SLu:əsəd'/	sluaiste /SLu:əs't'ə/	shovel
suim fem.	/si:m'/		interest, amount
taepait	/tə:pa:t/	taepaiteacha	teapot
taithneamh	/tæ:N'ə/		enjoyment, pleasure
téarma	/t'e:rmə/	téarmaí	term
tóin fem.	/tu:n'/	tóineanna	bottom, rump
bog 1	/bog/		soften, move
bogadh	/bogə/		softening
brú	/bru:/		pressing, etc.
brúigh 1	/bru:/		press, bruise, push, mash
glaoch	/gLi:x/		calling
gluigh 1	/gLw/		call
iarnál 1	/i:ərná:l'/		iron
iarnál fem.	/i:ərná:l'/		ironing
measc 1	/m'æ:sk/		mix
meascadh	/m'æ:skə/		mixing
róst 1	/ro:st/		fry, roast

róstadh	/ro:stə/	frying
róstá v.adj.	/ro:sti:/	fried
triomaigh 2	/t̄r̄'umə/	dry
triomú	/t̄r̄'umu:/	drying
búioch	/bi:e/x/	grateful (de: to)
cothrom	/kɔ:rəm/	level, equal
dúlis	/d̄l̄'i:ʃ/	faithful, dear
gann	/gə:N/	scarce
gearr	/g'ə:t/	short
leathan	/l̄'æ:N/	broad, wide
lom	/Lu:m/	bare
milis	/m̄'il̄'es/	sweet
salach	/sa:ti:x/	dirty
ar aghaidh	/er' ai/ (with gen.)	in front of, forward
i gcaitheamh	/ə ga:/ (with gen.)	during
i measc	/ə m̄'æ:sk/ (with gen.)	among
in aice	/əN æ:k'ə/ (with gen.)	beside
timpeall	/t̄i:mpəl/ (with gen.)	around

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. obair tí 'housework'
2. Buíochas le Dia! 'thanks (be) to God!'
3. Is gearr go/nach ... 'it will be only a short time until ... (not ...)
4. ag cur glaoch ar 'calling up, telephoning'
5. ar bogadh 'steeping'
6. Cré na Cille (title of well-known novel by Máirtín Ó Cadhain)

GRAMMAR

1. FOUR MORE IRREGULAR VERBS

As is the case with all irregular verbs, those below take the endings of Type 1 regular verbs. As can be seen from the table, three of these verbs employ different roots for the 'dependent' forms (as is the case with the verb tá).

Exceptionally, in the spelling of the future and conditional of faigh, the f of the ending is omitted, e.g. gheobhaidh /y'au/ 'will get', ní bhfaigheadh /N'i: waix/ 'would not get'.

Similarly to the verb tá, in the past tense these verbs use the particles ní, an, go, nach, mara, and are lenited or eclipsed in the regular way. However the following points must be noted:

- (i) the forms bhfaighidh and bhfuir are used after all particles, e.g. ní bhfaighidh sé 'he will not get', nach bhfuir sé 'didn't he get?'
- (ii) the form gheobh is permanently lenited;
- (iii) the form fuair has no prefixed d', e.g. fuair sé 'he got' (cf. fliuch: d'fliuch sé 'he wet').

	Imperative Singular	Verbal Noun	Habitual Tenses	Future / Conditional	Past Tense	Verbal Adjective
'do'	déan /d̪i:ŋ/	déanamh /d̪i:ŋəm/	déan-	déan-	rinne /ri:N̪e/	déanta /d̪i:nt̪a/
					ní /n̪i:/	dhearna /y'a:rN̪e/
					an /aŋ/
					go /gɔ/	ndearna /N̪a:rn̪a/
					nach /n̪a:t̪/
					etc.
'see'	feic /f'ek'/	feiceáil /f'ek' a:l'/	feic-	feic-	chonaic ¹ /xan'æk'/	feicthe /f'ek'i:/
					fhaca /a:kə/
					an /aŋ/
					go /gɔ/	bhfaca /wa:kə/
					nach /n̪a:t̪/
					etc.
'go'	gabh /go/	goil /gel'/	té- /t̪'ai/	gabh- /go:/	chuaign ² /xu:əl/	goite /get̪əl/
					dheachaigh /y'æ:xə/
					an /aŋ/
					go /gɔ/
					nach /n̪a:t̪/	ndeachaigh /N̪a:xə/
					etc.
'get'	faigh /fa:/	fáil /fa:l'/	faigh- /fa:/	gheobh ⁻³ /y'au/	fuair ² /fu:ər'/	faigthe /fa:t̪əl/
				ní /n̪i:/	ní /n̪i:/
				an /aŋ/	an /aŋ/
				go /gɔ/	bhfaigh ⁻⁴ /wai/
				nach /n̪a:t̪/	go /gɔ/	bhfuir /wu:ər'/
				etc.	etc.

The particular pronunciation of té- as /t̪'ai/, e.g. téann sé /t̪'ain s̪e:/ 'he goes', of faigh as /fa:/, e.g. fhraigheann sé /fa:N̪ s̪e/ 'he gets', and of chonaic as /xan'æk/' should be carefully noted.

2. GENITIVE WITH SLENDER CONSONANT AND -E

blaosc	eggshell	lán na blaosisce	the full of the eggshell
seachtain	week	deireadh na seachtaine	the end of the week
bróig	shoe	bonn mo bhróige	the sole of my shoe
fuinneog	window	dúnadh na fuinneoige	closing the window

¹Pronounced as though spelt chainic.

²In fast speech and followed by a subject, chuaign may be pronounced as /xo/ and fuair as /for'/.

³Alternative pronunciation /y'ol/.

⁴Alternative pronunciation /wi:/.

muic	pig	cloigeann na muice		the pig's head
ubh	/u/ egg	blas na huibhe	/i/	the taste of the egg
grian	/i:ə/ sun	solas na gréine	/e:/	the light of the sun
Gaillimh	/ə/ Galway	muintir na Gaillimhe¹	/əw'ə/	the people of Galway
bainis	wedding	lucht na bainse		those associated with the wedding

The genitive singular of the majority of feminine nouns² (if they have a special genitive case, see Lesson 25) is formed by making the final consonant slender and by adding e /ə/, e.g. blaosc'eggshell', na blaoise 'of the eggshell'. When the final consonant is already slender, it simply takes e /ə/, e.g. seachtain 'week', na seachtaine 'of the week'. Before a slender consonant ia becomes é, e.g. grian 'sun', na gréine of the sun'.

In a few words the middle syllable is dropped, e.g. bainis wedding', na bainse 'of the wedding'; sluasaid 'shovel', lán na sluaiste 'the full of the shovel (i.e. shovelful)'.

All these forms are pronounced in accordance with the tables in Appendix I. Where there is a vowel change or consonant addition this is shown in the table above.

Some of these nouns had originally a final broad consonant in the nominative, e.g. bróg for bróig. This older form is in use in other dialects (and in some few cases either optionally or in set phrases in this dialect) and is the Official Standard Irish form.

(ii) Further examples with regular vowel changes

im	/i:/ butter	punt ime	/i/	a pound of butter
coill	/ai/ wood	lár na coille	/e/	the middle of the wood
aill	/a:/ cliff	barr na haille	/æ:/	the top of the cliff

Similar to im are: suim 'interest', an iomarca suime 'too much interest'; slinn 'slate', ceann slinne 'a roof of slate'; binn 'gable', barr na binne 'the top of the gable'; cill 'churchyard', cré na cille 'the clay of the churchyard'.

Similar to coill are: moill 'delay', ag déanamh moille 'delaying'; soill 'fat', an iomarca soille 'too much fat'. In some few words the middle syllable is dropped with resulting regular vowel changes:

obair	/o/ work	mo chuid oibre	/ai/	my work
coinneal	/i/ candle	solas na coinnle	/i:/	the light of the candle

All these forms are pronounced in accordance with the tables in Appendix I.

3. SOME ADJECTIVES WITH SPECIAL COMPARATIVE FORMS

(i) Formation

bán	white	(níos/is) báine		whiter
glic	cunning	glice		more cunning
bog	/o/ soft	boige	/e/	softer
gorm	/o/ blue	goirme	/e/	bluer
tobann	sudden	tobainne		more sudden
fairsing	plentiful	fairsinge		more plentiful
bodhar	deaf, dumb	bodhaire		deafer, dumber

¹The article is used with Gaillimh only in the genitive.

²All the nouns which form their genitive in this way are feminine except im 'butter', taobh 'side' and slíabh 'mountain'.

sleamhain	slippery	steamhaine	more slippery
láidir	strong	láidire	stronger
dílis	faithful	dílse	more faithful
cothrom	level	coithrime	leveller

The comparative of adjectives whose basic form is pronounced with a final consonant (except those ending in -ch or -úil, which are dealt with later), is made by making the final consonant slender and adding -e ləl, e.g. bán ‘white’, níos báine ‘whiter’. When the final consonant is already slender, it simply takes -e ləl, e.g. glic ‘cunning’, níos glice ‘more cunning’.

In a few adjectives the middle syllable is dropped, e.g. dílis ‘faithful’, níos dílse ‘more faithful’; uasal ‘noble’, níos uaisle ‘nobler’; fseal ‘low’, níos ísle ‘lower’. In cothrom ‘level’ the medial r also becomes slender: níos coithrime ‘leveller’.

All these forms are pronounced in accordance with the tables in Appendix I. Where there is a vowel change or consonant addition this is shown in the table above.

(ii) Further examples with regular vowel changes

tinn	/i:/	sick	níos tinne	/i/	sicker
cam	/a:/	crooked	níos caime	/a:/	more crooked
trom	/u :/	heavy	níos troime	/i/	heavier

Similar to trom is lom ‘bare’, níos loime ‘barer’; cúng ‘narrow’, níos cuinge ‘narrower’.

In some few adjectives the middle syllable is dropped with resulting regular vowel changes:

domhain	/au/	deep	níos doimhne	/ai/	deeper
soibhir	/e/	rich	níos soibre	/ai/	richer
milis	/i/	sweet	níos milse	/i:/	sweeter

Similar to domhain is reamhar ‘fat’, níos reimhre ‘fatter’.

All these forms are pronounced in accordance with the tables in Appendix I.

Exceptionally, the vowel does not change in donn /daun/ ‘brown’, níos doinne /daunə/ ‘browner’, and teann /t'ɑ:N/ ‘firm’, níos teáinne /t'ɑ:Nə/ ‘firmer’.

TEXT

OBAIR TÍ

Bhí lá saoire inné agus buíochas le Dia, ní raibh scoil ar bith againn. Is dóigh go mbíonn 'chuile mhúinteoir tuisceach mar sin ag deireadh an téarma. Is gearr go mbeidh an Nollaig ann agus tóigfidh mé an saol níos boige ansin.

Bhí sé ar intinn agam éirí go moch mar bhí neart oibre le déanamh agam sa teach. Níor dhúisigh mé nó gur airigh mé fear an phosta ag an doras. D'éirigh mé agus chuaigh mé síos an staighre le breathnú ar na leitreacha.

Ní raibh cuma rospéisiúil ar na leitreacha. Ní raibh ann ach bille an leictreachais agus cuntas ón mbeainc.

Bhí meall soithí salacha sa gcisteanach le níochán. Ghlan mé an bord agus leag mé babhal an tsíúcra agus jug an bhainne ar ais sa bpros. Ansin, thosaigh mé ag níochán éadaí. Nígh mé na túállí uilig agus robair na soithí. Ansin, nígh mé an dá bhráillín agus clúdach an pheiliúir. Chuir mé éadaí eile ar bogadh. Bhí go leor gréine ann thart ar mheán lae agus d'éirigh liom iad a chrochadh amuigh sa ngeard ar chúla an tí. Ní raibh siad i bhfad ag triomú. Níor bhac mé le iad a iarnáil mar bhí mé rothuirseach.

Ansin, chuir mé glaoch ar Mhícheál agus thug mé cuireadh dhó le haghaidh a shuipéis. Bhí sé buíoch dhíom mar dúirt sé nach raibh fonn cócaireacht ar bith air féin. Dháiríre, níl suim ar bith sa gcoácaireacht aige, más féidir leis í a sheachaint.

Lig mé mo scíth ansin ar feadh uair an chloig nó dhó. D'éist mé le ceirníní. Léigh mé an páipéar agus léigh mé cupla leathanach as ‘Cré na Cille.’

Ag an seacht a chlog, thosaigh mé ag réiteach an tsuipéis. Ghlan mé na fataí agus chuir mé síos iad. Nuair a bhí siad bruite, bhrúigh mé iad. Ghearr mé oinniún. Ansin chuir mé an t-oinniún agus ruainne beag ime agus salann ar na fataí bruite agus mheasc mé sa sásپan iad. Bhruthíth mé bagún agus gabáiste i bpota móir leathan. Blonna blas níos fearr orthu mar sin ach caithfidh tú an clár a choinneál ar an bpota nó beidh an baladh ar fud na háite.

Ag ceathrú don hocht, leag mé an bord in aice na fuinneoge. Bhain mé leas as an éadach boird nua a cheannaigh mé i gcathair na Gaillimhe le gairid agus las mé coinneal ar an mbord.

Tháinig Micheál ar bhuille an hocht, go díreach nuair a bhí an suipéar réidh, agus tharraing sé an corc as an mbuidéal fíon dhom. Tá seisean i bhfad níos láidire ná mise!

Bhain muid an-taithneamh as an mbéilí le chéile. Is aoibhinn liom a bheith ag ithe agus ag ól agus ag comhrá mar sin le solas na coinnle. Beidh béisí eile againn le chéile ag deireadh na seachtaine seo chugainn.

EXERCISES

A Rewrite these sentences (a) in the negative and (b) as positive questions.

1. Rinne siad poll níos doimhne i lár na páirce.
2. Téann muintir na tíre ansin ar feadh seachtaine.
3. Chuaigh lucht na bainse ar fud na háite.
4. Gheobhaidh tú feoil níos láidire treasna na sráide.
5. Gabhfaidh muintir na Gaillimhe ann le haghaidh na hoíche.
6. Fuair seisean bean níos soibhre.
7. Chonaic mé bóithrí níos caime agus níos cuinge i lár na tíre.
8. Faigheann tú daoine mar sin i measc do mhuintire féin.

B. Write out the nominative singular of the nouns which are in the genitive, e.g. caint.

- | | |
|------------------------|-----------------------------|
| 1. an iomarca cainte | 15. geata na roilige |
| 2. ag plé na ceiste | 16. ag foghlaim na ceirde |
| 3. mo chuid gruaige | 17. ar shon na cüise |
| 4. ar fud na háite | 18. de bharr na haoise |
| 5. i lár na tíre | 19. ag craitheadh mo láimhe |
| 6. teach na scoile | 20. méaracha mo choice |
| 7. ar feadh seachtaine | 21. babhal an ime |
| 8. poll mo chluaise | 22. de bharr na haimsire |
| 9. bun na spéire | 23. ag déanamh moille |

10. ag ceangal na bróige
11. timpeall nu pairce
12. i gcaitheamh na hosche
13. treasna na sráide
14. i measc a mhuintire

24. go leor suime
25. ag foghlaim na Fraincise
26. barr na fuinneoige
27. doras na leabharlainne.

C. Complete these sentences using the genitive of an appropriate noun among the following: coill, ciall, áit, sráid, muic, aill, grian, sliabh.

1. Chonaic mé neart croinnte óga ag fás i lár na
2. Tá an feilméara ag díol na leis an mbúistéara.
3. Rinne sé teachaín beag ceann slinne ar thaobh an
4. Cheannaigh muid taepait agus peain agus soithí eile sa siopa a bhí treasna na uainn.
5. Níl móráin agat ag imeacht gan cóta nuair atá an aimsir chomh fuar seo.
6. Tá solas na go maith ag rud ar bith atá ag fás.
7. Ná bí ag róstadh uibheacha anseo, beidh baladh agat ar fud na
8. Tá an t-éan ar bharr na ag breathnú anuas ar an bhfarraige.

D. Write out the comparative forms of:

- | | |
|-------------------|-------------------|
| 1. gorm | 6. soibhir |
| 2. bodhar | 7. trom |
| 3. reamhar | 8. teann |
| 4. cothrom | 9. lseal |
| 5. milis | |

TRANSLATE:

1. I didn't go downstairs to get the letters. I knew that I would only get bills or an account from the bank. 2. I gave an invitation to three or four last night. 3. The milk jug and the sugar bowl are on the table. Where is the teapot and the cups and saucers ? 4. I will put on (síos) the potatoes. If you feel like cooking, cut up the cabbage and the onion. Mix them on the pan. 5. I like fried eggs and bacon. 6. Pass me the butter, please ! 7. I never before in my life saw more crooked or narrower roads than the ones I saw in the centre of the country. 8. There is only a drop of milk in (ar) the bottom of the bottle. I will go to the shop and buy another bottle. 9. The sugar and the tea are scarce. 10. I wash my own shirts and I hang them in the yard. They dry very quickly.

LESSON 30

VOCABULARY

bástá	/ba:stə/	bástai	waist
beilt fem.	/b'el't/	beilteanna	belt
cadás	/kuda:s/		cotton
cáil fem.	/ka:l'		fame, renown
carabhata	/,ka:rə'wa:tə/	carabhataí	(long) scarf
cnaipe	/kræ:p'ə/	cnaipí	button
An tAontas Eorpach	/ə t'i:n̩əs o:rpaχ/		The European Union
cóta mó�	/ko:tə mo:r/	cótáí móra	great coat
craiceann	/kræ:k'ən/	craicne /kræ:k'nə/	skin
craiceann caorach	/kræk'ən ki:rəx/		sheepskin
cuach fem.	/ku:əx/	cuacha	cuckoo
glúin fem.	/glu:n/	glúine	knee
gualainn fem.	/gu:ələn/	guailí /gu:əL'i:/	shoulder
leathar	/l'æ:r/	leatharacha	leather
margadh	/ma:ragə/	margáí	market
miotóig fem.	/m'ito:g/	miotógaí	glove
ola fem.	/ołə/		oil
olann fem.	/ołən/		wool
pinsean	/p'ins'ən/	pinsineacha	pension
rusta	/rustə/	rustaí	wrist, cuff
rúitín	/ruxt'i:n/	rúitintí	ankle
sáil fem.	/sa:l'	sálta /sa:Ltə/	heel
sceach fem.	/s'k'æ:x/	sceacha	bush
seic	/s'ek'/	seiceanna	cheque
siopadóir	/s'upədə:r/	siopadóirí	shopkeeper
slua	/slu:ə/	sluaite	crowd, hoard
speal fem.	/sp' æ:L/	spealta	scythe
tuath fem.	/tu:ə/		country(side)
uachta fem.	/u:əxtə/		will, legacy
fuaigh 1	/fu:ə/	sew
fuáil fem.	/fu:a:l'	sewing
lúb 1	/lu:b/	bend
lúbadh	/lu:bə/	bending
traoiáil 1	/tri:a:l'	try
traoiáil fem.	/tri:a:l'	trying; trial, experiment
amplúch	/a:mplu:x/	greedy
caol	/ki:l/	slender
cíallmhar	/k'i:əLwər/	sensible
éadrom	/e:drəm/	light
fadbhreathmaíoch	/'fa:dw'r'æ:Ni:əx/	farseeing, long term ...
faillíoch	/fa:L'i:əx/	neglectful
fiáin	/f'i:ən/	wild
gar	/ga:r/	near (də: to)
garbh	/ga:ru:/	rough, harsh, coarse mall	/mə:l/	slow, late

mín	/m'í:n'/	fine, smooth
seafoideach	/s'æ:fo:d'əx/	nonsensical
searbh	/s'æ:ru:/	sour, bitter
seasmhach	/s'æ:su:x/	lasting
ar thoib	/er' heb'/	on the point of, about to caideó	/ka:d'o:/	how long is it since ?
'chaon	/xe:n/ (+ len.)	each, both
go deo	/gə d'o:/	(for) ever
i láthair	/ə lə:r'/ (with gen.)	present, in the presence of
i láthair na huairé	/ə lə:r Nə huər'ə/	at present
i mbun	/ə mu:N/ (with gen.)	in charge of le hais	/l'æ:s'/ (with gen.)	beside (mar: how) le teann	/l'e t'a:N/ (with gen.)	out of, from sheer ...

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. Tá baint agam le 'I am connected with'
2. le fada an lá 'for many a day'
3. ag déanamh iontas 'wondering'
4. is iontach go deo an margadh é (lit. it is a wonderful for ever bargain), 'it is really a wonderful bargain'
5. ar aon dath (lit. on one colour), 'the same colour'
6. ag tabhairt Seán ar X 'calling X Seán'
7. Bail ó Dhia ort! (lit. a blessing from God to you), 'God bless you !' (usually said after passing a compliment).

GRAMMAR

1. USE OF AG 'BY , AS A RESULT OF'

Tá an fear tinn ag an ngrian.
Tá an bord sciolte ag an ngrian.
Tá an bord sciolte ag Máirtín.
Tá an bord briste agam

Tá an teach dhá thóigeáil agam.

The man is sick as a result of the sun.
 The table is split as a result of the sun.
 The table is split as a result of M.'s action.
 The table is broken as a result of my action.
 (= I have the table broken.)
 The house is being built as a result of my action.
 (= I am in the process of building the house.)

Ag can be used with adjectives to express the idea 'as a result of someone's action, or of some active force'. It can also be used with a passive construction of the sort tá an teach dhá thóigeáil 'the house is being built' (see Lesson 15) to indicate the agent.

2. GENITIVE WITH SLENDER CONSONANT AND -E (CTD.)

(i) Formation and examples

clock	/kl.ox/	stone	ceathrú cloiche	/kLo:i:/	a quarter stone
sceach	/s'k'æ:x/	bush	bláth na sceicche	/s'k'e:i:/	the blossom of the bush
cuach	/ku:aX/	cuckoo	ubh na cuaiche	/ku:əi:/	the cuckoo's egg
tuaith	/tu:a/	country	muintir na tuaithe	/tu:əi:/	the country people
uaigh	/u:a/	grave	dúnadh na huaigne	/u:əi:/	closing the grave

cisteanach /...əx/	kitchen	bord na cisteanáí /...i:/	the kitchen table
baintreach /...əx/	widow	mac na baintrí /...i:/	the widow's son

All these forms are pronounced regularly according to the table in Appendix I. In nouns of more than one syllable, a final -(e)ach /əx/ is replaced by -(a)i /i:/, e.g. cisteanach 'kitchen', bord na cisteanáí 'the kitchen table'.

(ii) Slender consonant with -e /ə/ and irregular vowel change

The genitive of some few feminine nouns is formed by making the final consonant slender, by adding -e /ə/ and by changing the spelling from:

(a) ea to i

cearc	/æ:/	hen	ubh na circe	/i/	the hen's egg
--------------	------	-----	---------------------	-----	---------------

(b) ea to e

fearg	/æ:/	anger	le teann feirge	/e/	out of sheer anger
--------------	------	-------	------------------------	-----	--------------------

Similar to fearg are: nead 'nest', ubh neide 'nest egg'; leac 'flat stone, slab', faoi bhun na leice 'underneath the slab'; speal 'scythe', cois na speile 'the scythe handle'.

(c) a to o

slat	/a:/	rod	lúbadh na sloite	/e/	bending the rod
clann	/a:/	family	ag iompar cloinne	/i/	pregnant (lit. carrying family)

Similar to slat is: glac 'a fist(ful)', as cùl mo ghloiche (lit. out of the back of my fist), 'out of my hand'. Note also the noun scian 'knife', cois na scine 'the knife handle', which is irregular.

All these forms are pronounced regularly according to the table in Appendix I.

3. USE OF ADJECTIVE WITH GENITIVE OF FEMININE NOUNS

Often when an adjective follows a feminine noun the use of the genitive is avoided or ignored:

barr an fhuinneoig mhór	the top of the big window
--------------------------------	---------------------------

In certain set phrases (and normally in writing) the noun and adjective are in the genitive. The form of the adjective is similar to the comparative:

oíche na gaoithe móire	the night of the big wind
le haghaidh na coise tinne	(lit. for the sore leg), for a rainy day,
ar thaobh na láimhe deise	for an emergency on the right-hand side

4. MORE ADJECTIVES WITH SPECIAL COMPARATIVE FORM

(i) Formation and examples

moch	/mox/	early	(níos/is) moiche	/moi:/	earlier
fluach	/f'lu:χ/	wet	flice	/f'lehi:/	wetter
buíoch	/bi:x/	grateful	buíche	/bi:i:/	more grateful

aisteach	/...ɔx/	peculiar	aistí	/...i:/	more peculiar
fáilliach	/... i:ɔx/	neglectful	faillí	/...i:/	more neglectful
seasmhach	/...u:x/	lasting	seasmhaí	/...u:i:/	more lasting

All these forms are pronounced regularly according to the table in Appendix I. In adjectives of more than one syllable, final -(e)ach, -(a)och /(i:)ɔx/ is replaced by -(a)í /i:/, e.g. aisteach 'peculiar', níos aistí 'more peculiar'.

Salach 'dirty' and amplúch 'greedy' are somewhat irregular: níos soilche /s'el'i:/, níos ampláit /a:mpLi:/.

(ii) Special comparative forms with irregular vowel change

The comparative forms of a limited number of adjectives is formed by making the final consonant slender, by adding -e /ə/, and by changing the spelling from:

(a) ea to i

sean	/æ:/	old	níos sine	/i/	older
gearr	/a:/	short	níos girre	/i/	shorter

Similar to sean is geal 'bright', níos gile 'brighter'.

(b) ea to ei

deas	/æ:/	nice	níos deise	/e/	nicer
leathan	/æ:/	broad	níos leithne	/i/	broader

Similar to deas are: ceart 'right', níos ceirte 'righter'; dearg 'red', níos deirge 'redder'; searbh 'sour', níos seirbhe 'sourer'.

(c) a to o

lag	/a:/	weak	níos loige	/e/	weaker
glan	/a:/	clean	níos gloine	/i/	cleaner
mall	/a:/	slow	níos moille	/e/	slower
gann	/a:/	scarce	níos goinne	/i/	scarcer

Similar to lag are: gar 'near', níos goire 'nearer'; glas 'green', níos gloise 'greener'; garbh 'rough', níos goirbhe 'rougher'; dall 'blind', níos doille 'blinder'.

TEXTS

AN SEIC

Tá 'chuile shórt i bhfad níos daoire anois le hais mar a bhíodh sé roinnt blianta ó shin sol má chuaigh muid isteach san Aontas Eorpach. Ar ndóigh, tá baint ag luach na hola leis an scéal seo freisin. Tá sé deacair ar dhaoine pósta a bhfuil cúram orthu nó ar dhaoine níos sine atá ag brath ar an bpinsean.

Fuair uncail Pheige bás sé mhí ó shin. D'fhag sé suim airgid le huachta. Fuair sí féin seic ón dliodóir an lá cheana. Ní raibh sí níos buíche de dhuine ar bith ariamh ná a bhí sí dhá huncail bocht! Ní raibh airgead le caitheamh aici le fada an lá. Bhí fonn uirthi roinnt éadaí a cheannacht.

D'éirigh sí inné níos moiche ná a éiríonn sí go hiondúil. Bhí sí ina seasamh taobh amuigh den tsiopa sol má hosclaíodh é. Dhá mbeadh sí ann móráin níos moille bheadh na siopáil plódaithe. Tá na sluaite de mhuintir na tuaithe ar saoire i bhfus anseo i láthair na huaire.

Bhí sé chomh deacair sin uirthi a hintinn a dhéanamh suas. Bhí sí ag déanamh iontas céard a cheannódh sí. Is fearr léi gúnaí cadáis. Bionn siad níos éadroime agus go hiondúil bionn siad níos gile. Ach tá an fómhar ann anois agus tá na gúnaí samhraidh ag éirí níos goinne. Bionn na ceanna is deise díolta acu faoi seo.

Bhí gúna amháin a thaithníg go mór le Peige. Níor tháinig an gúna seo anuas ach go dtí na glúine sa gcaoi go raibh sé ruainne beag níos girre ná na gúnaí a bhí sa bhfaisean i mbliana. Bhí básta deas cúng air, bhí an t-íochtar níos leithne agus bhí muineál ard air. Thraoiáil sí an gúna uirthi ach bhí sé robheag. Bhí sé rochúng thart ar na guaillí.

Ansin chuaigh sí treasna na sráide ag siopa mór a bhfuil cáil mhór air. Bhí sí ag ceapadh go mbeadh sé níos fadbhreachaí agus níos ciallmhaire éadaí geimhridh a cheannacht. Tá na siopadóirí ag stócaíl cheana féin le haghaidh an gheimhridh agus ar aon chaoi, is gearr go mbeidh an aimsir ag éirí níos goirbhe.

Bhí cótaí craiceann caorach an-saor acu agus cótaí móra a rinneadh as olann. 'Tá na cuislímearaí fiáin ag na cótaí craiceann caorach i mbliana,' a dùirt cailín an tsiopta léi, 'is iontach go deo an margadh iad !'

Cheannaigh Peige cóta a raibh beilt dheas air agus cnaipí beaga fuaite 'chaon taobh air. Ina dhiaidh sin, cheannaigh sí bróga donna a raibh bonnúcháit leathair agus sálta arda orthu. Bhí sí go díreach ar thoibimeacht as an siopa nuair a chonaic sí péire miotógaí álainn agus carabhatta a bhí ar aon dath leis an gcóta. Sin é an rud is measa i dtaoibh éadaí: má cheannáonn tú ball amháin is deacair gan ceann eile a cheannacht !

COMHRÁ

'Dia dhuit !'

'Dia is Muire dhuit !'

'Cé as thu féin mara miste leat mé a bheith ag fiafraí dhíot ?'

'Is as an bhFrainc mé.'

'Cén t-ainm atá ort ?'

'Pierre. Cén t-ainm atá ort féin ?'

'Seán Ó Flaithearta. Seáinín Thomáis a thugtar orm. Caideó tháinig tú anseo ?'

'Tá mé anseo le cupla seachtain. Tá mé ag foghlaim Gaeilge. '

'Meas tú an bhfuil an Ghaeilge deacair ?'

'Níl sí chomh deacair sin.'

'Muise, tá togha na Gaeilge 'ad, bail ó Dhia ort ! Cá bhfuil tú ag fanacht ?'

'Sa teach sin ar thaobh na láimhe deise.'

'Tá a fhios agam; tigh Mháirtín Mhóir. Cén chaoi a dtáithníonn an áit seo leat ?'

'Taithníonn sé go maith liom ach níl an aimsir romhaith faoi láthair. '

'Bhoil, lá maith anois agat ! '

'Go gognóthaí Dia dhuit !'

EXERCISES

A. Write out the nominative of the nouns which are in the genitive, e.g. báisteach.

1. Bhí scamaill bháistí go leor ann ar maidin ach chroch an lá ina dhiaidh sin.
2. Tá cois na scine briste ag an ngasúr sin.
3. Cheannaigh muid ceathrú cloiche inné.
4. Bíonn iascairí ag caint go minic ar ghob na curaí.
5. Thosaigh Máirtín ag bualadh buillí air le teann feirge.
6. Bhí an triúr acu thiar sa roiligh ag déanamh na huaighe.
7. Tugtar 'muintir na tuaithe' freisin ar mhuintir na tire.
8. Cheannaigh muid bord cisteanaí nua anuraidh agus anois tá sé scoilte ag an ngrian.
9. Níor thug muid pláta ar bith dó ach d'ith sé píosa aráin as cún a ghloice.
10. Bhí ag caint i gcoánaí sna seanscéalta fací mhac na baintri.
11. Tá daoine ann a deireannas nach bhfuil ubh ar bith chomh blasta le ubh na circe.
12. Deir na seandaoine go mbriseann an aimsir le ceathrú gealaí.

B. In these sentences use the appropriate possessive adjective to replace the nouns which follow the prepositions, e.g. os a chionn.

1. Tá an eochair os cionn an doiris.
2. Cé atá i mbun na scoile ?
3. Bhí sé ag caint i dtaoibh na dtithe sin.
4. Ní bhfuair sé tada de bharr a chuid oibre.
5. Ní tada é Pádraig le hais Mháirtín.
6. Tá an rusta go díreach os cionn na láimhe.
7. Bhí muid cupla seachtain i measc na ndaoine úd.
8. Tá Cáit fiáin i ndiaidh Phádraig.

C. Complete the following sentences using the appropriate possessive adjective.

1. Tá fear eile (os cionn) (mé)
2. Tá go leor daoine (in aghaidh) (muid)
3. Chuaigh mé síos an bóthar (i ndiaidh) (thusa).
4. Bhí an fear eile go díreach (os comhair) (mé) amach.
5. Beidh Cáit ag caint ar shon Bhríd.

D. Use níos with the following pairs of adjectives changing them where necessary.

- | | |
|-----------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 1. salach, glan | 9. lag, láidir |
| 2. fliuch, tirim | 10. mall, scioptha |
| 3. moch, deireanach | 11. gann, fairsing |
| 4. sean, óg | 12. garbh, mín |
| 5. gearr, fada | 13. mór, beag |
| 6. geal, dorcha | 14. ard, tseal |
| 7. leathan, caol | 15. ciallmhar, seafóideach |
| 8. ceart, contráilte | 16. milis, searbh |

TRANSLATE:

1. I got up yesterday earlier than usual. I thought that if I waited the shops would be crowded.
2. Often cotton is brighter than wool but cotton gets dirtier more quickly. Wool is usually more lasting.
3. I tried on the suit. The jacket was too narrow around the shoulders.
- The trousers was shorter than the one I had on. It only came down to my ankles.
4. It would be more correct to keep your money 'for a rainy day'.
5. I never saw a more peculiar kitchen table ! It is cleaner than ours but the sun has it split.
6. We call that man Máirtín.
7. Who is in charge of the place ?

LESSON 31

VOCABULARY

agallamh	/a:gələ/		interview
alt	/a:lɪ/	altanna	article
anachain fem.	/a:Nəxən/		misfortune
árachas	/a:rəxəs/		insurance
bruach	/bru:əx/	bruachanna	bank, edge
buatais fem.	/bu:ətəs/	buataísí	boot
ceamara	/k'æ:mərə/	ceamaráí	camera
comhdháil fem.	/ko:γə:l/	comhdháileanna	conference
creideamh	/k'r'ed'ə/	creidíocha /k'r'ed'i:xi:/	religion, belief
cumha	/ku:/		sentimental feeling
dréimire	/d'r'e:m'ər'ə/	dréimirí	ladder
eaglais fem.	/a:gλəs/		church (institution)
easpag	/æ:spək/	easpaig	bishop
gadaí	/ga:di:/	gadaithe /ga:di:/	thief
innealtóir	/iN'əltɔ:r/	innealtóirí	engineer
iriseoir	/ir'əs'ɔ:r/	iriseoirí	journalist
iriseoireacht fem.	/ir'əs'ɔ:r'əxt/		journalism
ministéara	/m'ɪn'əs'tə:rə/	ministéaraí	clergyman, Minister
spéacláirí pl.	/sp'e:kλa:r'i:/		spectacles, glasses
tórainn fem.	/tɔ:rəN/	tórainneacha	boundary, limit
trácht	/trax:t/		trade, traffic; mention
tuairisc fem.	/tu:ər'əs'k/	tuairisceacha	account, report
Árainn fem.	/a:rəN/	Árainneacha	Aran islands
Cois Fhaírge	/kos' a:rəg'ə/		(place-name)
Liam	/L'i:əm/		(man's name)
croith 1	/kra:/	shake (something)
craigheadh	/kra:/	shaking
creath 1	/K'r'æ/	shake, tremble
creathadh	/k'r'æ:/	shaking, trembling
eitigh 2	/et'ə/	refuse
eiteachtáil fem.	/et'əxtə:l/	refusing faiseanta	/fa:s'əntə/	fashionable
ar siúl	/er s'u:l/	on, in progress
go ceann	/ga k'a:N/ (with gen.)	for (a space of time)
thrína chéile	/hri:Nə x'e:l'ə/	upset, messed about

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. ag cur síos ar rud 'describing'
2. atá ceaptha 'who is supposed to'
3. ag craicheadh láimh le 'shaking hands with'

4. ag cur agallamh ar 'interviewing'

5. gan tráchtí ar 'without mentioning, not to mention'

6. ag fiafraí de dhuine 'asking a person'

GRAMMAR

1. PAST/CONDITIONAL OF COPULA

Ba chuma le Cáit faoin mbainne. Cáit didn't/wouldn't mind about the milk.

The copula has only a present (is, ní, ar, etc., see Lesson 11) and a past or conditional. The forms of the past and conditional are the same.

	Ba		mé/mise
	Ní ba		t(h)ú/t(h)usa
			etc.
	An		'eol/'in/'iúd é
	Nach
Deir sé	go		mhaith leis	an dochtúr
	nach	mba	chuma leis
	Dhá		etc.
	Mara
	Má ba

It will be noticed that the verbal particles ní, an, go etc. used with ba are those used before the conditional of any verb. aber 1.3). Ba, however, is not lenited.

The Official Standard Irish forms are:

níor	/N'i:r/ (+ lenition)	rather than	ní ba
ar	/ər/		an mba
nár	/Na:r/		nach mba
gur	/gər/		go mba

Although these forms do occur in the dialect, they are, with the exception of *nár*¹, probably less frequent than those in the table above.

Ba generally causes lenition, e.g. ba chuma le ... 'it would be all the same for ...'. A following d, t, g, or s, however, is very often not lenited, e.g. ba dochtúr é 'he was a doctor'.

There is a strong tendency for a dh /y:/ to be pronounced before é/eisean, i/ise, iad/iadsan, ea, and before 'eo, 'in, 'iúd, e.g. ba é sin an dochtúr /bəy 'e: .../ 'that was the doctor'.

Dhá mba is used in the conditional, e.g. dhá mba chóir dhuit ... 'if you should ...', but má ba is used in the past, e.g. má ba chuma leat ... 'if it was all the same to you ...'.

¹*Nar /Na:r/* rather than nár /Na:r/ in this dialect.

2. RELATIVE OF PAST/CONDITIONAL OF COPULA

(i) Direct relative

(a) Positive

Sin é an rud ba cheart a dhéanamh. That is the thing which should be done / should have been done.

The positive direct relative is the same as the statement form, e.g. ... ba cheart ... '... that should ...'.

(b) Negative

Sin é an rud nach mba cheart a dhéanamh. That is the thing which should not be done / should not have been done.

The negative direct relative is expressed in the same way as in the conditional of the regular verb (see Lesson 12) by using nach 'that not' which causes eclipsis, e.g. ... nach mba cheart ... '... that should not ...'.

Alternatively nar /Na:r/ which lenites may be used, e.g. ... nar cheart ... '... that should not ...'.

(ii) Indirect relative

(a) Positive

Sin é an fear a mba mhaith leis an bord. That is the man who would like the table.

The positive indirect relative is expressed in the same way as in the conditional of the regular verb by using a 'that not' which causes eclipsis, e.g. ... a mba mhaith leis ... '... who (masc.) would like ...'.

Alternatively ar /ər/ which lenites may be used, e.g. ... ar mhaith leis ... '... who would like ...'.

(b) Negative

Sin é an fear nach mba mhaith leis an bord. That is the man who would not like the table.

The negative indirect relative is expressed in the same way as in the conditional of the regular verb by using nach 'that not' which causes eclipsis, e.g. ... nach mba mhaith leis ... '... who would not like ...'.

Alternatively nar /Na:r/ which lenites may be used, e.g. ... nar mhaith leis ... '... who would not like ...'.

3. PAST/CONDITIONAL OF COPULA WITH FEARR ETC.

(i) Forms

	B' Níorbh	/b'/ /N'i:rw'/	fhearr fhéidir	le Cáit, do Cháit
	Arbh	/ərw'/	fhíú	_____
	Narbh	/Na:rw'/	fhóláir
Deir sé	gurbh narbh	/gɔrw'/ /Na:rw'/	fhíor fhurasta	do Cháit
	Dhá mb' Mara mb'	/yá:m'/ /ma:rám'/	éigean

(ii) Relative

(a) Direct positive

Sin é an rud a b'fhearr le Cáit. That is the thing that Cáit would prefer.

(b) Direct negative

Sin é an rud narbh fhearr le Cáit. That is the thing that Cáit would not prefer.

(c) Indirect positive

Sin é an fear arbh fhearr leis imeacht. That is the man who would prefer to go off.

(d) Indirect negative

Sin é an fear narbh fhearr leis imeacht. That is the man who would not prefer to go off.

The examples (a) - (d) show the past conditional forms of the copula when used in idioms of the sort is fiú liom ‘it seems worthwhile to me’ (see Lesson 20), or is fiú dhom ‘it is worthwhile for me’ (see Lesson 23), before a word beginning with f, or before éigeann. Although very frequent, these forms are optional in this dialect.

2. GENITIVE WITH BROAD CONSONANT

abhainn	river	bruach na habhann	the bank of the river
athair /æ:/	father	teach m'athar /a:/	my father's house

There are a limited number of nouns (all feminine except athair) which form the genitive by making the final consonant broad, e.g. abhainn ‘river’, bruach na habhann ‘of the river’.

Similar to abhainn are: tórainn ‘border’, cláí na tórrann ‘boundary wall’; Árainn ‘Aran’, muintir Árann ‘the people of Aran’; anachain ‘misfortune’, in aghaidh na hanachan ‘against misfortune’; Albain ‘Scotland’, *muintir na hAlban*¹ ‘the people of Scotland’; Nollaig ‘Christmas’, aimsir na Nollag ‘Christmastime’; máthair ‘mother’, teach mo mháthar ‘my mother’s house’.

All these forms are pronounced according to the tables in Appendix I. Where the vowel changes it is shown above.

TEXTS

IRISEOIREACHT

Iriseoir atá in Liam. Tá sé ag plé leis an iriseoireacht ó d'fhág sé an scoil. Tá baint aige leis an bpáipéis céannaanois le a sé nó a seacht de bhlianta. Tá suim mhór aige i gcúrsaí polaitíochta. Scríobhann sé cupla alt 'chuile sheachtain faoin bpolaitíocht. Tá suim aige freisin sa spóirt agus scaití, má bhíonn cluife móreicint ar siúl, scríobhann sé tuairisc air.

Uaireanta sa samhradh, nuair a bhíonnns cuid de na hiriseoirí eile ar saoire, bíonn ar Liam tuairisceacha eile a scriobh. Arú anuraidh, cuir i gcás, cuireadh ceist air an mba mhiste leis cur síos ar chúrsaí faisean. B' éigeann dhó é a dhéanamh mar ní raibh sé ag iarraidh an fear a bhí os a chionn a eiteachtáil. Scríobh sé alt faoin gcineál buataisí agus spéacláirí a bheadh faiseanta sa bhfómhar !

¹The article is used with Albain (and Éirinn) in the genitive only.

Ansin, anuraídí, bhí an fear atá ceaptha plé le cúrsáí creidimh tinn. hlarradh ar Liam tuairisc a thabhairt ar chomhdháil a bhí ar bun ag lucht na heaglaise. Dúirt sé nach raibh mórán eolais aige faoi na cúrsáí sin ach dúradh leis go mba chuma faoi sin. B'éigean do Liam cupla lá a chaitheamh ag craitheadh láimh le ministéaráí agus ag cur agallaimh ar easbaig. Ach d'éirigh leis cupla alt a scríobh. Deirtear gurbh fhiú iad a léamh.

AN GADAI

Is innealltóir é Tomás. Chaith sé cupla seachtain le gairid ag obair thiar i gCois Fháirrge. Táthar ag tóigeáil monarcha ann. Thaithníg an cupla seachtain go mór leis agus bhí cumha air nuair a bhí sé ag fágáil. Bhí sé ag rá le muintir na háithe gurbh fhearr leis cónaí i gCois Fháirrge ná i mBaile Átha Cliath.

Nuair a tháinig sé abhaile, scanraigh sé nuair a chonaic sé an teach. Briseadh isteach ann nuair a bhí sé thiar. Goideadh teilifís agus ceamara gan trácht ar a chuid ceirníní uilig. Bhí an teach ina phraiseach. Bhí go leor dhá chuid leabhartha caite ar fud an tseomra ag an gadaí. Bhí Tomás uafásach thrína cheile.

Chuir sé fios ar na gardaí ar an bpointe. Bhí sé ag creathadh nuair a tháinig siad. Bhreathnaigh na gardaí ar an teach ach ba deacair a dhéanamh amach cén chaoi ar tháinig an gadaí isteach. D'fhiografiaigh garda de Thomás an raibh an doras glasálte. Dúirt Tomás go raibh. Rinne siad amach go mb'fhéidir gur bhain an gadaí leas as dréimire agus gur tháinig sé isteach thusa an staighre.

Ní bhfuair Tomás aon cheo ar ais ach tá súil aige go bhfaighidh sé airgead ó lucht an árachais. B'fhéidir nach bhfaigheadh sé an t-airgead go ceann cupla mí.

EXERCISES

A. Give positive responses to the following sentences, e.g. Ba chuma ...

1. An mba chuma leat dhá mbeadh an aimsir go dona ?
2. An mba mhaith leat cupán tae ?
3. An mba deacair muintir Árann a thiscint ?
4. Arbh éigean dhuit teach do mháthar a dhíol ?
5. Meas tú arbh fhiú a ghoil ann ?
6. Arbh fhearr leat cupán bainne ?
7. Dhá mba'in é an dochtúr, an mba chóir dhom caint leis ?
8. An mba'in é an ministéará ?

B. Rewrite the following positive sentences (a) as negative ones, e.g. Níorbh éigean ..., (b) with deir sé prefixed, e.g. Deir sé gurbh éigean ...

1. B'éigean dhom seasamh ar bhruach na habhann.
2. B'fhearr le muintir na hAlban an ola a dhíol.
3. B'fhiú an leabhar sin a léamh.
4. Ba deacair an fear sin a thiscint.
5. Ba chóir dhuit leitir a scríobh.
6. B'fhurasta dhuitse a bheith ag caint.

C. Rewrite the following in the conditional, e.g. Ba mhaith liom ...

1. Is maith liom súl ar bhruach na habhann.
2. Is cuma liom faoi.
3. Ní fiú dhuit é.
4. Sin é an rud is ceart dhuit a dhéanamh.
5. Sin é an leabhar nach gá dhuit a léamh.
6. Is fearr liom snámh.
7. Is furasta dhuitse a bheith ag gáirí.
8. Ar fearr leat teach t'athar nó teach do mháthar ?
9. Is fiú a ghoil ann.
10. Sin é an ministéara ar fearr liom caint leis.
11. Más 'in é an dochtúr, níl mé sásta caint léi.
12. Seo é an fear nach maith leis an bord.

TRANSLATE:

1. I spent the week shaking hands with ministers and talking to bishops. 2. He is a good journalist. He wrote a few fine articles concerning the big match last week. 3. He was telling the local people that he would prefer to live in Cois Fhairrge. 4. He hadn't got his glasses on so he shook hands with his sister instead of the bishop. 5. All his records were stolen, not to mention his books. 6. Would it be all the same to you if I smoked a cigarette ? 7. I am sure it would be worthwhile for you to hear the people of Aran talking. 8. Would it be difficult to understand them ? 9. Was that the doctor over there ? I should talk to him. 10. I got an invitation to visit her father's house. I did not want to refuse her. 11. You couldn't describe the house. 12. I was supposed to go back last week but I was sick.

LESSON 32

VOCABULARY

bádóir	/ba:do:r'	bádóirí	boatman
bainríon ¹ fem.	/ba:Nt'r'i:əN/	bainríonacha	queen
céim fem.	/k'e:m'	céimeanna	step, stile, degree
cnáimh fem.	/kra:w'	cnáimha /kra:wə/	bone
comhairle fem.	/ku:rL'ə/	comhairleacha	advice
cuan	/ku:ən/	cuenta	bay
cuan mara	/ku:ən ma:rə/	cuenta mara	sea urchin
fáilte fem.	/fa:L't'ə/		welcome
gleann	/g'l'a:N/	gleannta	valley
leaid	/l'æ:d/	leaidis	lad
leann	/l'a:N/		ale
maitheas fem.	/ma:s/		goodness, prosperity
muir fem.	/mir'/		sea
pian fem.	/p'i:əN/	pianta	pain
pluiméara	/plim'e:rə/	pluiméaraí	plumber
rí	/ri:/	rítí	king
sioc	/s'u:k/		frost
táilliúr	/tɔ:L'u:r/	táilliúirí	tailor
traein fem.	/tre:n'/	traentacha	train
Colm	/koLəm/	(man's name)
candál 1	/ka:Ndə:l'/	auction
candál fem.	/ka:Ndə:l'/	auctioning
crom 1	/krum/	stoop, bend
cromadh	/krumə/	stooping
cuartaigh 2	/ku:ərtə/	look for, search cuartú	/ku:ərtu:/	looking for fill 1	/f'i:L'/	return (ar: to), fold
filleadh	/f'i:L'ə/, /f'il'ə/	returning
géill 1	/g'e:L'/	yield, submit, give in géilleadh	/g'e:L'ə/	yielding
tairg 1	/tæ:r'əg'/	offer (do: to, ar: for) tairiscint fem.	/tæ:r'əs'k'əNt'/	offering barúil	/ba:ru:l'/	drole, comical, peculiar
cóir	/ko:r'/	fair, generous gach	/ga:x/	every
meabhrach	/m'aurəx/	intelligent
socair	/sokər'/	quiet, settled, stable

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. ag baint amach '(finally) taking, reaching, achieving' 2. as an mbaile 'from home'
3. ag cuimhníú air féin 'considering one's position, thinking it over'
4. níos socra ann féin 'more at ease with oneself'
5. Tá sé chomh maith dhuit ... 'you would be as well ..., you might as well ...'
6. ag tairiscint ar 'bidding for'

¹See note to Vocabulary of Lesson 24.

GRAMMAR

1. THE PREPOSITION ROIMH

(i) Introduction

Beidh Cáit anseo roimh Máirtín. Cáit will be here before Máirtín.

Beidh Cáit anseo roimh an gCéadaoin. Cáit will be here before Wednesday.

*Roimh /riw'/ causes lenition to a directly following noun, e.g. roimh Máirtín 'before Máirtín'. When used with the singular article it causes eclipsis to a following noun, e.g. roimh an gCéadaoin 'before Wednesday'.*

(ii) Prepositional pronouns

Ordinary form	Pronunciation
romham	/ru:m/
romhat	/ru:t/
roimhe	/riw'ə/
roimpi	/ri:m'p'ə/
romhainn	/ru:N'/
romhaibh	/ru:b'ə/
rompu	/ru:mpəb/

The contrast forms and general usage are the same as that of ag and most other prepositional pronouns, e.g. romham, romhamsa, romham féin, romhamsa mé féin; see Lesson 16.

*Rompu /ru:mpəb/ 'before them' has an alternative form romhab /ru:b/ which is not normally written.*

(iii) Meaning of roimh

The basic meaning is 'before, ahead of, in front of'.

Bhí Máirtín anseo roimh na daoine eile. Máirtín was here before the other people.

Bí ag breathnú romhat ! Look ahead of you !

More idiomatically roimh is used:

(a) to express 'on the arrival of'

Bhí Cáit romham ag an traein Cáit was at the train on my arrival.
Cáit was at the train to meet me.

(b) with fáilte 'welcome (for)', faitíos 'afraid (of)'

Tá fáilte agam romhat. I have a welcome for you.
*Tá faitíos agam roimh Cháit.*¹ I am afraid of Cáit.

¹Although tá faitíos orm is 'I am afraid' (see Lesson 17), the preposition ag is now generally used in connection with roimh.

2. THE PREPOSITION THRÍ

(i) Introduction

Tá Cáit ag breathnú thrí fhuinneog eile. Cáit is looking through another window.
Tá Máirtín ag breathnú thríd an bhfuinneog seo. Máirtín is looking through this window.

Thrí /hri:/¹ ‘through’ causes lenition to a directly following noun, e.g. thrí fhuinneog ‘through a window’. When used with the singular article it takes the form thríd and a following noun is eclipsed, e.g. thríd an bhfuinneog.

(ii) Prepositional pronouns

Ordinary form	Pronunciation
thrím	/hri:m'/
thrút	/hri:t'/
thríd	/hri:d'/
thríthi	/hri:/
thrínn	/hri:N'/
thríbh	/hri:b'/
thríothu	/hri:b/

The contrast forms and general usage are the same as that of ag and most other prepositional pronouns, e.g. thrím, thrímsa, thrím fein, thrímsa mé fein; see Lesson 16. Note, however, that the contrast form for the third person singular masculine is thrísan ‘through him’.

(iii) Meaning of thrí

The basic meaning is ‘before, ahead of, in front of’.

Feicim thríd an éadach sin. I see through that cloth.

More idiomatically, thrí is used in the expressions thrí thine ‘on fire’, thríd is thríd ‘all things considered, generally speaking, on the whole’, thrína chéile ‘in a mess’; thrí gach scéal ‘finally, in the end, the upshot of the matter is that ...’.

3. GENITIVE WITH BROAD CONSONANT AND -A

candáil	auctioning	fear na candála	the auctioning man
feadail	whistling	do chuid feadaíola	your whistling
altóir	altar	os comhair na haltóra	in front of the altar

Nouns ending in dill-(a)il and non-agent nouns ending in -óir-eoir form their genitive by making the final consonant broad and by adding -a /ə/, e.g. candáil ‘auctioning’, na candála ‘of the auctioning’.

Agent nouns ending in -óir-eoir frequently have no special genitive form, e.g. hata an bhádóir ‘the boatman’s hat’. In Official Standard Irish (and more rarely in this dialect) they are treated like altóir, e.g. hata an bhadóra, teach an mhúinteora, etc.

A limited number of nouns have similar genitive forms:

bliaín	year	tús na bliana	the beginning of the year
bainríon	queen	ainm na bainríona	the queen’s name
buachaill	boy	airgead an bhuauchalla	the boy’s money

¹Note that thrí is pronounced with a broad r /r/.

deartháir	brother	teach mo dheardhára	my brother's house
móin	turf	baint mhóna	cutting turf
maitheas	good(ness)	morán maitheasa	much good
leathshúil	one eye	ag dúnadh na leathshúla	shutting an eye
sáil	heel	barr na sála	the top of the heel
loch	lake	bruach locha	a bank of a lake
táilliúr	tailor	bean an táilliúra	the tailor's wife
Samhain ¹	Hallowtide	lá Samhna	All Saints' Day
Cáisc ¹	Easter	aimsír na Cáscá	Eastertime
feoil	meat	blas na feola	the taste of meat

There are also the following nouns in which the vowel changes regularly according to the tables in Appendix I:

gleann /a:/	valley	muintir an ghleanna /æ:/	the people of the valley
am /a:/	time	go leor ama /a:/	plenty of time

Similar to gleann is leann /a:/ 'ale', teach leanna /æ:/ 'alehouse'.

4. GENITIVE WITH BROAD CONSONANT, -A AND IRREGULAR VOWEL CHANGE

The genitive of some few nouns is formed by making the final consonant broad, by adding -a /ə/ and by changing the spelling from:

(i) oi to a

droim /i:/	back	lár an drama /a:/	the middle of the back
-------------------	------	--------------------------	------------------------

(ii) oi to o

troid /e/	fight	fonn troda /o/	a desire to fight
------------------	-------	-----------------------	-------------------

(iii) ui to o

fuil /i/	blood	ag cur fola /o/	bleeding
-----------------	-------	------------------------	----------

Somewhat similar to fuil is muir 'sea' which occurs in set phrases, e.g. ar an muir mhór 'on the great sea', cuan mara 'sea urchin'.

(iv) io to ea

sioc /u/	frost	ag cur sheaca /a:/	frosting
-----------------	-------	---------------------------	----------

(v) ei to ea

greim /i:/	bite	de bharr an ghreama /æ:/	on account of the bite
-------------------	------	---------------------------------	------------------------

5. SPECIAL COMPARATIVE FORM WITH BROAD CONSONANT AND A-

spéisiúil	interesting	níos spéisiúla	more interesting
socair	steady	níos socra	steadier
deacair	difficult	níos deacra	more difficult
cóir	fair	níos córa	fairer

¹The final a is sometimes dropped, e.g. aimsír na Cásc, Domhnach Cásc 'Easter Sunday', aonach na Samhn 'Hallowtide Fair'.

All adjectives ending in -úil, and the adjectives socair, deacair and cóir form their comparative by making the final consonant broad and by adding -a lɔl.

6. COMPARATIVE DEGREES OF ADJECTIVES WITH PAST TENSES OR CONDITIONAL

Bhí(odh)	an seomra seo ní ba dorcha.	This room was/used to be/would be darker.
Bheadh	an seomra ba dorcha anseo.	The darkest room was/used to be/would be here.

When a sentence is in a past tense or in the conditional, ní ba /N’i: bɔ/ frequently replaces níos in a comparison, and ba replaces is in a superlative. (Ba is the relative past/conditional of the copula; see Lesson 31.) Níos is in fact made up of ní ‘thing’ and the present relative of the copula.

TEXT

COMHAIRLE

Tá Colm sé bliana déag ag obair i mBaile Átha Cliath. D’fhág sé Cois Fhairrge nuair a bhí sé ocht mbliana déag d’aois. Buachaill an-mheabhrach a bhí ann. Chaith sé cheithre bliana ar an ollscoil agus ansin nuair a bhain sé a chéim amach fuair sé posta mar mhúinteoir.

I dtosach bhí sé ag roinnt árasán lena dheartáir, Pádraig, agus le leaid eile as an mbaile. Bhí an leaid eile ag obair mar phluiméara. Fear barúil a bhí ansin agus bhíodh an-chraic ag an triúr acu le chéile. Ach ansin phós an deartháir agus cheannaigh sé teach. (Pósadh an leaid eile trí mhí roimhe sin.) Bhí Colm fágtha as fein.

Chaith sé bliain mar sin. I gcaitheamh na bliana sin thosaigh Colm ag cuimhniú air féin. Cén deifir a bheadh air ag pósadh? Nach raibh a dhóthain ama aige? Mar sin féin, bhí sé ag déanamh iontas an mbeadh sé ní ba socra ann féin dhá gceannódh sé teach. Ach, ar bhealach, dhá mbeadh cúram mar sin ort, nach mbeadh an saol i bhfad ní ba deacra? Dhá mbeadh duine eicint romhat nuair a thiocfá abhaile ó do chuid oibre, bheadh cúrsai ní b’fhearr. Bhí Colm uaigneach.

Chuaigh sé féin agus Pádraig abhaile ar saoire faoi Cháisc anuraidh. Bhí an mhón le baint thart ar aimsir na Cáasca. Lá amháin, bhí an dá dheartáir ag cuidiú leis an athair nuair a bhí sé ag baint na móna. Thar éis tamaill, dùirt Colm go raibh pian i gcnáimh a dhrama ó a bheith ag cromadh anuas agus gur thastaigh scíth uaidh. Thóig Pádraig scíth freisin agus shuigh an bheirt acu ar bhrúach locha agus thosaigh siad ag caint.

‘Bheadh sé chomh maith dhuit teach a cheannacht,’ a deir Pádraig, ‘níl tú ach ag cur do chuid airgid amú ag fóc cíos mar sin.’

‘Cén dochar?’ a deir Colm, ‘tá an saol fada! ’

Ach ghéill Colm dhá dheartáir. Nuair a d’fhill an bheirt acu ar Bhaile Átha Cliath thosaigh Colm ag cuartú teach. Lá amháin, ‘spáineadh teach dhó agus chomh luath is a shiúil sé isteach thrí an doras thig sé go mba ‘in é an teach a bhí uaidh. Bhí sé go díreach cosúil le teach a dheartára. Candáladh é agus d’éisigh le Colm é a cheannacht. Bhí go leor daoine ag tairiscint ar an teach agus dhá bharr sin, choisín sé go leor. Ach thrí is thrí, bhí Colm sásta go maith leis.

D’airigh muid le gairid go bhfuil Colm le pósadh.

EXERCISES

A. Complete these sentences with the appropriate prepositional pronoun, e.g. rompu.

1. Nuair a theaganns strainséaraí anseo, bíonn fáilte againn
2. Tá an t-éadach chomh tanai sin gur féidir feiceáil
3. Bhí fonn troda ar an bhfear mór agus bhí faitíos agamsa
4. Nuair a tháinig Cáit abhaile cé a bheadh ach a huncail.
5. Bhí tú chomh fuar sin go sílfeá go ngabhfadh an ghaoth
6. Tá fáilte, a Mháirtín !
7. B'fhearr dhúinn a bheith ag breathnú, go díreach ar fhaitíos go mbeadh duine eicint ag tiocht.
8. Bíonn an fhuinneog chomh salach sin nach bhfeicfeá aon bhlas.....
9. Nuair a chuaigh mé isteach sa siopa bhí beirt
10. Tá fáilte, a dhaoine uaisle !

B. Give the nominative singular of the nouns which are in the genitive, e.g. móin.

1. Tháinig leorai móna eile inné.
2. Bhí sé ina chónai i lár an ghleanna.
3. Ó bhí an fear bocht tinnanois, níl móran maitheasa ann.
4. Ní bheidh móran ama againn. Tá an-fhaitíos orm go ngabhfaidh an teach uilig thrí thine
5. Tá mo shrón ag cur fola.
6. Bhí siad anseo oíche Shamhna.
7. Bíonn túis na bliana níos socra.
8. Tá bean mo dheardhára níos gnaoiúla.

TRANSLATE:

1. You are welcome !
2. I couldn't see through the window.
3. All things considered, it would be much nicer if there was somebody from home there on your arrival in Dublin.
4. My nose is bleeding.
5. He offered twenty thousand pounds for his brother's house.
6. This book is more interesting.
7. The beginning of the year was cold. It was snowing and frosting.
8. Our house was in the middle of the valley.
9. Pádraig's brother is a very intelligent boy. He took his degree after three years at the university.
10. I thought that it would be as well for me to buy a house.
11. I was only wasting my money paying rent.
12. He was much more at ease with himself when he gave in to his brother.
13. They were helping their father who was cutting turf.
14. Colm had a pain in his back from bending down.
15. The two of them sat on the bank of the lake and took a rest.

LESSON 33

VOCABULARY

báisín	/ba:sí:n/	báisíní	basin
caoireoil fem.	/ki:r'o:l'/		mutton
coinne	/ki:n'ə/	coinní	appointment
colainn fem.	/kolən'/	colainneacha	(living) body
corón fem.	/kru:n'/	corónacha /kru:Nəxi:/	crown
cráin fem.	/kra:n'/	crántacha /kra:Ntəxi:/	sow
fiacail fem.	/f'i:ækəl'/	fiacula /f'i:ækələ/	tooth
fiacláir	/f'i:ækLɔ:r'/	fiacláirí	dentist
láir fem.	/la:r'/	láracha /la:rəxi:/	mare
locht	/Loxt/	lochtanna	fault
muinín fem.	/min'í:n'/		trust
neaipicín póca	/n'æ:p'æk'i:n' po:kə/	neaipicíní póca	handkerchief
néal	/N'e:l/		nap, swoon, fit
ráille	/ra:ll'ə/	ráillí	rail, railing, banister
rotha	/ro:/	róití	wheel
scil fem.	/s'k'il'/	scileanna	skill,
sclábháif	/skLə:wɪ:/	sclábhaithe /skLə:wi:/	labourer
searrach	/s'ær:əx/	searraigh /s'ær:a/	foal
uachtaráin	/u:extərə:n'/	uachtaráin /u:extərə:n'/	president
beannaigh 2	/b'æ:Nə/		bless, greet
beannú	/b'æ:nu:/		blessing, greeting
braiteoireacht fem.	/bræ:t'o:r'əxt/		hesitating
crá	/kra:/		tormenting, annoying
cráigh 1	/kra:/		torment, annoy
píoc 1	/p'uk/		pick, pluck, preen
píocadh	/p'ukə/		picking
sá 1	/sa:/		stick, stab, shove
sá	/sa:/		sticking
aibí	/æ:b'i:/		ripe, smart
bacach	/ba:kəx/		lame
baileach	/ba:l'əx/		exactly
binn	/b'i:N'/		melodious
ciotach	/k'i:təx/		clumsy, lefthanded
olite	/el'tə:/		skilled, trained
stadach	/sta:dəx/		having a stutter
tútach	/tu:təx/		awkward, mean
úr	/u:r/		fresh
ar a laghad	/er'ə Laid/		at least ar a mhéad	/er'ə w'e:d/		at most
faoi dhó	/fi: yo:/		twice
thar barr	/har ba:r/		outstanding
thar cionn	/har k'i:N/		excellent

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. éirí as (lit. to rise out of), ‘to cease’
2. tá muinín agam as ‘I trust him’
3. tá locht agam air ‘I have a fault to find with it’
4. muinín a dhéanamh as duine ‘to put trust in someone’
5. Caith fút! ‘Take a seat!'
6. is fada nach bhfaca mé thú. ‘It is a long time since I have seen you’
7. rud eicint a chur ina loighe ar dhuine ‘to persuade a person of something’
8. ag baint scil as (lit. taking skill out of), ‘examining, analysing, diagnosing’

GRAMMAR

1. THE PREPOSITION THAR

(i)

Shiúil Cáit thar theach eile.	Cáit walked past another house.
Shiúil Cáit thar an bhfeair sin.	Cáit walked past that man.

Thar /ha:r/, /hæ:rl/ ‘past’ causes lenition to a directly following noun, e.g. thar theach ‘past a house’, except in certain adverbial phrases, e.g. thar sáile (lit. ‘over brine’) ‘beyond the sea, overseas’; thar barr (lit. ‘past top’) ‘outstanding’; thar cionn ‘excellent’. When used with the singular article a following noun is eclipsed, e.g. thar an bhfeair ‘past the man’.

(ii) Prepositional pronouns

Ordinary form	Pronunciation
tharam	/ha:rəm/
tharat	/ha:rəd/
thairis	/hæ:r'əs'/
thairti	/ha:rt'ə/
tharainn	/ha:rəN'/
tharaibh	/ha:ri:/
thartu	/ha:rtəb/

The contrast forms and general usage are the same as that of ag and most other prepositional pronouns, e.g. tharam, tharamsa, tharam féin, tharamsa mé féin; see Lesson 16. Note, however, that the contrast form of thairis is tharsan /ha:rsən/.

Tharat, thartu have the alternative forms thartat /ha:rtəd/ and tharu /ha:rəb/ resp., though these are not normally written. Tharaibh has the alternative pronunciation /ha:rb'/.

In the impersonal use of the third person singular thairis is replaced by thart ‘over, around’.

(iii) Meaning of thar

The basic meaning is ‘past, beyond, over’:

Tá Cáit ag siúl thar an ngeata.	Cáit is walking past the gate.
Tá an madadh ag caitheamh léim thar an mbosca.	The dog is jumping over the box.
Chaith Cáit thar bláthain ansin.	Cáit spent over a year there.

More idiomatically thar is used:

(a) with a bheith to express ‘outstandingly, extremely’

Tá Cáit thar a bheith go maith Cáit is extremely good.

(b) with mar to express ‘compared with how’

Tá Cáit go maith thar mar a bhí sí inné. Cáit is well compared with how she was yesterday.

2. GENITIVE WITH BROAD CONSONANT AND -ACH

céir	wax	baladh na céarach	the smell of wax
cathair	city	muintir na cathrach	the people of the city
glúin	knee	caipín na glúnach	the kneecap
súil	eye	os cionn na súlach	above the eye

A limited number of feminine nouns form their genitive by making the final consonant broad and by adding -ach /əx/, e.g. céir ‘wax’, na céarach ‘of the wax’. It will be noticed that most of these nouns are pronounced with one long syllable and a final slender r, l, n. If the noun is spelt with two short syllables, e.g. cathair ‘city’, the second syllable is dropped when -ach is added: na cathrach ‘of the city’.

Further examples are:

láir	mare	searrach lárach	a female foal
cathaoir	chair	tóní na cathaorach	the seat of the chair
traein	train	doras na traenach	the door of the train
tóin	bottom	póca tónach	hip pocket
corónin	crown	ar shon na corónach	for the sake of the crown
cráin	sow	cloigeann na cránach	the sow’s head
stail	stallion	cloigeann na stalach	the stallion’s head
caora	sheep	craiceann na caorach	sheepskin

The medial r also becomes broad in caoireoil ‘mutton’: ceathrú caorólach ‘a quarter (pound) of mutton’.

3. GENITIVE WITH BROAD CONSONANT, -ACH AND IRREGULAR VOWEL CHANGE

These feminine nouns form their genitive by making the final consonant broad and by adding -ach /əx/, and by changing the spelling from:

(i) oi to o

toil /i/ will in aghaidh mo tholach /o/ against my will

(ii) ui to o

cuid /i/ share ag iarraidh a chodach /o/ wanting his share (of food)

4. GENITIVE WITH -N

A few feminine nouns form their genitive by adding -n /n':

comharsa	neighbour	teach na comharsan	the neighbour's house
lacha	duck	cois na lachan	the duck's foot
ceathrú	thigh	os cionn na ceathrún	above the thigh
An Cheathrú Rua (place-name)		muintir na Ceathrún Rua	the people of 'Carraroe'

We should further note: Éire 'Ireland', muintir na hÉireann 'the people of Ireland', in Éirinn 'in Ireland'. The form Éirinn is used after prepositions and also optionally as nominative.

5. FORMATION OF ABSTRACT NOUNS

(i) Abstract nouns formed from adjectives

(a) with -(e)acht

Adjective	Comparative	Noun
bán white	níos báine whiter	báineacht whiteness
dearg red	níos deirge redder	deirgeacht redness
oilde skilled	níos oilte more skilled	oilteacht skill
barúil amused	níos barúla more amused	barúlacht drollery
deacair difficult	níos deacra more difficult	deacracht difficulty
aibl ripe	níos aibl riper	aiblocht ripeness

To form an abstract noun the ending -(e)acht /əxtʃ/ is normally added to the comparative form of an adjective. The ending -eacht follows a slender consonant, e.g. báine, báineacht; the ending -acht follows a broad consonant, e.g. deacra, deacracht, or by spelling convention (see Appendix I.6) the ending -ocht follows i, e.g. aibl, aiblocht.

A few adjectives with no special comparative form add -ocht /i:əxtʃ/, e.g. éasca 'easy, quick', éascaócht 'easiness, quickness'; cliste 'clever', clistíocht 'cleverness'; sásfa 'satisfied', sásfaócht 'satisfaction'.

(b) with -(e)as, -(e)adas

Adjective	Noun
maith good	maitheas
buíoch grateful	buíochas
tinn /i:/ sick	tinneas /i/
beo alive, quick	beos

Some adjectives of one syllable form an abstract noun by adding -(e)as; -eas follows a slender consonant, e.g. maith, maitheas; the ending -as follows a broad consonant, e.g. buíoch, buíochas; by spelling convention s follows o: beo, beos.

Somewhat similar are te /t̪e/ 'hot', teas /t̪æ:s/ 'heat'; soibhir /səw'ər/ 'rich', soibhreas /saiw'rəs/ 'richness'

(c) with -(e)adas

Adjective	Noun
ciúin quiet	ciúineadas
binn /i:/ melodious	binneadas /i/

Similar to the above are: úr 'fresh', úireadas 'freshness' (the final r becomes slender); dorcha 'dark', dorchadas 'darkness'.

(ii) Abstract nouns formed from agent nouns

Agent noun	Abstract noun
bádóir	boatman
feilméara	farmer
sclábháí	labourer
siopadóir	shopkeeper
cabaire	natterer
bádóireacht	boating
feilméaracht	farming
sclábháiocht	labouring
siopadóireacht	shopping
cabaireacht	nattering

To form an abstract noun the ending -(e)acht is often added to an agent noun; for the selection of the variants -eacht, -acht, -ocht see (a) above. Agent nouns in -úr become slender and add -eacht, e.g. táilliúr, ‘tailor’, táilliúireacht ‘tailoring’.

Abstract nouns of this sort can be used as verbal nouns, e.g. ag feilméaracht ‘farming’.

6. ORDINAL NUMBERS

1st	an chéad cheann	/ə x'e:d/
2nd	an dara ¹ceann	/ə da:rə/
3rd	an tríú ceann	/ə t'r'i:wu:/
4th	an ceathrú ceann	/ə k'æ:ru:/
5th	an cúigiú ceann	/ə ku:g'u:/
6th	an séú ceann	/ə s'e:u:/
7th	an seachtú ceann	/ə s'æ:xtu:/
8th	an t-ochtú ceann	/ə toxtu:/
9th	an naoú ceann	/ə Ni:u:/
10th	an deichiú ceann	/ə d'eu:/
11th	an t-aonú ceann déag	/ə ti:Nu: ... d'e:g/
12th	an dóú ceann déag	/ə do:u: ... d'e:g/
13th	an tríú ceann déag etc.	/ə t'r'i:u: ... d'e:g/
19th	an naoú ceann déag	/ə Ni:u: ... d'e:g/
20th	an fichiú ceann	/ə f'i:u:/
21st	an t-aonú ceann fichead	/ə ti:Nu: ... f'i:d/
22nd	an dóú ceann fichead	/ə do:u: ... f'i:d/
23rd	an tríú ceann fichead etc.	/ə t'r'i:u: ... f'i:d/
30th	an deichiú ceann fichead	/ə d'eu: ... f'i:d/
31st	an t-aonú ceann déag is fiche	/ə ti:Nu: ... d'e:g əs fi:/
32nd	an dóú ceann déag is fiche	/ə do:u: /
33rd	an tríú ceann déag is fiche etc.	/ə t'r'i:u: /
39th	an naoú ceann déag is fiche	/ə Ni:u: /

The ordinal numbers can be seen in the above table. An chéad ‘the first’ lenites a following noun (except those beginning with t, d), e.g. an chéad bhord ‘the first table’, an chéad duine ‘the first person’. An chéad used with eile means ‘the next’, e.g. an chéad uair eile ‘the next time’, an chéad bliain eile ‘next year’. All the ordinal numbers except an ¹A common alternative is darna /da:rənə/.

chéad prefix h to a following vowel, e.g. an dara háit ‘the second place’, an tríú húlla ‘the third apple’.

Ordinals above thirty-nine are generally avoided by the use of circumlocution, e.g. sin (anois) dhá fhichead leabhar ‘that there (now) is forty books’, sin (anois) leabhar is dhá fhichead ‘that there (now) is forty-one books’; or by using the older system reintroduced through the schools:

40th	an daicheadú ceann	/ə da:du:/
41th	an t-aonú ceann is daichead	/ə ti:Nu: ... əs da:d/
50th	an caogadú ceann	/ə ki:gədu:/
60th	an seascadú ceann	/ə s'æ:skədu:/
70th	an seachtadú ceann	/ə s'æ:xtədu:/
80th	an t-ochtódú ceann	/ə toxto:du:/
90th	an nójadú ceann	/ə No:xadu:/
100th	an céadú ceann	/ə k'e:du:/
1000th	an míliú ceann	/ə m'i:l'u:/
1,000,000th	an milliúnú ceann	/ə m'iL'u:Nu:/

After an ordinal numeral, nouns remain unchanged in the genitive, e.g. clann an dara bean ‘the second wife’s family’.

TEXT

AN FIACLÓIR

Deireann na fiaclóirí i gcónaí go mba chóir dhuit a ghoil acu ar a laghad faoi dhó sa m bliain. Bím féin i gcónaí ag caint ar a ghoil ag an bhfiacloir. Bím i gcónaí go díreach ag goil ag cur glaoch air nuair a thosaím ag braiteoireacht. B'fhéidir gurbh fhearr é a chur siar cupla seachtain eile ! Ar an gcaoi seo, éiríonn liom a ghoil aige ar a mhéad 'chuile thríú bliain.

Bhí mé ag an bhfiacloir an lá cheana. Nuair a bhí mé i mo shuí sa seomra ag fanacht le a ghoil isteach aige, tháinig bean isteach sa seomra. Ní raibh fonn cainte ormsa ach níor éirigh an bhean as a bheith ag cabaireacht. Tá mé cráite ag an bhfiacail seo. Níor chodail mé néal le dhá olche. Shílfeá go raibh 'chuile chndáimh i mo cholainn tinn, tá an oiread sin pian inti.'

Thar éis tamall, ghlac mé truaí don bhean bhocht. Thosaigh mé a rá nach raibh an scéal baileach chomh dona sin agus ag inseacht dhi cé chomh maith is a bhí an fiaclóir agus cén mhuinín a bhí agamsa as. Ach bhí 'chuile locht aicese air.

'Níl maith ar bith ann !' a deir an bhean. 'Chaith mé féin thar sé bliana thar sáile agus bhí na fiaclóirí go hiontach. Bhí siad thar a bheith go maith. Ach maidir le fiaclóirí na cathrach seo, nó fiaclóirí na hÉireann, ní dhéanfaínn aon mhuinín astu.'

Faoin am ar cuireadh fios ormsa le a ghoil isteach ag an bhfiacloir, bhí mé ag creathadh leis an bhfaiús. Ach chuaigh fear eile tharam ar a bhealach amach agus dúirt seisean liom mo mhisneach a choinneáil. Ní raibh sé chomh dona sin !

'Tá fáilte romhat,' a deir an fiaclóir, 'cén chaoi a bhfuil tú – is fada nach bhfaca mé thú.'

'Thar cionn,' a deirimse. Bhí mé ag iarraidh a chur ina loighe orm féin go raibh.

'Caith fút ansin !'

Shuigh mé sa gcathaoir agus chas an fiacлoir rotha beag. D'ardaigh sé an chathaor le mé a dhéanamh níos compóirtí. Ansin leag sé túáille beag cosúil le neaicíon póca ar an ráille in aice liom. Líon sé gloine agus leag¹ í ar an mbáisín beag a bhí in aice na cathaorach. Shá sé rud eicint isteach i mo bhéal agus thosaigh sé ag piocadh as mo chuid fiacл. Chaith sé scaitheamh ag baint scil astu agus ag cuartú poill. Ansin dùirt sé gur cuireadh corón ar cheann de na fiacula cupla bliain ó shin agus go raibh barr na corónach briste. Chaihfinn a thíocht ar ais lá eile. D'fhéadfainn coinne a dhéanamh leis an rúnaí ar mo bhealach amach.

Is duine deas é an fiacлoir. Agus ar ndóigh, tá sé an-oilte. Mar sin féin, caithfidh mé a rá go raibh áthas orm nuair a bhain mé an doras amach !

EXERCISES

A. Complete these sentences, using the appropriate prepositional pronoun to replace the brackets, e.g. thairis.

1. Chaih an madadh léim (thar an mbosca).
2. Shiúil go leor daoine (thar Bhríd) ar maidin.
3. Lig muid an bhliain (thar) (muid) gan móran oibre a dhéanamh.
4. Bhí an iomarca ciumhaiseanna (thar) (mé) sa leaba aréir. Bhí mé rósta.
5. An ndeachaigh an dochтr (thar) (thusa) gan beannú dhuit ar chor ar bith ?
6. Ní chuirfinn (thar na comharsanna) rud chomh gránna sin a dhéanamh.
7. Chuaigh Uachtarán na hÉireann (thar) (seisean) sa gcarr.
8. Chonaic mé carr na comharsan ag imeacht (thar) (sibh) ar an mbealach aniar.

B. Give the nominative singular of the noun which is in the genitive, e.g. caora.

- | | |
|--------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 1. craiceann caorach | 8. os cionn mo shúlach |
| 2. póca tónach | 9. chomh buí le cois lachan |
| 3. cois na cathaorach | 10. in aghaidh a tholach |
| 4. os cionn na glúnach | 11. muintir na Ceathrún Rua(i) |
| 5. i lár na cathrach | 12. cuid na comharsan |
| 6. fuinneog na traenach | 13. sclábhaithe na hÉireann |
| 7. ceathrú caorólach | 14. cluais na cránach |

C. Write out fully, e.g. an dara hulla.

- | | |
|---------------------|---------------------|
| 1. 2ú hulla | 4. 5ú háit |
| 2. 30ú fear | 5. 15ú duine |
| 3. 21ú ceann | 6. 11ú bord |

TRANSLATE:

1. Just when I was going to ring the dentist I began to hesitate. This (here) is the third time I have done that. 2. The neighbour's son was at the doctor yesterday. They say that he has some peculiar sickness. 3. I was annoyed by people ringing me. At last, against my will, I made an appointment with one of them. 4. I did not feel like talking but there are always people who want to natter. 5. The doctors of this city are extremely good. I would be willing to trust any of them. 6. He was over fifteen years abroad. He was farming in America. There is great wealth in that country. 7. He placed a handkerchief on the rail and a glass of water on the basin. 8. At least I bought a quarter of fresh mutton from the shopkeeper yesterday. 9. Was the President of Ireland at the big match on Sunday ? 10. Did you shut the train door ?

¹In a sentence where the same subject pronoun occurs after two or more verbs in the past tense, it is sometimes to be understood. This is a feature of narrative style.

LESSON 34

VOCABULARY

aithrist fem.	/æ:r'əs't'/		imitation, mimicry
ál	/a:L/	áltá	clutch, litter
bois fem.	/bos'/	pl. bosa	palm (of hand)
call	/kɑ:L/		call, necessity
dair fem.	/dæ:r'/		oak dícheall	/d'i:L/		best effort
gaol	/gi:L/	gaoltá	relation
jab	/dʒa:b/	jabanna	job
masla	/ma:sLə/	masláí	insult
naprún	/Na:pru:N/	naprúin /Na:pru:n'/	apron
radharc	/rairk/		sight
ronnach	/ruNəx/	ronnacha	mackerel
scornach	/sko:rnəx/	scornaí	throat
maslaigh 2	/ma:sLə/		insult
maslú	/ma:sLu:/		insulting
smaoinigh 2	/smi:n'ə/		think (ar: about), recall smaoiniú	/smi:n'u:/		thinking
téamh	/t'e:w/		heating
téigh 1	/t'e:/		heat, warm
aerach	/e:rəx/		airy, lighthearted, giddy
cneasta	/k'r'æ:stə/		honest
leadránach	/L'ɑ:dra:Nəx/		boring, tedious
slachtmhar	/sLa:xtər/		handsome, well-finished
ainneoin (go/nach)	/iN'u:n'/	(with gen.)	despite, in spite of ar nós	/er Nu:s/	(with gen. 1)	like
i gcomórtas le	/ə gumo:rtəs/		in comparison with
'twige	/tig'ə/		why ?

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. tá gaol agam le 'I am related to'
2. ag cur duine in aithne do dhuine 'introducing a person to another person'
3. cogar! (lit. whisper), 'hey, tell me !, say !'
4. lán na súl a bhaint as (lit. to take the full of the eyes out of), 'to get a good and proper look at'
5. déanfaidh sé cús dhom 'that will be sufficient for me; that will do me'

¹Exceptionally ar nós (a preposition which can take the genitive) is followed directly by mise, mé féin, etc., e.g. Tá Gaeilge aige ar nós thu féin 'He can speak Irish like yourself.'

GRAMMAR

1. EMPHATIC WORD ORDER

(i) Fronted sentences

The copula (see Lesson 11) can be used to emphasise or ‘front’ the part of a sentence to which particular importance is given.

Tá an fear ag caint le Cáit anois.

The man is talking to Cáit now.

Fronting:

(a) Is é an fear atá ag caint le Cáit anois.

It is the man who is talking to Cáit now.

(b) Is ag caint le Cáit atá an fear anois.

The man is talking to Cáit now.

(lit. It is talking to C. that the man is now.)¹

(c) Is le Cáit atá an fear ag caint anois.

It is to Cáit the man is talking now.

(d) Is anois atá an fear ag caint le Cáit.

It is now that the man is talking to Cáit.

The appropriate pronoun (é, i, iad) is used before a definite noun, e.g. Is é an fear atá ... ‘It is the man who is ...’; Is í Cáit atá ... ‘It is Cáit who is ...’; Is iad mo mhuintir atá ... ‘It is my people who are ...’; see Lesson 14.

Ní bhíonn sé anseo go minic.

He is not often here.

Ní minic a bhíonn sé anseo.

It is not often that he is here.

When an adverb or adjective with go (e.g. go minic, go maith) is fronted, no go is required following the copula.

(ii) Responses

(a) Ab é an fear atá ag caint le Cáit ?
Is it the man who is talking to Cáit ?

Is é. /s' e:/ Yes. /s'e:/ Ní hé. /N'i: he:/
No.

In responses the appropriate pronoun is repeated with the required form of the copula (see Lesson 14).

(b) Ar ag caint le Cáit atá an fear ?
Is it talking to Cáit that the man is ?

Is ea. /s'æ:/ Yes. /s'æ:/ Ní hea. /N'i: hæ:/
No.

(c) Ar le Cáit atá an fear ag caint ?

Is it to Cáit that the man is talking ?

... ...

(d) Ar anois atá an fear ag caint le Cáit ?

Is it now that the man is talking to Cáit ?

... ...

(e) Ar cùthal atá an fear ag caint le Cáit ?

Is it shy that the man is talking to Cáit ?

... ...

Is the man who is talking to Cáit shy ?

When a preposition, adverb or adjective is fronted, ea is used in responses with the required form of the copula. For a more emphatic response a prepositional pronoun or an adjective can be repeated, e.g. Ar le Cáit atá ...? Is léi. Ar dearg atá ...? Is dearg.

In all the above fronted sentences the copula is often simply understood, e.g. ag caint le Cáit atá ...? Is ea.

¹This type of sentence is common in English as spoken in Ireland..

(iii) Fronted copula sentences

Ba cheart dhuit a thíocht.
Thusa a ba cheart a thíocht.

You should come.
 You should come.

The topics in copula sentences are not normally fronted in statements except in the phrases ba cheart, ba chóir ‘you should ...’. In this case the contrast form of the personal pronoun, e.g. thusa, corresponding to the form of do, e.g. dhuit, in the basic sentence is fronted.

2. EMPHATIC CONSTRUCTIONS

(i) Is é an chaoi

Bhris sé an bord.

Is é an chaoi ar bhris sé an bord.

An nglannann Cáit an bord ?

Ab é an chaoi a nglannann Cáit an bord ?

He broke the table.

Actually, he broke the table.

Does Cáit clean the table ?

Does Cáit actually clean the table ?

The verb can be emphasised by using is é an chaoi ... /s̪e: xi:/ or ab é an chaoi ... ? /əb̪e: xi:/ in questions. Alternatively is amhlaidh ... /s̪s auLə/, ar amhlaidh ... ? /ər auLə/ can be used with a direct relative clause.

(ii) Is éard

Dúirt sé go raibh sé ag imeacht.

Is éard a dúirt sé go raibh sé ag imeacht.

He said he was going off.

What he said is that he was going off.

Is éard /s̪e:rd/, which is followed by a direct relative (see Lesson 13), is used to emphasise following indirect speech. The forms of the copula which are employed before é/í/íad (see Lesson 11) are used, e.g. Ab éard ... ? Nach éard ?

3. SOME IRREGULAR GENITIVES

bean	/b̪'æ:n/	woman	cóta na mná	/mra:/	the woman's coat
driofúr	/d̪'r'aur/	sister	fear mo dhreibhre	/y'r'ef'i:r'ə/	my sister's husband
lá	/lə:/	day	solas an lae	/le:/	the daylight
teach	/t̪'æ:x/	house	doras an tí	/t̪'i:/	the door of the house
leaba	/l̪'æ:bə/	bed	bun na leapa	/l̪'æ:po/	the bottom of the bed
mí	/m̪'i:/	month	deireadh na míosa	/m̪'i:sə/	the end of the month
trá	/trə:/	shore	bóthar na trá	/trɔ:w/	the top of the shore
dair	/dæ:r/	oak	crann daráí	/da:ri:/	an oak tree
talamh	/ta:Lə/	ground	tomhais na talún	/ta:lu:N/	measuring the ground

The genitive of trá is pronounced with a final /w/. The genitive of talamh may be either an talaimh or na talún..

4. GENITIVE OF CERTAIN VERBAL NOUNS IN SET EXPRESSIONS

In set phrases, certain verbal nouns have a genitive form which is similar to the verbal adjective. The following are some examples:

caitheamh	smoking	ced caite	permission to smoke
pósadh	marrying	fáinne pósta	a wedding ring
téamh	heating	deis téite	a heating apparatus
suí	sitting	áit suite	a place to sit
loighe	lying	áit loíte	a place to lie

5. GENITIVE PLURAL IN SET EXPRESSIONS

Tá na háid anseo.
Tá úinéaraí na mbáid anseo.

The boats are here.
The owners of the boats are here.

Normally there is only one plural form (see Lesson 25). However, in some set phrases (mostly concerning animals or parts of the human body) an older genitive plural is still used:

		nom. pl.	gen. pl.
éan	bird	éanacha	ceol na n-éan
cearc	hen	cearca	teach na gcearc
bois	palm	bosa	ag bualadh bos
ronnach	mackerel	ronnacha	ag iascach ronnach

In form, the old genitive plural is generally the same as the nominative singular, e.g. éan 'bird', ceol na n-éan 'the song of the birds'. However, in the case of a feminine noun like bois it is the same as the old nominative (ending in a broad consonant), e.g. bois 'palm of hand', bualladh bos 'lit. hitting of hands, clapping'; muic 'pig', cuid na muc 'the food of the pigs, pig food'.

In the case of nouns which add a consonant in the genitive singular, e.g. lacha 'duck', gen. lachan (see Lesson 33), the old plural genitive is the same as the genitive singular, e.g. ál lachan 'a brood of ducks'.

Radharc na súil (from súil'eye') 'the sight of the eyes, eyesight' is exceptional..

6. DHÁ 'HOWEVER' WITH ABSTRACT NOUN

Dhá	dheacracht	difficult
	dheirgeacht	red
However	bharúlacht	amusing	é, beidh Cáit sásta.
	aistí	strange	it is, Cáit will be pleased.
	shlachtmhaire	handsome
	chrúacha	hard
	fheabhas	good, excellent

Dhá /və:/, /a:/, which is not stressed, causes lenition and is followed by a form which is the same as the abstract noun (see Lesson 33), e.g. dheacracht 'difficulty', dhá dheacracht 'however difficult'. Adjectives ending in -(e)ach, e.g. aisteach 'strange', or in -mhar e.g. slachtmhar 'handsome', or adjectives pronounced with a final vowel, e.g. crua 'hard', take a form the same as the comparative, e.g. níos aistí 'stranger', dhá aistí 'however strange', níos slachtmhare 'handsomer', dhá shlachtmhaire 'however handsome', níos chrúacha 'harder', dhá chrúacha 'however hard'.

A sentence of the type 'the bigger, the better' is expressed by dhá mhéad é is ea is fearr. This use of is ea reflects a usage (which is now most infrequent) where it followed an adverbial phrase which was fronted, e.g. ar an mbóthar is ea a chonaic mé i 'on the road I saw her'.

7. A... IS 'HOW...'

Is iontach a fheabhas is atá sé.

It is amazing how good he is.

A /ə/, which is not stressed and causes lenition, takes the same form of an adjective as follows dhá 'however' (see above). This construction precedes is and a direct relative clause (see Lesson 13).

TEXT

AN TARBH

Is cuimhne liom go maith an samhradh a chaith muid ag obair i Sasana. Mic leinn a bhí ionainn an uair sin agus is muide a bhí óg agus aerach ! Dháiríre, ní raibh call ar bith dhúinn an samhradh a chaitheamh ag sclábháiochtí. Bhí scoláireachtaí againn agus ní raibh an t-airgead ag tastáil chomh géar sin uainn. Ach bhí gaol eicint ag fear mo dhreibhfe le fear a raibh teach ósta mór aige i Sasana agus chuaigh muid anonn ag iarraidh jab air.

Fear mór láidir ar nós tarbh a bhí ann. 'An Tarbh' a thugadh muid i gcónaí air. Chuir muid muid féin in aithne dhó. Dúirt mé leis go raibh gaol agam leis. Ní roshásta a bhí sé. Is é an chaoi a sílfeá gur ag iarraidh é a mhaslú a bhí muid ! Ach thug sé posta dhúinn ag níochán soithí sa gcisteánach.

B'uafásach an sclábháiocht é. Bhíodh muid ag obair deich n-uaire an chloig sa ló¹ aige. Bhíodh an t-aer chomh dona sin go mbíodh mo scornach tinn i gcaitheamh an lae. B'éigean dhúinn naprúin mhóra fhada a chaitheamh agus sheasadh muid ag an mbáisín ó mhaidin go hoíche ag níochán agus ag triomú soithí. A leithéide d'obair leadráinach !

Is cuimhne liom go raibh mé ag obair an-chrua. Bhí mé ag iarraidh mo dhícheall a dhéanamh agus mo chuid airgid a shaothrú go cneasta. Ach dhá chruacha a bhínn ag obair, is ea is cantalaí a bhíodh an Tarbh. Dhá mhéad oibre a dhéanfá, ní fhéadfá an Tarbh a shásamh. B'fhearr leis a bheith ag clamhsán.

'Cogar !' a deir comrádaí liom lá amháin. "Tuige a bhfuil tusa ag briseadh do chroí ag obair mar sin ? Tóig go bog é ! Is é an chaoi nach bhfeiceann an Tarbh ar chor ar bith thú. Tá radharc na súl go dona aige.'

Sin é a shíl muid nó go raibh muid ina seasamh ag an mbáisín lá amháin ag déanamh aithrist air agus chonaic sé muid. A leithéide de bhuille is a bhual sé ar mo chomrádaí ! Hóbair dhó é a mharú. Ach nuair a smaoiním anois air, is dóigh go raibh an t-ádh orainn nar briseadh muid.

Is cuimhne liom an chéad pháí a fuair mé. Bhreathnaigh sí chomh mór an uair sin dhúinn i gcomórtas leis an airgead a bhíodh ag mac léinn. Bhí seomra codlata againn i dteacháin beag ar chúla an tí mhóir ('teach na gcearc' a thug mo chomrádaí air). Dhúisigh ceol na n-éan go moch ar maidin mé. D'éirigh mé agus leag mé mo chuid airgid amach ag bun na leapa go direach le lán mo shúl a bhaint as !

Gheall an Tarbh dhá scór punt eile an duine dhúinn dhá bhfanadh muid go deireadh na míosa. Shíl muide go ndéanfadh an t-airgead a bhí saothraithe againn cùis dhúinn agus d'imigh muid abhaile.

Ainneoin go raibh an obair crua ní chreidfeadh ar muintir a fheabhas is a bhí muid ag breathnú nuair a bhain muid an baile amach.

EXERCISES

A. Rewrite the following, bringing the words in bold face to the front of the sentence, e.g. Is ag goil abhaile atá mé.

1. Tá mé ag goil abhaile.
2. Tá Cáit anseo.
3. Beidh Bríd anseo amáireach.
4. Tá an carr ar chúla an tí.

¹In certain set phrases ló may replace lá following a preposition.

5. Beidh Tomás ag tíocht ag deireadh na míosa.
6. Bhí an fáinne pósta ar an mbord.
7. Tá crann daraí ansin.
8. Tá Peige ag cóiriú na leapa anois.
9. Bíonn sé ag caint leis an dochtúr go minic.
10. Tá teach mo dhreifire i nGáillimh.
11. Bhí mé óg aerach an uair sin.
12. Ba cheart dhuitse caint leis.

B. Prefix sílim to the fronted forms of the above sentences, e.g. Sílim gur ag goil abhaile atá mé.

C. Rewrite the following, using is éard or is é an chaoi appropriately to emphasise the words in bold face, e.g. Shíl mé go raibh sé ann ach sé an chaoi a raibh sé imithe.

1. Shíl mé go raibh sé ann ach bhí sé imithe.
2. Ní raibh mé tuirseach. Bhí mé thar cionn.
3. Deir sé go bhfuil Máire tinn.
4. Bhí mé cinnte go raibh an bord glan. Ní raibh sé glan ar chor ar bith.
5. Is amadán é feín.
6. Dúirt sé nach raibh sé sásta.

D. Give positive responses to the following fronted sentences, e.g. Is ea.

1. Ar ag caint le Bríd atá sé ?
2. Ab é Pádraig atá ann ?
3. Ab iad na comharsanna a dúirt é ?
4. Ar ag tomhais na talún a bhí sé ?
5. Ar amáireach a bheas Tomás anseo ?
6. Ar i gcaitheamh an lae a bhíonn tú ag obair ?

E. In the following fronted sentences the copula is understood. Give negative responses, e.g. Ní hea.

1. Máirtín an t-ainm atá air ?
2. Inné a tháinig sé.
3. Brid Bheag a thuganns muide uirthi.
4. Ag deireadh na míosa a bheas an leabhar réidh ?
5. Ceol na n-éan a dhúisigh thú ?
6. Máirtín a rinne é.
7. Na daoine céanna a dúirt é.
8. Ag cóiriú na leapa atá Bríd ?
9. Cáit a deireannas é sin i gcónai.
10. 'Fear' an Ghaeilge atá ar 'woman' ?
11. Crann daraí atá ann ?
12. Trí phunt atá orthu sin.

TRANSLATE:

1. The woman's coat is on the ground.
2. I thought she would be there but actually, she wasn't there at all.
3. What he said was that he was not satisfied.
4. It is Máire who said that.
5. Is Pádraig fishing for mackerel ?
6. I was doing my best.
7. Was Tomás imitating Séamas ?
8. You are insulting him.
9. It was cold today compared to yesterday.
10. Why was the work boring ?
11. I thought I was related to him but, actually, I was not related to him at all.
12. There was no call for us to work.
13. My throat was sore all day.
14. Hey, tell me, was the wedding ring on the table ?

LESSON 35

VOCABULARY

abairt fem.	/a:bɔrt'/	abairtí	sentence
brabach	/bra:bɔx/		profit
brí fem.	/b'r'i:/		importance, energy
caisleán	/kus'l'a:n/	caisleáin /kus'l'a:n'/	castle
fráma	/fra:ma:/	frámai	frame
milleán	/m'il'a:n/		blame
príosún	/p'r'i:su:N/	príosúin /p'r'i:su:n'/	prison
rothar ¹	/rohər/	rothair	bicycle
scabhtéara	/skaut'e:rə/	scabhtéaraí	scoundrel
stair fem.	/stæ:r'/		history
tfreolas	/,t'i:ro:Ləs/		geography
tuirneach fem.	/taurN'əx/		thunder
Carna	/ka:rnə/	(place-name)
Corcaigh	/korkə/	Cork
marcaíocht fem.	/ma:rki:əxt/	riding; lift
parcáil 1	/pa:rka:l'/	park
parcáil fem.	/pa:rka:l'/	parking
pléasc 1	/p'l'e:sk/	burst, explode
pléascadh	/p'l'e:skə/	bursting
cruógach	/kru:əgəx/	busy
folláin	/fɔlə:n'/	healthy
siúráilte	/s'u:ra:L'tə/	sure
céardós	/k'erdo:s/	what sort of ?
de réir a chéile	/gə'r'e:r'a x'e:l'ə/	gradually, bit by bit
feasta	/f'æ:stə/	from now on, in future
marach	/ma:rəx/	but for, except for

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. cupla bliain nó a trí ‘two or three years’
2. cur as do dhuine ‘upsetting a person’
3. ligean air féin ‘pretending (that)’
4. tabhairt faoi ‘attacking, coming to grips with’
5. Cén bhri ach ... ‘I wouldn’t mind but ..., what would it matter except that ...

¹According to the rules of this dialect rothar would be pronounced /ro:r/. However, as this word is a modern coinage, /rohər/ is probably more often used. See Appendix I.3.

GRAMMAR

1. INFINITIVE CONSTRUCTION WITH A BHEITH

(i) Optional replacement of go/nach clauses

(a) After prepositional idioms with the copula

Ba mhaith liom an carr a bheith ag Cáit. I would like Cáit to have the car.
Ní miste gan airgead a bheith ag Máirtín. It doesn't matter that Máirtín has no money.

After prepositional phrases with the copula, e.g. is maith liom, is cuma liom, etc. (see Lessons 20 and 23) go/nach clauses are frequently replaced by using the subject followed by a /ə/, which causes lenition, and the verbal noun, e.g. Ba mhaith liom an carr a bheith ag Cáit 'I would like Cáit to have the car', instead of Ba mhaith liom go mbeadh an carr ag Cáit. A negation is expressed by using gan /gəN/ before the subject, e.g. Ba mhaith liom gan an carr a bheith ag Cáit 'I would like Cáit not to have the car'.

(b) After certain conjunctions

marach	Cáit a bheith anseo only that thar éis	Cáit is here notwithstanding the fact that

After a certain few conjunctions the infinitive construction with a bheith can optionally replace go/nach clauses, e.g. marach Cáit a bheith anseo for marach go raibh Cáit anseo; thar éis Cáit a bheith anseo for thar éis go bhfuil Cáit anseo.

In the case of the prepositions ach 'as soon as, provided that'; ag 'as a result of the fact that, because', this construction is always used: ach/ag Cáit a bheith anseo 'as soon as/because Cáit is here'.

(ii) In double conditions

Dhá mbeadh Máirtín anseo agus carr a bheith aige, bheadh Cáit sásta.	If Máirtín was here and if he had a car, Cáit would be content.
Dhá mbeadh fear ag Cáit agus gan airgead a bheith aige, ní bheadh sí sásta.	If Cáit had a man and if he hadn't any money, she would not be pleased.

In the case of a second condition, instead of simply using another dhá/mara clause, e.g. dhá mbeadh Máirtín anseo agus dhá mbeadh carr aige ... 'if Máirtín was here and if he had a car ...', the infinitive construction may be used: dhá mbeadh Máirtín anseo agus carr a bheith aige ...

2. IDIOMATIC USES OF AGUS

(i) Two principal clauses

Bhí Bríd ann agus í tinn.	Bríd was there and she was sick.
Tá Cáit ansin agus leabhar mó r aici.	Cáit is there and she has a big book.
D'imigh Máirtín amach agus gan aon chóta air.	Máirtín went out and he had no coat on.

When two principal clauses are connected by agus, the verb tá may be omitted in the second: (a) if the same subject is in both clauses, e.g. Bhí Bríd ann agus í tinn. (b) if the preposition is in a prepositional idiom, e.g. Tá leabhar agam, refers to the subject of the first principal clause, e.g. Tá Cáit ansin agus leabhar mó� aici.

This construction may be used to imply a certain element of surprise: Bhí Bríd ann agus í tinn. ‘Bríd was there even though she was sick.’

(ii) Agus/is meaning ‘when, since’

Bhí an bosca ansin is mé ag tiocht abhaile. The box was there when I was coming home.

Bhí an lá gearr is thú ag imeacht thart mar sin. The day was short since you were going round like that.

A circumstantial phrase ('when ...', 'while ...', 'since ...', 'as ...') can be introduced by agus/is and the verb tá is then omitted.

(iii) Use of agus/is in responses

An bhfuil sé míle as seo go Carna ?

Is it six miles from here to Carna ?

Tá mé ag imeacht anois.

I am going off now.

Is maith liom an áit seo.

I like this place.

– Tá agus deich míle !

– Indeed it is probably ten.

– Tá agus mise.

– Yes, and so am I.

– Is maith agus liomsa.

– Yes, and so do I.

In responses of this sort, which while in unison with the statement or question, add to an amount (e.g. tá agus deich míle !) or add to the subject (e.g. tá agus mise), agus/is is used and the verb tá need not be repeated. Note the use of the contrast form of pronouns or prepositional pronouns, e.g. tá agus mise; is maith agus liomsa.

If the statement or question is in the negative ná /Nu:/ can be used similarly, e.g. Níor cheannaigh Cáit trí chóta ? – Níor cheannaigh ná dhá chóta ! ‘Cáit didn’t buy three coats ?’ – ‘No, she didn’t and she didn’t even buy two coats !’; Níl me sásta. – Níl ná mise. ‘I am not satisfied.’ – ‘No, indeed, and neither am I.’

3. EMPHATIC RESPONSES

Statement

Rinne mé go maith.

I did well.

Bhídís sásta leis.

They used to be pleased with it.

Response

Rinne tú.

Indeed you did.

Bhídís muis !

They were, indeed.

Where a response is emphasised the subject pronouns may be repeated, e.g. Rinne tú ‘indeed you did’ and both receive equal stress. When a combined form is pronounced with a long final syllable it can be stressed equally with the first syllable, e.g. bheidís /w'e:d'i:s/, tocfar/i:kɑ:r/. The second syllable of the optional third person plural past form (see Lessons 7 and 26) can also be stressed, e.g. bhíodar /w'i:dɔr/, as opposed to nonstressed /w'i:dər/.

4. A 'ALL OF THAT WHICH'

Sin a bhfuil anseo.

Chaith sé a raibh d'airgead aige.

That is all of that which is here.

He spent all the money he had.

A /ə/ which causes eclipsis (and is followed by the dependent form of an irregular verb) is used to express 'all of that which', e.g. Sin a bhfuil anseo. 'That is all of that which is here.' The preposition de is used before a following noun, e.g. Chaith sé a raibh d'airgead aige (lit. He spent all of that which he had of money), 'He spent all the money he had'.

When the preposition de is used in a partitive sense (see Lesson 24) it combines with the relative a(r) to give dhá(r) /və:(r)/, e.g. Ní raibh duine dhá raibh ann sásta. 'No one of all those who were there was pleased'; Ní chreidim focal dhár uirt sé 'I don't believe a word of all that he said'.

5. MONTHS OF THE YEAR

1. Eanáir	/æ:ná:r/	8. Lúnasa	/lu:Nəsə/
2. Feabhra	/f'aurə/	9. Meán Fómhair	/m' a:N fu:wər'/
3. Márta	/mɑ:rtə/	10. Deireadh Fómhair	/d'er'ə fu:wər'/
4. Aibreán	/aib'r' a:N/	11. Samhain	/saun'/
5. Bealtaine	/b'a:Ltən'ə/	Mí na Samhna	/m'i: Nə sauNə/
6. Meitheamh	/m'ehəw/	12. Nollaig	/nɔLək'/
7. Iúil	/u:l'/	Mí na Nollag	/m'i: Nə nɔLək/

The above are now accepted as the standardised names of the months. Some of them are traditional in the dialect, e.g. An Márta 'March', An tAibreán 'April', An Bhealtaine 'May', and these take the article, e.g. san Aibreán 'in April'. Others have been introduced through the school system¹, e.g. Meitheamh 'June', Iúil 'July'. Mí 'month' is often prefixed, e.g. Mí Eanáir 'the month of January', Mí Meán Fómhair 'September'.

TEXTS

AN CARR

Cheannaigh mé seancharr cupla bliain ó shin. Ní raibh sí agam ach lá amháin nuair a d'éirigh liom bualadh faoi charr a bhí parcáilte taobh amuigh de theach na comharsan. A leithéide de phlump! Rith na comharsanna uilig amach agus iad ag ceapadh go mb'fhéidir gur bhuaile plump móir toirní teach eicint.

Sheas an carr cupla bliain nó a trí. Ansin thosaigh sí ag titim óna chéile. Bhí mé ag caitheamh a raibh d'airgead agam uirthi agus b'éisgean dhom í a dhíol.

Thug mé ag fear a bhí ag plé le seancharranna briste í. Bhí sé an-chruóga agus shil mé go raibh mé ag cur as dhó. Chaith sé suíl ar an gcarr.

'An bhfuil tú siúráilte go bhfuil tú ag iarraidh í a dhíol?' a deir sé.

'Tá,' a deirimse.

'Dhá mbeadh rotha nua uirthi agus gan an doras sin a bheith briste, thabharfaínn cupla punt dhuit uirthi. Ní fiú tada mar sin í.'

¹This explains the exceptional pronunciation of Meitheamh.

D'fhan mé ciúin ar feadh nójiméad nó dhó. Bhí mé ag ligean orm féin nar airigh mé ar chor ar bith é.

'Tabharfaidh mé scór dhuit ach í a fháil ar an bpointe.'

Dúirt mé leis nach bhféadfainn scaradh léi ar níos lú ná dhá scór. Níor chreid sé focal dhár 'úirt mé.'

'Scoiltfidh mé leat é,' a deir sé féin.

'Tá go maith.'

D'airigh mé cupla seachtain ina dhiaidh gur dhíol an scabhtéara an carr ar leathchéad punt an lá ina dhiaidh. Bhí brabach mór aige.

AN ROTHAR

Lá amháin, tháinig an deartháir is óige atá agam¹ abhaile agus rothar nua aige. Gan mórán achar, bhí mé féin ag baint traoiáil aisti freisin. D'aontaigh an bheirt againn go raibh an rothar an-fholláin le hais an chairr. Shocraigh muid dhá mbeadh rothar agamsa agus an t-am a bheith agam, go bhféadfadh muid imeacht ag breathnú ar an tír. Bhí an-spéis ag mo dheardháir sa tíreolas agus i stair na tíre.

Cheannaigh mé rothar go díreach cosúil lena cheann seisean agus thosaigh muid amach.

Hóbair dhó mé a mháru ! Dhá mbeadh sé de chiall againn tabhairt faoi de réir a chéile. Ach ní raibh. Níl a fhios agam céardós fuadar a bhí fúinn. Bhí seisean ag iarraidh seanphrósún nó caisleán eicínt i lár na tíre a fheiceáil. Réab muid linn nó gur shíl mé go bpléascfadh mo chrot. Shíl mé dhá mbeadh i bhfad eile le déanamh agam go gcaithfinn an rothar thar an gclá agus go n-iarrfainn marcaíocht abhaile ar dhuine eicínt. Thosaigh mé ag cur a mhilleán ar mo dheardháir. Cén bhriach ní raibh seisean tuirseach ar chor ar bith. Thóigfeadh muid scíth ach a mbainfeadh muid an caisleán amach.

Ba chuma liom carr eile a cheannacht (ach, ar ndóigh, an t-airgead a bheith agam). B'fhéidir nach mbacfaidh mé feasta le deis iompair ar bith. Deirtear go bhfuil an siúl barrfholáin !

EXERCISES

A. Rewrite the following sentences using the infinitive construction, e.g. Ba mhaith liom an leabhar sin a bheith ag Cáit.

1. Ba mhaith liom go mbeadh an leabhar sin ag Cáit.
2. Ní miste nach bhfuil airgead agam.
3. Dhá mbeadh an t-am agam agus dhá mbeadh an t-airgead agam, dhéanfainn é.
4. Marach nach raibh mo bhean sásta, cheannóinn uait é.
5. Dhá n-imeofá abhaile agus dhá ligfeá do scíth, bheifeá níos fearr anocht.
6. Is cuma liom nach bhfuil Máirtín anseo.

¹'My youngest brother': the use of possessive pronouns before comparative degrees of the adjective is avoided.

B. Rewrite the following sentences using agus idiomatically as explained in this lesson, e.g.
Bhí Bríd anseo ar ball agus í ag caoineadh.

1. Bhí Bríd anseo ar ball agus bhí sí ag caoineadh.
2. Tháinig mo dheartháir abhaile agus bhí bean leis.
3. D'imirigh Pádraig amach agus ní raibh cóta ar bith air.
4. Ní fúí dhuit cóta eile a cheannacht. Tá cóta nua sa mbaile agat.
5. Cé a thiocfadh isteach ach Peadar? Bhí an hata air.
6. Bhris siad an fhuinneoig. Bhí siad ag iarráidh caoi a chur ar an bhfráma.

CUIR GAEILGE AR NA HABAIRTI SEO:

1. Who should come home yesterday but my sister and she had a man with her.
2. Which of them is healthier, a car or a bicycle ?
3. We parked the car outside the neighbour's house.
4. My youngest sister was very interested in geography and history. She wanted to see an old castle in the centre of Ireland.
5. I thought that my heart would burst.
6. We got a lift home.
7. Look at the profit the scoundrel makes !
8. If we had the time and if we had permission, we would spend two months in France.
9. We would have been there last year except for the fact that Máirtín was sick.
10. I will go there next year provided that I get the money.

LESSON 36

VOCABULARY

amhránaí	/o:rɑ:Ni:/	amhránaithe /o:rɑ:Ni:/ singer
amhránaíocht fem.	/o:rɑ:Ni:əxt/	singing of songs
Árannach	/a:rəNəx/	Aran islander
bainisteoir	/ba:n'əs't'o:r/	manager
comhar	/ku:r/	co-operation
comharchumann¹	/ko:rхumən/	co-operative
Corcaíoch	/kɔrkɪ:əx/	Corkman
dabht²	/dəut/	doubt
filí	/f'il'i:/	poet, local song maker
filíocht fem.	/f'il'i:əxt/	poetry
freagra	/f'r'a:grə/	answer
Galltacht fem.	/gɑ:Ltəxt/	non-Irish speaking area
gearrscéal	/g'a:rs'k'e:L/	short story
gluaiseacht fem.	/gLu:əs'əxt/	movement
iarracht fem.	/i:ərəxt/	attempt
líné fem.	/L'i:n'ə/	line
litríocht fem.	/L'i:t'r'i:əxt/	literature
prós	/pro:s/	prose
scéalaíocht fem.	/s'k'e:L:əxt/	storytelling
scéim fem.	/s'k'e:m/	scheme, project
scribhneoir	/s'k'r:i:N'o:r/	writer
seirbhís fem.	/s'erəw'i:s'/	service
sompla	/su:mpla:/	example
státa	/sta:tə/	state (political)
státseirbhís fem.	/sta:ts'erəw'i:s'/	civil service
státseirbhíseach	/sta:ts'erəw'i:s'əx/	civil servant
teideal	/t'ed'əL/	title
traidisiún	/træ:d'əs'u:N/	tradition
úrscéal	/u:rs'k'e:L/	novel
Beartla	/b'æ:xl'ə/	(man's name)
Breathnach	/b'r'æ:Nəx/	(surname)
de Búrca	/ə'bú:rk/	(surname)
Mac Suibhne	/æk'si:w'n'ə/	(surname)
Ó Direáin	/o:'d'ír'ən'ı/	(surname)
Ó hEidhin	/o:'hain'/	(surname)
Ó Máille	/o:'mə:l'ə/	(surname)
Ó Ríordáin	/o:'ri:rda:n'/	(surname)
blais 1	/bLa:s'/	taste
blaiseadh	/bLa:s'ə/	tasting
cum 1	/kum/	compose, make up
cumadh	/kumə/	composing
feabhsaigh 2	/f'ausə/	improve
feabhsú	/f'ausu:/	improving

¹The pronunciation with /o:/ is explained by its being a modern coined word.

²In phrases such as gan dabht 'without doubt'.

foilsigh 2	/faɪl'sə/	publish
foilsiu̇	/faɪl'su:/	publishing
freagair 2	/f'ræ:gər/	answer
freagairt fem.	/f'ræ:gərt/	answering
gluaiseacht fem.	/glu:əs'əxt/	moving; movement
scabhléarach fem.	/skaul'e:rəxt/	scolding, abusing, giving out (ar : to) áitiúil	/a:t'u:l/	local cáiliúil	/ka:l'u:l/	famous
cumasach	/kuməsəx/	superb, extremely capable
foighdeach	/fəid'əx/	patient
mór-le-rá	/mɔ:r'lērə:/	important, widely spoken of
poiblí	/paib'lī:/	public
ara	/a:rə/
cheal	/x'æ:1/	(with gen.)
choíchin	/xi:n'/	for lack of
cibé ar bith ¹ (cé/céard)	/he:b'i:/	never
rud eile dhe	/rud el'ə y'e/	whoever, whatever furthermore, moreover

VOCABULARY NOTES:

1. ina bhainisteoir ar ‘(being) manager of’

2. Déanfaidh sin! ‘o.k., will do !’

3. *Tá go maith*² ‘very well’

4. togha fir (lit. a choice of a man), ‘excellent fellow’. Rather exceptionally togha is also used in the phrase tá sé togha ‘it is excellent, grand’

5. Níor mhór dhom ... ‘I would have to ...’

6. ceart a bhaint de rud ‘to get good of, to manage, to find satisfactory’

7. Cheal nach bhfuil tú fuar? ‘Are you not cold ?’ The expression cheal may be prefixed to a negative question in response to a negative or inferred negative; it expresses surprise. /x'æ:/, /k'e:/ are common alternatives. Tuige may be used in a similar fashion.

8. ar na filithe ‘among the poets’

9. a chuaigh i gcion ar/ə g'in er/ ‘who impressed, affected, influenced’

GRAMMAR

1. THE SUBJUNCTIVE

(i) The present subjunctive

*Go sábhála Dia sinn!*³

God save us !

Go gcuire Dia an t-ádh ort!

May God make you lucky !

Go mbeannáí Dia dhuit!

May God bless you !

Nár éirí sin leat !

May you not succeed with that !

The present subjunctive is largely confined to set phrases expressing wishes or curses.

*Go /gəl/, which causes eclipsis (e.g. go gcuire ... ‘that ... may put’) is used in the positive*

¹Some common alternative pronunciations are /p'e: b'i:/, /f'e: b'r'i:/, /hc: b'i:/.

²In certain set phrases sé is not required.

³*Sinn* (an older form) occurs in a few set phrases instead of muid.

and nár /ná:r/, which causes lenition (e.g. Nár fheice Dia an t-ádh ort 'May God not see you lucky'), in the negative. The r in nár is slender before a following i or e, e.g. nár éirí /ná:r' air'i:/.

Type 1 verbs add -al-e lɔ:l: a to a broad consonant, e.g. go sábhála ... 'may ... save', e to a slender consonant, e.g. go gcuire ... 'may ... put'. Type 2 verbs add -(a)i lɔ:l: aí to a broad consonant, e.g. go mbeannaí ... 'may ... bless', i to a slender consonant, e.g. Go n-éirí go geal leat! 'May you succeed brilliantly!'. The form of irregular verbs used is that of the habitual tenses, e.g. feiceann sé 'he sees', Nár fheice Dia an tádh ort! 'May God not see you lucky!'.¹

The present subjunctive of tá is raibh, e.g. Go raibh maith agat 'Thank you' (lit. 'May you have good'), and ná raibh. The present subjunctive of the copula is go mba /mɔ:l/, which prefixes h to é, e.g. Go mba hé dhuit or Go mba amhlaidh dhuit 'The same to you!', and Nár ba, e.g. Nár ba fhéarr a bheas tú! 'May you not be better'.

(ii) The Past Subjunctive

The use of the past subjunctive, which is in form the same as the habitual past (see Lesson 24), is very limited. It may be used optionally instead of the conditional following dhá, e.g. D'ólfainn deoch dhá ngabhfainn ann 'I would have a drink if I went there' or D'ólfainn deoch dhá dtéinn ann ... 'I would have a drink if I should go there'.

2. SECONDARY IMPERATIVE FORMS (CORRESPONDING TO BÍODH)

Glanadh sé an bord agus níodh Cáit na soithí.	Let him clear the table and have Cáit wash the dishes.
Léadh Máirtín an leabhar ach ná briseadh sé an chathaoir.	Let Máirtín read the book but let him not break the chair.
Coinníodh muid an cóta sin ach ná salaíodh muid é.	Let us keep the coat but let us not dirty it.
Osclaíodh Cáit an doras agus imríodh muide cluife eile.	Have Cáit open the door and let us play another game.

Type 1

adds -(e)adh, -odh /ɔx/

glanadh
briseadh léadh
níodh

Final -igh is dropped after a long vowel. After a short vowel a final -gh is dropped and the syllable is lengthened; see lesson 12. After i by spelling convention -odh is added, e.g. níodh.

Type 2

adds -(a)iodh /i:x/

salaíodh
coinníodh osclaíodh
imríodh

When the ending has an initial vowel, the last syllable is always lost; see Lesson 12.

All verbal endings are spelt with a 'broad' vowel, e.g. -adh, -aíodh, after a broad consonant, e.g. glan-, oscl-, and with a 'slender' vowel, e.g. -eadh, -iodh, after a slender consonant, e.g. bris-, coinn-, imr-.

Although normally the future is used as a quasi-imperative, e.g. ólfайдh muid deoch 'we will have a drink', the above forms can be used with sé/seisean, sí/sise, siad/siadsan, muid/muide; see also Lesson 8.

3. DIABHAL/DHEAMHAN AS EMPHATIC NEGATIVE

*Diabhal /d'auʃ/ ‘devil’ and dheamhan /y'u:N/ ‘demon’ can be used to form emphatic negatives.*

(i) Use with indirect relative

Ní bhacfaidh mé leis.	I won't bother with it.
Diabhal a mbacfaidh mé leis.	Indeed I won't bother with it.

Diabhal or dheamhan can be used with any verb in an indirect relative clause (see Lesson 18).

Diabhal and dheamhan can contain a partitive idea and be followed by the preposition de, e.g. Diabhal ar chuala mé den fhocal sin ariamh. ‘Indeed I have never heard (anything of) that word’.

(ii) Use with fronted emphasised subject in sentence containing the verb tá

Ní raibh duine ar bith ann ach thí féin	There was no one there but yourself.
Diabhal duine ar bith a bhí ann ach thí féin.	Indeed no one was there but yourself.

Diabhal or dheamhan can be used to bring an emphasised subject to the front of a sentence containing the verb tá. In this case a direct relative (see Lesson 13) is used.

(iii) Assertive use before go/nach clause

Diabhal go bhfuil an áit seo go deas.	Indeed this place is nice.
--	----------------------------

(iv) Use in responses

An bhfuil bosca ar bith ann ?	Is there any box ?
– Diabhal bosca !	– Indeed no, there isn't !
Ar léigh tú an leabhar seo ariamh ?	Did you ever read this book ?
– Diabhal léamh !	– Indeed no I didn't !

In responses the topic of the question, e.g. bosca, or the verbal noun of the question verb, e.g. léamh, are used after diabhal or dheamhan, e.g. Diabhal bosca ! – Diabhal léamh ! Alternatively é can be used, e.g. An bhfuil bosca ar bith ann ? – Dheamhan é.

4. OPTIONAL VERBAL FORMS

Glanfaidh tú an bord, an nglanfais ?	You will clean the table, will you ?
Ar nígh tú na soithí ? – Níos.	Did you wash the dishes ? – Yes, I did.
Nígh mé ar ball iad.	I washed them a while ago.
Léigh an leabhar ach ná brís an chathaoir, nó má bhrisins ...	Read the book but do not break the chair, or if you do ...
Ar choinnigh tú an cóta ?	Did you keep the coat ?
– Ar ndóigh, choinníos.	– Yes, of course I did.

Optionally, when a verb is ‘echoed’ in the same utterance (e.g. Glanfaidh tú an bord, an nglanfais ?) or in a response (e.g. Ar nígh tú na soithí ? – Níos.) special ‘echo’ forms may be used in the first and second person singular of the future and past, and in the second person singular of the future and past, and in the second person singular of the habitual present. Only an adverb is allowed with these forms, e.g. ar ndóigh, choinníos; choinníos, go deimhin.

(i) Future

(a) First person singular

Type 1
adds -f(e)ad /əd/

glanfad
brisfead léifead
nífead

Type 2
adds -ód, -eod /o:d/

salód
coinneod osclód
imreod

(b) Second person singular

Type 1
adds -f(a)is /ɔ:s'/ glanfais

brisfis léfis
nífis

Type 2
adds -óis, -eois /o:s'/ salóis

coinneois osclóis
imreois

(ii) Past

(a) First person singular

Type 1
adds -(e)as /əs/

ghlanas
bhriseas
léas nías
d'fhliuchas

Type 2
adds -(a)íos /i:s/

shalaíos
choinníos d'osclaíos
d'imríos

(b) Second person singular

Type 1
adds -(a)is /ɔ:s'/ ghlanais

bhrisis léis
nís
d'fhliuchais

Type 2
adds -(a)íis /i:s'/ shalaíis

choinníis d'osclaíis
d'imríis

(iii) Habitual present

(a) Second person singular

Type 1
adds -(a)ins /ən's/

glanains
brisins
léins
níns

Type 2
adds -(a)íns /i:n's/

salaíns
coinníns
osclaíns
imríns

In type 1, a final gh is dropped and a short syllable is lengthened (see Lesson 12); optionally in the past or future the short vowel may be retained, e.g. nios/n'is/. In type 2 the last syllable is always lost before an ending with an initial vowel (see Lesson 12).

All verbal endings are spelt with a ‘broad’ vowel (-fad, -fais, -ód, -óid, -as, -ais, -aós, -aís, -aíns, -aíns) after a broad consonant, e.g. glan-, sal-, oscl-, and with a ‘slender’ vowel (-fead, -fiſ, -eod, -eoid, -eas, -is, -íos, -ís, -ins, -íns) after a slender consonant, e.g. bris-, coinn-, imr-; see Lesson 12.

The special forms of tá are táim /tɑ:m'/ (an bhfuilim ? etc.), táis /tɑ:s'/ (an bhfuilis ? etc.).

A slender r may be optionally substituted for s /s'/ in second person singular endings, except in the habitual present, e.g. glansfair /gla:nfər/ or ghlanfais /gla:nfəs/.

5. OPTIONAL OMISSION OF ATÁ

Cén aois atá Tomás ?

What age is Tomás ?

Cén aois Tomás ?

Cén t-achar atá tú anseo ?

How long are you here ?

Cén t-achar anseo thú ?

Is minic atá sé léite agam.

I have it read often.

Is minic léite agam é.

When an adjective or noun of amount or frequency, e.g. aois ‘age’, achar ‘period, distance’, méad ‘amount’, minic ‘often’, are introduced by the copula (incl. cé, see Lesson 13), a following atá can be omitted. The normal rules for the use of the disjunctive pronouns apply (see Lesson 9). Further examples are:

Cén t-am atá sé ?

What time is it ?

Cén t-am é ?

Is iomaí¹ teach atá péinteáilte aige.

He has many a house painted.

Is iomaí teach péinteáilte aige.

Diabhal peann ná páipeár (atá) i mo sheomrasa.

Indeed there is neither pen nor paper in my room.

As diabhal/dheamhan contains a partitive idea (see 3(i) above) the verb tá can be omitted. This omission is normal in some common stressed phrases, e.g. Diabhal a fhios agam ‘Indeed, I don’t know’.

Atá can be similarly omitted in a clause introduced by ó ‘since’, e.g. ós ag caint air sin (atá) muid ‘since we are talking about that’.

6. ALTERNATIVE WORD ORDER IN SENTENCES WITH RELATIVE CLAUSE

- (i) Chonaic mé an fear a bhris an fhuinneog, chonaic mé ar maidin é. I saw the man who broke the window,
I saw him this morning.
- (ii) An fear a bhris an fhuinneog, chonaic mé ar maidin é. The man who broke the window,
I saw him this morning.

In a sentence of the sort Chonaic mé an fear a bhris an fhuinneog ar maidin, where a relative clause (a bhris an fhuinneog) intervenes, possible confusion² is avoided by repeating the verb, or by starting the sentence with the topic (an fear a bhris an fhuinneog). This type of word order is used after an té ‘he who’, e.g. An té a bheadh ansin bheadh sé sásta. ‘He who would be there would be content.’

¹The adjective iomaí/umi:/, /umu:/ ‘many’ is only used in the fronted type sentence.

²Ar maidin could also be taken to be part of the relative clause: ‘I saw the man who – broke the window in the morning’.

A further alternative is that the topic may be appended, e.g. Chonaic mé ar maidin é, an fear a bhris an fhuinneog ‘I saw him this morning, the man who broke the window’. In a similar fashion, when it occurs in an emphatic sentence, the subject pronoun + féin may be appended, e.g. Beidh mé ag goil ansin, mé féin ‘I will be going there myself’.

In a narrative or similar style, the topic may start the sentence, even though no relative clause follows, e.g. Focal níor labhair sé nó gur tháinig sí ar ais. ‘Not a word did he speak until she came back.’

7. USE OF SURNAMES

Pádraig Ó Cadhain voc. a Phádraig Uí Chadhain
gen. teach Phádraig Uí Chadhain	Pádraig Ó Cadhain’s house
fem. Bríd Ní Chadhain
muintir Chadhain	the Ó Cadhain people
an Cadhnach	the person called Ó Cadhain

The prefix Ó originally meant ‘descendant’ and was followed by a genitive and prefixed h to a vowel, e.g. O hEidhin. In the genitive and vocative it takes the form Uí /i:/, which causes lenition.

In the case of females Ní¹ is used instead of Ó and is followed by lenition, e.g. Ní Chadhain, Ní Mháille, Ní Fhlaitheartaigh, Ní Eidhin.

After muintir, Ó is normally dropped and the remaining portion is treated as a proper noun, e.g. muintir Chadhain.

A noun can be formed from a surname. The last consonant is made broad (restoring the original nominative) and -(e)ach /əx/ is added, e.g. Cadhain: Cadhanach, Máille: Máiileach, Flaithearta: Flaitheartach. These then behave as masculine nouns ending in -ach, e.g. leabhar an Chadhanaigh ‘Ó Cadhain’s book’, na Flaitheartaí ‘the Ó Flaitheartas’. Traditionally women either retained their maiden name or used their husband’s name, e.g. Bean Phádraig Uí Chadhain. In recent years, however, the formula Bean Uí Chadhain has been introduced and corresponds to ‘Mrs. Ó Cadhain’. Similarly, in official usage An tUasal Ó Cadhain corresponds to ‘Mr. Ó Cadhain’.

Mac /ɔk/ behaves somewhat similarly, e.g. Seán Mac Suibhne, tigh Sheáin Mhic Shuibhne. Certain surnames have a prefix de /ə/, e.g. Máirtín de Búrca, Bríd de Búrca. In this case the de is retained except when a noun is formed, e.g. na Búrcaigh. Some surnames end in -ach, e.g. Tomás Breathnach. They can be lenited after a female name, e.g. Máire Bhreathnach. They are also treated as a noun, e.g. na Breathnaigh ‘the Breathnachs’.

TEXTS

AN COMHARCHUMANN

Tá go.leor comharchumainn anois sna Gaeltachtai uilig. Bionn na comharchumainn sin ag plé le feilméaracht agus le hiascaireacht nó le scéim ar bith a shíleann siad a chuirfeas feabhas ar shaol na ndaoine. Bionn cuid acu ag iarraidh na seirbhísí poiblí ar nós seirbhísí uisce agus leictreachais a fheabhsú. Bionn tilleadh acu i mbun coláistí Gaeilge. i.e. coláistí ¹Originally from iníon Uí ‘daughter of’.

a cuireadh ar bun le Gaeilge a mhúnadh sa samhradh do ghasúir as an nGalltacht. Bíonn corrcheann mór ag plé le foilsíú leabhartha Gaeilge, go háirithe leabhartha scoile. Tá Beartla Ó Flaithearta ina bhanisteoir ar cheann de na comharchumainn seo. Deirtear gur bainisteoir cumasach é agus go bhfuil sé thar cionn ag plé le 'chuile dhuine. Bíonn neart oibre le déanamh aige ag iarraidh cursaí a fheabhsú. Bíonn air a ghoil (go) Baile Átha Cliath go minic le castáil ar státseirbhísí agus ar lucht gnaithí.

Deir Beartla gur minic a bhíonn an obair an-deacair. Mar shompla, an lá cheana, bhí sé ag iarraidh ar feilméara obair áirithe a dhéanamh don chomharchumann. I dtosach, ní raibh an feilméara sásta an obair a dhéanamh.

'Diabhal a mbacfaidh mé leis go ceann píosa, ar aon chaoi,' a deir an feilméara, 'tá an iomarca le déanamh 'am faoi láthair.'

Rinne Beartla iarracht a chur ina loighe air go mba chóir dhó é a dhéanamh.

'Nach ndéanfaidh tú é?' a deir Beartla.

Ní dhéanfad,' a deir an fear eile, 'ara nach mbeidh tú féin in ann é a dhéanamh.'

'Thusa a ba cheart é a dhéanamh. Tá tusa tharr barr ag obair mar sin,' a deir Beartla, 'ach mara ndéanfaidh tú é, bhoil, diabhal neart 'am air!'

'Feicfidh muid,' a deir an feilméara, 'beidh muid ag caint faoi arist.'

'Déanfaidh sin,' a deir Beartla.

'Tá go maith.'

'Togha fir!'

Scaití, níor mhór dhuit an-fhoighid a bheith agat le daoine. Rud eile dhe, cibé ar bith céard a tharlós, ní féidir choíchin do chloigeann a chailleadh. Is cuma cé chomh gar dhóibh féin is a bheas daoine, caithfear a bheith foighdeach. Ní fiú dhuit a bheith ag scabhléarachti. Tá Beartla thar cionn ar an gcaoi sin cé go n-amhdaíonn sé gur deacair ceart a bhaint de chuid de na daoine.

Bíonn clár ar Raidió na Gaeltachta¹ a thugann eolas do na daoine i dtaoibh obair na gcomharchumainn. Uaireanta, bíonn sé fior-spéisiúil.

AN LITRÍOCHT

Ó tháinig gluaiseacht na Gaeilge chun cinn ag túis na haoise seo, táthar ag foilsíú scéalta agus filíocht sa nGaeilge. Ar ndóigh, tá traidisiún láidir amhránaíoch agus scéalaíoch sna Gaeltachtaí atá ag goil i bhfad siar; ach ó cuireadh an státa nua ar bun sa mbliain 1922 bhí deis ní b'fhearr ag daoine leabhartha a fhoilsíú.

Is é Máirtín Ó Cadhain (1906 - 1970) an scribhneoir próis is mó-le-rá dhá raibh againn. B' as Cois Fhárrge é agus scríobh sé sé leabhar gearrscéalta agus an t-úrscéal cáiliúil úd 'Cré na Cille', a foilsíodh go gairid thar éis an chogaidh.

Ar na filithe is mó a chuaigh i gcion ar na Gaeilgeoiri, tá Seán Ó Riordáin (1916 – 1977) agus Máirín Ó Direáin (1910 – 1988). Corcaioch a bhí in Seán Ó Riordáin agus is Arannach é Máirtín Ó Direáin. 'Linte Liombó' an teideal atá ar cheann de na leabhartha filíochta a chum Seán Ó Riordáin.

¹The Official Standard Irish genitive form is Gaeltachta (see Lesson 25.1 (v)). It is here used in an official title.

EXERCISES

A. Rewrite the following sentences using diabhal. The words in bold face are to be ‘fronted’, e.g. Diabhal pingin ar bith a thabharfas mé dhó.

1. Ní thabharfaidh mé pingin ar bith dhó.
2. Ní bhacfaidh mé leis.
3. Níl a fhios agam.
4. Níl leabhar ar bith san áit.
5. Ní raibh duine ar bith sásta.
6. Níor chuala mé a leithéide ariamh.
7. Ní dhearna sé blas ar bith ó mhaidin.

B. Rewrite the following negative responses. The words in bold face are to be ‘fronted’, e.g. Diabhal focal ar bith a thig mé.

1. Ar thig tú an fear sin ? Níor thig mé focal ar bith.
2. Meas tú céard atá air ar chor ar bith ? Níl a fhios agam.
3. Is móir an truaí gur bhris muid an fhuinneog. Níl neartanois air.
4. Caith siar an deoch seo ! Ní dhéanfaidh sé dochar ar bith dhuit.
5. Céard a dúirt an máistir leis ? Ní raibh aird ar bith aige air.
6. An bhfuil scéal ar bith agat ? Níl scéal ar bith agam.

C. Replace the forms in bold face by the special ‘echo forms’, e.g. Nach rabhais ?

1. A. Ní raibh mé i mBaile Átha Cliath ariamh. B: Nach raibh ?
2. A: An bhfuil tú go maith ? B: Tá.
3. A: Ar ghlan tú an bord ? B: Ghlan.
4. A: An gcoinneoidh tú é ? B: Coinneoidh.
5. An bhfuil tú fuar, an bhfuil ?
6. Nar léigh tú an leabhar ariamh, nar léigh ?
7. A: Ar tháinig tú ar ais aréir ? B: Tháinig.
8. Déanfaidh tú dhom é, nach ndéanfaidh ?
9. A: An raibh tú sásta ? B: Bhí.
10. A. An mbriúisfidh tú é ? B: Ní bhrisfidh.
11. A: Ar oscail tú an doras ? B: D'oscail.
12. Ach d'imir tú cluife, nar imir ?
13. A: Ní raibh mé i nGaillimh ariamh. B: Chea(l) nach raibh ?

CUIR GAEILGE AR NA HABAIRÍ SEO:

1. Pádraig is manager of one of the local co-operatives which are working to improve life in the Gaeltacht.
2. The colleges are supposed to teach Irish to children from the non-Irish speaking area.
3. Séamas is a superb writer. He wrote a fine novel and a book of short stories.
4. Pádraig had a meeting last week with an important civil servant. They discussed the colleges.
5. When this state was founded people had a better opportunity to publish Irish language books.
6. Did you read that book? Yes, I did without doubt.
7. A: We will be here tomorrow at six. – B: O.K. !
8. You did well !
9. Well, indeed, I couldn't help it.
10. A: Did you taste the wine ? B: Yes, I did.
11. A: Did you answer him ? - B: No, I didn't.

APPENDIX I

SPELLING AND PRONUNCIATION: KEY TO IRISH SPELLING

1.

LETTER or combination of letters	PHONETIC SYMBOL(S) for the usual sound(s) of this letter or combination	EXAMPLES
(a) Long vowels in spelling
(e)á(i)	/a:/	tá, breá, Cáit, Seáinín
é(a), éi, ae(i)	/e:/	sé, Séamas, Éire, lae, Gaeilge
(u)í, oí, ao(i)	/i:/	sí, buí, oíche, gaoth, naoi
(u)ío, aíó	/i:/ /i:ə/ when before r, l, ch	búón, naíonán fíor, síol, críochnú, búoch
ó(i)	/o:/ /u:/ when next to n, m, mh	bó, bádóir nós, tóin, mó
eo(i)	/o:/ /u:/ when next to n, m, mh /o/ when before ch ¹	beo, feoil leonta, ainneoin eochair
(i)ú(i), (i)omh(a), (i)umh(a), (i)ubh(a)	/u:/	Úna, iúl, glúin, ciúin, Domhnach, dumhach, ciumhais, dubhaigh, tiubhaigh
(b) Short vowels in spelling
a (in a stressed syllable)	/a:/ /u/ when before a consonant + (e)á(i)	Sasana scadán
ai (in a stressed syllable)	/a:/ /æ:/ when at the beginning of a word; when after t, d, s, r, h and before a slender consonant /u/ when before a consonant + (e)á(i)	baile aire, tais, dair, saicín, raithneach, haitín caisleán
ea(i) (in a stressed syllable)	/æ:/ /a:/ when after sr /i/ when before r, s, n, t, d + (e)á(i)	fear, cleas, peain stream gearán, spreasán, geadán
e(i) (in a stressed syllable)	/e/ /i/ when before n, m, mh /ei/ (very rarely)	te, eile deimhin beidh
(u)i	/i/ /u/ when after a broad consonant and before final gh, th in a one-syllable word	milis, duine suigh, bruith

¹Also in the words seo /s̠ə/, eo /ə/, anseo /əns̠'ə/.

io	/u/ /i/	when not at beginning of word and before r, s, n, t, d or a final th	siopa, iondúil bior, fios, cion, giota, giodam cioth
o (in a stressed syllable)	/o/ /u/	when before n, m, mh	pota Donncha, cromadh
oi	/e/ /i/	when before n, m, mh (not followed by l, n)	troid, soir coinne, troime, roimh
	/o/	when before rt, rn, rd, rl, cht ; also when after broad consonant and before final gh, ch in a one-syllable word	doirt, boicht, loigh, sroich, cloich
(i)u	/u/ /o/	when before ch, r, l	dubh, tiubh luch, fluch, anuraidh, culaith
a(i), e(a), i, o (in an unstressed syllable)	/ɔ/		Sasana, Diarmaid, seisean, Máire, tobac, milis

(c) Diphthongs and triphthongs in spelling

ia(i)	/i:/; /i:/	when before n, m, mh in certain words	Diarmaid, bliain mian, srian
ua(i)	/u:ɔ/; /u:/	when before n, m, mh in certain words	fuar, Ruairí uan, stuaim
(e)abh(a), (e)amh(a), /au/ odh(a), ogh(a) (when in a stressed syllable and not at the end of the word)			abhairn, treabhsar, reamhar, samhraidh, bodhar, foghail
(e)adh(a), agh(a), /ai/ aidh, aigh(e), eidh, eigh(e), oigh(e) (when in a stressed syllable and not at the end of the word)			meadhg, aghaidh, aidhm, staighre, feidhm, leigheas, loighe
uadhadh (in a stressed syllable)	/u:əu:/		chuadhadh
uaiche, uaithe (in a stressed syllable)	/u:əi:/		cruaiche, tuaithe

(d) Consonants

b (broad)	/b/ /p/	when before th, f	Bairbre, leaba scuabtha, scuabfaidh
bh (broad)	/w/ /f/	when before th, f	Bhairbre, taobh, tábhachtach
	/u:/	when it combines with a preceding stressed (i)u and is followed by an unstressed short vowel	scríobhfaidh
	/au/	in the middle of a word due to combining with a preceding (e)a	dubhaigh, tiubhaigh
(silent)		when at the end of a one-syllable word, after a short vowel	abhairn, leabhar
			gabh

b (slender)	/b'/	béal
bh (slender)	/w'/ /f'/	bhéal, ruibh, aibhneacha deilbhfidh
c (broad)	/k/	Cáit, bacach
ch (broad)	/χ/	Cháit, bacach
c (slender)	/k'/	Ciarraí
ch (slender)	/x'/ (silent)	Chiarráí Mícheál, deich
d (broad)	/d/ /t/	Donncha, siúd rodtha, féadfaidh
dh (broad)	/g/ /ai/ /au/ (silent)	Dhonncha meadhg, Tadhg
		bodhar
		samhradh
d (slender)	/d'/ /t'/	Diarmuid goidithe, céadtha, goidfidh
dh (slender)	/y'/ /ai/ (silent)	Dhiarmaid aidhm, feidhm
		réidh, brisfidh
f (broad)	/f/	fós
f (slender)	/f'/	feoil
fh	(silent)	fheoil, fharraige
g (broad)	/g/ /k/	gasúr, leagan leagha, leagfaidh
gh (broad)	/y/ /au/ /ai/	ghasúr foghail
		aghaidh
g (slender)	/g'/ /k'/ /N'/	geata, chúig Pádraig, tháinig, roiligidh tigthe, ligfidh
		scilling, fairsing¹

¹This pronunciation is not affected by the addition of an ending: roiligeacha /riL'ək'əxi:/, (níos) fairsinge /fa:sɪng'ə/.

gh (slender)	/ɣ'/ /ai/ (silent)	when at the beginning of a word due to combining with preceding ai, ei, oi in the middle of a word at the end of a word	gheata, Ghlinisce staighre, leigheas, loighe bacaigh
h	/h/	(always at beginning of word)	hata, na heochracha
l, ll (broad)	/L/		lota, call, balla
l (slender)	/l'/ /L'/	when at the beginning of a word (unless lenited) when before t or after r	milis, cail, buile leisciúil, leaba ceilt, comhairle
ll (slender)	/L'/		caill, buille
m (broad)	/m/		Máire, am
mh (broad)	/w/ /f/ /au/ /u:/ (silent)	when before th, f due to combining with preceding (e)a in the middle of a word due to combining with preceding o, u in the middle of a word at the end of a word after an unstressed short vowel	Mháire, námhaid, snámh snámhfaidh reamhar, samhradh Domhnach, dumhach falamh, déanamh
m (slender)	/m'/		milis, feicim
mh (slender)	/w'/ (silent)	at the end of a word after an unstressed short vowel	mhilis, deimhin, cnáimh Gaillimh
n (broad)	/N/ /ŋ/ /r/ /r'	when before c, ch, g, gh when following any consonant except s(h) at the beginning of a word when following m in the middle of a word	naoi, snámh, lán, fána uncail, long mná, tnúth, cnoc, gnaithe damnú
nn (broad)	/N/		tonn, ann
n (slender)	/N'/ /N'/ /ŋ'/ /N'/ /r'/ /r'	when at the beginning of a word (unless lenited) when before t or after mh, bh when before c, ch, g, gh (but see next entry) when before g , which is silenced, at the end of a word in an unstressed syllable	ciúin, uaigneas, 'spáin neart, ním muintir, doimhne, aibhneacha Fraincis, ingne scilling cneasta, gníomh
nn (slender)	/N'/		imní
p (broad)	/p/		Páidín, capall
ph (broad)	/f/		Pháidín

p (slender)	/p'/	Peige, coirp
ph (slender)	/f'/	Pheige
r, rr (broad)	/r/	Ruairí, bord, barr
r (slender)	/r'/	Ruairí, fir
	/r/	reamhar, rí
	/r/	Máirtín, airde, tairne, comhairle, beirthé, sreang
rr (slender)	/r'/	bairr
s (broad)	/s/	Sasana, fios
sh (broad)	/h/	Shasana
s (slender)	/s'/	Séamas, aois
sh (slender)	/h/	Shéamas
	/x'/	Sheáin, sheol, shiúil, shiopa
t (broad)	/t/	Tomás, bocht
	/d/	agat, tharat
th (broad)	/h/	Thomáis
	(silent)	athair, cioth
t (slender)	/t'/	tír, cinnte, ceilt
th (slender)	/h/	thír
	/x'/	thiocfad
	(silent)	flaithis, maith

Only the three consonants l, n, r are ever doubled. They are never doubled at the beginning of a word.

The above table is qualified by the following:

2. THE 'HELPING' VOWEL /ə/

After a short stressed syllable ending in l, r, n an additional /ə/ occurs before b, bh, f, m, ch or g. In technical terms this 'helping' (or 'epenthetic') vowel can be said to occur between a voiced dental and any non-dental consonant except p and c. This rule is common to all Irish dialects. Examples:¹

Consonants following l, r, n in spelling

	b	bh	f	m	ch	g
l	Albain /a:lbán/	seilbh /s'él'əw'/	deilbhfidh /d'él'əfɪð/	seilmide /s'el'mídə/	—	bolg /bołg/
n	Banba /ba:nəbə/	bainbh /ba:n'əw'/	—	ainm /a:n'əm/	seancháí /s'æ:n̊xá:/	—
r	Bairbre /ba:r'əb'r'ə/	seirbhís /s'er'əw'i:s'/	dearfa /d'ærfa/	gorm /gorm/	dorcha /dɔrχə/	dearg /d'ær̊g/

¹ Where no example is given, words of the type are rare or non-existent.

The consonants separated by the ‘helping’ vowel always agree in quality: they are both either broad or slender, e.g. gorm /gor̥m/, nós goirme /ger̥əm̥eɪ/.

No additional /ə/ occurs between n and g: the sound of the n is influenced by that of the g and the two are usually pronounced /ŋ/ or /ŋ'g'/, e.g. rang /ra:ŋg/. Also after a syllable having a long vowel sound (except /a:/ or /æ:/) no additional vowel develops, e.g. téarma /t̪e:rm̥a/, tairne /ta:rN̥eɪ/.

A weak additional /ə/ may sometimes occur between d and r and between m and l, e.g. simléar /s̪im'əl̪'e:r/, /s̪im'l̪'e:r/, madraí /ma:dərɪ:/, /ma:dri:/.

3. SYLLABLE LENGTHENING

Certain stressed syllables which are written short (e.g. im, poll) are pronounced as long syllables. When an original short syllable is lengthened, the following five changes occur:

Vowel change:	Historical ¹ short vowel	Long vowel (or diphthong) that may replace it
1	/i/	/i:/
2	/u/	/u:/
3	/e/	/ai/
4	/o/	/au/
5	/a:/, /æ:/	/a:/

The manner and extent of this lengthening is one of the major differences between dialects of Irish. The rules as given here are common to the greater part of West Galway.

These changes occur under the following three conditions:

(i) One-syllable word (or verb root) before ll, rr, nn, m

Vowel Change	Example	Pronunciation
1	tinn	/t̪i:N̥/
	im	/i:m̥/
	droim	/dri:m̥/
2	fonn	/fu:N̥/
	trom	/tru:m/ or /trum/
3	poill	/paɪL̥/
4	poll	/pauL̥/
	corr	/kaʊr/
5	feall	/f̪a:L̥/
	fearr	/f̪a:r/
	ann	/a:N̥/
	am	/a:m̥/

In a verb like meall /m̥a:l/ older speakers may shorten the vowel before an ending with a vowel, e.g. meallann /m̥æ:lɔn/. Generally, however, the long vowel is kept in all forms.

As the table shows, change 2 is optional in a one-syllable word where the vowel /u/ is followed by m, e.g. trom /tru:m/ or /trum/. Changes 1 and 2 may also, optionally, take place in a one-syllable word where the vowel is followed by ng, e.g. long /l̪u:ŋg/ or /l̪u:ŋg/.

¹See Lesson 1.6 (c).

From the table we should expect donn to be pronounced /du:N/, following the same pattern as fonn; but the word is exceptionally pronounced /dauN/.

(ii) Any word, before certain combinations of consonants

(a) ls, br, bl

Vowel Change	Example	Pronunciation
--------------	---------	---------------

1	milse	/m̄i:l'sə/
3	soilse	/sail'sə/
	oibriú	/aib̄r'u:/
	poiblí	/paib̄l'i:/

In a limited number of words, the changes may also take place before rs, e.g. girseach /ḡ'air'səx/ (a variation of /ḡ'ir'səx/ 'girl'). Change 5, exceptionally, does not take place before ls, br, bl, (rs), e.g. ailse /æ:l'sə/ 'cancer'.

(b) bhn, mhn, bhr, mhr, mhl

Vowel Change	Example	Pronunciation
1	geimhreadh	/ḡ'i:w'rə/
3	doimhne	/daiw'Nə/
	soibhreas	/saiw'rəs/

(c) rl, rn, rd

Vowel Change	Example	Pronunciation
4	orlár	/aurl̄a:r/
	toirneach	/taur'N̄əx/
	bord	/baurd/
5	tarlú	/ta:rl̄u:/
	tairne	/ta:r'N̄ə/
	garda	/ga:rdə/

From the table, we should expect airde to be pronounced /a:rdə/, and it is so pronounced in the set phrase in airde, but elsewhere it is pronounced, exceptionally, as /aird̄ə/ 'height, tallness'.

(d) In a word of two or more syllables where the vowel is followed by one of the following combinations of consonants; note that the change is optional in all these cases:

Vowel Change	Example	Pronunciation (short)	Pronunciation (long)
mp, nr
1	timpeall	/t̄'impəl/	/t̄'i:mpəl/
2	iompar	/umpər/	/u:mpər/
	conra	/kun̄tra/	/ku:N̄tra/
5	teampall	/t̄'æ:mpəl/	/t̄'a:mpəl/
	anró	/a:N̄tro:/	/a:N̄tro:/

gr, gl, dr
5	freagra	/f' r'æ:grə/	/f' r'a:grə/
	eaglais	/æ:gla:s'/	/a:gla:s'/
	paidreacha	/pa:d'r'exi:/	/pa:d'r'exi:/
nt, ns, ml, mn, mr, ngl, ngr
1	muintir	/mi:N't'er'/	/mi:N't'er'/
	inseacht	/in's'ext/	/i:n's'ext/
	imleacán	/im'l'ækə:N/	/i:m'l'ækə:N/
	imní	/im'r'i:/	/i:m'r'i:/
	imríonn	/im'r'i:N/	/i:m'r'i:N/
	brionglóid	/b'r'iŋ glo:d'/	/b'r'iŋ glo:d'/
	ingne	/iŋ'g'r'ə/	/i:ŋ'g'r'ə/
2	contae	/ku:Nde:/	/ku:Nde:/

In a small number of words where, according to the table, changes 1 and 2 should be optional, they in fact never take place, e.g. pionta /p'inta/.

4. PRONUNCIATION OF WORDS SPELT WITH TH OR SLENDER CH

In most dialects of Irish a th or slender ch between vowels is pronounced as /h/. In Cois Fhairrge, however, a th or slender ch are silent between two vowels.

(i) Absorption of short vowel

Any short vowel is absorbed by a neighbouring long vowel (including /a:/ or /æ:/).

Example	Pronunciation in other Conamara dialects	Cois Fhairrge pronunciation
bóthar	/bo:hər/	/bo:r/
oíche	/i:hə/	/i:/
mothú	/mohu:/	/mu:/
athair	/æhər'/	/æ:r'/
athar	/ahər/	/a:r/

Cathaoir /kair/, beithigh /b'eɪ/, breithiúnas /b'r'a:unəs/ are exceptional as /a:/, /e/ combine with /i:/, /u:/ to form a diphthong.

The reduction of verbal forms, e.g. mothú /mu:/, mothaigh /mu:/ to one syllable leads to verbs in which the first syllable has developed a final long vowel to be optionally treated as Type 1, e.g. mothaím /mu:i:m'/ or mothaim /mu:m'/, similarly dubhaim /du:i:m'/ or /du:m'/.

(ii) No long vowel

(a) A stressed vowel is lengthened and absorbs the other vowel:

Example	Pronunciation in other Conamara dialects	Cois Fhairrge pronunciation
ithe	/ihə/	/i:/
rotha	/rohə/	/ro:/
mothaigh	/mohə/	/mu:/

Cioth /k'i/, pl. ciothanna /k'uNi:/; the plural ending -(e)anna /əNi:/ is simply added to a noun ending in th. For pronunciation of 'echo forms' (d'itheas etc.) see Lesson 36.

(b) Two unstressed vowels combine and are pronounced as /i:/

Example	Pronunciation in other Conamara dialects	Cois Fháirge pronunciation
imithe	/im'ihə/	/im'i:/
osclaithe	/oskləhə/	/oskLi:/

The pronunciations of the following words show a similar development: tuaithe /tu:əi:/, cuaiche /ku:əi:/; for cloiche /klo:i:/, fliche /f'l'ehi:/ see Lesson 30.

5. DROPPING OF THE VOWEL /ə/

The neutral vowel /ə/, to which all unstressed short vowels are reduced, is dropped beside another vowel. Although this is sometimes to be seen in the spelling (e.g. faoin from faoi an), it is more often not shown.

(i) Within a word

	+ diminutive	+ plural	+ present
Noun	maide /ma:d'ə/	maidín /ma:d'í:n'/	-eann /ən/
Verb	caith /ka:/	/ma:d'í:/	caitheann /ka:N/

(ii) Between words

balla + ard /ba:la - a:rd/	balla ard /ba:L a:rd/
sé + anseo /s'e: - ən's'o/	tá sé anseo /ta: s'e:n's'o/

(iii) Optionally at the beginning of an utterance

A + Bhríd /ə - w'r'i:d'/	A Bhríd /w'r'i:d'/
An + bhfuil /ə - wil'/	An bhfuil sé anseo ? /wil' s'e: n's'o/

6. THREE SPELLING CONVENTIONS

(i) After i /i:/, o rather than a is written before a broad consonant.

Corcaíoch	compared with	Francach
claíocha		éanacha
sclábháiocht		feilméaracht
dlíodóir		siopadóir
níonn		molann

(ii) After á, é, ú the a is of an ending is omitted.

dó + ann	dónn
bá + adh	bádh

(iii) The letters th are dropped before a verbal ending beginning with -t.

caith + tear	cuittear
bruith + te	bruite

APPENDIX II

GENERAL GUIDE TO PLURAL OF NOUNS AND FORMATION OF VERBAL NOUN

1. PLURAL OF NOUNS

	Examples	Type of Noun
(i) Final consonant is made slender	bád: báid páipéar: páipéir Búrcach: Búrcaigh francach: francaigh ¹	A large group of masc. nouns whose gen. sing. is similar in form (see Lesson 27); many ending in r, n, l, s Two-syllable names of peoples or surnames, ending in -(e)ach A few two-syllable nouns ending in -(e)ach
(ii) Addition of -a, -e /ə/	peann: peanna focal: focla súil: súile	A small group of nouns pronounced with one syllable (where there are two, the middle one is dropped); mostly masc. and ending mainly in l, n, s
VARIANTS:
Final consonant made slender before ending	capall: caiple doras: doirse	Most two-syllable masc. nouns which add -e
Final consonant made broad before ending	láimh: láimha cois: cosa	A group of one-syllable fem. nouns which form their genitive by adding -e (see L. 29)
Infixing th before -a	leabhar: leabhartha spéir: spéartha	Nouns ending in r which add -a (see above)
Infixing t before -a	scéal: scéalta gleann: gleannta	One-syllable nouns with long syllable ending in l, n, r
Infixing of t and dropping of final e	míle: mílte líne: línte	A small group mostly with a medial l, n
(iii) Addition of final -(a)i	Gaeltacht: Gaeltachtaí bádóir: bádóirí cabaire: cabairí ² siúinéaraí: siúinéarai ronnach: ronnacha ³ balla: ballaí maide: maidí	Two-syllable nouns ending in -(e)acht Two-syllable nouns ending in -óir/-eoir Two-syllable nouns ending in -aire Two-syllable nouns ending in -éara A large group of two/three-syllable nouns ending in -(e)ach Most nouns ending in -a, -e
VARIANTS:
Final -(e)ach dropped before ending	Éireannach: Éireannai	Three-syllable names of peoples or surnames
Final consonant made slender before ending	éadach: éadaí rásúr: rásúíri	A group of two/three-syllable nouns ending in -(e)ach Nouns ending in -úr (except gasúr, peictiúr , which do not add i)

¹See also (ii) below.

²Under a general rule of pronunciation (see App. I.5) /ə/ is dropped before t.

³See also (i) above.

Final consonant made broad before ending fuinneog: fuinneogaí Two-syllable nouns ending in -óig/-eig

t infixes before ending rí: rítí Nouns pronounced with one syllable and ending in a long vowel

t infixes before ending and final /ə/ dropped rása: rástáí Some few nouns

(iv) Addition of -(e)acha /əxi:/
tuairisc: tuairisceacha

bainis: bainseacha
áit: áiteacha

A large number of two-syllable nouns not included in (i)-(iii); the second syllable may be dropped

A small group of one-syllable nouns not included in (i)-(iii)

VARIANTS:

Final consonant made slender before ending ubh: uibheacha

Mainly nouns ending in -áil, or which are broadened before genitive ending -ach (see Lesson 33)

Final consonant made broad before ending candáil: candálacha
láir: láracha

A few two-syllable nouns with final /ə/ medial n, r

Infixed t before ending (and dropping of final /ə/)

léine: léinteacha

A few one-syllable nouns ending in n, r

Infixed t before ending (final cons. made broad)

traein: traentacha

A few random nouns

Infixed r

carraig: carraigreacha

A few nouns with one long syllable ending in l, n

Infixed tr (final cons. made broad)

aill: alltracha

A few one-syllable nouns ending in -m

Infixed n

anam: anamnacha

A very few one-syllable nouns ending in -s

Infixed g (final cons. made broad)

clais: clasganna

Two-syllable nouns spelt with final -(e)adh, -(e)amh; and a few ending in -a/-e mostly having a medial l, n, r

Infixed t

samhradh: samhraíocha
creideamh: creidíocha
ola: olaíocha

A very few nouns mostly with medial l, n, r, t

Infixed ú

gloine: gloiniúcha

Most one-syllable nouns, not included in (i)-(iv) above

(v) Addition of -(e)anna /əNi:/

bus: busanna

A few words connected with time

VARIANTS:

-(e)anta /əNti:/

uair: uaireanta

A very few words

-(e)anta /əNti:/, and final -í dropped

garrai: garranta

(v) Some more marginal types

-n

meach: meachain, lacha: lachain

-íl

plump: plumpail

-s leorai: leoraios

In some recent English borrowings (or in child language)

-bha /wə/

gé: géabha

2. FORMATION OF VERBAL NOUNS

ENDING	EXAMPLES	TYPE OF VERB
(i) Main types
(a) no ending	fás 1, scríobh 1, foghlaím 2 péinteáil 1	All verbs with roots ending in -eáil , and a group of mainly Type 1 verbs pronounced with one syllable
(b) -t /t'	baint 1, ceilt 1, labhairt ¹ 2, coisint 2, oscailt 2, imirt 2	All verbs of Type 1 and all Type 2 verbs ending in slender t, n, r
(c) -(e)adh /ə/	glanadh 1, briseadh 1	The majority of Type 1 verbs (no other verbs take this ending)
(d) -(i)ú /u:/	maslú 2, ciúiniú 2	A large number of derived Type 2 verbs (no other verbs take this ending)
(ii) More marginal types
(a) -(e)amh /ə/	seasamh 1, comhaireamh 1	A group of Type 1 verbs
(b) -(a)í /i:/	tosáí 2, éirí 2	A group of Type 2 verbs (mostly also in (i) (d) above)
(c) -(e)ach /əx/	screadach 1, réiteach 2	Very few verbs
-(e)acht /əxt/	fanacht ² 2, ceannacht 2	Very few verbs
-(e)achtáil /əxta:l/	maireachtáil 1, amhdachtáil 2	A group of verbs of Types 1 and 2
-(e)achan /əxən/	lagachan 1, comhairleachan 2	A small group of derived verbs (see also tiúchan , dúchan , tanaíochan)
-(e)achán /əxa:n/	níochán 1	A few Type 1 verbs with roots ending in -igh
(d) -(e)áil /ə:l/	fágáil 1, tóigeáil	Very few verbs of Type 1
-eál /ə:L/	coinneál 2	Very few verbs of Type 2
-táil /ta:l/	castáil 1	Very few verbs of Type 1
(e) -(e)an /ən/	leagan 1, ligeán 1	Very few verbs of Type 1 (optionally also -int , see below)
-int /əN:t'/	ligint 1, tiscint ³	Very few verbs of Type 1
(f) -iúint /u:Nt'/	feiliúint 1, creistiúint ³ 1, cailliúint (cailleadh) 1	A group of Type 1 verbs; optionally some Type 1 verbs with roots ending in /L' or /t/
(g) -im /əm'/	titim 1, doirtim 1	Very few verbs of Type 1
(h) -e /ə/	guidhe 1	Very few verbs of Type 1

¹Can also belong to Type 1, e.g. labharfaidh mé or labhróidh mé. This can be explained by the fact that it is pronounced with one syllable.

²Can also belong to Type 2 in all but the past tense, e.g. fanfaidh mé or fanóidh mé.

³A few verbs of Type 1 have an infixed s: creid, v.n. creistiúint; tig, v.n. tiscint.

APPENDIX III

THE SPELLING IN THIS BOOK AND OFFICIAL STANDARD IRISH

As stated in the Introduction the spelling throughout this book is largely that of Official Standard Irish.¹ This standard is to an extent based on the ‘common core’ of all Irish dialects, or the most frequent forms, and partly on random choice. As an aid to the learner of the Cois Fhairrge dialect some departures have been made from the standard.² These departures will be best grasped by the learner by understanding the following points in the general context of variation between dialects of Irish. (Standard forms are given below in brackets.)

1. VARIATION IN CONSONANTS

(i) Broad/slender quality consonants

- (a) Initial t tends to vary in quality, e.g. tig (tuig), teag (tag), tilleadh (tuilleadh); tórainn (teorainn), tastaigh (teastaigh).
- (b) Medial r, n, l tend to vary in quality, e.g. amáireach (amárach), múnadh (múineadh); see also aimhreas (amhras).
- (c) The final consonants of verbal roots vary somewhat, e.g. dúin (dún), tóig (tóg); but note also the medial consonants in coisin (cosain), taspán (taispeáin).
- (d) Final r may tend to be broad in masculine nouns, e.g. dochtúr (dochtaír), saighdiúr (saighdiúir), táilliúr (táilliúir).
- (e) Feminine nouns which add -e in the genitive (see Lesson 29) tend to end in a slender consonant. Almost all of these are in Official Standard Irish written broad, e.g. bróig (bróg), spúnóig (spúnóg), fuinneog (fuinneog), láimh (lámh), cois (cos), cluais (cluas), snáthaid (snáthad), etc.
- (f) In certain loan words, e.g. súileáil (síleáil), traoiáil (triáil), Meireacá (Meiriceá), there is variation.

(ii) Extra consonants

- A t tends to be added to an original final slender s, e.g. aríst (arís), aithrist (aithris).

(iii) Permanent lenition

Some words, particularly prepositions or prepositional pronouns, which are weakly stressed, tend to be permanently lenited, e.g. thrí (trí), tar éis (tar éis); note also chúig (cúig), dháiríre (dáiríre).

2. VARIATION IN VOWELS

(i) Variation in length

In certain words variation in vowel length occurs, e.g. slainte (sláinte), ro- (ró-), ar l/ (ár), drama (dráma), deá- (dea-).

(ii) Variation of vowel quality

- (a) The vowels a/o alternate in certain words, e.g. baladh (boladh), falamh (folamh), fascadh (foscadh), sompla (sampla), craith (croith), soibhir (saibhir); also the spelling soibhreas (saibhreas) best explains its pronunciation.

¹*Gramadach na Gaeilge agus Litríú na Gaeilge: An Caighdeán Oifigiúil. Baile Átha Cliath 1968.*

²In order to avoid excessive departure from Standard Irish, certain spellings which are at variance with the dialect have been retained and a footnote has been added.

- (b) The vowels ei/i tend to alternate in certain words, e.g. leitir (litir), peictiúr (pictiúr), peiliúr (piliúr).
- (c) The vowels o/u alternate in certain words, e.g. the spelling orlár (urlár) best explains the pronunciation.
- (d) The vowels ua/ó alternate in certain words, e.g. fuagair (fógair), comhlódar (comhluadar). Similarly: paráiste (paróiste)

(iii) Additional vowel

An extra -a/-e has been added to certain words, e.g. úlla (úll), uachta (uacht), státa (stát), posta (post), rása (rás), rotha (roth), oifige (oifig), sochraide (sochraid).

The ending -éara is used in place of -eír, e.g. búistéara (búistéir), tincéara (tincéir).

A vowel i occurs in the following: truái (trua), pái (pá), nuaíocht (nuacht), béilí (béile), fíli (file).

3. VARIATION IN INFLECTION

(i) Dialectal variation

There is a deal of variation between dialects, and even within one dialect, in inflection. This is particularly true of the plural endings, the irregular verbs and, to an extent, of verbal noun endings. The tendency is for generalised ‘long’ endings in the plural (-acha, -anna, etc.) to spread: éanacha (éin), leabhartha (leabhair), etc.; and similarly in the case of verbal nouns, e.g. lagachan (lagú).

(ii) a/o in inflection

The change a to o in inflection is not shown in Standard spellings glas/níos gloise (glaise); lag/níos loige (laige); crann/an chroinn (chrainn); abhainn/oibhneacha (aibhneacha).

4. VARIATION IN USE OF LENITION AND ECLIPSIS

There is a certain limited variation in the use of lenition and eclipsis, the most notable example being after prepositions following the singular article. The usage in Official Standard Irish is based on the most frequent situation and is at variance with this dialect only in the case of sa, e.g. sa mbád (sa bhád).

5. SOME INDIVIDUAL WORDS

Most of the following forms can be explained by developments within Irish or by their origin as loanwords: mara (mura), goil (dul), loigh (luigh), loighe (luí), gluigh (glaogigh), sol (sula), tumáil (tiomáin), amhdaigh (admhaigh), túin (tathain), doirt (druid); beainc (banc), bricfásta (bricfeasta), cabhantar (cuntar), cluife (cluiche), compóirt (compórd), cuisliméara (custaiméir), fata (práta), feilméara (feirmeoir), gallaoireach (gallúnach), seilp (seilf).

APPENDIX IV

PRONUNCIATION OF ALPHABET

As stated in Lesson 1, the English names of the letters are commonly used. The following system¹ may, however, be recommended:

a	á	/a:/	n	ein	/en'/
b	bé	/b'e:/	o	ó	/o:/
c	cé	/k'e:/	p	pé	/p'e:/
d	dé	/d'e:/	q	cú	/ku:/
e	é	/e:/	r	ear	/æ:r/
f	eif	/ef'/	s	eas	/æ:s/
g	gé	/g'e:/	t	té	/t'e:/
h	héis	/he:s'/	u	ú	/u:/
i	í	/i:/	v	vé	/w'e:/
j	gé	/dʒe:/	w	wé	/we:/
k	ká	/ka:/	x	ex	/eks/
l	eil	/el'/	y	yé	/y'e:/
m	eim	/em'/	z	zae	/ze:/

¹As given in Graiméar Gaeilge na mBráithre Críostaí, Baile Átha Cliath 1960.

KEY TO TEXTS

In this key an effort has been made to keep as close as possible to the wording of the original Irish, even at the expense of more idiomatic English.

Lesson 2

I. 1. Máirtín is there. 2. He is there now. 3. Cáit is there too. 4. She is there too. 5. Are they satisfied ? 6. He is satisfied but she is not satisfied. 7. I am here. 8. We are here. 9. I am satisfied but are you satisfied ? 10. You (pl.) are not here now. 11. Isn't anybody satisfied ? 12. One is (people are) not satisfied here now.

II. 1. The house is there. 2. Is there anyone there ? 3. There isn't anybody at all there now. 4. They say that Cáit isn't there now. 5. But is Bríd there ? 6. Bríd isn't there either. 7. There is a door here. 8. There is a table and a lamp there. 9. There are cups and other things there too. 10. They say that there is a teacher here now. 11. We are satisfied but are they satisfied ?

Lesson 3

Rooms

There are lots of rooms here. Is Donncha and Cáit and Peige and Bairbre here ? Donncha's room is there, Cáit's room there, Peige's room there, and Bairbre's room is there. Aren't Páidín and Máire and Diarmaid there too ? Páidín's room is there and Diarmaid's room is there too. Máire's room is here. Máire's coat is here and Máire's money too. Séamasín's books are not here.

A Map

Tomáisín's map is here. Where is Conamara and Kerry ? Conamara is here and Kerry is there. I see Tír an Fhia and Glinsce here and Fionnasclainn there. Isn't Gaoth Sáile here ? Gaoth Sáile isn't here. Gaoth Sáile is there. Are the farmers of Kerry satisfied ? The farmers of Kerry are satisfied but the Conamara farmers are not satisfied. Neither the Glinsce people nor the Fionnasclainn people are satisfied at all. Cáit's uncle says that the people of Gaoth Sáile are not content either.

Máirtín's House

The Tír an Fhia road is there. There is another field there. Here there is a wall and a gate and there is Máirtín's house. Máirtín's son and Bríd's father are there now too, but there are lots of rooms. There are lots of books and pictures and papers. I see the map of England and the map of America there too.

Lesson 4

Another Map

'Cáit, is there a map ?' – 'There is a map, certainly.' – 'There are lots of countries on the map. America is there and there is another big country here.' – 'The light isn't good here. There aren't any windows.' – 'There is a good lamp here.' – 'Now, where is Ireland and where is Conamara ?' – 'Ireland is here and Conamara is there.' – 'Is Conamara big ?' – 'It is reasonably big.' – 'Where is Kerry? Is there a Gaeltacht there too?' – 'There is lots of Irish there too.' – 'Is there a college?' – 'Maybe there is one. I am not sure. There is another nice place there and there is a small Gaeltacht too.'

Pictures

Well, there are lots of pictures here at any rate. Aren't they nice? Cáit and another fine woman is there and there are other women here. There is another nice picture here but there is rain and the light isn't good. There is a priest there and Páidín's wife and another Irish person here. They are wonderful! There is another amazing one here. There are lots of things on the ground there! Bríd's house is here and there is a big hen and a small pot. There is another beautiful one there and there is a big harp and a penknife there. They are beautiful!

Lesson 5

Máirtín's Room

There is a field and a little river beside the college. There is also a road but the road is quiet. There is a big stone on the other side and there is a bird on the stone.

The college is reasonably big and there are plenty of rooms. Máirtín's room and Donncha's room are on the same floor. There is a kitchen there too. Máirtín's room isn't big but it is nice all the same. There is a nice big window. There are tables and a few chairs. There is a chair beside the window and there is another one beside the door. There is a little table near the fire. The phone is on the table. There is a fine high ceiling. There is paper on the wall. There is a clock on the wall near the door. There is a map and pictures on the door. Of course, there is also a bed! It is not big but it is comfortable, all the same. Máire's picture is on the wall beside the bed.

It is night time now and Máirtín's books and papers are on the little table beside the phone. The lamp is on the table. There is food and drink on the big table now. There is a dinner plate and a side plate there. There is a knife and fork beside the plate. There is also a cup and there is a saucer under the cup. There is a teaspoon on the saucer. There is also a glass on the table. Máirtín is there. His hand is on the glass and he is, of course, content. He is a year here now. He is pleased with the English (language) teacher but he is not satisfied with the Irish (language) teacher. Nevertheless, he is satisfied with the college.

Lesson 6

Dublin

Máire Bheag was never there. 'Dublin is big, certainly,' says Máire's mother, 'there are lots of streets and there are not many trees there at all.' Máire's mother was a week there last year, but Máire was sick and so she was never there.

'Mammy, are there many cars and buses there?' says Máire. 'Yes, there are, and of course there are lots of shops.' – 'Are they nice?' – 'Yes, they are certainly; there is a nice big shop and we will be there tomorrow.' – 'Were you ever there, Daddy?' says Máire. 'I was, indeed, I was often there. It is not like the shop here.' – 'Are there lots of clothes?' – 'Of course, there is everything (there). There are plenty of counters. Maybe there will be coats and jackets at one counter and there will be pairs of trousers and suits at another.' – 'Aren't there shirts and jumpers?' – 'Yes, certainly (there are). There is everything like that.' – 'There are dresses and skirts, too,' says Máire's mother. 'There were shoes and socks last year near the door.' – 'Yes,' says Máirtín, Máire's father, 'and I'm sure that they were dear.' – 'No, indeed, they weren't dear at all. They were fairly cheap. Shoes were cheap there anyway. I am not sure whether they will be there tomorrow or not. Dublin is wonderful.'

Lesson 7

Máirtín's People's Farm

Máirtín's people have a fairly big farm. They are not rich although there are lots of rich farmers and gentry here. Of course, they are not poor either ! Máirtín has plenty of milch cows and lots of sheep. There is a small hill beside the farm and Máirtín's sheep are (normally) there. Máirtín's cows are (usually) on the good land just beside the house. The grass is good there. There are no pigs now although there used to be lots of pigs a few years ago. There are hens as well and, of course, there is a cat and a dog. The cat is important because there are too many big rats here. The cat is sort of blind now but he is cunning enough all the same. Blind cats are often like that. Cats are interesting like that.

Máirtín has small children. Everybody has a pet. Seánín, Máirtín's son, has a donkey and of course he steals (lit. is stealing) now and again. There aren't (normally) many donkeys here now but a few years ago there were lots and lots of donkeys here. They are (wont to be) dear now. Bríd, Máirtín's daughter, also has a pet. Bríd has a small horse.

Bairbre Bheag was a few months here last year and she was satisfied with the life here. Small children are pleased with the life here.

Máirtín had a good year last year. The weather was good. The summer was wonderful although there was not enough water. 'The summer is (normally) nice here but the winter is (normally) bad. Dublin people are always like that ! You would be satisfied here now but maybe the winter would be cold and would you be happy then ?' says Máirtín to the young girl. 'Yes,' says Bairbre Bheag. 'I am not sure you would !' says Máirtín. 'O now ! The poor thing !' says Cáit, Máirtín's wife, 'she would be content certainly. Young people are always content, aren't they, Bairbre Bheag ?'

Lesson 8

Ruairí's People

Ruairí and Úna have a nice comfortable house on the big street beside the school. There are a few young children now and Ruairí has a good job. Úna's mother used to be there but she is dead now. The woman was (lit. had) a great age and her heart was not good. Ruairí's brother, Páidín, is there now and again. Ruairí hasn't any sister.

Donncha

I don't see Donncha often now. Of course, he is old and he is often tired, especially in the evening. Usually he is kind of bad-humoured with the child here. 'Be quiet !' he always says, or 'Don't be bold like that !' I hear that his leg was sore again last month and he was a fortnight in bed. I think that the (his) leg isn't right since. If he is well next week, he will be here again.'

The School

The school is here. It is big enough. There are plenty of teachers here, although there aren't many children altogether here. Páidín's father has a job here.

Sometimes, if the weather is bad, the children have dinner here. Yesterday and the day before yesterday it was wet and all the small children were tired and bad-humoured. Of course if they are tired, usually they are bold as well. If the entire week is wet the teachers say that it is bad. I understand the situation well.

Lesson 9

A Letter

Dublin 2

Dear Pádraig,

Dublin is nice now, there is no cold although there is snow yet on the mountains. The autumn and the winter were wonderful here. There were new plays almost every month and a new picture nearly every week. The art gallery and the National Library are near the house. As for the public houses, those are plentiful here !

They say that the spring and summer will be hot here this year. I myself don't believe that the heat will be bad as the sea is on this side and the mountains on the other side. That Máirtín isn't usually here now, although I don't understand why. Is the weather good there ? Are Bríd and Cáit and the whole crowd there still ? Of course, I don't see them at all now, although I see Bairbre now and then. Maybe you yourself will be here next year ?

Seáinín.

The Sea

All the children were at the sea yesterday. The weather was lovely. The sea was nice and the water was warm enough. The strand was reasonably good although there were lots of other children. The children had buckets and little spades. The strand was clean and the sand was nice. There was lots of fun. Everybody was pleased with the day.

There will be school again tomorrow and the whole crowd will have breakfast early in the morning. If the weather is good, perhaps the children will have another nice day next week.

Lesson 10

At The Doctor

Máirtín Beag was at the doctor yesterday. There is a new hospital now beside the town and there are lots of doctors. Every doctor has his own room.

There was a nurse at a table beside the door. 'Where is your card ?' she said. 'It is here,' said Máirtín Beag. 'Doctor Ó Flaithearta isn't here just now. He isn't here at this time, but he will be here in a little while.'

The room was nice although there was horrible colour on the walls. There was a table beside the window. His bag was on the table and there was a needle beside the bag.

Then the doctor came back. The doctor had the card as Máirtín had had an accident a few months ago and his hand was bad. 'I see here,' says the doctor, 'that your hand was still somewhat sore a month ago. Show me your hands. Show me your sore finger again.' The hand was in order again. 'Well, now ! What is it this time ?' – 'I don't feel well. My stomach isn't well and there is a strange taste on my mouth,' said Máirtín Beag.

'Too much sugar !' says the doctor 'or too many cakes, maybe ?' Máirtín Beag hadn't a word to say for sometimes the doctor is bad-humoured enough. 'There is a bottle here,' says the doctor, 'it isn't full but you will have enough there.' Máirtín Beag wasn't long sick.

Diary

Sunday. — I am here near Spideal again. This house is comfortable. There are a few other strangers lodging here. Their Irish is good. I was here a while last year too and I was sufficiently pleased with the place. There was a Mass early in the morning and the church was full. If all the strangers weren't here, it is unlikely that it would be full at all.

There was fog last night and this morning there is rain and a strong (lit. big) wind. I see the sea and the rocks but I don't see the islands at all. If there was fine weather, I think I would be happy enough here.

Lesson 11

On Holidays

I used to be on holidays there beside Ceathrú Rua years ago, maybe ten years or so. I wasn't married that time.

This year my wife and (I) myself and the children were a few weeks there. 'Who are you ?' said the lady who was in charge of the house. 'I am Máirtín,' said I (myself). 'Are you ? Are you Máirtín ?' – 'Yes, I am.' – 'And is that (lady) your wife ?' – 'Yes. Cáit is my wife and Bríd and Máirtín are the children.' – 'Are they ? Aren't they nice ?'

There were a lot of people around about and I wasn't certain whether the house would be full or not.

'Are there many strangers here this year ?' I said (myself). 'Yes, there are really, but although all these rooms are full, there are more at the back of the house. There are still two rooms empty there, but I am not sure if they would be sufficiently big.' – 'Show me them,' I said (myself). 'They are identical, really,' said the lady of the house, 'but there are two windows here and three windows there.'

My wife was pleased with the rooms and we were there three weeks all together. The weather was good and everybody had a fine rest.

The Shop

There is a new shop near the office. Although the shop is only there a few weeks, Cáit was there already seven times. Cáit almost always has a list as the shop is big and there is (normally) a tremendous amount of people there.

She was there last week and even though the place was crowded, she got everything on her list. She got a quarter pound of tea, coffee, three bottles of milk, two pounds of sugar, and bread. The tea was dear; it is nearly a pound per pound now. The fish was dear too but she got nice meat. She got lots of vegetables and a small bag of potatoes. There are also big four-stone bags but they are terribly heavy and Cáit has no car. Her basket was almost full; was everything there ? No. There were two other things on the list. She got butter and six eggs at another counter. Then everything was in order.

Lesson 12

The Primary School

Bairbre is a teacher. Today is Monday and she is sort of tired. The children are (normally) tired and bold on Monday, especially if Saturday and Sunday are wet. Bairbre has children of four and five years. Donncha had a small accident and there is blood on his nose. 'Clean your nose, now, Donncha,' says the schoolmistress. 'Donncha is a good boy, isn't he ?' – 'Yes, he is,' says the whole class. – 'You clean the blackboard now, Donncha !'

It is a great pity that the children are somewhat tired as the inspector will be there in a while. 'Now, place (put) the books and the pens on the tables,' says the schoolmistress. 'Clean your hands and don't dirty the tables or the chairs for the inspector will be here in a while. Open the books and read them !'

Then the inspector came. 'What day is today ?' says the inspector to the class. The class couldn't say a word with fear. 'You put the questions to the children yourself,' says the inspector to the schoolmistress.

'Today is Monday,' says Bairbre, 'tomorrow is ...?' – 'Tomorrow is Tuesday,' says the whole class. 'And the day after tomorrow ?' – 'Wednesday.' – 'And then ...?' – 'Thursday.' – 'And then ...?' said the inspector himself. 'Friday,' said the entire class. 'This is a wonderful class,' said the inspector.

Education

The Irish system is more or less like the system anywhere. Initially there is the primary school, then there is the secondary school, and then there is the university and other colleges similar to the university. Usually, children are about six years at the primary school and approximately the same amount at the secondary school. There are a few types of secondary school. The community school is common enough now. The community school is a secondary school, really, but trades are prominent (given prominence) together with the other basic subjects. One time there used to be boys' schools and girls' schools but now usually the boys and girls are together. There are Catholic schools and Protestant schools. Indeed sometimes there is also a Jewish school. People say that there isn't much difference between these schools and that it is a great pity that there shouldn't be just the one type. (Other) people say that it is right that the three kinds exist and that the difference is important. The matter is very complicated.

Lesson 13

The Weekend

When there is a holiday on a Monday, the weekend is very long. The city is a lonely place at a time like that. Around Christmas, for example, it is really lonely. There are lots of people here, especially old people, who are lonely at the weekend. Loneliness is worse here than (the way) it is in the country. The neighbours here aren't the way they would be in the country. People don't have the time here. Everybody has some work or business here. There is a constant hurry.

Lots of people have the notion that the town is better for young people. People say that there are dances and music and every kind of sport here and that there is a better chance of work. All the same, there are lots of young people who are not satisfied to remain here at all at the weekend. They say that the fun is better at home and that there is nothing here but bad dances and that every place is crowded. Of course, there are lots of young girls who are friendly with the boys at home.

There are special buses at the weekend and as soon as there is an end to work on Friday evening, the young people are on their way home. Sometimes they are four hours on the way. I myself think that that is too long; I would be tired before I would be at home at all. I would be happier if there was an aeroplane. It would be better. Even so, the young people have music and songs on the bus and although it is full, I think they are happy enough. Of course, there are a lot of people extraordinarily tired on Monday morning !

Lesson 14

The Old And The New

We got a new school here two years ago. In the beginning, people were willing to knock down the old building (lit. house). Then a few months ago, two strangers came around and they said that the young people would be able to make rings here and that they themselves would be happy to set up a small factory, if people were willing to keep the old school.

Then the young women were at the old school every day. It was necessary to wash the walls and paint the doors and to clean the whole place. They said that it would be wonderful if the young people had work.

'When there isn't work,' said one woman, 'there isn't money. Then the people are not willing to stay here.' – 'Isn't that the point,' said another woman, 'when there isn't money, there aren't any marriages. Everything will be better now.'

But, of course, everybody wasn't pleased. I was at Máirtín's (the public house here) the other night and I was able to hear the old men although I couldn't see them all. I think there were five or six around the table.

'They say that the young people will have work now,' said one man. 'Oh indeed!' said another old man, 'I can't understand the young crowd at all. They are not satisfied to do the work. Isn't (the) land plentiful around here? There are far too many schools and they are not willing to dirty their hands with the land. They are not able to sow seeds, or to grow potatoes or oats or anything!' – 'When we were young,' said another old man, 'we were able to do the work! That is my opinion!' – 'That is the truth,' said all the men.

Lesson 15

Worry

Máire is married to Pádraig. Pádraig is a nice pleasant person and I was pleased when Máire was marrying him. They are married now about seven months and I think Máire is satisfied with life. But I always say that Máire has great patience!

Máire and Pádraig had good positions. Máire had a good pay. She is a wonderful typist and she usually works (is working) as a secretary. He was working for some company selling and buying old cars. Then one day he came home and he said that he was finished with the cars and that he was going to begin learning some other trade. 'But what is he doing now?' said I, 'or what is he going to learn?' – 'I am not certain yet, father, what he is going to do,' says Máire. 'He is going to do some course. He will be starting learning German or Spanish. He says that Spanish is a big important language.' – 'It is alright to (be) talk(ing) of education,' said I, 'but will Pádraig have any pay while he will be learning languages?' – 'No, but what harm? Amn't I earning well? We are young and what is the good of worrying?'

But I do worry. I am not certain that I understand these matters at all. I see Máire going working every morning and coming home then in the evening washing dishes and clothes and making beds. Pádraig has an easy life there, reading and writing. I often see him going off playing cards or drinking a pint. Máire, however, is always working. When I was young, if a young man had a position, he would want to keep it, either that or he would be working hard to get a better one.

Lesson 16

New Offices

There are new offices being built on the street near this house of ours. This Máirtín of ours has a pal and he is a carpenter and he is working there. The two of them were at a wedding together the other day and they were talking about the offices.

'I know you have a good job there, Seáinín,' said Máirtín, 'but, honestly, have people who are knocking down fine old houses like that any sense? Weren't those old houses good enough for them?' – 'Of course, you are right,' said Seáinín. The doors and the windows were wonderful and the wood was fairly good. The floors were falling a little bit, although some of them were alright. All the same, it is a miserable thing to knock down houses like that.' – 'I don't know but I think they would be able to fix up the floors?' – 'Yes, certainly, they would,' said Seáinín, 'but it is pointless for you to talk to that crowd. There is no knowing what (how much) money the big companies have and they want to spend it.'

But now people were putting a start to music and to the dancing, although some people were still eating and drinking. 'Somebody is going to sing a song in a few minutes,' said Seáinín's wife, 'and I hope that you are not going to be talking about politics again. You have no permission to talk about those matters here now!' Then there was an end to the conversation about the new offices.

Evening

Ruairí and Páidín were working there digging potatoes. It was getting late now and the sun was setting. There were wonderful colours in the sky and the air was cold. Ruairí was getting tired and he was wanting a rest. 'Pass me my pipe and that tobacco! Where is my penknife?'

Páidín was not too tired but he was willing to take a rest and to go home then. He also wanted to light his pipe. The two of them were there peacefully smoking beside the stonewall and looking at the sky. The night was falling. The year was almost over and the winter was coming. In a while, the moon would be rising.

Lesson 17

The Theatre

Last Friday evening my wife Cáit appeared tired. She was afraid that she was getting a cold but even so she felt like going to the theatre. I was glad myself as I am (normally) reluctant to stay at home at the weekend. At first we were looking at the paper looking for some play that would be good. Then Cáit said that she felt like seeing the new Irish (language) play 'An Tincéara Rua (The Tinker with the Reddish Brown Hair), although I was doubtful as to whether it would be good. It was getting late already. We were in a hurry as we were afraid that the theatre would be full.

We got seats, although they weren't too good. We regretted that we were not near the stage as the two of us have bad sight. It was not long until the place was crowded.

The play itself wasn't too good, but the actors were wonderful, even though they are not very well known at all. All the same it appeared that lots of people were satisfied. Everybody was laughing at the tinker with the reddish-brown hair. He had reddish-brown hair and a big grey beard. He had a big yellow hat on his head and wore a little red trousers. He hadn't any shoes on at all and he had a big long stick. I was surprised that he wasn't cold walking around like that.

When the play was over we were hungry and we went visiting friends. We had a small meal together.

Lesson 18

A Student

Bríd is almost three years at the university now. Initially she was involved with chemistry. She had a great respect for the science teacher that she had at the secondary school and she had good knowledge of chemistry and physics. At the same time she was very keen on languages. Then she got a chance of changing. She had an opportunity of doing French and Russian. She did not have French or Russian as subjects at the secondary school and so it was very difficult for her. She was going to a special course by herself for a while and then she got permission to go to the lectures which other students were going to.

It was really difficult to learn the two languages together. It wasn't easy to understand the lectures. Then one day the lecturer said that she would have to go to France and spend six consecutive months, or maybe even a year, learning French.

Bríd got a scholarship last year and she was able to spend almost a year at a French university. She wasn't long getting to know that college nor it wasn't long till she had got to know lots of other students. The French were always asking her questions: 'Where are you from ? Where is Galway ? Why are you here ?' But she was pleased enough with the place except that she hated the food. When she came home she had perfect French.

This year, Bríd has about ten lectures every week. Sometimes she is very tired. She doesn't feel like doing anything except to go home and light the fire and turn on the radio. Other times she says that it is better to turn off the radio and to sleep for a while.

Although Bríd's people are well off and though they have a big house near the sea, she herself has a flat. The flat is beside the university. She says that she can't read at home. The young children are (usually) making noise and stealing her books (lit. on her). Even so she is fond of them. She visits them at the weekend. She takes pleasure in playing with the children and in getting fun out of them. They are in the habit of going swimming together.

Isn't it a wonderful life which students have !

Lesson 19

The Island

This is a small island. There is about six miles between it and the coast. The island itself is about three miles wide and a mile long. The land is extremely bad. There are more rocks and large flat stones than anything else. Of course, people say that it is the most beautiful place in the world. It is wonderful to see the sea and the cliffs. The sea is very deep and very blue.

There is not more than two hundred or two hundred and fifty (lit. two and a half hundred) people. But how can the people live there ? 'Just barely,' lots of people say and that is true. All the same, they are able to break the stones and to make small fields. It was necessary to make walls with the broken stones. They have cows and sheep and hens. People work with the horses and the donkeys which they have. One sows potatoes and grows vegetables. The people were wonderful at working together and they were able to extract an existence from the island.

Of course, they could always live on fish, although there isn't the same amount of young people fishing now as there used to be. They have a particular small boat. 'Currach' is its name. The currach is common around Conamara and around the entire west coast.

However, life used to be far more difficult fifty or even twenty years ago. It is far easier on them now. A boat comes to them often except when there are high seas. The worst thing is that the boat cannot go into the pier as it is not long enough. A plane lands there now a few times every week.

But what do people do when they are not working ? The men go to the public house. The men and women are together at the chapel on a Sunday. There is a hall near the school. Sometimes the young crowd are over there (in the more westerly part of the island) dancing or playing cards or just meeting one another.

But are there not big changes in the life now ? Yes, certainly. The young crowd are going to secondary school away from the island (lit. outside). I notice that the children are in the habit of looking at pictures from America on the television. There is not the same amount of young people marrying and staying there. What is going to happen now ? Life is not as hard as it used to be but is it changing too quickly ? Will the young people (be) become(ing) dissatisfied ? That is the question.

Conversation

There were a few women walking (eastwards) to the post office together. They were talking like this:

'It is a fine day !' – 'Indeed even if it is, yesterday was finer.' – 'Maybe it was.' – 'The summer came very early this year.' – 'Yes, it did.' – 'It is warmer and drier than it was last year.' – 'Indeed I am sure it is.' – 'It is hot enough at any rate.'

We are forever talking about the weather here.

Lesson 20

A Letter

Dear Pádraig,

I suppose you know now that we will have another election in a few weeks. For a week now, one cannot ignore political affairs. If you listen to the radio or look at a paper or at the television, everybody is talking about the election. We can't think about anything else ! We are all arguing about politics so that it is like a war here. It is a great pity that you are abroad for there is no end to the (lit. one doesn't know what) amount of fun we are getting out of it.

Fine Gael and the Labour Party are standing together again this time. Úna says that the coalition which we have had for four years is the best government we ever had. Tomás is wont to agree with Úna but Cáit and Bríd (usually are) say(ing) that Fianna Fáil is better than the other two parties. Ruairí is teasing them all. He says that he doesn't care about politics and he doesn't think it worth voting at all. Daddy says that he doesn't care about politics as long as everybody has enough to eat and drink.

It is difficult to say who will win. The papers (are) say(ing) that it seems likely that the coalition will win. All the same, I remember that they were wrong the last time.

The house is to be painted again this summer and there is lots to do. Mammy is working away, cleaning and painting. Ruairí and myself are helping her. Cáit is also helping us (now and again).

I suppose that there is great heat over there now. They say that Spain is very hot at this time. Of course you like the heat. I prefer the cold to the heat.

We will be expecting another letter shortly.

Mícheál.

Lesson 21

Monday morning

It is wonderful at the weekend. One can sleep out in the morning. But tomorrow is Monday and everybody will be getting up early again.

Pádraig will get up first. He will open the door and let the dog out. He will put on the kettle. He will make a drop of tea and (he will) cut a few pieces of bread and (he will) put butter on them. He will listen to the news on the radio while he will be eating his breakfast. When the news is over he will wash himself and (he will) shave himself and (he will) put on his clothes. Then when Cáit will hear Pádraig going off, she herself will get up and will wake the children. She will prepare the breakfast while the children are getting up.

The children don't like getting up on Monday morning. They won't get up until the breakfast will be ready and then they will be in a flurry searching for their clothes and getting ready to go to school. Something (lit. will be astray on somebody) belonging to somebody will be astray. Then the commotion will start.

'Where are my shoes ?' – 'That fool will always lose something !' – 'You keep your mouth quiet !' – 'Get a hold of your socks anyway ! Where had you them last night ?' – 'I can't walk to the bus without shoes !' – 'Look at them there under the chair !' – 'Oh the fool !'

After breakfast the children will kiss Cáit and say goodbye to her. 'You will have to hurry or you will miss the bus,' Cáit always says. 'We will have to run !' say the children.

Cáit will shut the door. She will sit down and drink a cup of coffee. 'The winter is so dark and gloomy,' Cáit always says to herself. 'How nice it will be come Maytime when the trees will be in bloom again. Perhaps this year we will be able to go on holidays to Scotland ...'

However there are clothes to be washed and the entire house will have to be cleaned and swept (lit. one will have to clean and sweep the whole house). The shopping is to be done. There is so much to do on a Monday morning.

Lesson 22

The Park

There is no saying (lit. one does not know) how nice the park is which is here. I think that it is really pleasant to take a walk here, particularly when the trees and bushes are in bloom. Sometimes I prefer just to sit on a bench and look around me. Every sort of person is here, both old and young. You might see children laughing and playing, or pensioners whispering and conversing together; you might see nuns saying their prayers or young workers stretched on the grass relaxing and sunbathing.

There is a little lake and a stream and there is a little bridge over the stream. There are nice hedges on the right-hand side and there is a nice comfortable bench on the lefthand side. This is the place that I prefer. If there was wind, you would have shelter here.

I recognise an occasional person here and there. However, I like best not to speak to anyone. Here now come (lit. are) people throwing old bits of bread to the ducks ! It is great fun (lit. to be) looking at the ducks catching the bread.

Isn't it a great pity that the weather is forever changing ! The sun might be shining like this now in the morning and without any cloud to be seen, but you would not know what might happen in the evening. It might be raining or even snowing ! If one could depend on the weather here, who would bother with going on holidays abroad ? We would not need any other place. We would only want to sit here at our ease. There wouldn't be any place in the world that would please me better than this park.

A Conversation About The Post Office

I don't know for the life of me where the post office is. We will be able to ask the man who is coming up the road. 'Do you know where the post office is ?' – 'Yes I do. Go down this road and turn on the right-hand side. Continue on (lit. east) down the road and you will see the post office on the left-hand side.' – 'What colour is it ?' It is white and it has a green door.' – 'Do you know what time the post will be going (off) ?' – 'No, I don't. You will be able to find out from the woman there what time it will be going.' – 'Thank you !' – 'Good day now !' – 'Good bye !'

Lesson 23

Carpentry

Peadar doesn't like to be working at home. He is tired in the evening and he feels like relaxing. He likes to read a book or listen to music. He prefers to avoid work if he can. His wife is always joking about him. She says that she works much harder than him.

Sometimes she starts to grumble: 'Isn't it well for you, who can sit there listening to records. Look at the amount that I have to do. I prepare the meals and wash the dishes and clean the kitchen. I make the beds and keep the whole house clean. You don't give me any help. You will have to make shelves for all your books !' – 'But give me time, I am tired tonight,' says Peadar, 'but I promise you that I will make them tomorrow.'

Peadar is a good carpenter. He is experienced in (lit. has experience on) carpentry. If he starts on work he isn't long finishing it. 'Where is the hammer and the saw ?' he says to his wife. – 'They are on the stool.' – 'Are there nails and screws there too ? Give them to me !' – 'Have you enough there ?' – 'That is enough. There is no need for that amount. Show me the wood now !'

The boards were not suitable for the wall. They were too long. He had to cut them with the saw. He got a tape-measure to measure them. They were right this time.

It was difficult to make holes for the screws. He almost hurt his finger with the hammer. All the same, it wasn't long until the work was done. His wife was pleased although there was dust and dirt everywhere. She had to brush the floor and clean the room again.

The Public House (A Conversation)

'Hello, Máirtín !' – 'Hello ! How are you ?' – 'I'm middling,' says Seáinín, 'how are you yourself ?' – 'I am well enough, brother ! What will you drink ?' – 'I'll drink a pint so.'

They each got a pint. '(To your) health !' said Seáinín. – 'I will be going to Galway tomorrow' says Máirtín, 'I am going to the races. Who do you reckon will win the big race ?' – 'Fisherman's Bloom, either that or The Lord.' – 'Maybe so,' says Máirtín, 'but I think it is better to put the money on Butcher's Knife.' – 'Indeed, it is not worth your while putting a bet on that old horse !' says Seáinín laughing. 'We'll see !' says Máirtín.

Lesson 24The Boarding School

I was five or six years at a boarding school. Sometimes when I rise in the morning I think again about that school.

The bell was rung and the light lit (lit. one struck the bell and lit the light) at ten to seven every morning. Initially, the bell would frighten you. Of course, you used not feel a bit like getting up. The sheets and the blankets used to be so comfortable and the world outside used to be so cold ! If you could just settle your pillow and turn over and sleep again ! But we had to get up. You had to put on your clothes and tie your shoes and make for the chapel.

We used to have breakfast at eight o'clock. After breakfast we were obliged to spend a quarter of an hour walking around out in (lit. under) the air and then we used to make the beds. We used to learn the lessons then until the classes began at twenty past nine. The classes used to go on from that until half past twelve (apart from a quarter of an hour when we had permission to read our letters).

We had dinner at one. How hungry we were ! But you used not be allowed (lit. used not have permission) to run. You had to walk nice and politely. If you were to run, there would be some punctilious teacher at the door who would stop you. He would send (lit. put) you back and you would have to walk again nice and easily.

We used to be taught again between two and four. We used to play games between four and five. Then we used to drink a cup of tea and eat a piece of bread before we used to begin our lessons.

We used to have supper at half past seven. After that we used to have almost an hour to ourselves. Such fun we used to have talking and arguing ! Class six used to be allowed to smoke. It used to please those fellows greatly to (be) light(ing) their pipes and show off !

At a quarter to nine we were obliged to (go) pray(ing) again. Then when prayers used to be over we were allowed to go to bed. I used to be so tired that I didn't feel like taking my clothes off at all. I could stretch out (lit. back) on the bed and fall asleep. The lights were extinguished at half past ten.

Lesson 25The Meeting

The women of the village are trying to found (lit. to put afoot) a place which the people of the village could use for plays and dances. The Farmers' Society and the Parish Society are talking of something of that sort for twenty-five years but there has been no result to all the talk. Recently, the (lit. woman of the shop) proprietress of the shop and the butcher's wife came together to discuss the affair. Now they are putting pressure on the women of the village to do something about the matter. There was a meeting the other night.

The room was not long filling. At eight o'clock there were thirty-three people there. We had to elect a chairman. Some of the women were proposing the butcher's wife, but everybody was not willing to accept her. The schoolmistress was proposing the postmistress. At last, everybody was willing to accept the shop proprietress as chairman. Then we could begin to discuss matters connected with the hall.

Certain people were wanting to use the old school as a hall. They said that it would be too costly to build a new hall. The ground itself would cost too much. The schoolmistress had to tell them that the old school is dangerous and that stones are falling from the walls. The old school would not be suitable at all.

This meeting was like any other meeting. There were lots and lots of people wanting to talk. ‘Perhaps one could rent a house,’ said one speaker, ‘so that expense could be saved.’ – ‘But where could we find a house?’ said another speaker, ‘I think that it is a mistake to rent a house, and that it is better to build a new hall.’ – ‘But where could we buy the land?’ said another woman. ‘How much would one spend now on an acre? It is most unlikely that we have the money.’ – ‘Most probably there isn’t anybody who would be willing to sell the land to us,’ said someone else.

Then the shop proprietress said that she and her husband would be willing to sell the field opposite the new shop. Would everybody be satisfied with that? No. The postmistress was against it. She (lit. was working out) that the shop proprietress was trying to attract more customers to her own shop. She said that that field opposite the new houses would be better.

The meeting wasn’t over until eleven. We were not succeeding in settling anything. At last we had to elect a committee to examine the matter.

I’m afraid that we ourselves will be worse than the Farmers’ Society or the Parish Society.

Lesson 26

Commotion

We had a match yesterday. We were playing against the new college. We won the game. I myself scored two points.

A lot of the team came back here to the flat after the match. There was a crowd of students from the new college with us. We had great ‘gas’. Some of the people were sitting in the corner singing songs. More of them were dancing in the centre of the room. A crowd of students were standing on the other side of the room arguing about the match. One of them was drunk and he started to boast. He said that he played better than anybody else. Somebody else said that he never played well and that he was no good as a footballer. They started to fight. To make matters worse, didn’t one of the neighbours send for the guards. (He had been asleep until the noise woke him.) Then when the two of them were tearing away, somebody burnt a hole in the curtain with a cigarette. He almost set the entire house on fire.

We succeeded in stopping the fight just in time, when we heard the guards’ car coming around the corner. Only for that we would be in a fix. The guards recognised some of the people and they wrote down the names of all the people. When the guards went away, everybody cleared off home.

It was bright daylight when I woke up. I think it was about ten o’clock. I was not long awake when I thought of last night. I sat up in the bed and looked around me (lit. myself). The room was in a mess. One would feel like crying. Everything was ruined in the upheaval.

When I got up, I put on my clothes. I didn’t wash myself or shave myself nor did I succeed in finding a towel or soap or a razor in the mess. I opened the window and began cleaning the room.

Lesson 27

Peadar And His House

Peadar's house is in the centre of the town. It is only 'a tiny little house' as he says himself. There are two storeys. There is one room and a small kitchen downstairs. There are two bedrooms upstairs. There is a yard at the back of the house. There is a small outhouse in the yard for (the) coal.

The house did not cost a lot of money. It was in a district where houses had been let (lit go to the bad) become delapidated. From the wartime onwards, the people of the town were leaving districts like this for the sake of the new houses which are a distance out from the town. Then, before long, there were not many families remaining there. According as the old people were dying, the whole area was becoming delapidated. However, for a year or two, it is greatly in fashion for young people to buy houses like those.

Peadar did not understand until it was bought how bad the house was. The floor upstairs was rotten. Indeed, the stairs itself was beginning to rot. One of the walls in the kitchen was cracked. I myself think there was a crack on one of the gable walls. Everybody was saying that it was a mistake to buy an old house. 'Buy an old thing and be without anything' people were saying. Clever people always have such proverbs in a case like this.

Peadar admitted that the house was in a bad way. However, there was no helping it now except to start working. No work is impossible (to do) if you keep your courage (up).

To be sure, Peadar did not lose his courage. You would see him there every night of the week working and sweating. He is a wonderful carpenter and he is fine and strong. He is good at using the hammer and dealing with the saw. It was not long until new wood had been put in place of old wood and all the doors painted. Before long, all the walls were fixed up.

Peadar is a lawyer and he likes to reside in the centre of the town. The house is adjacent to the courts and that suits him. Of course, the value of the house is rising according as the young people are buying and (lit. settling) fixing up other old houses in the district. It will be worth a pile of money in the future. 'However, it is not the money which counts,' said Peadar. 'I'm content here and I don't intend to stir from here for the sake of money.'

Lesson 28

The Accident

Tomás Mór was killed on Tuesday night. It happened suddenly. Nobody was expecting it. (Although I must say that I had a strange dream concerning death on Monday night.)

Tomás was a huge big man. He was a shy person; the poor man, God rest him. He was on holiday down in County Mayo when the accident happened. He was very fond of fishing and was going to spend a fortnight fishing throughout County Mayo together with Seán. Seán is a first cousin (lit. to him).

On Tuesday evening he was wanting to go on a visit to his son's wife in Gaith Sáile. (She had a child recently.) It was a crooked narrow road. It was slippery because it was raining. There was a big heavy lorry in the middle of the road on which there was barrels tied with ropes. All the ropes weren't tight enough. Suddenly Seán noticed one of the ropes was loose so that it had not a proper grip on one of the barrels. He started to call out to the driver of the lorry: 'Watch out ! Watch out !'

It was too late. The barrel fell down on top of the car. She went (lit. from) out of control. She was lifted off the road and she was (lit. hit) smashed against the ditch. Tomás Mór was thrown out head first. Between ourselves, it was a terrible thing that the door wasn't locked.

The driver of the lorry survived whole and entire. He was not hurt at all. Tomás Mór and Seán were brought to the County Hospital. Tomás Mór's neck was broken and he died an hour afterwards. Seán's legs were broken, but he will survive, (lit. with the help of God) please God.

Tomás Mór's body was brought home here as he was born and raised in this parish. The wake was on Tuesday night and the funeral was on Thursday morning. He was buried after twelve (o'clock) Mass.

There was a big funeral. Both young and old people were there. There was (in or) about a hundred cars outside the graveyard. The people were to and fro talking with the widow. 'I am sorry for (lit. I don't like) your trouble,' they said (that is what everybody says here). 'I know that, dear,' said the widow. 'Indeed, the poor fellow, he went off suddenly,' the people were saying. The men carried the coffin to the grave. Then the priest said the prayers.

Tomás Mór was buried in the grave that his father was buried in twenty years ago when he was drowned.

Lesson 29

Housework

There was a holiday yesterday and thanks be to God we had no school. It is probable that every teacher is tired like that at the end of a term. It is but a short time now until it will be Christmas and I will take life easier then.

I intended to get up early as I had plenty of work to do in the house. I didn't wake until I heard the postman at the door. I got up and went downstairs to look at the letters.

The letters did not appear very interesting. There was only an electricity bill and an account from the bank.

There was a mass of dirty dishes in the kitchen to wash. I cleared the table and placed the sugar bowl and the milk jug in the press. Then I began washing clothes. I washed all the towels and dishcloths. Then I washed the two sheets and the pillowslip. I put other clothes steeping. There was a lot of sun around midday and I succeeded in hanging them out in the yard at the back of the house. They were not long drying. I didn't bother to iron them as I was too tired.

Then I called up Mícheál and invited him for supper. He was grateful to me for he said that he himself did not feel at all like cooking. Really, he has no interest in cooking if he can avoid it.

I relaxed then for an hour or two. I listened to records. I read the paper and I read a few pages (lit. out of) of 'Cré na Cille'.

At seven o'clock I started to prepare the supper. I (lit. cleaned) peeled the potatoes and put them on. When they were cooked, I mashed them. I cut an onion. I put the onion and a little bit of butter and salt on the mashed potatoes and I mixed them in the saucepan. I boiled the bacon and the cabbage in a big wide pot. They taste better like that. However, you must keep the lid on the pot or you will have the smell all over the place.

At a quarter to eight, I laid the table beside the window. I used the new tablecloth that I bought recently in Galway city and I lit a candle on the table.

Mícheál came on the stroke of eight exactly when the supper was ready and he drew the cork out of the bottle of wine for me. He is much stronger than me !

We (lit. got enjoyment out of) enjoyed the meal together. I think that it is delightful to be eating and drinking and conversing like that by candle-light. We will have another meal together at the end of next week.

Lesson 30

The Cheque

Everything is much dearer now besides how it used to be a few years ago before we entered the European Union. Of course, the price of oil is also connected with this situation. It is hard on married people who have responsibility or on older people who are depending on the pension.

Peige's uncle died six months ago. He left a sum of money (lit. by will) in his will. She (herself) got a cheque from the lawyer the other day. She was never more grateful to anybody than she was to her poor uncle. She had no money to spend for many a day. She felt like buying some clothes.

She got up earlier yesterday than she usually gets up. She was standing outside the shop before it was opened. (If she should be there much later the shops would be crowded. There are hoards of country people on holiday up here at present).

It was so difficult for her to make her mind up. She was wondering what she would buy. She prefers cotton dresses. They are lighter and usually they are brighter. But it is autumn now and the summer frocks are getting scarcer. They have the nicest ones sold by now.

There was one dress that Peige greatly liked. This dress came down only as far as the knees so that it was a little bit shorter than the dresses which were in (the) fashion this year. It had a nice narrow waist. The bottom portion was wider and it had a high neck. She tried the dress on her but it was too small. It was too narrow around the shoulders.

Then she went across the street to a big shop which is very famous. She thought that it would be more farseeing and sensible to buy winter clothes. The shopkeepers are preparing already for the winter and anyway it is only a short time until the weather will be getting harsher.

They had sheepskin coats very cheap and overcoats which were made of wool. 'The customers are wild about the sheepskin coats this year,' the shop girl said to her. 'They are really a wonderful bargain !'

Peige bought a coat which had a nice belt and little buttons sewn on each side. After that she bought brown shoes which had leather soles and high heels. She was just going (off) out of the shop when she saw a pair of beautiful gloves and a scarf which were the same colour as the coat. That is the worst thing concerning clothes, if you buy one garment, it seems difficult not to buy another one.

A Conversation

'Hello !' – 'Hello !' – 'Where are you (yourself) from, if you don't mind my asking you ?' – 'I am from France.' – 'What is your name ?' – 'Pierre. What is your own name ?' – 'Seán Ó Flaithearta. Seáinín Thomáis people call me here. How long is it since you came here ?' – 'I am here a few weeks. I am learning Irish.' – 'Do you reckon Irish is difficult ?' – 'It isn't that difficult.' – 'Indeed, you (lit. have) can speak marvellous Irish, God bless you ! Where are you staying ?' – 'In that house on the righthand side.' – 'I know, at Máirtín Mór's. How do you like this place ?' – 'I like it a lot but the weather isn't too good at present.' – 'Well, good day to you now !' – 'Good bye.'

Lesson 31

Journalism

Liam is a journalist. He has been connected with journalism since he left school. He is attached to the same paper now for six or seven years. He has a great interest in politics. He writes a couple of articles every week about politics. He has also an interest in sport and sometimes, if there is some big match on, he writes an account of it.

Sometimes in the summer, when some of the other journalists are on holiday, Liam has to write other reports. The year before last, for example, he was asked if he would mind describing fashion affairs. He had to do it as he didn't want to refuse the man who was over him. He wrote an article about the type of boots and glasses that would be fashionable in the autumn !

Then, last year, the man who is supposed to deal with religious affairs was sick. Liam was asked to give a report on a conference which church people were holding. He said that he didn't have much knowledge of those matters but people said to him that it did not matter about that. Liam was obliged to spend a few days shaking hands with ministers and interviewing bishops. However, he succeeded in writing a few articles. It is said that it is worth reading them.

The Thief

Tomás is an engineer. He spent a couple of weeks recently working in the west in Cois Fhairrge. A factory is being built there. He liked the few weeks very much and he was feeling sentimental when he was leaving. He was saying to the local people that he would prefer to live in Cois Fhairrge than in Dublin.

When he came home he got a fright when he saw the house. It was broken into while he was in the west. A television and a camera were stolen, not to mention all his records. The house was in a mess. A lot of his books were thrown all around the room (as a result of the action of) by the thief. Tomás was terribly upset.

He sent for the police immediately. He was shaking when they came. The police looked at the house but it was difficult to make out how the thief had got in. A policeman asked Tomás if the door had been locked. Tomás said that it was. They reckoned that perhaps the thief had used a ladder and that he came in upstairs.

Tomás did not get anything back but he hopes to get money from the insurance people. Maybe he won't get the money for a few months.

Lesson 32

Advice

Colm is sixteen years working in Dublin. He left Cois Fháirge when he was eighteen years of age. He was a very intelligent boy. He spent four years at the university and then when he took his degree he got a position as a teacher.

In the beginning he was sharing a flat with his brother Pádraig and with another lad from home. The other lad was working as a plumber. He was a drole (lit. man) character and the three of them used to have great fun together. Then the brother married and he bought a house. (The other lad was married three months before that). Colm was left alone.

He spent a year like that. During that year Colm considered his position. What hurry was he in to marry? Didn't he have plenty of time? All the same, he was wondering if he would be more (lit. settled in himself) at ease with himself if he should buy a house. But, in a way, if you had such responsibility, would not life be more difficult? If there was someone there to meet you when you would come home from work, matters would be much better. Colm was lonely.

He (himself) and Pádraig went home on holiday around Easter last year. The turf was to be cut around Eastertime. One day the two brothers were helping the father when he was cutting the turf. After a while, Colm said that he had a pain in his backbone from bending down and that he needed a rest. Pádraig also took a rest and the two of them sat on the bank of a lake and began to talk. 'You would be as well off (lit. it would be as well for you) to buy a house,' said Pádraig. 'You are only wasting your money paying rent like that.' — 'What harm,' said Colm, 'life is long!'

But Colm yielded to his brother. When the two of them returned to Dublin, Colm started to look for a house. One day, a house was shown to him and as soon as he walked in through the door, he understood that that was the house he wanted. It was just like his brother's house. The house was auctioned three weeks after that and Colm succeeded in buying it. There were a lot of people bidding for the house and as a result of that it cost a lot. However, all things considered, Colm was well satisfied with it.

We heard recently that Colm is to be married.

Lesson 33

The Dentist

The dentists always say that you should go to them at least twice (lit. in the) per year. I am always talking about going to the dentist. I am always just calling him up when I begin to hesitate. Maybe it would be better to put it back another week! In this way, I succeed in going to him at most every third year.

I (lit. was at) visited the dentist the other day. When I was sitting in the room waiting to go into him, a woman came into the room. I didn't feel like talking but the woman didn't cease: 'I'm tormented by this tooth! I didn't sleep a wink for two nights. You would think that every bone in my body was sore, it is so painful.'

After a while pity seized me for the woman. I began to say that the situation wasn't quite that bad and to tell her how good the dentist was and what trust I had in him. However, she had every fault to find with him.

'He is no good !' said the woman. 'I (myself) spent over six years abroad and the dentists were wonderful ! They were extremely good. But as far as the dentists of this city or (lit. the dentists of Ireland) the Irish dentists are concerned, I would not trust them !'

By the time I was sent for to go into the dentist I was trembling with fear. However another man went past me on his way out and he said to me to keep my heart up. It wasn't that bad !

'(You are) welcome !' said the dentist. 'How are you - it is a long time since I've seen you !' - 'Excellent,' I (myself) said. (I was trying to persuade myself that I was.) 'Take a seat there !'

I sat down in the chair. The dentist turned a little wheel and raised the chair to make me more comfortable. Then he placed a little towel resembling a handkerchief on the rail near me. He filled a glass and placed it on the small basin which was near the chair. He stuck something into my mouth and commenced to pick (lit. out of) at my teeth. He spent a while examining them and looking for holes. Then he said that a crown was put on one of the teeth a few years ago and that the top of the crown was broken. I would have to come back another day. I could make an appointment with the secretary on the way out.

The dentist is a nice person, and of course, he is very skilled. All the same, I must say I was glad when I reached the door.

Lesson 34

The Bull

I remember well the summer we spent working in England. We were students that time and (lit. it is we who were) we were young and lighthearted ! Really, there was no call for us to spend the summer labouring. We had scholarships and we didn't need the money that acutely. However, my sister's husband was related in some way to a man who had a big inn in England and we went over to ask him for a job.

He was a big strong man like a bull ('The Bull' we always used to call him). We introduced ourselves to him. I said to him that I was related to him. (Lit. It is not too pleased that he was) he was not too pleased. (Lit. It is the way that you would think that it was trying to insult him we were) actually you would think we were trying to insult him. However, he gave us a position washing dishes in the kitchen.

It was a terrible drudgery. He had us work ten hours a day. The air used to be so bad that my throat used to be sore during the day. We were obliged to wear big long aprons and we used to stand at the basin from morning until night washing and drying dishes. Such boring work !

I remember that I was working very hard. I was wanting to do my best and to earn my money honestly. But however hard I used to work the more bad-humoured the Bull used to be. However much work you might do, you could not satisfy the Bull ! He would prefer to (be) complain(ing).

'Hey, tell me,' said a companion to me one day, 'why are you breaking your heart working like that ? Take it easy ! (Lit. It is the way that) actually the Bull doesn't see you at all. He has bad eyesight.'

That is what we thought until we were standing one day at the basin imitating him and he saw us. Such a blow he hit my companion ! He nearly killed him. However, when I think about it now, it seems that we were lucky that he didn't sack us.

I remember the first pay I got. It looked so big to us in comparison with the money which students used to have. We had a bedroom in a little house at the back of the big house (the 'henhouse' my pal used to call it). The song of the birds woke me early in the morning. I got up and laid out my money at the bottom of the bed just to get a good and proper look at it !

The Bull promised us forty pounds each if we would remain until the end of the month. We thought that the money which we had earned would be sufficient for us and we went off home.

Despite the fact that the work was hard our people could not believe how well we were looking when we got home.

Lesson 35

The Car

I bought an old car a few years ago. I only had it one day when I succeeded in hitting against a car which was parked outside of the neighbour's house. Such a bang ! The neighbours all ran out and they thought that perhaps a great clap of thunder had hit some house.

The car lasted two or three years. Then it began to fall asunder. I was spending all of the money which I had on it and I had to sell it.

I brought it to some man who dealt with old broken cars. He was very busy and thought that I was upsetting him. He cast an eye (lit. on) over the car.

'Are you sure that you want to sell it ?' said he. 'Yes, I am,' said I. 'If it had a new wheel and if that door wasn't broken, I would give you a few pounds for it. It is not worth anything as it is.'

I remained quiet for a minute or two. I was pretending that I did not hear him at all. 'I will give twenty pounds provided that I get it (the car) on the spot.' I said to him that I couldn't part with it for less than forty (pounds). He didn't believe a word I said. 'I will split it with you,' he (himself) said. 'Very well.'

I heard a few weeks afterwards that the scoundrel sold the car for fifty pounds the following day. He had a big profit.

The Bicycle

One day my youngest brother came home with a new bicycle. Before long, I too was having a go at it. The two of us agreed that a bicycle is very healthy compared to a car. We decided if I had a bicycle and if I had the time, that we could go off looking at the country(side). My brother was very interested in geography and in the history of the country.

I bought a bicycle exactly like his and we started out.

He almost killed me ! If we had only had a sufficient amount of sense to attack it gradually. But no ! I don't know what sort of haste we were in. He wanted to see an old prison or some castle in the centre of the country. We tore away until I thought that my heart would burst. I thought if I had much more to do that I would throw the bicycle over the ditch and that I would ask somebody for a lift home. I started blaming my brother. I wouldn't mind but he wasn't tired at all. We would take a rest as soon as we reached the castle.

I wouldn't mind buying another car (if I had the money, of course). Maybe from now on I won't bother with any means of transport. It is said that walking is extraordinarily healthy !

Lesson 36

The Co-operative Society

There are lots of co-operative societies now in the Irish-speaking areas. The co-operatives deal with farming and fishing, or with any scheme which they think will improve the lives of the people. Some of them are trying to improve the public services like the water and electricity services. Others are in charge of Irish language colleges (i.e. colleges that were founded to teach Irish in the summer to children from the non-Irish speaking areas). The occasional big one is involved with the publication of Irish language books, particularly school books.

Beartla Ó Flaithearta is a manager of one of these co-operative societies. It is said that he is a superb manager and that he is extremely good at dealing with everybody. He has plenty of work to do trying to improve matters. He has often to go to Dublin to meet civil servants and business people.

Beartla says that often the work is very difficult. For example, the other day he wanted a farmer to do certain work for the co-operative. At first the farmer wasn't willing to do the work.

'I won't bother with it for a while at any rate,' said the farmer, 'I have too much to do at present.'

Beartla made an attempt to persuade him that he should do it. 'Won't you do it ?' said Beartla. 'No,' said the other man, 'won't you yourself be able to do it ?' – 'You should do it. You are outstandingly good at work like that, but if you won't do it, well I just can't do anything about it.' – 'We'll see,' said the farmer, 'we will talk again about it.' – 'Okay,' said Beartla. – 'Very well.' – 'Good man.'

Sometimes you would need great patience with people ! Furthermore, whatever (lit. will) may happen, one can never lose one's head. No matter how selfish people are, one must be patient. It is not worth your while giving out. Beartla is excellent in that way although he admits that it is hard to manage some of the people.

There is a programme on Raidió na Gaeltachta which gives information to the people concerning the work of the co-operatives. Sometimes it is really interesting.

Literature

Since the Irish language movement came to the fore at the beginning of this century people are publishing stories and poetry in Irish. Of course, there is a strong tradition of singing songs and storytelling in the Irish speaking areas, which goes a long way back; but since the new state was founded in the year 1922 people had a better opportunity of publishing books.

Máirtín Ó Cadhain (1906 – 1970) is the most important writer of prose of all those which we have had. He was from Cois Fhairrge and he wrote six books of short stories as well as the well-known novel Cré na Cille which was published shortly after the war.

Among the poets who most impressed Irish speakers are Seán Ó Ríordáin (1916 – 1977) and Máirtín Ó Direáin (1910 – 1988). Seán Ríordáin was a Corkman and Máirtín Ó Direáin is an Aran islander. 'Línte Liombó' is the title of one of the books of poetry which Seán Ó Ríordáin composed.

KEY TO EXERCISES

Lesson 2

1. Tá Máirtín agus Bríd ansin.
2. Tá teach ansin.
3. Nach bhfuil boird agus rudaí eile ann ?
4. Níl doirse ar bith anseo.
5. Níl fir ná gasúir anseo.
6. Nach bhfuil lampa ar bith ann ?
7. Níl lampa ar bith ann.
8. Níl doras ná lampa anseo.
9. Tá mé sástaanois.
10. An bhfuil tú sásta ?
11. Deir sé go bhfuil siad anseo freisin.
12. Tá muide sásta ach an bhfuil sibhse sásta ?
13. Tá múinteoirí agus daoine eile ann freisin.
14. Níl tusa sásta ach tá mise sásta.
15. Táthar sásta ansin.

Lesson 3

1. Tá peictiúr, páipéar, leabhar agus boird anseo.
2. Tá bád Pháidín ansin agus tá mapa anseo.
3. Níl muintir Mheireacá ná muintir Shasana sástaanois.
4. Tá cailín Dhonncha agus fear Pheige ansin.
5. Níl feilméaraí Chiarraí sásta agus níl feilméaraí Chonamara sásta ach a oiread.
6. Tá garraí Sheáinín ansin agus tá tarbh Sheáinín ansin freisin. Tá teach Dhiarmaid anseo.
7. Tá muintir Thomáisín sásta.
8. Tá go leor seomraí (seomraí go leor) anseo. Tá seomra uncail Bhairbre anseo freisin.
9. Cá bhfuil bóthar Ghaoth Sáile ?
10. Níl páipéir ar bith anseo, ach tá leabhartha eile ann.

Lesson 4

1. Tá go leor tíreacha ar an mapa.
2. A Cháit, cá bhfuil Sasana ?
3. Tá fuinneog bhreá ansin agus fuinneog dheas eile anseo.
4. Tá sé go deasanois. Tá sé go hálainn.
5. Tá fear maith ansin agus bean mhaith freisin.
6. Tá Gaeilge mhaith anseo. Níl coláiste ar bith anseo ar chor ar bith.
7. A Dhiarmaid, tá seomra mórransin agus tá cláirseach bhreá ann freisin.
8. Tá fuinneog mhór bhreá anseo.
9. Tá go leor tíreacha agus náisiún ann.
10. B'fhéidir go bhfuil bean Pháidín agus fear Bhríd anseo.
11. Tá báisteach agus fuacht ann.
12. Tá bean dheas ann, agus sagart, feilméara mórragus Éireannach mórr eile anseo.
13. Tá Gaeltacht mhór anseo ar aon chaoi.
14. Tá áit bhreá anseo agus b'fheidir go bhfuil ceann eile ansin.
15. Tá muid anseo aríst. Tá sé go hiontach.

Lesson 5

1. Tá seomra Bhríd anseo. Tá sé beag ach mar sin féin, tá sé go deas.
2. Tá cisteanach ann agus tá sí mórr freisin.
3. Tá na leabhartha ansin ar an orlár. Tá go leor ar an mbord freisin.
4. Tá Máire ar an bhfón. Cá bhfuil an fón ?
5. Tá sé ansin in aice leis an doras.
6. Tá bia ar an apláta.
7. Tá cupla cathaoir in aice leis an tine.
8. Tá leabhartha agus páipéir ar an gcathaoir.
9. An bhfuil tú sásta leis an náisiún ?
10. Tá spúnóig bheag ar an sásar.
11. Níl siad sásta leis an múinteoir ar chor ar bith.
12. Tá an áit dheas ar an mapa.
13. An bhfuil Fraincis ansin ?
14. Tá Fraincis mhaith ansin.

Lesson 6

1. Beidh Baile Átha Cliath go hiontach amáireach.
2. Bhí mé seachtain ann anuraidh.
3. An raibh sibh tinn inné ?
4. An mbeidh tusa anseo amáireach ?
5. Beidh muide anseo cinnte ar aon chaoi.
6. Níl sé cinnte an mbeidh sé anseo aríst nó nach mbeidh.
7. An raibh leabhartha agus páipéir ar an mbord ?
8. Bhí, muise.
9. Tá cóta deas ag Máire freisin agus gúna iontach. Tá, muise.
10. An raibh mórán daoine ann ?
11. Beidh go leor leor carranna agus busanna ar an mbóthar ach ní bheidh mórán croinnté ann.
12. Bhí cupla duine ag an ngeata arfst, mar sin bhí Cáit sásta. 12. Tá léine dheas ag Diarmaid, nach bhfuil ? 13. Bhí sráid ar an taobh eile ach ní raibh mórán daoine ann. 14. Bhí athair agus máthair Pheige réasúnta sásta leis an bpeictiúr. 15. Bhí léinteacha agus treabhsair agus go leor éadaí eile ar an orlár in aice leis an bhfuinneog.

Lesson 7

1. Bhí gasúir bheaga ag Máirtín. 2. Tá fuinneogaf móra deasa anseo. 3. Tá croinnte móra agus garrantaf deasa anseoanois ach beidh tithe agus coláistí anseo. 4. Bhíodh go leor beithigh agus caiple anseo ach anois níl mórán ann ar chor ar bith. 5. Bhíodh sásta leis an bhfeilm, nach mbídís ? 6. Ní bhíodh an talamh go maith anseo agus bhíodh an iomarca uisce ann. 7. An mbeifeá sásta leis an saol ar an bhfeilm ? Bheinn, cinnte. 8. Bheadh an geimhreadh agus an samhradh go deas anseo. 9. Bhí neart daoine soibhir anseo. 10. Bhí mé ansin cupla seachta anuraidh agus bhí an aimsir go hiontach. 11. Tá mac agus inín ag an mbean. 12. Ó muise, an créatúr ! Tá sé fuar anseo arfst. 13. Tá caoirigh agus caiple ar an genoc. 14. A dhaoine uaisle, an bhfuil 'chuile dhuine sásta leis an áit ? 15. Tá mé cinnte nach mbeadh an leabhar spéisiúil ar aon chaoi.

Lesson 8

1. Ní raibh crof Úna go maith ariamh. Tá sí marbh anois, an créatúr ! 2. Tá gasúr amháin ann agus tá sé réasúnta óg i gcónaí. 3. Má bhíonn Páidín anseo tráthnóna, go hiondúil bíonn sé cantalach go háirithe leis an ngasúr. 4. Ná bigí dána mar sin ! Bigí ciúin ! 5. Go hiondúil, bíonn muid tuirseach tráthnóna. 6. Má bhíonn Seáinín ansin tá mé sásta. 7. Feicim go bhfuil an eochair ansin ar an mbord, ach níl mé cinnte cá bhfuil an doras. 8. Má bhíonn an t-úlla ansin amáireach, beidh Cáit sásta. 9. Mara mbeidh an teach in aice leis an scoil, beidh Ruairí cantalach. 10. Má bhíonn tusa anseo amáireach, beidh mise anseo freisin. 11. Bhí sé anseo tráthnóna amháin agus bhí sé tinn. 12. Má bhíonn sé anseo tráthnóna, beidh 'chuile dhuine sásta.

Lesson 9

1. Bhí an múinteoir tuirseach ach bhí an feilméara é féin ann freisin. 2. Tigim anois é. Tá an doras ansin agus tá na heochracha ar an mbord. 3. An bhfuil tú ansin ? Feicim ansin thú. 4. Deir sí go mbeidh an dream uilig ag an bhfarraige amáireach ach ní chreidim ar chor ar bith í. 5. Tigim thusa go maith ach ní thigim iadsan ar chor ar bith. 6. Deir siad go bhfuil na sléibhte ansin ach ní fheicim féin ar chor ar bith iad. 7. Tá scáthán anseo. Feicim mé féin ansin. 8. Beidh mise agus thusa sásta leis an bhfómhar agus leis an earrach anseo. 9. An raibh tusa thí féin ag an leabharlann inné ? Bhí ? Tá sé sin go maith. An raibh tú ansin go moch ar maidin ? 10. Bheidís siúd sásta leis na tithe ósta anseo. 11. Bhí an aimsir go maith i mbliana cé go raibh sneachta ar na sléibhte uilig. 12. Bhí muid coicís anseo anuraidh ach ní raibh sibhse ann ar chor ar bith.

Lesson 10

1. Bhí mo mháthair agus m'athair anseo anuraidh. 2. An bhfuil t'athair agus do mháthair sásta leis an teach nua ? 3. Tá mo chuid leabharthasa anseo ach níl do chuidsa anseo ar chor ar bith. 4. Tá ar gcuide Gaeilge muide go maith ach níl 'ur gcuide sibhse go maith. 5. Tá do chuid bainne féin géar. 6. Tá a sheomra seisean anseo. Tá a seomra sise ansin. 7. Bhí sí ag a theach siúd arfst inné. 8. Bíonn (cuid) éadaí Mháirtín go deas i gcónaí. 9. Mara mbeadh a cuid Béarla go maith, ní bheadh a huncail sásta ar chor ar bith. 10. Tá a bhéal tinn agus tá blas gránna ar a theanga. 11. Dhá mbeadh a mhéir ceart, bheadh an dochtúr ag an ospidéal sách sásta (sásta go leor). 12. Ní móide go mbeidh mé i bhfad ar líostín anseo. Tá an aimsir go dona. Tá báisteach agus gaoth ann agus ní fheicim an fharraige ná na hoileáin ar chor ar bith. 13. Dhá mbeadh aifreann ann go moch Dé Domhnaigh, ní bheadh teach an phobail lán ar chor ar bith. 14. 'Níl an dochtúr anseo ach beidh sé ar ais ar ball beag,' a deir an bhanaltra. 'Tá ceo ann agus bhí timpiste ar an mbóthar ar ball.' Bhí a mhála ar an mbord agus bhí snáthaid aisteach in aice leis an mala. 15. Níl an buidéal lán ach tá mo dhóthain anseo. 16. Níl an teanga seo deacair ach deir siad go bhfuil do cheannsa sách deacair (deacair go leor).

Lesson 11

- A. 1. Ar ...? Is mé. 2. Ar ...? Is mé. 3. Ab í ...? Is í. 4. Ab é ...? Is é. 5. Ab é ...? Is é.
 6. Ab í ...? Is í. 7. Ab é ...? Is é. 8. Ab í ...? Is í. 9. Ab iad ...? Is iad. 10. Ar ...? Is mé.
- B. 1. Nach í ...? Ní hí. 2. Nach iad ...? Ní hiad. 3. Nach é ...? Ní hé. 4. Nach í ...? Ní hí.
 5. Nach ...? Ní mé. 6. Nach ...? Ní mé. 7. Nach í ...? Ní hí. 8. Nach é ...? Ní hé.
- C. 1. Marab ... 2. Deir siad gurb ... 3. Más ... 4. Maran ... 5. Deir siad gur ... 6. Is ...
 7. Nach...?

1. cóta amháin 2. aon bhád amháin 3. ocht seachtainí 4. seacht n-úlla 5. chuíig bhliana
 6. trí huaire 7. sé phunt 8. cheithre phunt 9. naoi bpunt deich bpingine 10. dhá bhád
 11. ocht gcathaoir 12. sé bliana.

1. Tá mo chuid leabhartha anseo. Tá do chuidsa ansin. 2. Tá a chárta seisean anseo. Tá a cárta sise ansin. 3. Tá ar dteach féin go deas. 4. Tá a gheata siúd ansin. 5. Fuair bean an tí feoil agus iasc agus im agus arán. Fuair sí sé huibhe agus fataí agus torthaí freisin. 6. Bhí mé tamall ar saoire in aice leis an gCeathrú Rua trí bliana ó shin. Bhí an t-uafás daoine ann.
 Bhí an áit plódaithe.

Lesson 12

- A. 1. A: Is ... B: Ab ea? 2. A: Ar... B: Is ea. 3. A: Is ... B: Ab ea? 4. A: Ar... B: Is ea.
 5. A: Nach ... B: Is ea.
- B. 1. deas 2. maith 3. bocht 4. mór
- C. oscail, salaigh, nigh, pacáil
- D. imrígí, brisígí, léigí, glanaigí, péinteálaigí

1. an t-aon bhean amháin 2. na cheithre leabhar dheasa 3. na trí fhuinneog mhóra 4. an t-aon fhear mór amháin 5. an (na) dá theach mhóra

1. Ní banaltra mé. Is dochtúr mé. Tá an t-ospidéal ansin. Nach deas é? Níl anseo ach an t-aon ospidéal amháin. 2. Ar dochtúr thusa freisin? Is ea. 3. Go deimhin, deir sé gur dochtúirf nó múinteoirí iad na daoine sin uilig (ar fad). 4. Coinnígí na leabhartha ach ná salasgf iad leis na peanna. 5. Glan thusa an bord. Ansin nigh na soithí. Ná bruith an fheoil arfst agus ná hoscaill an doras ar chor ar bith. 6. 'Glan do shrón, más é do thoil é, agus ansin glan an clár dubh,' a deir an mháistreás. Glan féin é agus glan do shrón féin,' a deir an buachaill. 7. Is mór an truaí go raibh Máirtín dána Dé Céadaoin agus Déardaoin. Bhí sé dána Dé Luain an tseachtain seo caite. 8. Bfonn buachaillí agus cailíní in éindí ag an rang Dé Máirt agus Dé hAoine.

Lesson 13

A. 1. a bhí 2. atá 3. a bheas 4. a bhíonnns 5. a bheadh

B. 1. nach bhfuil 2. nach mbíonn 3. nach mbeidh 4. nach raibh 5. nach mbíodh

1. Tá an droch-sheancharr céanna ag Cáit, an carr a bhí ag Bríd nuair a bhí sí anseo anuraidh. 2. Cé atá ansin ? Mise, oscail an doras ! 3. Tá an áit seo go díreach mar a bhíodh sé nuair a bhínn anseo cupla bliain ó shin. 4. Bíonn an bus i gcónai luath, chomh luath is a bhíonnns tú ag an siopa bionn sí ann. 5. Tá mo gheansáí anseo ach tá sé i bhfad romhór. 6. Bhí na comharsanna uilig ag an damhsa Dé Sathairn. Bhí sé fiúrmaith. Bhí ceol agus amhráin ann. 7. Tá barúil ag daoine go bhfuil an chathair níos measa, go háirithe faoi Nollaig. Tá mé cinnte go mbíonn sí uaigneach ag an deireadh seachtaine.

Lesson 14

A. 1. a thiscint 2. fás 3. a oscailt 4. a chreisdiúint 5. a léamh 6. a ghoil 7. a bheith 8. a bhriseadh 9. a theacht 10. pósadh

B. 1. Is ea. 2. Is f. 3. Is iad. 4. Is é. 5. Is f. 6. Is é.

C. 1. Ní hea. 2. Ní hí 3. Ní hf. 4. Ní hé. 5. Ní hea. 6. Ní hea.

1. Tá cùigear nó seisear anseo atá in ann Fraincis a thiscint. 2. Sin iad na trí shagart a bhí ag teach an phobail Dé Domhnaigh seo caite. 3. Seo é an dream óg atá sásta an obair a dhéanamh. Tá siad in ann síolta a chur agus fataí agus coirce a fhás. 4. B'éisgean a ghoil ag an seanteach arfóst anuraidh agus na doirse agus na fuinneogaí a phéinteáil agus an áit uilig a ghlanadh. 5. Ní raibh ach aon duine amháin ann a bhí sásta a theacht (a thfocadh). 6. Déanaigí na boscaí ach ná déanaigí an iomarca.

Lesson 15

A. 1. ag fás 2. ag ól 3. ag foghlaim 4. ag briseadh

B. 1. a dhéanamh 2. a thóigeáil 3. a bhriseadh 4. a fhoghlaim 5. a phacáil 6. a iarraidh

C. 1. do mo phósadh 2. dhá bualadh 3. dhár bplé 4. dhá thóigeáil 5. dho'ur moladh 6. á phéinteáil

1. Tá an-fhoighid ag Máire. Is clóscríobháí maith í agus is rúnaí iontach f. Bíonn a hathair i gcónai ag moladh Mháire. 2. Bhí sé ag plé le ceannacht agus diol carranna agus bhí sé ag saothrú go maith. Anois tá sé ag goil ag foghlaim Gearmánis agus Spáinnis. Níl páí ar bith ag an gcréatúr, ach cén dochar ? 3. Cén mhaith a bheith ag foghlaim ceird eile go cúramach ? Chúns atá sé dhá foghlaim, bím ag déanamh imní faoi na cursaí seo. 4. Tá daoine áirithe sásta go díreach an rud a deirim a dhéanamh. 5. Díolaigí an carr sin agus ansin ceannaigí ceann eile.

Lesson 16

A. 1. agam 2. aice féin 3. aige 4. aige sin 5. aige 6. agat féin 7. aige 8. agaibhse 9. againne 10. acu

1. Bhí sé an-deas ag Ruairí a thíocht an tráthnóna cheana. Bhí comrádaí eile anseo agam agus is siúnéara é atá ag obair ar an tsráid in aice leis an gceann seo 'ainne. 2. Is móir an truaí seantithe mar sin a leagan agus oifigí nua a thóigeáil. Bhí an t-adhmaid go maith. Cé go raibh na horláir ag titim ruainne beag, tá mé beagnach cinnte go bhféadfaí caoi a chur ar 'chuile shórt mar sin. 3. Tá sé fánach agat (a bheith ag) caint leis an dream úd. Níl a fhios céin t-airgead atá ag na daoine seo. Bfónn comhlachtaí mar sin sásta rud ar bith a dhéanamh. 4. Bhí roinnt daoine ag an mbainis a bhí ag ithe agus ag ól. Bhí daoine eile ag casadh amhráin agus ag damhsa. 5. Tá súil agam go bhfuil an ceart agat agus go mbeidh Cáit ag tiocht anseo amáireach. 6. Bhí sé ag éirí fuar agus bhí an oíche ag titim. Tá an bheirt acu ag caitheamh píopáí go suaimhneach in aice leis an gcláí, agus ag tóigeáil scíth.

Lesson 17

A. 1. brón 2. áthas 3. drogall 4. faitíos 5. ocras 6. fearg 7. fonn 8. imní 9. tart
10. deifir

B. 1. bán 2. gorm 3. liath 4. glasa 5. dearg 6. buí 7. dubh, donn 8. uaine 9. rua

1. Bhí sciorta gorm uirthi agus cóta buí. Bhí sí ag breathnú go maith cé go raibh cuma thuirseach uirthi. 2. Tá sé ag breathnú ar an bpáipéar ag tóraíocht eolas faoin drama nua, an ceann a shílim a bheas go maith. 3. Bhí an amharclann plódaithe. Mar sin féin, fuair muid suíocháin in aice leis an státse ar phunt. Bhí an drama go maith ach bhí na haisteoírí go dona, cé go bhfuil cliú orthu. 4. Bhí treabhsar agus léine ormsa. Bhí sciorta agus geansaí ortsá. Bhí cóta agus caipín airsán mar bhí slaghdán air. 5. Bhí ocras agus tart orainn agus mar sin chuaigh muid ar cuairt acu. Bhí fonn orainn béisí maith a ithe. 6. Breathnaígí 'chuile áit. Tóraígí an fáinne !

Lesson 18

A. 1. Tá crann ansin a bhfuil billeogaí buí air. 2. Feicim an bhean a raibh cóta gorm uirthi. 3. Tá an fear anseo a bhfuil a mhac tinn. 4. Sin é an lá a raibh Cáit anseo. 5. Sin é an fáth a mbeidh mé sásta. 6. Sin é an uair nach raibh tú sásta. 7. Sin é an buachaill a shílim a mbeidh an leabhar aige.

1. Bhí cion aice ar an múinteoir eolaíocht ach bhí an-tóir aice ar theangacha. 2. Bhí na léachtóirí agus na léachtanna an-dona. Maidir leis na scrúdaíocha, bhí siad uafásach ! 3. Bhí mé asam féin. An raibh túsa asat féin freisin ? Tá sé deacair aithne a chur ar dhaoine ar an ollscoil. 4. Tá aithne agam ar Mháirtín ach níl a fhios agam cá bhfuil sé (céin aít a bhfuil sé) anois. 5. Cé as na daoine sin ? Níl mé cinnte ar as an bhFrainc nó as an Spáinn iad. 6. Fuair mé leitir as Meiriceá dhá lá as a chéile. 7. Ní raibh torann ar bith astu ar feadh píosa. 8. Casaigí as an raidió ! Lasaigí an tine agus athraigí 'ur gcuid éadaí ! Tá daoine ag tiocht ar cuairt againn. Níl a fhios agam céin fáth a bhfuil siad ag tiocht anois. 9. Cé air a bhfuil an leabhar ? Ar an mbord. 10. Tóig an leabhar anois as an mala !

Lesson 19

A. 1. Is dorcha an seomra seo ná an ceann eile. Sin é an seomra is dorcha. 2. Is tiúcha an t-adhmaid seo ná an cineál eile. Sin é an t-adhmaid is tiúcha. 3. Is cruacha a bheas an ubh seo ná do cheanna. Sin í an ubh is cruacha. 4. Is fusa an leabhar seo. Sin í an leabhar is fusa. 5. Is measa a bheas an peictiúr eile. Sin é an peictiúr is measa. 6. Is fearr an aimsir seo. Sin í an aimsir is fearr. 7. Is foide an bóthar eile. Sin é an bóthar is foide. 8. Is lú an teach seo. Sin é an teach is lú.

B. 1. amuigh 2. anois 3. anuas 4. aniar 5. thoir 6. thus 7. istigh 8. istigh

C. 1. sé chéad duine 2. ocht mbád déag 3. trí phunta dhéag 4. cheithre horlaí déag 5. sé pingine déag 6. chúig sheomra dhéag 7. trí chupán déag 8. dhá phláta dhéag 9. dhá fhichid (dhá scór) bliain 10. fiche (scór) pingin 11. deich n-uaire 12. chúig chathaoir déag 13. cheithre chrann déag 14. trí pingine déag 15. cheithre fichid (scóir) mhíle 16. naoi gcupán déag 17. ocht gcéad teach 18. aon bhord déag 19. chúig bhliana déag 20. trí mhíle bliain

1. Níl an saol chomh crua sin anois. Tá mé cinnte nach bhfuil sé chomh crua is a bhíodh (sé). 2. Tugaim faoi deara go mbíodh an geimhreadh níos cruacha blianta ó shin agus bhíodh sé níos trioma freisin. 3. Tá Bríd níos lú ná Cáit. Tá Bairbre chomh beag céanna. 4. Chomh beag leis an mbean sin ! 5. Beidh ar Mháirtín bocht a ghoil siar amach. Tá sé chomh míshásta sin go mbeidh ar Bhríd a ghoil freisin.

Lesson 20

A. 1. ... nach féidir a oscailt. 2. ... is féidir a oscailt. 3. ... nach féidir a bhriseadh. 4. ... ar maith léi ceol. 5. ... nach maith leis gasúir bheaga. 6. ... ar maith léi a bheith ag foghlaim teangacha.

B. 1. leisean 2. leis 3. leo 4. linn 5. leatsa 6. libh 7. liom 8. léi 9. leis 10. léi

1. Le mí anuas anois, tá 'chuile dhuine ag cuimhniú ar an toghachán agus ag caint faoin bpolaifocht. Ní maith liomsa páirtí ar bith. Níl mé ag goil ag caitheamh vóta. 2. Bíonn muid ag éisteacht leis an raidió agus ag breathnú ar an nuafocht ar an teilifís beagnach 'chuile lá. Is deacair a rá cé aige a mbeidh an bua. 3. Tá na ballaf agus na doirse agus na fuinneogai uilig le glanadh agus le péinteáil arfís i mbliana. 4. Ní cuimhne liom an oíche a raibh tú anseo. 5. Ní maith linn an teas. Is fearr linn an fuacht. 6. Bhí Ruairí gránna le Mícheál. Tá éad aige leis. 7. Bhí droim Mháirtín leis an ngeata agus bhí sé ag caitheamh toitín. 8. Cé as thú ?

Lesson 21

A. 1. Imreoidh tú ... 2. Osclóidh tú ..., dúinfidh tú ... 3. Breathnóidh tú ..., léifidh tú ... 4. Coinneoidh tú ..., pacálfaidh tú ... 5. Athróidh tú , glanfaidh tú ... 6. Nífidh tú, fágfaidh tú ...

B. 1. Beidh sé ag glanadh agus ag scuabadh na seomraí uilig. 2. Beidh siad ag léamh leabhartha agus ag foghlaim teangacha. 3. Beidh muid ag éisteacht leis an raidió agus beidh muid ag cuidiú libh ag an am céanna. 4. Nuair a bheas mé ag déanamh cupán tae, beidh mé ag breathnú ar an bpáipéar. 5. Nuair a bheas sí ag cóiriú na leapacha, beidh sí sásta.

C. 1. fúmsa 2. faoi 3. fúthu 4. fúinne 5. fúibhse 6. fút 7. fúithi

1. Éireoidh mé go moch ar maidin amáireach. Dúiseoidh mé na gasúir agus réiteoidh mé an bricfásta. Tá faiónas orm go gcaillfidh siad an bus arfís amáireach. 2. Bhí Pádraig anseo faoi Cháisc agus beidh sise anseo go gairid. 3. Lig amach an t-uisce sin. Nífidh mé mé féin agus bearrafaidh mé mé féin anois. Ansin cuirfidh mé orm mo chuid éadaí. 4. Bhí faoi Mháirtín a ghoil (go) Baile Átha Cliath inné. Is dóigh liom go bhfuil sé ann faoi seo. Beidh mise ag fanacht go dtí Dé Domhnaigh. 5. Caithfidh mé imeacht anois gan mhoill ach cur síos an citeal agus ólfaidh muid braon tae i dtosach. 6. Bhí 'chuile dhuinc sásta seachas thusa.

Lesson 22

A. 1. Ní phósfadh ... 2. D'osclóidís ... 3. Ní bhacfá ... 4. D'fhéadfainn ... 5. Chaillfeadh sé ... mara ndéanfadh sé ... 6. Ní scuabfach sí ná ní nífeadh sí ... 7. An osclófaí ... 8. Labhreoinn ... 9. Shuídís ... 10. D'fhliuchfá... 11. Bhrisfí ... 12. Shalófaf ...

B. 1. uainn 2. uaidh 3. uaithi 4. uaibh 5. uaithi 6. uaimse ... uaitse 7. uaidh

1. Tá Máirtín anseo ó mhaidin. 2. Tastaíonn uaim a fhiatraí cén áit a (cá) bhfuil an teach. 3. D'fheicfeá beagnach 'chuile shórt (chineál) duine anseo; mná rialta agus pinsinéaraí, mic léinn agus oibrithe, sagairt agus gasúir. 4. Dhá mbeadh an aimsir te, thaithneodh sé liom mo scíth a ligean agus bolg-le-greín a dhéanamh. 5. Ní raibh uaidh ach a fháil amach cén áit a raibh an posta agus cén t-am a mbeadh an posta ag imeacht. 6. D'fhéadfadh an ghrian a bheith ag scairteadh inniu agus amáireach d'fhéadfadh sé a bheith ag báisteach nó ag cur shneachta. Ní bheadh a fhios agat céard a tharlódh. 7. Fuair mé leitir uaitse an tseachtain seo caite agus ceann uathusan inné. 8. Caithfidh mé úlla a ithe 'chuile lá ó bhí mé tinn.

Lesson 23

A. 1. Scairteann ... 2. Cleachtann sé ... 3. Ním ... agus cóirím ... 4. Breathnaíonn sí ... 5. Osclaíonn siad ... agus dúineann siad ... 6. Léim ... ach ní shalaím iad ... 7. Seachnaím Baile Átha Cliath ...

B. 1. dhúinn 2. dhomsa 3. dhó 4. dhaoirbh 5. dhi 6. dhuitse 7. dhóibh 8. dhuit ... dhó

1. Taithníonn sé liom a bheith anseo. Tastaíonn uaim léamh agus éisteacht le ceirníní. Is féidir liom daoine as Baile Átha Cliath a sheachaint. 2. Má thosaíonn tú ag scríobh leitim, ní bhíonn sé deacair í a chríochnú. 3. (Ta)spáin dhom an sábh agus an casúr. Cén áit a (cá) bhfuil na táirní agus na scriúanna ? An bhfuil siad feiliúnach don pholl seo ? 4. Má tá tú ag goil ag an rása móir, cuir geall ar Scian an Bhúistéara. 5. Thar éis don teach ósta dúnadh, tháinig sé abhaile. 6. Hóbair dhó titim ar an mbóthar. Bhí an bóthar an-fhliuch. 7. Is furasta dhuitse a bheith ag magadh faoi.

Lesson 24

A. 1. Chaitheadh muid ... 2. Léadh cuid ... ach bhíodh cuid acu nach léadh ... 3. Ní bhreathnaíodh ... 4. D'éiríodh ... 5. An n-ólta ... ? 6. Cheanglaínnse ... 7. Cé a níodh ... nó an nití ... ? 8. Mh'anam go n-imrídís ...

B. 1. dhíom 2. dhíot 3. dhíinne 4. dhi 5. dhíbh 6. dhe 7. dhíobh 8. dhi

C. Tá sé ... 1. leathuair thar éis an trí 2. ceathrú don naoi 3. fiche (nóiméad) thar éis an seacht 4. an haon (a chlog) 5. fiche (nóiméad) don sé 6. chúig (nóiméad) thar éis an trí 7. ceathrú thar éis an dó dhéag 8. fiche (nóiméad) thar éis an naoi 9. an deich (a chlog) 10. leathuair thar éis an haon déag

1. Ní bhíodh fonn orm mo chloigeann a thóigeáil den pheiliúr. 2. Tá na bráillíní agus na ciumhaiseanna ag titim den leaba. 3. Bhí an múinteoir ag iarraidh buille maith den mhaide a thabhairt don bhuachaill. 4. Ní raibh sé d' am (de spás) againn léimt anuas den bhalla sol má tháinig an múinteoir. 5. Tá mé tuirseach de 'chuile shórt ! 6. An bhfuil peictiúr agat dhi ? 7. Bain dhíot do chóta. Cuir ort do sheaicéad agus ceangail do chuid bróga. 8. Múch (cas as) an solas móir agus las an lampa. 9. Scanraínnse i gcónaf nuair a stopadh an carr ag na soilse. 10. Mhúineadh Máirtín gasúir anseo freisin. 11. Bhíodh sé an-phointeáilte ! Bhíodh 'chuile dhuine bréan dhe. 12. Bhí duine dhá chuid mic ar scoil anseo freisin.

Lesson 25

A. (a) 1. ... na hoifige. 2. ... an bhúistéara ... 3. ... na Gaeltacht... 4. ... an tincéara ... 5. ... na n-iascairf ... 6. ... na dtithe ...

(b) 1. ... an bhúistéara. 2. ... na hoifige. 3. ... Sheáinín. 4. ... mhuintir na Gaeltacht.

(c) 1. ... an bhúistéara ... 2. ... an tseomra ... 3. ... an bhalla. 4. ... na hoifige. 5. ... na farraige. 6. ... na dtithe ... 7. ... mhuintir Chonamara.

B. 1. ... os mo chionn 2. ... os ar gcomhair 3. ... os a cionn ... 4. os a chomhair 5. ... le t'aghaidh 6. ... os do chionnsa

C. 1. trí bhád is trí fichid 2. aon leaba dhéag is dá fhichead 3. bliain is fiche 4. deich n-úlla is cheithre fichid 5. deich bpunt is trí fichid 6. fiche bád 7. chuíg sheomra dhéag is fiche 8. aon éan déag is trí fichid 9. cheithre fichid duine 10. dhá fhichead peann 11. seacht bpunta fhichead 12. ocht gcrann is cheithre fichid 13. deich gcathaoir fhichead 14. sé dhuine is dá fhichead 15. naoi gcinn déag is cheithre fichid 16. sé pingine is dá fhichead 17. céad is dhá bhád 18. trí fichid bliain

1. Drochsheans go n-aontóidh bean an tsiopta le bean an phosta. 2. Tá siad ag tóigeáil an halla nua os comhair na dtithe nua. 3. Tá an talamh an-chostasachanois. Cé mhéad a d'focfá ar acra? 4. Glacfaidh an coiste le bean an bhúistéara mar chathaoirleach. Ní bheidh toghachán ar bith ann. 5. Coisnínne 'chuile shórt an iomarcaanois. 6. Tá sé ar intinn agam carr a thoigeáil ar cíos. 7. Tá doras na hoifige os comhair an phosta.

Lesson 26

A. 1. Ar shalaigh tú ...? 2. Ar nígh tú ...? 3. Nar léigh tú ...? 4. Ar oscail tú ...? 5. Nar bhris tú ...? 6. Ar imir tú bhfuil tú ...? 7. Ar fhoghlaím tú ...? 8. Ar tóigeadh ...? 9. Ar hosclaíodh...? 10. Nar glacadh le ...

B. Deir siad ... 1. gur shalaigh tú ... 2. gur nígh tú ... 3. nar léigh tú ... 4. gur oscail tú ... 5. nar bhris tú ... 6. gur imir tú ... go bhfuil tú ... 7. gur fhoghlaím tú ... 8. gur tóigeadh ... 9. gur hosclaíodh ... 10. nar glacadh le ...

C. 1. inti 2. ionainne 3. ionatsa 4. ansin 5. iontu 6. ionam 7. ionaibh 8. ann 9. inti

1. Tá an dochtúr i ngrá le banaltra atá ina cónaí san ospidéal. 2. Mac léinn atá ionam (Is mac léinn mé). Tá mé i mo chónaí san árasán seo le sé bliana. 3. Chuir mé na buidéil i bhffalach in aonturas. 4. Bhí cuid de na daoine ina suíf sna cúinní ag imirt chártaí. Bhí tilleadh acu ina seasamh i lár an tseomra ag déanamh gaisce faoin gcluife. 5. Dhóigh duine eicínt poll sa gcúirtí. Mar bharr ar an gclampar, bhí comharsa ina dhúiseacht agus chuir sé fios ar na gardaí. 6. Bhí mé i mo shuí ag an sé maidin inné. Bhí mé chomh tuirseach sin nach raibh mé in ann mo thuáille ná an ghallaoireach a fháil. 7. Nuair aimeos na saighdiúirí agus na gardaí, baileoidh muid linn abhaile. 8. Milleadh an gasúr.

Lesson 27

A. 1. glanta 2. péinteáilte 3. athraithe 4. nite 5. osclaithe 6. dúinte 7. curtha 8. ceannaithe 9. ligthe 10. dóite 11. scuabtha 12. déanta

B. 1. casúr, gasúr, dochtúr, saighdiúr 2. orlár, clár, carr 3. pórtar, Peadar, cabhantar, bóthar, treabhsar 4. féar, páipéar, suipéar 5. doras, solas, turas 6. bás, Tomás 7. béal, séipéal, scéal, éan 8. tamall, capall, tuarastal, pobal 9. ceol, stól 10. arán, amadán, oileán, sruthán 11. airgead, droichead 12. clog, corp 13. cat, cnoc 14. aonach, bealach, Sasanach

15. cogadh, samhradh, geimhreadh, deireadh 16. iasc, cliabh 17. bord, neart, sagart, saol

1. D'amhdaigh Tomás go raibh bun an doiris lofa agus go raibh an balla scoilte. Ní raibh a fhios aige é nó go raibh an teach ceannaithe. 2. Choinnigh sé a mhisneach agus bhí an teach nite agus glanta agus péinteáilte gan móran achair. 3. De réir mar a bhí an comhlódaracha ag fágáil an cheantair agus na seandaoine ag fáil bháis, bhí an ceantar ag goil chun donacht. 4. Deir siad gurb é an misneach a chomhaireanns. Má choinníonn tú do mhisneach, ní bheidh obair ar bith dodhánta. 5. Bhí carr an tsagairt treasna an bhóthair uaim ag geata an tséipéil. 6. Ná corraigh ! Fan san áit a bhfuil tú ! Ní bheidh mé ag fanacht i bhfad.

Lesson 28

A. Chuala ... 2. ... fosfaidh ... 3. Tiocfaidh ... teagann ... 4. ... déarfá ... 5. Nar 'úirt ... rá.
6. Rug ... 7. ... rugadh ... 8. Teara ... 9. Ní 'éarfainn ... 10. ... go dtiocfaidh...
11. ... breith... 12. ... breith...

B. 1. crann 2. sac 3. ceann 4. leanbh 5. fear 6. mac

C. 1. cónaí 2. teachaín 3. maidín 4. deochaín 5. leabhairín 6. saighdiúirín 7. bróigín
8. doirisín

1. Bhí mé ag brioghlóidí aríst aréir i dtaobh an bháis (faoin mbás). Bhí mé ag cur allais leis an bhfaidh. 2. Fainic ! Tá rópa scaoilte. Níl greim ar bith aige ar an mbairrille. Fainic an dtitfeadh sé. 3. Bhí mé ag fuagairt ar thumálaí an leorá. 4. Cé gur thit an bairille anuas go tobann i mullach an chairr, níor gortaíodh duine ar bith. 5. Rugadh agus tóigeadh bean Thomáis Mhóir sa bparáiste seo. Cuireadh í san uaigh chéanna. Bhí sochraide mhór ann. 6. Tá an-dúil ag Seán i gcarranna. Is tumálaí an-chontúirteach é. An bhfuil doras an chairr glasálte ?

Lesson 29

A (a) 1. Ní dhearna ... 2. Ní théann ... 3. Ní dheachaigh ... 4. Ní bhfaighidh ... 5. Ní ghabhfaidh ... 6. Ní bhfuair ... 7. Ní fhaca mé ... 8. Ní fhaigheann ...

(b) 1. An ndearna ...? 2. An dtéann ...? 3. An ndeachaighd ...? 4. An bhfaighfidh ...?
5. An ngabhfaidh ...? 6. An bhfuair...? 7. An bhfaca ...? 8. An bhfaigheann ...?

B. 1. caint 2. ceist 3. gruaig 4. áit 5. tir 6. scoil 7. seachtain 8. cluas 9. spéir 10. bróig
11. páirc 12. ófche 13. sráid 14. muintir 15. roilg 16. ceird 17. cúis 18. aois 19. láimh
20. cois 21. im 22. aimsir 23. moill 24. suim 25. Fraincis 26. fuinneog 27. leabharlann

C. 1. ... na coille. 2. ... na muice ... 3. ... an tsléibhe. 4. ... na sráide 5. ... céille 6. ... na gréine ... 7. ... na háite. 8. ... na haille ...

D. 1. níos goirme 2. níos bodhaire 3. níos reimhre 4. níos coithrime 5. níos milse 6. níos soibre 7. níos troime 8. níos teáinne 9. níos fsle

1. Ní dheachaighd mé síos an staighre leis na leitreacha a fháil. Bhí a fhios agam nach bhfaighinn ach billí nó cuntas ón mbeainc. 2. Thug mé cuireadh do thríúr nó ceathrar aréir. 3. Tá jug an bhainne agus babhal an tsiúca ar an mbord. Cá (cén áit a) bhfuil an taepait agus na cupáin agus na sásair ? 4. Cuirfidh mé síos na fataí. Má tá fonn cócaireacht ort, gearr suas an gabáiste agus an t-oinniú. Measc ar an bpéain iad. 5. Taithníonn uibheacha róstaithe agus bagún liom. (Is maith liom ...) 6. Sín agam an t-im, más é do thoil é ! 7. Ní fhaca mé ariamh i mo shaol bóithre níos caime ná níos cuinge ná na ceanna a chonaic mé i lár na tire. 8. Níl ann ach braon bainne ar thóin an bhuidéil. Gabhfaidh mé ag an siopa agus ceannóidh mé buidéal eile. 9. Tá an siúcra agus an tae gann. 10. Ním mo chuid léinteacha féin agus crochaim sa ngeard iad. Triomaíonn siad an-sciobtha.

Lesson 30

A. báisteach 2. scian 3. cloch 4. curach 5. fearg 6. uaigh 7. tuath 8. cisteanach 9. glac 10. baintreach 11. cearc 12. gealach

B. 1 ... os a chionn. 2. ... ina bun ? 3. ... ina dtaobh ... 4. ... dhá bharr. 5. ... lena ais. 6. ... os a cionn. 7. ... ina measc. 8. ... ina dhiaidh.

C. 1. ... os mo chionn. 2. ... inar n-aghaidh. 3. ... i do dhiaidhsa. 4. ... os mo chomhair ... 5. ... ar a son.

D. 1. níos soilche, níos gloine 2. níos fliche, níos trioma 3. níos moiche, níos deireanaí 4. níos sine, níos óige 5. níos girre, níos foide 6. níos gile, níos dorcha 7. níos leithne, níos caoile 8. níos ceirte, níos contráilte 9. níos loige, níos láidire 10. níos moille, níos scioptha 11. níos goinne, níos fairsinge 12. níos goirbhe, níos mine 13. níos mó, níos lú 14. níos airde, níos ísle 15. níos ciallmhaire, níos seafóidí 16. níos milse, níos seirbhe

1. D'éirigh mé inné níos moiche ná go hiondúil. Shíl mé (Bhí mé ag ceapadh) dhá bhfanfainn go mbeadh na siopáí plódaithe. 2. Go minic, bónn cadás níos gile ná olann ach éiríonn cadás níos soilche níos scioptha. Go hiondúil, bónn olann níos seasmháí. 3. Thraoiál mé orm an chulaith. Bhí an seaicéad rochúng thart ar na guaillí. Bhí an treabhsar níos girre ná an ceann a bhí orm. Níor tháinig sé anuas ach go dtí mo rúitíní. 4. Bheadh sé níos ceirte do chuid airgid a choinneáil le haghaidh na coise tinne. 5. Ní fhaca mé ariamh bord cisteanaí níos aistí ! Tá sé níos gloine ná ar gceann muide (an ceann seo 'ainne) ach tá sé scoilte ag an ngrian. 6. Tugann muid Máirtín ar an bhfeair sin. 7. Cé atá i mbun na háite ?

Lesson 31

A. 1. Ba chuma. 2. Ba mhaith. 3. Ba deacair. 4. B'éigean. 5. B'fhiú. 6. B'fhearr. 7. Ba chóir. 8. Ba é.

B. (a) 1. Níorbh éigean ... 2. Níorbh fhearr ... 3. Níorbh fhiú ... 4. Ní ba deacair (Níor dheacair) ... 5. Ní ba chóir (Níor chóir) ... 6. Níorbh fhurasta ...

(b) Deir sé ... 1. gurbh éigean ... 2. gurbh fhearr ... 3. gurbh fhiú ... 4. go mba deacair (gur deacair) ... 5. go mba chóir (gur chóir) ... 6. gurbh fhurasta ...

C. Ba mhaith liom ... 2. Ba chuma ... 3. Níorbh fhiú ... 4. ... a ba cheart ... 5. ... nach mba ghá (nar ghá) ... 6. B'fhearr ... 7. B'fhurasta ... 8. Arbh fhearr ... 9. B'fhiú ... 10. Arbh fhearr ... 11. Dhá mba 'in ..., ní bheinn ... 12. ... nach mba mhaith (nar mhaith)

1. Chaith mé an tseachtain ag craitheadh láimh le ministéaráis agus ag caint le easpaig. 2. Is iriseoir maith é (iriseoir maith atá ann). Scríobh sé cupla alt breá i dtaobh an chluife mhóir (faoin gcluife móir) an tseachtain seo caite. 3. Bhí sé ag inseacht do mhuintir na háite gurbh fhearr leis cónaí i gCois Fháirge. 4. Ní raibh a chuid spéacláirí air agus chraith sé láimh lena dhrioifír in áit an easpaig. 5. Goideadh a chuid ceirníní uilig, gan trácht ar a chuid leabhartha. 6. An mba chuma leat (Ar chuma leat) dhá gcaithfinn toitín ? 7. Tá mé cinnte gurbh fhiú dhuit muintir Árann a chloisteáil ag caint. 8. An mba deacair (An mbeadh sé deacair) iad a thiscint ? 9. An mba 'in é an dochtúr thall ansin ? Ba cheart dhom caint leis. 10. Fuair mé cuireadh le a ghoil ar cuairt ag teach a hathar. Ní raibh mé ag iarraidh í a eiteachtáil. 11. Ní fhéadfá cur síos ar an teach. 12. Bhí mé ceaptha a ghoil ar ais an tseachtain seo caite, ach bhí mé tinn.

Lesson 32

A. 1. ... rompu. 2. ... thríd. 3. ... roimhe. 4. ... roimpi... 5. ... thrít. 6. ... romhat...
7. ... romhainn... 8. ... thríthe. 9. ... romham. 10. ... romhaibh ...

B. 1. móin 2. gleann 3. maitheas 4. am 5. fuil 6. Samhain 7. bliain 8. deartháir

1. Tá fáilte romhat. 2. Ní raibh mé in ann feiceáil thríd an bhfuinneog. 3. Thríd is thríd, bheadh sé i bhfad níos deise dhá mbeadh duine eicínt as an mbaile romhat i mBaile Átha Cliath. 4. Tá mo shrón ag cur fola. 5. Thraig sé fiche míle punt ar theach a dhearbhára. 6. Tá an leabhar seo i bhfad níos spéisiúla. 7. Bhí túis na bliana fuar. Bhí sé ag cur shneachta agus ag cur sheaca. 8. Bhí an teach seo 'ainne i lár an gheanna. 9. Is buachaill an-mheabhrach é deartháir Phádraig. (Buachaill an-mheabhrach atá i ndeartháir Phádraig.) Bhain sé a chéim amach thar éis trí bliana ar an ollscoil. 10. Shíl mé (Bhí mé ag ceapadh) go mbeadh sé chomh maith dhom teach a cheannacht. 11. Ní raibh mé ach ag cur mo chuid airgid amú ag fóc cíos. 12. Bhí sé i bhfad níos socra ann féin nuair a ghéill sé dhá dhearbháir. 13. Bhí siad ag cuidiú leis an athair a bhí ag baint mhóna. 14. Bhí pian ina dhroim ag Colm ó bheith ag cromadh anuas. 15. Shuigh an bheirt acu ar bhrúach na locha agus thíos siad scíth.

Lesson 33

A. 1. ... thairis 2. ... thairti ... 3. ... tharainn ... 4. ... tharam ... 5. ... tharatsa ...
6. ... thartu 7. ... tharsan 8. ... tharaibh

B. 1. caora 2. tóin 3. cathaoir 4. glúin 5. cathair 6. traein 7. caoireoil 8. suíl 9. lacha
10. toil 11. An Cheathrú Rua 12. comharsa 13. Éirinn (Éire) 14. cráin

C. 1. an dara húlla 2. an deichiú fear fichead 3. an t-aonú ceann fichead 4. an cúigiú háit
5. an cúigiú duine déag 6. an t-aonú bord déag

1. Go díreach nuair a bhí mé ag goil ag cur glaoch ar an bhfiacloir, thosaigh mé ag braiteoireacht. Seo é an tríú huair a rinne mé é sin. 2. Bhí mac na comharsan ag an dochtúr inné. Deir siad go bhfuil tinneas aisteach eicínt air. 3. Bhí mé cráite ag daoine ag cur glaoch orm. Faoi dheireadh, in aghaidh mo tholach, rinne mé coinne le duine acu. 4. Ní raibh fonn cainte ar bith ormsa ach b'fónn daoine ann i gcónaí a bhíonnns ag iarraidh a bheith ag cabaireacht. 5. Tá dochtíir na cathrach seo thar a bheith go maith. Bheinn sásta muinín a dhéanamh as duine ar bith acu. 6. Bhí sé thar chúig bhliana déag thar sáile. Bhí sé ag feilméaracht i Meireacá. Tá soibhreas mór sa thí sin. 7. Leag sé neapicín póca ar an ráille agus gloine uisce ar an mbáisín. 8. Ar a laghad, cheannaigh mé ceathrú caorólach úr ón siopadóir inné. 9. An raibh Uachtaráin na hÉireann ag an gcluife mór Dé Domhnaigh ? 10. Ar dhúin tú doras na traenach ?

Lesson 34

A. 1. Is ag goil abhaile atá mé. 2. Is í Cáit atá anseo. 3. Is amáireach a bheas Bríd anseo.
4. Is í an carr atá ar chúla an tí. 5. Is ag deireadh na míosa a bheas Tomás ag tíocht. 6. Is ar an mbord a bhí an fáinne pósta. 7. Is crann daraí atá ansin. 8. Is ag cóiriú na leapa atá Peige anois. 9. Is minic a bhíonnns sé ag caint leis an dochtúr. 10. Is i nGaillimh atá teach mo dhreifíre. 11. Is mé a bhí óg aerach an uair sin. 12. Thusa a ba cheart caint leis.

B. Sfíl ... 1. gur ag goil abhaile atá mé. 2. gurb í Cáit ... 3. gur amáireach ... 4. gurb í an carr ... 5. gur ag deireadh na míosa ... 6. gur ar an mbord ... 7. gur crann daraí ... 8. gur ag cóiriú na leapa ... 9. gur minic ... 10. gur i nGaillimh ... 11. gur mé ... 12. gur thusa ...

C. 1. ... is é an chaoi a raibh sé imithe. 2. ... is é an chaoi a raibh mé thar cionn. 3. Is éard a deir sé go bhfuil Máire tinn. 4. ... Is é an chaoi nach raibh sé glan ar chor ar bith. 5. Is éard é féin amadán ! 6. Is éard a dúirt sé nach raibh sé sásta.

D. I. Is ea. 2. Is é. 3. Is iad. 4. Is ea. 5. Is ea. 6. Is ea.

E. 1. Ní hea. 2. Ní hea. 3. Ní hea. 4. Ní hea. 5. Ní hé. 6. Ní hé. 7. Ní hiad. 8. Ní hea. 9. Ní hí. 10. Ní hea. 11. Ní hea. 12. Ní hea.

1. Tá cóta na mná ar an talamh. 2. Shíl mé (bhí mé ag ceapadh) go mbeadh sí ann ach is é an chaoi nach raibh sí ann ar chor ar bith. 3. Is éard a dúirt sé nach raibh sé sásta. 4. Is í Máire a dúirt é sin. 5. (Ar) ag iascach ronnach atá Pádraig ? 6. Bhí mé ag déanamh mo dhíchill. 7. An raibh Tomás ag déanamh aithrist ar Shéamas ? 8. Dhá mhaslú atá tú ! 9. (Is) fuar a bhí sé inniu i gcomórtas leis an lá inné. 10. 'Tuige (Cén fáth) a raibh an obair leadráinach ? 11. Shíl mé (bhí mé ag ceapadh) go raibh gaol agam leis ach is é an chaoi nach raibh gaol ar bith agam leis. 12. Ní raibh call ar bith dhúinn obair a dhéanamh. 13. Bhí mo scornach tinn i gcaitheamh an lae. 14. Cogar ! (Ar) ar an mbord a bhí an fáinne pósta ?

Lesson 35

A. 1. Ba mhaith liom an leabhar sin a bheith ag Cáit. 2. Ní miste gan airgead a bheith agam. 3. Dhá mbeadh an t-am agam agus an t-airgead a bheith agam, dhéanfainn é. 4. Marach mo bhean a bheith míshásta, cheannóinn é. 5. Dhá n-imeofá abhaile agus do scíth a ligean, bheifeá níos fearr anocht. 6. Is cuma liom gan Máirtín a bheith anseo.

B. 1. Bhí Bríd anseo ar ball agus í ag caoineadh. 2. Tháinig mo dheartháir abhaile agus bean leis. 3. D'imirigh Pádraig amach agus gan cóta ar bith air. 4. Ní fiú dhuit cóta nua a cheannacht agus cóta nua sa mbaile agat. 5. Cé a thiocfadh isteach ach Peadar agus hata air. 6. Bhris siad an fhuinneog agus iad ag iarraidh caoi a chur ar an bhfráma.

1. Cé a thiocfadh abhaile inné ach mo dhriofúr agus fear léi. 2. Cé acu is folláine (atá níos folláine), carr nó rothar ? 3. Pharcáil muid an carr taobh amuigh de theach na comharsan. 4. Bhí an-spéis ag an droifíür is óige atá agam sa tíreolas agus sa stair. Bhí sí ag iarraidh seanchaisleán a fheiceáil i lár na tíre. 5. Shíl mé go bpléascfadh mo chroí. 6. Fuair muid marcafocht abhaile. 7. Breathnaigh an brabach a dhéananns an scabhteára ! 8. Dhá mbeadh an t-am againn agus céad a bheith againn, chaithfeadh muid dhá mhí sa bhFhrainc. 9. Bheadh muid ansin anuraidh marach go raibh Máirtín tinn (marach M. a bheith tinn). 10. Gabhfaidh mé ann an bliain seo chugainn (an chéad bliain eile) ach a bhfaighidh mé an t-airgead.

Lesson 36

A. 1. Diabhal pingin ar bith a thabharfas mé dhó. 2. Diabhal a mbacfaidh mé leis. 3. Diabhal a fhios agam. 4. Diabhal leabhar ar bith (atá) san áit. 5. Diabhal duine ar bith a bhí sásta. 6. Diabhal ar chuala mé a leithéide ariamh. 7. Diabhal blas ar bith a rinne sé ó mhaidin.

B. 1. Diabhal focal ar bith a thig mé. 2. Diabhal a fhios agam. 3. Diabhal neart anois air. 4. Diabhal dochar ar bith a dhéanfas sé dhuit. 5. Diabhal aird ar bith (a bhí) aige air. 6. Diabhal scéal ar bith agam.

C. 1. Nach rabhais ? 2. Táim. 3. Ghlanas. 4. Coinneod. 5. ... an bhfuilis ? 6. Nar léis ? 7. Tháinigeas. 8. ... nach ndéanfais ? 9. Bhíos. 10. Ní bhrisfead. 11. D'oscálaos. 12. ... nar imrí ? 13. Chea(l) nach rabhais ?

1. Tá Pádraig ina bhainisteoir ar cheann de na comarchumainn áitiúil atá ag obair le feabhas a chur ar shaol na Gaeltacht (le saol na Gaeltacht a fheabhsú). 2. Tá na coláistí ceaptha Gaeilge a mhúnadh do na gasúir as an nGalltacht. 3. Is scribhneoir cumasach é Séamas (Scribhneoir cumasach atá in Séamas). Scríobh sé úrscéal breá agus leabhar gearrscéalta. 4. Bhí cruinniú ag Pádraig le státseirbhiseach mór-le-rá (tábhachtach) an tseachtaín seo caite. Phléigh siad na coláistí. 5. Nuair a cuireadh an státa seo ar bun bhí deis ní b'fhearr (nfos fearn) ag daoine leabhartha Gaeilge a fhoilsiú. 6. Ar léigh tú an leabhar sin ? Léas (léigh), cintte. 7. A: Beidh muid anseo amáireach ag an sé. B: Déanfaidh sin ! 8. Rinne tú go maith. 9. Bhoil, diabhal neart (a bhí) 'am air ! 10. A: Ar bhlais tú an fíon ? B: Bhlais(eas). 11. A: Ar fhreagair tú é ? B: Níor fhreagair (Níor fhreagraíos).

IRISH – ENGLISH VOCABULARY

The number in each entry refers to the lesson where the word (and its pronunciation) was given in the vocabulary section.

WORD	GRAMMATICAL NOTES	MEANING	LESSON
a	vocative particle
a	adj.	his, her, their	5, 10
a	relative particle		13
a	particle (with indep. numbers)		24
a	conj.	all that (which)	35
ab	question form of copula		11
abair	vb., hab. deir- , fut. déar- , past dúirt , v.n. rá , v.adj. ráite	say	28
abairt	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -í	sentence	35
abhaile	adv.	home(ward)	13
abhairinn	n. fem., gen. abhall , pl. aibhneacha	river	5
ábhar	n., gen., pl. ábhair	subject, material	12
ach	conj.	but, only, provided that	2, 35
ach a oiread		either	2
ach amháin		except	19
achar	n., gen. achair	distance, period of time
gan mórán achair		before long	27
acra	n., pl. -í	acre	25
ádh	n.	luck	24
adhmad	n., gen. adhmaid	wood	16
aduaidh	adj., adv.	north	19
aer	n., gen. aer	air, sky, firmament	16
aerach	adj.	airy, lighthearted, giddy	34
ag	prep. (with v.n.)	at, to	6, 15, 16
(n., gen. agallaimh)		on account of	35
agallamh		interview	31
ag cur a. ar		interviewing	31
aghaidh
in aghaidh	prep. (+ gen.)	against	25
ar aghaidh	prep. (+ gen.)	in front of	29
le haghaidh	prep. (+ gen.)	for (the purpose of)	25
agus	conj.	and, and ... is	2, 35
aibí	adj.	ripe, smart	33
aibíocht	n. fem	ripeness, smartness	35
Aibreán	n., gen. -áin	April	35
aice
in aice (le)	prep. (+ gen.)	beside, near	5, 29
aidhm	n. fem.	aim	App. I
aiféal	n.	regret	17
Aifreann	n., gen. -inn, pl. -acha	Mass	10
aill	n. fem., gen. -e	cliff, big rock	19
áille	comp. of álainn	more/most beautiful	19
aimhreas	n.	doubt, suspicion	17
aimsír	n. fem., gen. -e	weather, time	7
ainm	n., gen. -neacha	name	19
ainneoin	prep. (+ gen.)	despite	34
a. go/nach	conj.	despite the fact that	20
aird	n. fem.	heed, notice	20

airde	n. fem.	height, tallness	App. I
in airde	adv.	high up
aire	n. fem.	care	App. I
aireachtáil	v.n. fem. (see airigh)
airgead	n., gen. airgid	money	3
airigh	vb. 2, v.n. aireachtáil	hear, feel	14
áirithe	adj.	certain, particular	15
go háirithe	adv.	particularly, especially	8
ais
le hais	prep. (+ gen.)	besides, compared with	30
ar ais	adv.	back	10
aisteach	adj., comp. aistí	peculiar, strange, queer	10
aisteoir	n., gen. -ra , pl. -f	actor	17
áit	n. fem., gen. -e , pl. -eacha	place	4
in áit	prep. (+ gen.)	in place of, instead of aithne	n. fem.	knowing (of person)	18
cur in a. do		introduce	34
aithneachtáil	v.n. fem. (see aithnigh)
aithnigh	vb. 2, past d'aithin	recognise	22
aithrist	n. fem.	imitation, mimicry	34
áitiúil	adj., comp. -úla	local	36
ál	n., gen. áil , pl. áltá	clutch, litter	34
álainn	adj., comp. áille	beautiful	4, 19
Albain	n. fem.	Scotland	18
allas	n., gen. -ais	sweat	27
cur allais		sweating
alt	n., gen. ailt , pl. -anna	article	31
altóir	n. fem., gen. -óra , pl. -acha	altar	32
am	n., gen. ama , pl. -anna	time	3
amanna	adv.	sometimes
in am	adv.	in time	26
amach	adv.	out(wards)	19
a. anseo		in the future, in a while
a. is a.		extremely
amadán	n., gen. pl. -áin	fool	21
amáireach	adv.	tomorrow	6
an lá a.		tomorrow	12
amháin	adj.	only	5, 11
amharc	n.	sight	17
amharclann	n. fem., gen. -ainne , pl. -a	theatre	17
amhdachtáil	v.n. fem. (see amhdaigh)
amhdaigh	vb. 2, v.n. amhdachtáil	admit	27
amhrán	n., gen., pl. -áin	song	13
amhránaí	n., pl. -ithe	singer	36
amhránaiocht	n. fem.	singing	36
amplúch	adj., comp. amplaf	greedy	30
amú	adv.	astray, wasted	21
amuigh	adv.	without, out	19
an	question particle		2
an	article
an-	adj.	very, excellent	4, 5
anachain	n. fem., gen. anachan	misfortune	13
anall	adv.	from over there, from beyond	31
anam	n., gen. anaim , pl. -nacha	soul	19
aneas	adv., adj.	south	3
aniar	adv., adj.	from behind, from the west	19
a. sa leaba		up in the bed	26
aníos	adv.	up from below	18, 19

ann	adv.	there	2, 26
ann
in ann	adv.	able (can)	14, 26
annamh	adj.	rare	15
anocht	adv.	tonight	12
anoir	adv., adj.	from the east	19
anois	adv.	now	2
anonn	adv.	over, across	19
anró	n.	hardship	App. I
anseo	adv.	here	2
ansin	adv.	there	2
ansiúd	adv.	‘there’ (implying distance)	2
anuas	adv., adj.	down from above	19
le seachtain etc. a.		for the last week, etc.	20
anuraidh	adv.	last year	6
aoibhinn	adj.	pleasant	4
aois	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -anna	age, century	8
aon	num.	one, any	13
aonach	n., gen. -aigh, pl. aontáí	fair	27
aontaigh	vb. 2, v.n. aontí	agree	20
Aontas Eorpach	n.	European Union	30
aontú	v.n. (see aontaigh)
aonú	num.
a. ... déag		eleventh	33
a. ... fichead		twentieth	33
ar	prep.	on	4
ar bith etc.	(see bith etc.)
ar	adj.	our	10
ar	question form of copula		11
ar	question particle (past tense)		26
ar	indirect relative particle (past tense)		26
ara	interjection (expressing offhandedness, dismissal)		36
árachas	n., gen. -ais	insurance	31
arán	n., gen. aráin	bread	11
Árainn	n. fem., gen. Árann	Aran	31
Árannach	n., gen. -aigh, pl. -ái	Aran islander	36
árasán	n., gen., pl. -áin	flat, apartment	18
arbh	question form of copula (past/cond.)		31
ard	adj., comp. airde	high, tall	5, 30
ardaigh	vb. 2, v.n. ardú	raise, rise, grow higher	27
ardú	v.n. (see ardaigh)
aréir	adv.	last night	10
an oíche a.		last night
ariamh	adv.	ever, never	6
aríst	adv.	again	4
arm	n., gen., pl. airm	army, weapon	26
ar ndóigh	(see dóigh)
arú amáireach	adv.	the day after tomorrow	8
arú anuraidh	adv.	the year before last	8
arú inné	adv.	the day before yesterday	8
as	prep.	out of, from	18
asal	n., gen., pl. asail	donkey	7
atá	(see tá)
athair	n., gen. athar, pl. -acha	father	3
áthas	n., gen. -ais	joy	17
athraigh	vb. 2, v.n. athrú	change	18
athrú	v.n. (see athraigh)

ba	past/cond. of copula	31
bá	v.n. (see báigh)	28
babhal	n., gen. babhail , pl. - anna	29
bac	vb. 1, v.n. bacadh	22
bacach	adj., comp. bacaf	33
bacdah	v.n., (see bac)
bacaíl	n. fem., gen. bacaíola	33
bád	n., gen., pl. báid	3
bádóir	n., gen. - dra , pl. - óirí	32
bádóireacht	n. fem.	33
bagún	n.	29
báigh	vb. 1, v.n. bá	28
bail	n. fem.	30
b. ó Dhia ar	a blessing from God on
baile	n., pl. bailte	13
as an mb.	home, village
Baile Átha Cliath	from home	32
baile móir	Dublin	6
baileach	town	10
bailigh	exactly, quite	33
bailiú	collect	26
bailiú leis	clearing off
bain	vb. 1, v.n. baint	16
báineacht	n. fem.	33
bainis	n. fem., gen. bainse , pl. bainseacha	16
bainsteoir	n., gen. - eora , pl. - i	36
bainne	n.	7
bainríon	n. fem., gen. - a , pl. - acha	32
baint	v.n. fem. (see bain)
b. as	teasing	20
b. de	taking off/from	24
b. amach	reaching, achieving	32
tá b. agam le	I am connected with	30
baintreach	n. fem., gen. baintrí , pl. - af	28
Bairbre	(woman's name)	3
bairille	n., pl. - i	28
báisín	n., pl. - i	33
báisteach	n. fem., gen. báistí	4
baladh	n., gen. - aidh	18
ball
ar b.	adv.	10
ball	n., gen., pl. boill balla
bán	n., pl. - f	3
banaltra	adj., comp. báine
banbh	n. fem., pl. - f	17
barr	n., gen., pl. bainbh	10
de bh.	piglet, young pig	App. I thar b.	top	26
barr-	prep (+ gen.)
barúil	adv.	27
barúil	on account of
barúlacht	outstandingly good	33
bás	outstanding	13
fáil bháis	drole, amusing, comical	32
chun báis	notion, opinion	13
bástá	n. fem.	33
	n., gen. báis , pl. - anna death dying
		to death
	n., pl. - f	27
		waist

beag	adj., comp. lú, beige	small, little	4
b. bídeach		tiny little	27
beagán	n.	a little	27
beagnach	adv.	almost	9
beainc	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	bank (money)	29
béal	n., pl. béil	mouth, brim, opening	10
bealach	n., gen. -aigh, pl. bealaí	way	13
chun bealaigh		away	27
Bealtaine	n. fem.	May	21
bean	n. fem., gen., pl. mndá	woman, wife	4
b. an tí		the lady of the house, hostess	11
b. rialta		nun	22
beannaigh	vb. 2, v.n. beannú	bless, salute, greet	33
beannú	v.n. (see beannaigh)
Béarla	n.	English (language)	5
bearr	vb. 1, v.n. bearradh	shave, cut (hair)	21
Beartla		(man's name)	36
b' éigean	(see éigean)		14
béilí	n., pl. -ocha	meal	17
beilt	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	belt	30
beir	vb. 1, hab. beir- , fut. béar- , past rug	give birth to, lay (eggs)	22
	v.n. breith , v.adj. beirthe
b. ar		seize, catch, hold
beirt	n. fem., gen. beirte	two people	14
beithíoch	n., gen., pl. beithigh	cow, beast	7
beo	adj., comp. -cha, -chte	alive, lively, quick	19
beos	n.	aliveness, quickness	33
b' fhéidir	adv.	perhaps, maybe	4
bheith	v.n. (see bí)
bhí	(past tense of bí)
bhoil	(pause word)
bí	vb. 1, pres. tá , hab. bt- , fut. beidh	well	4
	past bhí , v.n. bheith	be	7, 8
bia	n.	food	5
bille	n., pl. -í	bill	29
billeoig	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -óga	leaf	17
binn	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. beanna	gablewall	27
binn	adj., comp. -e	sweetsounding, melodious	33
binneadas	n., gen. -ais	melodiousness	33
binse	n., pl. -í	bench	22
bior	n., pl. -anna	point, pointed stick	App. 1
bith
ar b.	adv.	at all	2
blais	vb. 1, v.n. blaiseadh	taste	36
blaiseadh	v.n. (see blais)
blaosc	n. fem., gen. blaoisce , pl. -anna	eggshell, skull	29
blas	n.	taste, good accent; anything	10
blasta	adj.	tasty, sharp (knife)	19
bláth	n., pl. -anna	bloom, blossom	21
bliain	n. fem., gen. bliana , pl. blianta	year	5, 11
i mbliana		this year	9
bó	n. fem., pl. ba (generally beithigh)	cow	7
bocht	adj.	poor	7
bodhar	adj., comp. bodhaire	deaf, hollow (sound)	26
bog	adj., comp. boige	soft, tender, mild and damp	15
bog	vb. 1, v.n. bogadh	soften, move about	29
bogadh	v.n. (see bog)
ar b.		steeping

bois	n. fem., gen. boise , pl. bosa , gen.pl. bos	palm of hand	34
bualadh bos		clapping
bolg	n., gen. boilg	belly	22
déanamh b.-le-gréin		sunbathing
bonn	n., gen., pl. boinn	coin	29
	gen. boinn , pl. -acha	sole	29
bord	n., gen., pl. boird	table	2
bosca	n., pl. -f	box	14
bóthar	n., gen. bóthair , pl. bóithrl	road	3
brabach	n.	profit	35
bradach	adj., comp. -af	thieving, sly, dishonest	7
bráillín	n. fem., pl. -l	sheet (bed)	24
braiteoiracht	n. fem.	hesitating	33
braith	vb. 1, v.n. braith	depend	22
braon	n., pl. -acha	drop	21
brath	v.n. (see braith)
breá	adj., comp. -cha , -chte	fine	4
breac	n., gen., pl. bric	fish	28
bréag	n. fem., gen. bréige , pl. -a	lie, falsehood	1
bréan	adj.	rotten smelling	24
Breathnach	n., gen., pl. Breathnaigh	(surname)	36
breathnaigh	vb. 2, v.n. breathnú	look	16
breathnú	v.n., pl. -f (see breathnaigh)
b. uaidh		looking (idly) into distance	22
breith	v.n. fem. (see beir)	birth	22, 28
breithiúnas	n.	judgment, opinion	App. I
brí	n. fem.	force, vigour	35
cén bhrí ach ...		what would it matter except ...
Bríd		(woman's name)	2
brícfásta	n., pl. -f	breakfast	9
bris	vb. 1, v.n. briseadh	break, sack	12
briseadh	v.n., pl. brisíocha (see bris)
briste	v.adj.	broken	19
brionglóidí	v.n.	dream(ing)	28
bróig	n. fem., gen., pl. -óga	shoe	6
broinn	n. fem.	breast, womb	22
brón	n., gen. bróin	sorrow	17
brú	v.n. (see brúigh)
bruach	n., pl. -anna	bank (river)	31
brúigh	vb. 1, v.n. brú	press, bruise, crush, mash	29
bruith	vb. 1, v.n. bruith	boil, cook	12
bua	n.	victory	20
buachaill	n., gen. buachalla , pl. -f	boy	12
buail	vb. 1, v.n. bualadh	hit, strike, beat, come/go briskly	15
bualadh	v.n. (see buail)
buatais	n. fem., gen. -e , pl. -f	boot	31
buí	adj., comp. bulocha	yellow, bronzed (from sun)	17
buicéad	n., gen., pl. -éid	bucket	9
buidéal	n., gen., pl. -éil	bottle	10
buile	n. fem.	fit of anger
buille	n., pl. buillt	blow, stroke	24
buioch	adj., comp. buíche	grateful	29
buíochas	n., gen. -ais	gratitude, thanks	18
b. le Dia		thanks be to God	29
buón	n. fem.	band (of people)	App. I búistéara	n., pl. -f	butcher	23
bun	n.	bottom, basis	12
ar bun		afoot, going on

cur ar bun		setting up, founding	14
i mbun		in charge of, running	30
bunábhar	n., gen., pl. bunábhair	basic subject, raw material	12
bunscoil	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	primary school	12
bus	n., pl. -anna	bus	6
cá	adv. (+ dep. form)	where ?	3
cabaire	n., pl. -í	talkative person, natterer	4
cabaireacht	n. fem.	prattling, nattering	33
cabhantar	n., gen., pl. -air	counter	6
cáca	n., pl. -í	cake, (homemade) bread	10
cadás	n., gen. -ais	cotton	30
cáideo	adv. (= cáfhaidh ó)	how long since ?	30
caife	n.	coffee	11
cáil	n. fem.	fame, renown, reputation	30
caile	n. fem., gen. -e	chalk	App. I cailín	n., pl. -í	girl	3
cáiliúil	adj., comp. -úla	famous, renowned	36
caill	vb. 1, v.n. cailleadh	lose, miss	21
cailleadh	v.n. (see caill)
caint	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -anna	talk(ing), expression	15
caint ar		mentioning, talking of	25
cainteoir	n., gen. -óra, pl. -í	talker, speaker	25
caipín	n., pl. -í	cap	12
caiptín	n., pl. -í	captain	27
Cáisc	n. fem., gen. Cásca	Easter	21
caisleán	n., gen., pl. -áin	castle	35
Cáit		(woman's name)	2
caite	(see caith)
caith	vb. 1, v.n. caitheamh , v.adj. caite	use (up), spend, wear, throw, shoot	16
		have to	21
		last	8
... seo caite
caitheamh	v.n. (see caith)	taking a seat	33
c. faoi		during	29
i gc.		Catholic	12
Caitliceach	adj., comp. -í
call	n., gen. -igh, pl. -í	call, need, necessity	34
cam	n.	crooked	28
candáil	adj., comp. caime	auction	4
	vb. 1, v.n. candáil	auction
	n.	cantankerous, bad-humoured	8
cantalach	adj., comp. -ái	fifty	25
caoga	num.	fiftieth	33
caogadú	num.	way, means	14
caoi	n. fem., pl. -nna	at any rate	4
ar aon ch.		fixing, mending	16
cur c. ar		in order that, so that	20
sa gc. go/nach		what way, how	23
cén ch.		actually	34
is é an ch.		cry, lament	26
caoин	vb. 1, v. n. caoineadh
caoineadh	v.n. (see caoин)	mutton	33
caoireoil	n. fem., gen. caorólach	slender	30
caol	adj., comp. caoile	sheep	7
caora	n. fem. gen. -ach, pl. caoiríoch	horse	7
capall	n. gen. caorúll , pl. caiple

carabhata	n.. pl. -f	scarf	30
caraid	n. fem., gen. carad , pl. cairde	friend	9
carr	n., gen. cairr , pl. - anna	car, cart	6
carraig	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. - reacha	rock	10
cárta	n., pl. -f	card	10
cás	n., pl. - anna	case, sympathy	13
cuir i gc.		take for instance, for example
cas	vb. 1 v.n. casadh	turn, sing, play	16
cas	vb. 1, v.n. castáil	meet	19
casadh	v.n. (see cas)	turning
casta	v.adj. (see cas)	complicated	12
castáil	v.n. (see cas)	meeting
casúr	n., gen. pl. -úir	hammer	23
cat	n., gen., pl. cait	cat	7
cathair	n. fem., pl. cathracha	city	13
cathaoir	n. fem., gen. cathaoarach , pl. - eacha	chair	5
cathaoirleach	n., gen., pl. -igh	chairman	25
cé	pron.	who ? what ? where ?	9
cé mhéad/cén mhéid		how much ? what size ?
níl a fhios cén		there is no knowing how	16
cé go/nach	conj.	although, even though	7
ceacht	n., pl. - anna	lesson	24
ceachtar	pron.	either, any	24
cead	n.	permission, leave	16
céad	n., pl. -tha	hundred, hundredweight	19
céadú	num.	hundredth	33
ceamara	n., pl. f	camera	31
ceangal	v.n. (see ceangail)
ceangail	vb. 2, v.n. ceangal	tie, bind	24
ceann	n., gen. cinn , pl. cinn/ceanna	head, roof, end, one	4
faoi ch.		at the end of, after	16
go c.		for (a space of time)	31
tinneas cinn		headache	17
céanna	adj.	same	5, 19
ceannacht	v.n. (see ceannaigh)
ceannaigh	vb. 2, v.n. ceannacht	buy	15
ceantar	n., gen. -air, pl. ceantracha	area, district	27
ceap	vb. 1, v.n. ceapadh	think	23
ceaptha	v.adj.	supposed to	31
ceapadh	v.n. (see ceap)
ceaptha	v.adj. (see ceap)
cearc	n. fem., gen. circe , pl. -a	hen	4
céard	pron.	what ?	10
c. é féin		what is it ?
céardós		what sort of ?	35
ceart	adj., comp. ceirte	right, correct	8
ceart	n.	right, correctness	16
c. a bhaint		to manage, find satisfactory	36
ceas	n.	heavy feeling after meal	1
ceathair	num.	four	24
ceathrar	n.	four people	15
ceathrú	n. fem., gen. -n, pl. - naí	quarter, thigh, quatrain	11
Céathrú Rua (An Ch.)		(place-name)	11
ceathrú	num.	fourth	33
céibh	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. - eanna	pier, quay	19
ceil	vb. 1, v.n. ceil	conceal céile			App. I
a ch.		one another

le(n)a ch.		together
ó(n)a ch.		asunder
as a ch.		in a row, consecutively	18
mar a ch.		alike, same	11
céilí	n., pl. - tócha	(traditional) dance	25
ceilt	v.n. (see ceil)
céim	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. - eanna	step, degree, style	32
ceimic	n. fem., gen. - e	chemistry	18
céir	n. fem., gen. céarach	wax	23
ceird	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. - eanna	trade, skill	12
ceirnín	n., pl. - tí	gramophone record	23
ceist	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. - eanna	question
i gc.		in question, under consideration	12
ceo	n.	fog; anything, nothing	10
ceol	n., gen. ceoil , pl. - ta	music	13
'chaon	adj. (= gach aon)	each of, every	30
chéad	num.	first
an ch. ... eile		the next	33
cheal	prep. (+gen.)	for lack of	36
cheana	adv.	previously
an lá ch.		the other day	16
ch. féin		already	11
cheithre	num.	four	11
choíchin	adv.	never	36
chomh	conj.	as	19
ch. ... le		as ... as
ch. ... is		as ... as
ch. maith		as well	7
chúig	num.	five	11
chugainn
seo ch.		next, coming	8
'chuile	adj. (+ len.) (= gach uile)	every	7
chun	prep. (+gen.)	to	27
chúns	conj.	while	15
ciall	n. fem., gen. céille	sense	16
ciallmhar	adj.	sensible	30
Ciarraí		Kerry	3
cibé ar bith cé		whoever, whatever	36
cigire	n., pl. - tí	inspector	12
cill	n. fem., gen. - e	churchyard	29
cine	n., pl. - tócha	race
cineál	n., pl. - acha	kind, sort	7
	adv.	sort of, somewhat
cinn	vb. 1, v.n. cint , cinneadh	decide	1
cinneadh	v.n. (see cinn)
cint	v.n. (see cinn)
cinnte	adj., adv.	sure, certain	4
cion	n.	affection	18
cion
goil i gc. ar		impressing, affecting, influencing	36
cionn
os c.	prep. (+ gen.)	above, over	25
thar c.	adv.	excellent	33
cíor	n. fem. pl. - anna , gen. círe	comb, ridge	1
cíos	n., pl. - anna	rent	25
tóigeáil ar c.		hiring
ciotach	adj., comp. ciotal	gauche, awkward	33
ciotaíl	n. fem., gen. ciotaíola	gaucheness, awkwardness	33

cioth	n. form. , gen. ceatha , pl. - anna	shower	App. I
ciseán	n., pl. ciseáin	basket	11
cisteánach	n. fem., gen. cisteanal , pl. - aí	kitchen	5
citeal	n., pl. - acha	kettle	21
ciúin	adj., comp. - e	quiet	5
ciúineadas	n., gen. - ais	quietness, silence	33
ciúinigh	vb. 2, v.n. ciúiniú	quieten	App. II
ciúiniú	v.n. (see ciúinigh)
ciumhais	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. - eanna	blanket (single width)	24
cláí	n., pl. - ocha	stonewall (around field), fence	16
clais	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. clasganna	furrow, drain	App. II cláirseach	n. fem., gen. cláirsí , pl. - a	harp	4
clamhsán	n., gen. - áin	grumbling, complaining	23
clampar	n., gen. - air	commotion, quarrel	21
mar bharr ar an gc.		to make matters worse	26
clann	n. fem., gen. cloinne , pl. - anna	family, offspring, children	30
clár	n., gen. cláir , pl. - acha	board, lid, programme	12
clár dubh		blackboard	12
cleacht	vb. 1, v.n. cleachtadh	be accustomed to, practise	23
cleachtadh	v.n. (see cleacht) cleas	n., gen. cleis , pl. - anna	trick, plan	App. I
clí	adj.	left	22
cliabh	n., gen., pl. cléibh	pannier basket	27
cliste	adj.	clever	27
clistíocht	n. fem.	cleverness	33
cliú	n.	fame, renown	17
cloch	n. fem., gen. cloiche , pl. - a	stone, stoneweight	5
clog	n., gen. cloig , pl. - anna	clock, bell
a chl.	(= cloch)	o' clock	24
cloich	n., gen. cloiginn , pl. cloigne
cloigeann	vb. 1, hab./fut. clois , past chuala ,	head	17
clois	v.n. cloisteáil , v.adj. cloiste	hear	14, 28
	v.n. fem. (see clois) cloisteáil	n., pl. closcríobhai	typist	15
clóscríobhaí	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. cluasa	ear	29
cluais	n., voc., pl. cluasánl	fathead	28
cluasánach	n., gen. - aigh	cover	29
clúdach	n., pl. - t	game, match	12
cluife	n. fem., pl. - t	bone	32
cnáimh	n., pl. - t	button	30
cnaipe	adj.	honest	34
cneasta	n., gen., pl. cnoic	hill	7
cnoc	n. fem.	cooking	29
cócaireacht	vb. 2, v.n. codladh	sleep	18
codail	v.n. (see codail)
codladh		asleep	26
i mo (etc.) ch.		to sleep, asleep	24
a chodladh		war	20
cogadh	n., gen. - aidh , pl. cogaíocha	whisper	22
cogar	n.	hey, tell me ! say !	34
cogar !	n. fem., gen. cogarnaíola	whispering	22
cogarnaíl	n. fem., gen. - e	fortnight	8
coicís	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. - te	wood, forest	29
coil	n. fem., pl. t	appointment	33
coinne	n. fem., gen., pl. coinnle	candle	29
coinneal	v.n. (see coinnigh)
coinneál	vb. 2, v.n. coinneál	keep, hold	12
coinnigh

cóir	adj., comp. córa	fair, generous	32
coirce	n.	oats	14
cóirigh	vb. 2, v.n. cóiriú	arrange, make (a bed)	15
cóiriú	v.n. (see cóirigh)
coirnéal	n., gen., pl. -éil	corner	26
cois	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. cosa , (gen.pl. cos)	leg, foot, shaft (knife, broom etc.)	8
Cois Fhairrge		(place-name)	31
coisin	vb. 2, v.n. coisint	cost; defend	25
coisint	v.n. (see coisin)
coiste	n., pl. -í	committee	25
coitianta	adj.	common	12
colainn	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eacha	body	33
coláiste	n., pl. -í	college	4
col ceathar	n., pl. col ceathracha	first cousin	28
Colm	gen. Coilm	(man's name)	32
comhair
os c.	prep. (+ gen.)	in front of, opposite	25
comhair	vb. 1, v.n. comhaireamh	count	27
comhaireamh	v.n. (see comhair)
comhairle	n. fem., pl. -cha	advice	32
cur c. ar		advising
comhairleachan	v.n. (see comhairligh) comhairligh	vb. 2, v.n. comhairleachan	advise	App. II
comhar	n., gen. comhair	co-operation	36
comharchumann	n. gen., pl. -ainn	co-operative society	36
comharsa	n. fem., gen. -n, pl. -nna	neighbour	13
comhdháil	n. fem., gen. -ála, pl. -eanna	conference	31
comhlacht	n., pl. -áil	(business) company	15
comhlódar	n., gen., pl. -air	company, household, family	27
Cómhargadh	n., gen. -aidh	Common Market	30
comhrá	n., pl. comhráití	conversing, conversation	16
comhrialtas	n., gen. -ais	coalition government	20
comórtais	n., gen. -ais, pl. comórtaisí	competition, comparison	34
i gc. le (mar)		in comparison with compóirt	n.	comfort, ease	22
ar mo ch.		at my ease
compóirteach	adj., comp. -í	comfortable	5
comrádai	n., pl. comrádaithe	comrade, pal	16
cónaí	v.n. (see cónaigh)
i gc.		always	7
i mo (etc.) ch.		residing, standing idle	26
cónaigh	vb. 2, v.n. cónaí	reside	26
Conamara		(place-name)	1
congarach	adj., comp. -ái	near, adjacent	27
conra	n. fem., pl. -locha	coffin	28
contae	n., pl. -cha	county	28
Contae Mhaigh Eo	adj.	Co. Mayo	28
contráilte	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eacha	wrong	20
contúirt	adj., comp. -í	danger	25
contúirteach	n., pl. -anna	dangerous	25
cor		stir, movement, twist, situation	18
ar ch. ar bith		at all	3
córas	n., gen. pl. -ais	system	12
corc	n., gen. pl. coirc	cork, plug	29
Corcaigh	n., pl. Corcaíocha	Cork	35
Corcaíoch	n. fem. gen. corónach , pl. corónacha	person from Cork	36
corónin	n., gen., pl. coirp	crown	33
corp		corpse	27

corr	adj.	occasional, odd	22
corrai	v.n. (see corraigh)
corraigh	vb. 2, v.n. corrai		27
cósta	n., pl. -l	stir, move	19
costas	n., gen. -ais , pl. costaist	coast	25
costasach	adj., comp. -al	cost	25
cosúil	adj., comp. -úla	costly, expensive	25
cosúlacht	n. fem., pl. -aí	alike, like	6
cóta	n., pl. -l	appearance, resemblance	17
c. mó�	pl. -l móra	coat	2
cothrom	adj., comp. coithrime	great coat	30
crá	v.n. (see crídigh)	level, equal	29
craic	n. fem.	fun, 'gas', a laugh and a chat	13
craiceann	n., gen. craicinn , pl. craicne	skin	30
c. caorach		sheepskin
cráigh	vb. 1, v.n. crá	torment, annoy	33
cráin	n. fem., gen. cránach , pl. -tacha	sow	33
craith	vb. 1, v.n. craigheadh	shake, upset	31
craigheadh	v.n. (see craith)
cr. láimh le		shaking hands with	31
crann	n., gen. croinn , pl. croinnte	tree	6
cré	n. fem.	clay	29
c. na cille		the clay of the churchyard
creath	vb. 1, v.n. creathadh	shake, tremble	31
creathadh	v.n. (see creath)
creatúr	n., gen., pl. -úir , voc. pl. -acha	poor thing, poor fellow	7
creid	vb. 1, v.n. creisdiúint	believe	14
creideamh	n., gen. -imh , pl. creidlocha	faith, religion	31
creisdiúint	v.n. (see creid)
críoch	n. fem.	finish, end	23
i gerích		to completion
críochnaigh	vb. 2, v.n. críochnú	finish	23
críochnú	v.n. (see críochnaigh)
cró	n., pl. cróitl	(small) outhouse	27
croch	vb. 1, v.n. crochadh	lift, hang, go up	28
crochadh	v.n. (see croch)
croí	n., pl. -tl	heart	8
crom	vb. 1, v.n. cromadh	stoop, bend (a limb)	32
cromadh	v.n. (see crom)
crua	adj., comp. -cha, -chte	hard, harsh	15
cruach	n. fem., gen. cruaiche , pl. -a	stack of turf	App. I
cruógach	adj., comp. -al	busy	35
cruinneál	v.n. fem. pl. -acha (see cruinnigh)	gathering; collection	25
cruinnigh	vb. 2, v.n. cruinneál	gather, collect	25
cruinniú	n., pl. cruinnlocha	meeting	25
cuach	n. fem., gen. cuaiche , pl. cuacha	cuckoo	30
cuairt	n. fem.	visit	17
ar c.		visiting
cuan	n., pl. -ta	bay	32
cuan mara	n., pl. -ta mara	sea urchin	32
cuartú	v.n. (see cuartaigh)
cuartaigh	vb. 2, v.n. cuartú	search	32
cuid	n. fem., (gen. codach)	part, share, portion (of food)	10
cuidigh	vb. 2, v.n. cuidiú	help	20
cuidiú	v.n. (see cuidigh)
cúig	num. (after a)	five	24
cúigear	n.	five people	14, 15
cúigiú	num.	fifth	33

cuimhne	n. fem., pl. -f	memory	20
is c. le
cuimhnigh	vb. 2, v.n. cuimhniú	recollect, think	20
cuimhniú	v.n. (see cuimhnigh)
c. air féin
cúinne	n., pl. -f	considering one's position	32
cuir	vb. 1, v.n. cur	(internal) corner, nook	26
cuireadh	n., gen. -idh, pl. cuirlocha	put, sow, bury	12
cúirt	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	invitation	29
cúirtín	n., pl. -f	court	27
cúis	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	curtain	26
déanann sé c.		cause, case	29
cuisliméara	n., pl. -f	it is sufficient	34
cúl	n.	customer	25
ar chúla		back	11
culaith	n. fem., pl. cultacha	behind
cum	vb. 1, v.n. cumadh	suit (of clothes)	6
cuma	n. fem.	compose, makeup	36
as c.		appearance, look	17
cuma		out of shape	18
is c. le		it seems all the same to	20
cumadh	v.n. (see cum)
cumann	n., gen., pl. -ainn	society, club	25
cumasach	adj., comp. -af	superb, extremely capable	36
cumha	n.	loneliness, homesickness	31
cúnamh	n.	help, aid	28
le c. Dé		with God's help
cúng	adj., comp. cuinge	narrow	28
cuntas	n., gen. -ais, pl. cuntasf	account	29
cupán	n., gen., pl. -áin	cup	2
cupla	n.	a few, two or three	5
c. ceann nó trí		two or three	35
cur	v.n. (see cuir)
c. síos citeal		putting on a kettle	21
c. as do		upsetting	35
c. síos		description	31
cúr	n.	foam, froth, skum	1
curach	n. fem., gen. -af, pl. -a	curragh, coracle	19
cúram	n., gen. -raim	responsibility, care, task	27
cúramach	adj., comp. -af	careful	15
cúrsa	n., pl. -af	course, pl. matters, affairs	15
cúthal	adj., comp. cuthaile	shy	28
dabht	n.
daihead	num.	doubt	36
daiheadú	num.	forty	25
dair	n. fem., gen. daraf	fortieth	33
dall	adj., comp. doille	oak tree	34
damhsa	n., pl. -f	blind	7
dána	adj.	dance, dancing	13
dánlann	n. fem., gen. dánlainne , pl. -a	bold	8
daor	adj., comp. daoire	art gallery	9
dara	num.	dear, expensive	6
dath	n., pl. -anna	second	33
ar aon d.		colour	10
de	prep.	the onc colour	30
de bharr, etc.	(see barr , etc.)	off, of	24

de Búrca Dé	(surname)	36
D. Céadaoin	Wednesday	12
D. Domhnaigh	Sunday	12
D. hAoine	Friday	12
D. Luain	Monday	12
D. Máirt	Tuesday	12
D. Sathairn	Saturday	12
deá(-)	adj.	good
deacair	adj., comp. deacra	difficult
deacracht	n. fem.	difficulty
déag	num.	-teen
deaide	n.	daddy
déan	vb. 1, hab. /fut. déan- , past rinne , v.n. déanamh , v.adj. déanta v.n. (see déan)	do, make
déanamh		14, 29
d. amach
d. ar
deara
tugaim faoi d.
Déardaoin	n.	I notice
dearfa	adj.	Thursday
dearg	vb. 1, v.n. deargadh	positive
dearg	adj., comp. deirge	redden, light (pipe, fire)
deargadh	v.n. (see dearg)	red dearnad	n., pl. - acha	mistake
déanamh d.		forgetting
deartháir	n., gen. - ára , pl. - áracha	brother
deas	adj.	right (side)
deas	adj., comp. deise	nice
deich	num.	ten
deichiú	num.	tenth
deichniúr	n.	ten people
deifir	n. fem.	hurry, haste
deilbh	vb. 1, v.n. deilbh , v.adj. deilfe	warp (in weaving)
deimhin		App. I go d.
deir	vb. 1, hab. deir- , fut. déar- , past dúirt , v.n. rá , v.adj. ráite n., gen. - idh , pl. deirt	indeed
		say
deireadh		2, 28
d. seachtaine
chun deiridh
faoi dheireadh
Deireadh Fómhair
deireanach	adj., comp. - ai	end
deirgeacht	n. fem.	weekend
deis	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. - eanna	backwards
deo		at last
go d.	adv.	October
deoch	n. fem., pl. - eanna	last, late
dhá	num.	redness
dhá	conj.	opportunity, apparatus
dhá	prep. + pron.	for ever; really
dhá		drink
dhá fhichead	num.	two
dháiríre	adv.	if
dhar	prep. + pron.	to/of him, her, etc.
dháréag	n.	of all those that ...
		35
		forty in earnest, seriously
		to/of him, her, etc.
		twelve people
		15, 23
		19 11
		15, 23
		15

dheamhan			36
dheas
ó dh.	adv.	southwards, in/from the south	19
Dia	n., gen. Dé	God	22
D. dhuit/dhaobh		(greeting)	23
diabhal	n., gen. -ail, pl. -ala	devil	28, 36
diaidh
i ndiaidh	prep. (+ gen.)	after	24, 26
dialann	n. fem., gen. -ainne, pl. -a	diary	10
Diarmaid		(man's name)
dícheall	n.	(best) effort	34
difríocht	n. fem., pl. -aí	difference	12
dílis	adj., cp. dilse	faithful, dear	29
dínnéar	n., gen., pl. dínnéir	dinner	8
díol	vb. 1	sell	15
díreach	adj., cp. dírf	straight, direct, honest	15
go díreach		exactly, directly, just	7
diúil	vb. 1, v.n. diúil	suck	1
dlí	n., pl. -onna	law	27
dlíodóir	n., gen. -óra, pl. -óirí	lawyer	27
do	adj.	your	10
do	prep.	to, for	23
dó	v.n. (see dóigh)
dó	num.	two
faoi dhó		twice
ceann nó dhó		one or two	24
dochár	n.	harm	15
dochtúr	n., gen. -úir, pl. -úirl	doctor	10
dodhéanta	adj.	impossible to do	27
dóigh	vb. 1, v.n. dó	burn	26
dóigh
is dóigh le		it seems likely, suppose	20
ar ndóigh		of course, needless to say	5
doimhne	n. fem.	depth	33
doirt	vb. 1, v.n. doirtim	approach, draw near	App. I
doirtim	v.n. (see doirt)
doiséinne	n.	dozen	26
domhain	adj., cp. doimhne	deep	19, 28
domhan	n., gen. -ain	world	19
dona	adj., cp. measa	bad(ly)	4
donacht	n. fem.	badness, illness	27
donn	adj., cp. doinne	brown	17
Donncha		(man's name)	3
doras	n., gen. dorais , pl. doirse	door	2
dorcha	adj.	dark	17
dorchadas	n.	darkness	33
dóthain	n. fem.	sufficiency
mo dh.		enough for me
dothóigthe	adj.	impossible to rear	27
drama	n., pl. -aí	play, drama	9
dream	n., pl. -anna	group of people, crowd	9
dréimire	n., pl. -í	ladder	31
driofúr	fem., gen. drifire , pl. driofúracha	sister	8
droch-		bad	13
drogall	n.	reluctance	17
droichead	n., gen., pl. droichid	bridge	22
droim	n., gen. drama , pl. dramanna	back	20
druncaera	n., pl. -aí	drunkard	25

dubh	adj., cp. dubhe	black	12
dubhaigh	vb. 2, v.n. dúchan	blacken	App. I, II
dúchan	n., gen. -ain	blackening; potato blight	App. II
dúchas	n., gen. -ais	nature, background, instinct	22
dúil	n. fem.	desire	28
dúin	vb. 1	close, shut	21
duine	n., pl. daoine	person	2
dúirt	(see deir)		21
dúiseacht	v.n. (see dúisigh)
i mo dh.
dúisigh	vb. 2	awake
dul	v.n. (see goil)	wake, awaken	21
dumhach	n., gen. -mhal, pl. -anna	sandhill	App. I dúnadh	v.n. (see dúin)		21
dusta	n.	dust	23
é
ea	pron. (disjunctive)	he, him	9
éad	pron. 'neuter' (in response)		12
éadach	n.	jealousy	20
éadan	n., gen. -aigh, pl. -aí	clothe(s)	6
éadrom	n., gen., pl. eadain	face, forehead	17
eaglais	adj., comp. éadroime	light	30
éan	n. fem., gen. -e	church	31
Eanáir	n., gen. éin, pl. -acha	bird	5
éard	n.	January	35
earrach	pron.		34
éasca	n., gen. -aigh, pl. earraf	spring	9
éascaíocht	adj.	easy, quick	16
easpag	n.	easiness, quickness	33
eicínt	n., gen., pl. -aig	bishop	31
éigean	adj.	some	13
ar éigin
b' éigean do		barely, almost	19
eile		was obliged to	14
éindí	adj.	other	2
in éindí (le)
Éireannach	adj., comp. -aí	along (with), together	12
éirí	n., gen. -aigh, pl. -aí	Irish	12
éirí as	v.n. fem. (see éirigh)	Irish person	4
éirí le
éirigh	vb. 2	ceasing, stopping	33
Éirinn	n. fem., (alt. Éire), gen. Éireann	succeeding	25
éis		get up, rise, become	16
tharéis		Ireland	4
tharéis dhom	prep. (+gen.)
tharéis go/nach		after	21
eisean	pron. (contrast form of é)	after I had	23
éist	vb. 1, v.n. éisteacht	notwithstanding	36
éisteacht	v.n. (see éist)	he, him	9
eiteachtáil	v.n. fem. (see eitigh)	listen, keep quiet, not interfere	20
eitigh	vb. 2, v.n. eiteachtáil
eitleán	n., gen., pl. -áin	refuse	31
'eo	pron.	aeroplane	13
eochair	n. fem., gen. eochairach , pl. eochairacha	key	14
eolaíocht	n. fem.	science	8 18

eolas	n., gen. -ais	knowledge	17
fad	n.	length	19
i bhf.		far, long way	10
ar f.		altogether	11
ar fh.		in length	19
fada	adj., comp. foide	long	13
le f.		for a long time, this long time
le f. an lá		for many 's the day	30
fadbhreathnaíoch	adj., comp. -náil	farseeing	30
fág	vb. 1 v.n. fágáil	leave	15
fágáil	v.n. (see fág)
faigh	vb. 1, hab. faigh- , fut. gheobh- , past fuair , v.n. fáil , v.adj. fáite v.n. (see faigh)	get, find	15, 29
fáil
f. amach		finding out	22
fallíoch	adj., comp. faillí	neglectful	30
fáilte	n., pl. -f	welcome	32
fainic	n. fem., pl. -acha	warning
	interj. (+ indir. rel.)	beware (of) !	28
fáinne	n., pl. -f	ring	14
fairsing	adj., comp. -e	plentiful, spacious	9
faisean	n.	fashion, habit	27
faiseanta	adj.	fashionable	31
faitíos	n., gen. faitís	fear, timidity	12
fál	n., pl. -ta	fence, hedge	22
falach
i bhf.	adv.	in hiding, hidden	26
falamh	adj.	empty	11
fan	vb. 1 v.n. fanacht	wait, stay, remain	17, App. II
fána
le f.	adv.	sloping	App. I
fánach	adj., comp. -aí	pointless, aimless	13
fanacht	v.n. (see fan)
faoi	prep.	under, about	5, 21
farc	n., pl. -anna	fork	5
farraige	n. fem., pl. -t	sea	9
fás	vb. 1, v.n. fás (gen. fáis , pl. -anna)	grow	14
fascadh	n., gen. -aidh	shelter	22
fata	n., pl. -aí	potato	11
cur fhataí		sowing potatoes	16
fáth	n.	reason, cause	9
cén f.		for what reason, why	9
seabhas	n., gen. feabhais	excellence	27
chun feabhas		improving	27
Feabhra	n.	February	35
feabhsaigh	vb. 2, v.n. feabhsú	improve	36
feabhsú	v.n. (see feabhsaigh)
féad	vb. 1, v.n. féadachtíal	can	22
féadachtíal	v.n. fem. (see féad)
feadaíl	n. fem., gen. feadaíola	whistling	4
feadh
ar f.	prep. (+ gen.)	during, for the duration of	18, 27
feall	n., gen. feill	treachery, foul deed	28
fear	n., gen., pl. für	man	2
féar	n., gen. fér	grass	7
fearg	n. fem., gen. feirge	anger	17

fearr	adj. (comp. of maith)	better, best	13
is f. le		prefer	20
féasóig	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -ógaí	beard	17
feasta	adv.	from now on, in future	35
feic	vb. 1 hab./fut. feic- , past chonaic , v.n. feiceáil , v.adj. feicthe v.n. fem. (see feic)	see	14, 29
feiceáil	n.	use, function	App. I feidhm féidir
is f. le
feil	vb. 1, v.n. feiliúint	can	20
feiliúint	v.n. (see feil)	suit, be appropriate	27
feiliúnach	adj., comp. -aí	suitable, appropriate	23
feilm	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eacha	farm	7
feilméara	n., pl. -aí	farmer	3
feilméaracht	n. fem.	farming	33
féin	n. fem., gen. feola	self, even	9, 19
feoil	n. fem., pl. fiacula	meat	11
fiacail	n., gen. -óra, pl. -i	tooth	33
fiaclóir	v.n. fem. (see fiagraigh)	dentist	33
fiabraí	vb. 2, v.n. fiabral	ask, enquire	22, 31
fiabraigh	adj., comp. fiáine	wild, fierce	30
fiáin	n. fem., gen., pl. fichid	(political party)	20
Fianna Fáil	n., pl. filithe	twenty	11, 19, 25
fiche	n. fem.	poet, local songmaker	36
filí	vb. 1, v.n. filleadh	poetry	36
filíocht	v.n. (see fill)	return, fold	32
fill filleadh
Fine Gael	n.	(political party)	20
fíon		wine	15
Fionnasclainn		(place-name)	3
ffíor(-)	adj.	real, true, genuine	13
fios	n., pl. -anna	knowledge, information	16
cur f. ar		sending for	26
tá a fh. agam		know
fírinne	n. fem.	truth	14
físic	n. fem., gen. -e	physics	18
fiú
is f.		it is / it seems worthwhile	20, 23
flaithis	n. pl.	heaven	App. I
fliuch	adj., comp. fliche	wet	8
fliuch	vb. 1, v.n. fliuchadh	wet	22
fliuchadh	v.n. (see fliuch)
focal	n., gen. -ail, pl. focla	word	10
foghail	n. fem., gen. foghla	stealing, trespassing	App. I
foghlaim	vb. 2, v.n. foghlaim	learn	15
foighdeach	adj.	patient	36
foighid	n. fem., gen. -e	patience	15
fóill
go f.		for a while, yet	15
foilsigh	vb. 2, v.n. foilsiú	publish	36
foilsiú	v.n. (see foilsigh)
foireann	n. fem., gen. foirne	crew, team, staff, set	26
foláir
ní f. do		it is obligatory for, must	23
folláin	adj., comp. -e	healthy	35
fomhar	n., gen. -air	autumn, harvest	9

fón	n., pl. -anna	telephone	5
fonn	n.	desire	17
fós	adv.	yet, still	9
Frainc	n. fem., gen. -e	France	18
Fraincis	n. fem., gen. -e	French (language)	5
fráma	n., pl. -f	frame	35
francach	n., gen., pl. -aigh	rat	7
Francach	n., gen., pl. -aigh	Frenchman	18
freagair	vb. 2, v.n. freagairt	answer	36
freagairt	v.n., (see freagair)
freagra	n., pl. -f	answer	36
freisin	adv.	also, as well, indeed	2
fuacht	n., gen. fuacht	cold	4
fuadar	n.	haste	21
fuagair	vb. 2, v.n. fuagairt	call out, announce	28
fuagairt	v.n. (see fuagair)
fuaign	vb. 1, v.n. fuáil	sew	30
fuáil	v.n. (see fuaign)
fuair	(see faigh)
fuar	adj., comp. fuaire	cold	7
fud
ar f.	prep. (+ gen.)	throughout	28
fuil	n. fem., gen. fola	blood	12
cur fola		bleeding	32
fuinneog	n. fem., gen. -e , pl. fuinneogail	window	3
furasta	adj., comp. fusa	easy	19
gá	n.	need	23
gabáiste	n., pl. -f	cabbage	21
gabh	vb. 1, hab. té- , fut. gabh- , past chuaign , v.n. goil , v.adj. goite	go	19, 29
gach	adj. (see also 'chuile', 'chaon')	every	32
gadaí	n., pl. gadaíhe	thief	31
Gaeilge	n. fem.	Irish (language)	4
Gaeilgeoir	n., gen. -óra , pl. -f	Irish speaker	33
Gaeilgeoireacht	n. fem.	speaking Irish	33
Gaeltacht	n. fem., pl. -aí	Irish-speaking area	4
Gaillimh	n. fem., gen. -e	Galway	21
gaineamh	n., gen. gainimh	sand	9
gáire	n., pl. -f	laugh	17
gáirí	v.n.	laughing
gairid	adj.	short	33
le g.		recently
go g		short ly	20
gaisce	n. fem.	feat, boast	26
déanamh g.		boasting
galaoireach	n. fem.	soap	26
gall	n.	anglified person, foreigner	1
Galltacht	n.	English-speaking area (in Ireland)	36
galún	n., gen., pl. -úin	gallon	11
gan	prep.	without	14, 21, 35
gann	adj., comp. goinne	scarce	29
gaol	n., gen. gaoil , pl. -ta	relation	34
tá g. agam le		I am related to
gaoth	n. fem., gen. -e , pl. -anna	wind	10
Gaoth Sáile		(place-name)	3
gar	adj., comp. goire	near	30

g. dó féin
garbh	adj., comp. goirbhe	35
garda	n., pl. -aí	30
garraí	n., pl. garranta	26
gasúr	n., gen., pl. gasúir	3
gé	n. fem., pl. géabha	2
geadán	n.	App. II
geansaí	n., pl. -ocha	App. I
geal	adj., comp. gile	6
go geal		26
gealach	n. fem., gen. gealaí	bright, white
geall	n., pl. -ta	36
mar gh. ar		23
geall	vb. 1, v.n. gealladh	on account of
gealladh	v.n. (see geall)	7
géar	adj., comp. géire	promise
gearán	n.	23
geard	n., pl. -anna	sharp, sour
Gearmáinis	n. fem., gen. -e	complaint
gearr	adj., comp. girre	10
is g. go/nach		App. I
gearr	vb. 1, v.n. gearradh	yard
gearradh	v.n. (see gearr)	27
gearrscéal	n., pl. -ta	German (language)
geata	n., pl. -f	15
géill	vb. 1, v.n. géilleadh	short
géilleadh	v.n. (see géill)	it will be a short time until geimhreadh	n., gen. -idh , pl. geimhrlocha	29
geirseach	n. fem., gen. geirsí	cut
Ghiúdach	adj.	21
gó	conj.	short story
ginn	n. fem., pl. geanntracha	3
giódam	n.	gate
giota	n., pl. -f	yield, submit
glac	vb. 1, v.n. glacadh	32
glac	n. fem., gen. gloice	winter
glacadh	v.n. (see glac)	small girl
gl le		Jewish
glan	adj., comp. gloine	although, even though
glan	vb. 1, v.n. glanadh	1
glanadh	v.n. (see glan)	wedge
glaoch	v.n. (see gluigh)	sprightly walk
cur gl. ar		App. I
glas	adj., comp. gloise	small portion glas	n., gen. glois , pl. -anna	App. I
glasáil	vb. 1, v.n. glasáil	take, seize, accept
gleann	n., gen. -a , pl. -ta	25
glic	adj., comp. -e	closed hand(ful), grasp Glinsce	n.	accepting, assuming
gliogar	n. fem., pl. -iúcha	25
gloine	n. fem., pl. -aí	clean, clear
gluaiseacht	vb. 1, v.n. glaoch	9
gluigh	n. fem., gen. glúnach , pl. glúine	clean, clear
glúin	gen. glúnach , pl. glúnta	12
gnaithe	n., pl. -f	ringing, calling up
gnaoiúil	adj., comp. -úla	green (plants), grey (animals)
gníomh	n., pl. -anna	17

gnóthachtáil	v.n. fem. (see gnóthaigh)
gnóthaigh	vb. 2, v.n. gnóthachtáil	win, gain	22
go	particle (subordinating)		2
go	particle (adverbial)		15
go	prep.		21
go	particle (optative) (see ceann , etc.)		36
go ceann, etc.
gob	n., gen. goib , pl. -anna	beak, spout, prow, nib	27
go dtí	prep.	as far as, up to	22
go léir
goid		steal	18
goil		going	14
dul chun cinn		progress	14
goile	n., pl. -acha	stomach, appetite, pl. guts	10
goirdeacht	n. fem.	shortness	33
gorm	adj., comp. goirmé	blue	17
gortaigh	vb. 2, v.n. gorút	hurt, injure	23
gortú	v.n. (see gortaigh)
grá	n.	love	26
i ngrá		in love	26
gráin	n. fem., gen. gránach	detestation, hatred	18
gránna	adj., comp. gráinne	ugly, horrible	10
grásta	n.	grace(s)	28
gr. ó Dhia air		God rest him
greann	n., gen. grinn	humour, fun	28
greim	n., gen. greama , pl. greamanna	grip, bite, stitch	28
grian	n. fem., gen. gréine	sun	16
gruaig	n. fem., gen. -e	hair	17
gruama	adj.	gloomy	21
gual	n., gen. guail	coal	17
gualainn	n. fem., gen. -e , pl. guailtí	shoulder	30
guidh	vb. 1, v.n. guidhe	pray	24
guidhe	v.n. (see guidh)
gúna	n., pl. -f	dress, frock	6
gunna	n., pl. -f	gun	26
gur	particle (subordinating, past)		26
gur, gurb, gurbh	(subordinating forms of copula)		11, 31
halla	n., pl. -f
hata	n., pl. -f	hall	19
hóbair		hat	17
h. do		almost	23
i	prep.	in	26
í	pron. (disjunctive)	she, her	9
iad	pron. (disjunctive)	they, them	9
iadsan	pron. (contrast form of iad)	they, them	9
iarnáil	vb. 1, v.n. iarnáil	iron	29
iarr	vb. 1, v.n. iarraidh	attempt, want, request	15
iarracht	n. fem., pl. -af	attempt	36
iarraidh	v.n. (see iarr)	blow, go	15
d' i. amháin		in one go
iasacht	n. fem., pl. -af	loan	28
ar i.		on loan
iasc	n., gen. éisc	fish	11
iascach	v.n.	fishing	19

iascaire	n., pl. - t	fisherman	23
iascaireacht	n. fem.	fishing, being a fisherman	33
i bhfad	adv.	far, a long way	10
i bhfus	adv.	over here	19
idir	prep.	between, both	12, 28
i dtaobh etc.	(see taobh , etc.)
im	n., gen. - e	butter	11
imeacht	v.n. (see imigh), pl. - aif	departing, pl. events	15
imigh	vb. 2, v.n. imeacht	depart, go off	15
imir	vb. 2, v.n. imir	play	12
imirt	v.n. fem. (see imir)		14
imleacán	n.	navel	App. I
imní	n. fem.	worry, anxiety	15
'in	pron.		14
in aghaidh, etc.	(see aghaidh , etc.)
inín	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. - acha	daughter	7
inite	adj.	edible	27
inné	adv.	yesterday	6
an lá i.		yesterday	12
innealtóir	n., gen. - óra , pl. - i	engineer	31
innis	vb. 2, v.n. inseacht	tell, relate	25
inniu	adv.	today	12
an lá i.		today
inseacht	v.n. (see innis)
intinn	n. fem., gen. - e	mind, intention	25
ar i.		in mind, intending to
íoc	vb. 1, v.n. loc	pay	25
íochtar	n., gen. lochtair	bottom part	26
in i.		underneath
iomáí
is i.
iomarca	n. fem.	many's the	36
iompaigh	vb. 2, v.n. iompú	an excess of, too much	7
iompair	vb. 2, v.n. iompar	turn	24
iompar	v.n. (see iompair)	carry	28
i. cloinne		carriage, transport	28
iompú	v.n. (see iompaigh)	being pregnant	30
ionadh	n., pl. iontais
ionann	adj.	wonder, surprise	20
iondúil	adj., comp. - úla	same, identical	11
go h.		usual	8
ionga	n. fem., pl. ingne , iongaíocha	usually iontach	adj., comp. iontais	nail (finger, toe)	App. I
iontas	n., gen. iontais	wonderful	4
déanamh i.		wonder, amazement	17
iriseoir	n., gen. - óra , pl. - i	wondering
iriseoireacht	n. fem.	journalist	31
is	copula	journalism	31
ise	pron. (contrast form of i)		11, 20
íseal	adj., comp. isle	she, her	9
isteach	adv.,	low	7
istigh	adv.,	inwards, in	19
ith	vb. 1, fut. los- , v.n. ithe	within, in	19
ithe	v.n. (see ith)	eat	16, 28
'iúd	pron.		14
Iúil	n.	July	35
jab	n., pl. - anna	job	34
jug	n., pl. - anna	jug	29

lá	n., gen. lae , pl. laethanta	day	8
sa ló		per day
labhair	vb. 1, v.n. labhairt	speak	App. II, 22
labhairt	v.n. fem. (see labhair)
lách	adj., comp. láit	pleasant	15
lacha	n. fem., gen. -n, pl. -in, (gen.pl. -n)	duck	22
lag	adj., comp. loige	weak	26
lag	vb. 1, v.n. lagachan	weaken	App. II
lagachan	v.n. (see lag)
laghad	n.	smallness	33
ar a l.		at least
ládir	adj., comp. láidire	strong	27
láimh	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. lámha	hand, arm, handle	5
láir	n. fem., gen. láreach , pl. láreacha	mare	33
lampa	n., pl. -f	lamp	2
lán	adj.	full	10
	n.	the full of
lár	n.	centre, middle	25
i lár		in the centre of
las	vb. 1, v.n. lasadh	light	18
lasadh	v.n. (see las)
láthair
i l.	prep. (+ gen.)	in the presence of
i l. na huaire		at the present moment	30
faoi l.		at present	21
le	prep.	with, against	20
le haghaidh, etc.	(see aghaidh , etc.)
leaba	n. fem., gen. leapa , pl. leapacha	bed	5
leabhar	n., gen. leabhair , pl. -tha	book	3
leabharlann	n. fem., gen. leabharlainne , pl. -a	library	9
leac	n. fem., gen. leice , pl. -racha	flat stone, slab	19
léacht	n., pl. -anna	lecture	18
léachtóir	n., gen. -óra, pl. -f	lecturer	18
leadrána	adj., comp. -af	boring, tedious	34
leag	vb. 1, v.n. leagan	lay, place, knock down	12
leagan	n. (see leag ; pl. -acha)	version, idiom	14
leaid	n., pl. -s	lad	32
leáigh	vb. 1, v.n. leámh	melt, dissolve	1
léamh	v.n. (see léigh)
lean	vb. 1, v.n. leanacht	follow	22
leanacht	v.n. (see lean)
leanbh	n., gen. linbh	child	28
leann	n., gen. -e	ale	32
leas	n., gen. -a	use, benefit	25
baint l. as		using	25
leath	n. fem., pl. -acha	half	19
leathan	adj., comp. leithne	broad, wide	29
leathanach	n., gen. -aigh, pl. -af	page	29
leathar	n., gen. leathair , pl. -acha	leather	30
leathchéad	n.	fifty	19
leathshúil	n. fem., gen. leathshúilach	one eye	32
leathuair	n. fem., gen. -e	half-hour	24
leictreachas	n., gen. -ais	electricity	29
léigh	vb. 1, v.n. léamh	read	12
léim	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	jump
de l.		suddenly	24
caitheamh l.		jumping	33
léim	vb. 1, v.n. léimt	jump	24

léimt	v.n. (see term)
leíne	n. fem., pl. -teacha (see le)	shirt, shift	6
leis an
leisciúil	adj., comp. -úla	lazy	4
leithead	n.	width	19
ar l.		in width	19
leithéid(e)	n. fem.
mo l.		the likes of me	24
leith
go l.		..and a half	19
leitir	n. fem., pl. leitreacha	letter	9
leonta	adj.	sprained	App. I leor
go l.		plenty of, enough	3
is l.		enough	23
leoraí	n., pl. -s	lorry	13
Liam		(man's name)	31
liath	adj., comp. -cha, -chte	grey	17
lig	vb. 1, v.n. ligean	let	21
ligean	v.n. (see lig)
l. air		pretending	35
líne	n. fem., pl. -te	line	36
lón	vb. 1, v.n. lionadh	fill	25
lionadh	v.n. (see lón)
liosta	n., pl. -f	list	11
litroocht	n. fem.	literature	36
lobh	vb. 1, v.n. lobhadh	rot	27
lobhadh	v.n. (see lobh)
loch	n. fem., gen.a, pl. -anna	lake	22
locht	n., gen. loicht , pl. -anna	fault	33
tá l. agam ar		I have f. to find with Lochán Beag		(place-name)
loigh	vb. 1, v.n. loighe	lie	5
loighe	v.n. (see loigh)		19
i mo l.		lying	26
cur ina l. ar		persuading	33
lóistín	n., pl. -f	lodging	10
ar l.		in lodging
lom	adj., comp. loime	bare, exposed	29
long	n. fem., gen. loinge	ship	App. I lú	(see beag)
luach	n.	value, price	27
luath	adj., comp. -cha, -chte	early	13
comp. túisce		soon
lúb	vb. 1, v.n. lúbadh	bend, flex	30
lúbadh	v.n. (see lúb) luch	n. fem., pl. -ain	mouse	App. I
lucht	n.	people (connected with)	20
lúib	n. fem.	loop, stitch (knitting)
Lúnasa	n.	August	35
má
más	conj. (= má+is)	if	8
mac	n., gen., pl. mic		11
m. léinn		son	3
Mac Suibhne		student	18
madadh	n., gen. madaidh , pl. madraí	(surname)	36
		dog	7

magadh	n., gen. -aidh	joke, mocking	23
maide	n., pl. -í	stick, pole	17
maidin	n. fem., gen. maidine, pl. -acha	morning in the morning	9
ar m.		as for	9
maidir le	n. fem.	mammy	6
maime	vb. 1, v.n. maireachtáil	live, last	19
mair		(woman's name)	3
Máire
maireachtáil	v.n. fem. (see mair)
mairg	n. fem.	regret, trouble	21
Máirtín		(man's name)	2
máistir	n., pl. máistrí	master, schoolmaster	20
máistreás	n. fem., pl. -aíl	mistress, schoolmistress	12
maith	adj., comp. fíorr	good	4
	n. fem.		15
maitheas	n. fem., gen. -a	wealth, prosperity	32
mála	n., pl. -í	bag	10
mall	adj., comp. moille	slow, late	30
maoin	n.	riches	1
mapa	n., pl. -í	map	3
mar	prep., conj.	as, like	9, 13
mara	conj.	if not, unless	8, 10, 11
marab	conj. + copula		11
marach	prep.	only for, except for	26
m. go/nach		except for the fact that	35
maraigh	vb. 2, v.n. marú	kill	28
marar	conj. (with past)	if not, unless	26
marbh	adj.	dead	8
marc	n., pl. -anna	mark, target	18
as m.		off target, wrong
marcaíocht	n. fem.	ride, riding, lift	35
margadh	n., gen. -aidh, pl. margai	market	30
Márta	n.	March	35
marú	v.n. (see maraigh)
masla	n., pl. -í	insult	34
maslaigh	vb. 2, v.n. maslú	insult	34
maslú	v.n. (see maslaigh)
máthair	n. fem., gen. máthar, pl. -acha	mother	6
mé	pron.	me	2
meabhair	n. fem., gen. meabhrach	intelligence, mind	18
meabhrach	adj., comp. -aíl	intelligent	32
meach	n. fem., pl. meachain	bee	App. II
méad	n.
cé mh.		how much	12
ar a mh.		at most	33
meadhg	n.	whey	App. I
meaisín	n., pl. -anna	machine	13
meall	n., pl. -tracha	lump, mass	29
Meán Fómhair	n.	September	35
meán lae	n.	mid-day	29
meánscoil	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -anna	secondary school	12
meas	vb. 1, v.n. meas	think, reckon
meas tú	n.	do you think ?
meas	(see dona)	thinking, esteem, respect	18, 23
measa
measc
í m.	prep. (+ gen.)	among, amidst	29
measc	vb. 1, v.n. meascadh	mix, stir (liquid)	29

meascadh	v.n. (see measc)
méid	n. (lenites adj.)	amount, size	21
cén mhéid		what size
méir	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. méaracha	finger	10
méaracha coise		toes
Meireacá		America	3
meisce	n. fem.	drunkenness
ar m.		drunken	26
Meitheamh	n.	June	35
mh' anam	(for a mh' anam)	indeed, faith !	19
mí	n. fem., gen. míosa , pl. -onna	month	7
mian	n.	desire	App. I
Mícheál	n., voc., gen. Míchil , Míchedáil	(man's name)	20
mil	n. fem., gen. meala	honey	32
míle	n., pl. mílte	mile, thousand	14
milis	adj., comp. milse	sweet	29
míliú	num.	thousandth	33
mill	vb. 1, v.n. milleadh	ruin, destroy	26
milleadh	v.n. (see mill)
milleán	n., gen. -áin	blame
cur m. ar		blaming	35
milliún	n., gen., pl. -áiin	million	19
milliúnú	num.	millionth	33
mímhúinte	adj.	bad-mannered, impolite	20
min	n. fem., gen. -e	meal
mín	adj., comp. -e	fine, smooth	30
minic
go m.	adv., comp. -í	often	6
ministéara	n., pl. -í	minister, clergyman	31
miosúr	n., gen. -íir	(tape) measure	23
miotóig	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. miotógal	glove	30
mise	pron. (contrast form of mé)	I	2
misneach	n. fem., gen. -í	courage, heart	27
míshásta	adj.	dissatisfied	19
miste
ní m. le		.. doesn't mind	20
mo	adj.	my	10
moch
go m.	adv., comp. moiche	early (in the morning)	9
móide
ní m.		it is unlikely	10
moill	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -anna	delay	17
móin	n. fem., gen. móna	turf, peat	17
mol	vb. 1, v.n. moladh	praise, recommend	12
moladh	v.n. (see mol)
monarcha	n. fem., gen. -n, pl. -in	factory	14
mór	adj., comp. mó	big, great	4
m. millteach		huge	28
m.-le-rá		important, widely spoken of
tá mé m. le		I am friendly with	13
níor mhór dhom		I am obliged to	36
mórán	n.	much
	adv.	almost	6
mothaigh	vb. 2, v.n. mothú	feel, perceive	21
mothú	v.n. (see mothaigh)
gan mh.		unconscious	21
múch	vb. 1, v.n. múchadh	extinguish, quench, put out	24
múchadh	v.n. (see múch)

muic	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. muca , gen.pl. muc	pig	7
moid	pron.	we	2
muide	pron. (contrast form of moid)	we	2
múin	vb. 1, v.n. múnadh	teach	24
muineál	n., gen. muinil	neck	28
muinín	n. fem.	trust	33
déanamh m. as		trusting
tá m. agam as		I trust in
múinte	adj.	polite, well-mannered	20
múinteoir	n., gen. -eora, pl. -í	teacher	2
muintir	n. fem., gen. -e	people, family, relations	3
muir	n. fem., gen. mara	sea	32
Muire		The Virgin Mary	23
Dia is M. dhuit	(reply to Dia dhuit)
muis(e)	interj.	indeed ! now !	6
mallach	n., gen. mullaigh , pl. mullaí	top, summit	28
múnadh	v.n. (see múin)		24
na	article (pl. and fem. sing.)		8
ná	conj.		2
ná	particle (negative, imperative)		8
nach	particle (negative indir. relative) (+ copula)		2
nach	particle (negative relative)		11
nádúrthach	adj., comp. -aí	natural	3
nafonán	n., gen., pl. -áin	infant	16
náire	n. fem.	shame	App. I
náireach	adj.	shameful, disgraceful	17
náisiún	n., gen., pl. -ái	nation	16
náisiúnta	adj.	national	4
námhaid	n.fem., pl. -í	enemy	9
naoi	num.	nine	App. I
naonúr	n.	nine people	11
naoú	num.	ninth	15
naprún	n., gen., pl. -úin	apron	33
nár	particle	(negative optative)	34
nar	particle	(subordinating, past)	36
nar	particle	(question, past)	26
narbh	(= nar + copula)		31
nead	n.fem., gen. neide , pl. -racha	nest	27
néal	n.	wink of sleep	33
neaipicín	n., pl. -í	napkin	33
n. póca		handkerchief
neart	n., gen. neairt	strength, lots of	6
ní	particle (negative)		2, 6
Ní	(= ní + copula)		11
nigh	n. (in set phrases)	thing	19
níl	(prefix in surnames)		36
níochán	vb. 1, v.n. níochán	wash	12
níl	(neg.of tá)		2
níochán	v.n. (see nigh)
níor	particle (neg., past)		26
níorbh	(= níor + copula)		31
níos	(comp. form of copula)		19
nó	conj.	or	6
nó go/nach	conj.	until	17
nócha	num.	ninety	25

nóchadú	num.	ninetieth	33
nóiméad	n., gen. -éid, pl. -cha	minute, moment	16
Nollaig	n. fem., gen. Nollag , pl. -eacha	Christmas	13
faoi N.		around Christmas	21
Mí na Nollaig		December	35
nós	n., pl. -anna	custom
ar nós	prep. (+gen.)	like	24, 34
nua	adj., comp. -cha,-chte	new	10
nuaíocht	n. fem.	news	20
nuair	conj.	when	13
6	prep.	from	22
6 ... amach		from ... on	27
Ó	(prefix in surnames)		36
obair	n. fem., gen. oibre , pl. oibreacha	work(ing)	13
ocht	num.	eight	11
ochtar	n.	eight people	15
ochtó	num.	eighty	33
ochtódú	num.	eightieth	33
ochtú	num.	eighth	33
ocras	n., gen. -ais	hunger	17
6 g	adj., comp. óige	young	7
oibrí	n., pl. oibrithe	worker	22
oibrigh	vb. 2, v.n. oibriú	work, use	27
oibriú	v.n. (see oibrigh) oíche	n. fem., pl. -annata	night	5
an o. anocht		tonight	12
oidechas	n., gen. -ais	education	12
oifige	n. fem., pl. -f	office	11
óige	n. fem.	youth	8
oileán	n., gen., pl. -áin	island	10
oilte	adj.	skilled	33
oilteacht	n. fem.	skill	33
oinniún	n., gen., pl. -úin	onion	29
oiread	n. (no t prefixed after article)	amount, much	12
an o.		that much
a o.		so much
ól	vb. 1, v.n. ól, gen. óil	drink	15
ola	n. fem.	oil	30
olann	n. fem., gen. olla	wool	30
olc	adj.	evil, wicked	4
ollscoil	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	university	12
orlach	n., gen. -aigh, pl. orlaí	inch	11
orlár	n., gen., pl. orláir	floor	5
oscail	vb. 2, v.n. oscailt	open	12
oscailt	v.n. (see oscail)
os cionn, etc.	(see cionn , etc.)
ó shin		(see sin)
ospidéal	n., gen., pl. ospidéil	hospital	10
pacáil	vb. 1, v.n. pacáil	pack	14
Pádraig		(man's name)	9
Páidín	(dimin. of Pádraig)	(man's name)	3
paidir	n. fem., pl. paidreacha	prayer	22
pái	n. fem.	pay	15
páipéar	n., gen., pl. páipéis	paper, newspaper	3

páirc	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	large field, park	22
parcáil	vb. 1, v.n. parcáil fem.	park	35
páirtí	n., pl. páirtithe	(political) party	20
P. an Lucht Oibre
páiste	n., pl. -í	Labour Party	20
paiteanta	adj.	child	11
paráiste	n., pl. -í	perfect	18
Peadar	gen. -air	parish	25
peain	n., pl. -eanna	(man's name)	23
peann	n., pl. peanna	frying pan	29
peata	n., pl. -í	pen	12
peictiúr	n., gen., pl. úir	pet	7
Peige		picture	3
peileadóir	n., gen. -óra, pl. -í	(woman's name)	3
peiliúr	n., gen., pl. -úir	footballer	26
péinteáil	vb. 1, v.n. péinteáil fem.	pillow	24
péinteáilte	adj.	paint	14
péire	n., pl. -í	painted	19
pian	n. fem., pl. -ta	pair, two (things)	12
pingin	n. fem., pl. pingineacha	pain	32
pinsean	n., pl. -acha	penny	11
pinsinéara	n., pl. -í	pension	30
pioc	vb. 1, v.n. piocadh	pensioner	22
piocadh	v.n. (see pioc)	pick	33
pionta	n., pl. -í	pint	15
píopa	n., pl. -í	pipe	16
píosa	n., pl. -í	piece, bit, patch, short period	13
pláta	n., pl. -í	plate	5
pl. beag	pl. -al beaga	side plate
pl. mór	pl. -al móra	dinner plate
plé	v.n. (see pléigh)
pléasc	vb. 1, v.n. pléascadh	burst, explode	35
pléigh	vb. 1, v.n. plé	discuss, deal with, be connected	15
plódaithe	adj.	crowded	11
pluiméara	n., pl. -í	plumber	32
pluid	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	blanket (double width)	24
plump	n., pl. -all	bang, loud noise, peal	24
pobal	n., gen., pl. -ail	community, public at large	12
teach an phobail		(Catholic) church (building)	10
pobalscoil	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna)	community school	12
póca	n., pl. -í	pocket	4
póg	n. fem., pl. -a	kiss	21
póg	vb. 1, v.n. pógadh	kiss	21
pógadh	v.n. (see póg)
poiblí	adj.	public	36
pointe	n., pl. -í	point, point of time	26
ar an bp.		on the spot, immediately	26
pointeáilte	adj.	punctual, precise, punctilious	24
polaitíocht	n. fem.	politics	16
poll	n., gen., pl. poill	hole	23
pórtar	n., gen. -air	porter, stout	27
pós	vb. 1, v.n. pósadh	marry, get married	14
pósadh	v.n. (see pós)
posta	n., pl. -í	post, job, mail, post office	8
pósta	v.adj. (see pós)	married	11
pota	n., pl. -í	pot	4
praiseach	n. fem.	mess	26
Pratastúnach	adj.	Protestant	12

príosún	n., gen., pl. -áin	prison	35
pros	n., pl. -anna	press, cupboard	29
prós	n., gen. próis	prose	36
puca	n.	spread, canvas (of sail)	1
punt	n., gen. puint , pl. -aíl	pound (weight or money)	11
rá	v.n. (see deir)		20, 28
radharc	n., gen. radhairc	sight	34
raidió	n.-	radio	18
ráille	n., pl. -í	rail, railing, banister	33
raithneach	n. fem., gen. raithnú	bracken, fern	App. 1
rang	n., pl. -anna	class (school)	12
rásá	n., pl. rásat	race	23
rásúr	n. gen. -úir , pl. -úirl	razor	13
rath	n.	wealth, prosperity, good	22
réab	vb. 1, v.n. réabadh	tear, smash, act violently	26
réabadh	v.n. (see réab)
reamhar	adj., comp. reimhre	fat, thick	26
réasúnta	adj.	reasonable, reasonably priced
	adv.	reasonably, moderately, fairly	4
réidh	adj., comp. -che , -chte	ready, finished, easy, smooth	15
réir
de r.	prep. (+ gen.)	according to	27
de r. mar	conj.	according as
de r. a chéile		gradually, bit by bit	35
réiteach	v.n. (see réitigh)
réitigh	vb. 2, v.n. réiteach	prepare, clear, solve	21
rí	n., pl. rítl	king	32
rialta	adj.	regular	22
rialtas	n., gen. -ais	government	20
rifíneach	n., pl. -a	ruffian	7
rith	vb. 1, v.n. rith	run	12
ina r.		running	21
ro-	adj.	too, over, excessively	13
robar	n., gen., pl. -air	dishcloth	29
roimh	prep.	before	32
roilig	n. fem., gen. -e , pl. -eacha	graveyard, cemetery	28
roinn	n. fem., gen. -e	(state) department	36
roinn	vb. 1, v.n. roinnt	divide, share	16
roinnt	v. n. fem., gen. -e , pl. -eálacha	dividing, division	16
	adv.	somewhat	16
ronnach	n., gen. -aigh , pl. -aíl	mackerel	34
rópa	n., pl. -í	rope	28
róst	vb. 1, v.n. róstadh	fry, roast	29
róstadh	v.n. (see róst)
rotha	n., pl. róit	wheel	33
rothar	n., gen., pl. rothair	bicycle	35
rua	adj., comp. -cha , -chte	reddish-brown	17
ruainne	n.	a little bit	16
Ruairí		(man's name)	8
rud	n., pl. -aíl	thing	2
r. beag		a small quantity, a little bit	10
r. eile dhe		furthermore, moreover	36
sin é an r.		that is the thing (the point)	14
Rúis	n. fem., gen. -e	Russia	18
Rúisis	n. fem., gen. -e	Russian (language)	18
rútítín	n., pl. -í	ankle	30

rúnaí	n., pl. -aithe	secretary	15
ruibh	n. fem.	viciousness	App. I
rusta	n., pl. -í	wrist, cuff	30
sa	(see i)		26
sá	vb. 1, v.n. sá	stick, stab, shove	33
sábh	n., pl. -anna	saw	23
sábháil	vb. 1, v.n. sábháilt	save	25
sábháilt	fem. v.n. (see sábháil)
sac	n., gen. soic	sack	28
sách	adj.	satisfied (after eating)	10
	adv.	sufficiently, enough
sagart	n., gen., pl. -airt	priest	4
sáibhéara	n., pl. -í	sawyer	25
saighdiúr	n., gen. -úir, pl. -í	soldier	26
sáil	n. fem., gen. sála, pl. sálta	heel	30
sáile	n.	brine, seawater	20
thar s.		overseas, abroad
salach	adj., comp. soilche	dirty	29
salachar	n., gen. -air	dirt	23
salaigh	vb. 2, v.n. salú	dirty	12
salann	n., gen. -ainn	salt	29
sall	adv.	over, across	19
salú	v.n. (see salaigh)
Samhain	n. fem., gen. Samhna	Hallowtide	21
Mí na Samhna		November	35
samhlaigh	vb. 2, v.n. samlú	imagine	22
samhlú	v.n. (see samhlaigh)
samhradh	n., gen. -aidh, pl. samhrálocha	summer	7
san	(see i)
saoire	n. fem.	holiday	11
ar s.		on holiday
saol	n., gen. saoil, pl. saolta	life, world	7
os comhair an tsaoil		publicly, openly	27
saor	adj., comp. saoire	cheap	6
saothraigh	vb. 2, v.n. saothrú	earn, achieve (with effort)	15
saothrú	v.n. (see saothraigh)
sáraíocht	n. fem.	arguing, dispute	20
Sasana		England	3
sásar	n., gen., pl. -air	saucer	5
sáspan	n., gen., pl. -ain	saucepan	29
sásta	adj.	satisfied, content, willing, happy	.2
sástaíocht	n. fem.	satisfaction	33
scabhléaracht	n. fem.	scolding, giving out	36
scabhtéara	n., pl. -í	scoundrel	35
scadán	n., gen., pl. -ain	herring	App. I
scairt	vb. 1, v.n. scairteadh	shine	22
scairteadh	v.n. (see scairt)
scaitheamh	n., pl. scaití	period of time	22
	adv.	(pl.) sometimes
scamall	n., gen., pl. -aill	cloud	22
scanraigh	vb. 2, v.n. scanrí	take fright, frighten, scare	24
scanrú	v.n. (see scanraigh)
scaoil	vb. 1, v.n. scaoileadh	loosen, free	28
scaoileadh	v.n. (see scaoil)
scar	vb. 1, v.n. scaradh	separate, part, spread	27
scaradh	v.n. (see scar)

scáthán	n., gen. pl. -án	mirror	9
sceach	n. fem., gen. sceiche , pl. -a	hawthorn, briar	30
scéal	n., gen. scéil , pl. scéalta	story, news, matter, situation	8
scéalaí	n., pl. scéalaithe	storyteller	4
scéalaíocht	n. fem.	storytelling	36
scéim	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	scheme, project	36
scian	n. fem., gen. scíne , pl. sceana	knife	4
sc. phóca		pocket knife, penknife
scil	n. fem.	skill, knowledge	33
baint sc. as		examining, analysing, diagnosing	33
scilling	n. fem., pl. scilleacha	shilling	11
scioptha	adj.	fast, speedily	19
sciorta	n., pl. -i	skirt
scíth	n. fem., pl. -anna	rest, school holiday	11
ligean mo etc. scíth		relaxing	22
sclábháis	n., pl. sclábhaithe	labourer	33
sclábháiocht	n. fem.	labouring, hard work, drudgery	33
scoil	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	school	8
ar sc.		at school
sc. chónaí		boarding school	24
scoilt	vb. 1, v.n. scoileadh	crack, split	27
scoilteadh	v.n. (see scoilt)
scoláireacht	n. fem., pl. -áil	scholarship	18
scóp	n., gen. scóip	scope, freedom	1
smaoinigh	vb. 2, v.n. smaoiniú	think (about)	34
smaoiniú	v.n. (see smaoinigh)
snámh	vb. 1, v.n. snámh	swim	18
snáthaid	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -f	needle, injection	10
sneachta	n.	snow	9
cur shn.		snowing	15
sobhriste	adj.	breakable	27
socair	adj., comp. socra	quiet, steady	32
s. ionam féin		at ease with myself	32
sochraide	n. fem., pl. -f	funeral	28
socraigh	vb. 2, v.n. socrú	settle, arrange	24
socrú	v.n. (see socraigh)	settling; settlement, arrangement	24
soibhir	adj., comp. soibre	rich	7
soibhreas	n., gen. soibhris	richness, riches	33
soill	n. fem., gen. -e	fat	29
soir	adv.	eastwards, east	19
soitheach	n., gen. soithigh , pl. soithí	dish, (sailing) vessel	12
sol má	conj.	before	13
solas	n., gen. solaí , pl. solíse	light	4
sompla	n., pl. -f	example
mar sh.		for example	36
son	prep. (+ gen.)
ar shon		for the sake of, on behalf of	25
ar son Dé		for God's sake !
so-ólta	adj.	easily drunk	27
sórt	n.	sort, kind	6
adv.		somewhat	6
'chuile sh.	n.	every sort, everything	6
spáid	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	spade	9
'spáinn(t)	(see taspáint)
Spáinn	n. fem., gen. -e	Spain	18
Spáinnis	n. fem., gen. -e	Spanish	15
spalptha	adj.	parched	20
spás	n., gen. spáis	space, (necessary) time	23

spéacláirí	n. (pl.)	spectacles, glasses	31
speal	n. fem., gen. speile , pl. - anna	scythe	30
spéir	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. spéartha	sky	16
speisialta	adj.	special	13
spéisiúil	adj., comp. - ála	interesting	7
Spidéal	n. (+ art.), gen. - eil	(place-name)	10
spóirt	n. fem., gen. - e	sport, fun, pleasure	9
baint sp. as		getting fun out of	18
spraoi	n.	spree
déanamh spr.		playing	18
spreasán	n., gen., pl. - áin	big useless man, ‘dope’	App. I spúnóig	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. - eanna	spoon	5
sp. bheag		teaspoon
sp. mhór		tablespoon
sráid	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. - eanna	street, level ground around house	6 sreang	n. fem., gen. sreinge , pl. - anna	cord	App. I srian	n. fem., pl. - ta	reins	App. I sroich	vb. 1, v.n. sroicheachtáil	reach	App. I sroicheachtáil	v.n. (see sroich)
srón	n. fem., gen. sróine , pl. - anna	nose	12
sruth	n., pl. - anna	current, flow	20
sruthán	n., gen., pl. sruthán	stream	22
stadach	adj., comp. - af	having a stutter	33
stadaíl	n. fem., gen. stadalola	stutter	33
staighre	n., pl. - t	stairs, stairway	19
stail	n. fem., gen. stalach , pl. staltracha	stallion	5
stair	n. fem., gen. - e	history	35
státse	n., pl. - t	stage (theatre)	17
státa	n., pl. - t	state (political)	36
státseirbhís	n. fem., gen. - e	civil service	36
státseirbhíseach	n., gen. - igh , pl. státseirbhíst	civil servant	36
stoca	n., pl. t	sock, stocking	6
stó cach	n., pl. stócal	youth	28
stócaíl	vb. 1, v.n. stócaíl fem.	prepare, get ready	21
stól	n., gen. stóil , pl. - ta	stool	23
stop	vb. 1, v.n. stopadh	stop	24
stopadh	v.n. (see stop)
Stór	n., gen., voc. stóir , pl. stóirtha	store, treasure, darling	28
stór	n., gen., pl. stóir	storey	27
strainc	n. fem., gen. - e , pl. - anna	grimace	17
strainséara	n., pl. - t	stranger, foreigner	10
stuaim	n. fem.	dexterity, skill	App. I suaimhneach	adj., comp. - t	peaceful, tranquil	16
suarach	adj., comp. - t	miserable, mean	33
suaraíl	n. fem., gen. suaralola	meanness	33
suas	adv.	upwards, up	19
suí	v.n. (see suigh)
i mo etc. shuí		up (out of bed)	26
suigh	vb. 1, v.n. suí	sit	21
súil	n. fem., gen. súlach , pl. - e , gen.pl. súl	eye	8
súil le		expecting, looking forward to	20
baint lán na súl as		getting a good and proper look	34
suíleáil	n. fem., gen. - ála , pl. - álacha	ceiling	5
suim	n. fem., gen. - e	interest, amount	29
sufochán	n., gen., pl. - áin	seat	17
suipéar	n., gen., pl. - éir	supper, evening meal	24

tá	(see b1)
tábhachtach	adj., comp. -af	important	7
tabhair	vb. 1, hab./past tug , fut. tabhr- , v.n. tabhairt , v.adj. tugtha	give	28
t. dhom	v.n. fem. (see tabhair)	give me !	23
tabhairt
t. ar		calling (name)	30
t. faoi		attacking, coming to grips with	35
t. le		bringing, taking away
tada	n.	anything, nothing, some	13
tae	n., pl. -anna	tea	11
taepait	n., pl. -eacha	teapot	29
taghd	n. fem.	fit of anger	18
táilliúr	n., gen. -úra, pl. táilliúirf	tailor	32
táilliúireacht	n. fem.	tailoring	33
tairg	vb. 1, v.n. tairiscint	offer	32
tairiscint	v.n. fem. (see tairg)
t. ar		bidding for	32
tairne	n. pl. -f	nail	23
tais	adj.	damp	App. I
taithneachtáil	v.n. fem. (see taithnigh)
taithneamh	n. gen. taithnímh	enjoyment, pleasure	29
baint t. as		enjoy
taithnigh	vb. 2, v.n. taithneachtáil	please	22
taithníonn sé liom		it pleases me, I like
talamh	n. fem., gen. talún(a)/talaimh , pl. talataí	ground, land	4
tamall	n., gen. tamaill , pl. -cha	period, while, distance	10
tanaí	adj., comp. -cha	thin	19
tanaigh	vb. 2, v.n. tanalochán	thin	App. II
tanaiochán	v.n. (see tanaigh)
taobh	n., gen. taoibhe , pl. -nna	side, direction	5
ar th. na láimhe deise/clí		on the right/left hand side	22
t. istigh		inside
t. amuigh		outside
t. amuigh de		outside of, excluding	24
i dtaobh	prep. (+gen.)	concerning, with regard to	28
tarbh	n., gen., pl. toirbh	bull	3
tarlaigh	vb. 2, past tharla , v.n. tarlú	happen	19
tarlú	v.n. (see tarlaigh)
tarraing	vb. 2, v.n. tarraingt	draw, pull, attract	21
tarraingt	v.n. (see tarraing)
tart	n., gen. tairt	thirst	17
(ta)spáin	vb. 1, v.n. (ta)spáint	show	23
(ta)spáint	v.n. (see (ta)spáin)
tá mé do mo (tha)sp. féin		I am showing off	24
tastaigh	vb. 2, v.n. tastáil	need	22
tastaíonn sé uaim		I need
tastáil	v.n. (see tastaigh)
te	adj., comp. teocha	hot	9
té
an té	pron.	he who, a person who	36
teach	n., gen. tit , pl. tithe	house	2
t. an phobail	(see pobal)
t. ósta		hostelry, public house, inn	9
teacht	v.n., alt. tlocht (see teag)
t. as		surviving	28
téamh	v.n. (see téigh)		34
teanga	n. fem., pl. -cha	tongue, language	10

teann	adj., comp. teáinne	taut, tight, firm	28
le t.	prep. (+ gen.)	from sheer ...	30
teannta
i dt.		in a fix	26
teara	vb. 1, hab. teag- , fut. tioc- . past tháinig come v.n. teacht, tlocht , v.adj. teagtha		28
téarma	n., pl. -f	term	29
teas	n.	heat	9
teideal	n., gen. teidil	title	36
téigh	vb. 1, v.n. téamh	heat, warm	34
teilifís	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -anna (see teara)	television	19
tháinig
thall	adv.	over there, across there	19
thar	prep.	past, beyond, over	33
th. a bheith		more than, extremely
th. mar		compared with
thar etc. barr	(see barr, etc.)
thart	adv.	over, around	11
th. ar		around
thiar	adv.	in the west, back there	19
thíos	adv.	down below	9
thoir	adv.	in the east	9
thrí	prep.	through	32
thrí thine		on fire
thrína chéile		upset	32
thrí gach scéal		finally	32
thríd	adv.	through	32
thr. is thr.		all things considered, on the whole
thú	pron. (disjunctive)	you	9
thuaidh
ó th.	adv.	north(wards), in/from the north	19
thuas	adv.	up above	19
thusa	pron. (contrast form of thú)	you	9
tí
tiarna	n., pl. -f	lord	23
tig	vb. 1, v.n. tiscint	understand	14
tigh	prep. (+ gen.)	at the house of, at ... 's	14
tilleadh	n.	more	11
timpeall	n., gen. timpill , pl. -eacha prep. (+ gen.)	circuit
t. ar		around
timpeall's		around
timpiste	n., pl. -f	around about, approximately	12
tincéara	n., pl. -f	accident	2
tine	n. fem., pl. tinte	tinker	17
tinn	adj., comp. tinne	fire	5
tinneas	n.	sick, sore	6
tfocht	(= teacht)	sickness	33
tír	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. tíreacha		14, 28
Tír an Fhia		country, land	4
tíreolas		(place-name)	3
tirim	n.	geography	35
tiscint	adj., comp. trioma	dry	19
tit	v.n. fem. (see tig)	understanding	14
titim	vb. 1, v.n. titim	fall	16
tiubh	v.n. (see tit)
tiúchan	adj., comp. tiúcha, tibhc	thick, dense	19
tiubhaigh	v.n. (see tiubhaigh)
	vb. 2, v.n. tiúchan	thicken
			App. I

tiús	n.	thickness, density	1
tnúth	n.	longing	App. I
tn. le		longing for
tobac	n.	tobacco	16
tobann	adj., comp. tobainne	sudden	28
togh	vb 1, v.n. togha	choose, elect	25
togha	v.n. (see togh)	choosing; choice, election	25
t. fir	adj.	an excellent man (you are)
tá sé t.		it is excellent	36
toghachán	n., gen., pl. -áin	election	20
toib
ar th.		on the point of	30
tóig	vb. 1, v.n. tóigeáil	take up, excite, record, build	15
tóigeáil	v.n. (see tóig)
toil	n. fem. gen. tolach	will	12
más é do th. é		please
tóin	n. fem. gen. tónach , pl. -eanna	bottom, rear end	29
tóir	n. fem.	keen desire, chase	18
toirneach	n. fem. gen. toirn	thunder	35
toitín	n., pl. -f	cigarette	16
tom	n. fem., pl. -anna	bush	22
Tomáisín	(diminutive of Tomás)	(man's name)	2
Tomás	gen. -áis	(man's name)	28
tomhais	vb. 1, v.n. tomhais , pl. -f	measure	23
toradh	n., pl. torthal	fruit, crop, result, pl. vegetables	11
tóraigh	vb. 2, v.n. tóraloch	look for	17
tórainch	n. fem., gen. tóraann , pl. -eacha	boundary, border, limit	31
tóraíocht	v.n. (see tóraigh)
torann	n. gen. torann	noise	18
tórramh	n., gen. tórraimh , pl. tórralocha	wake	28
bhí t. air		he was waked
tosach	n., gen. tosaigh , pl. tosal	front
chun tosaigh i dt.		forward, ahead	27
tosaigh	vb. 2, v.n. tosú	in the beginning, at first	12
tosú	v.n. (see tosaigh)	begin, start	15
tré	n. fem., gen. trá , pl. -nna	strand	9
trácht	n., gen. tráicht	mention, trade, traffic	31
gan tr. ar		not to mention
traein	n. fem., gen. traenach , pl. traentacha	train	32
traidisiún	n., gen., pl. -iún	tradition	36
traoiáil	vb. 1, v.n. traoiáil fem.	try, v.n. trial, experiment	30
tráthnóna	n., pl. -f	evening	8
treabhsar	n., gen., pl. treabhsair	pair of trousers	6
treasna	prep. (+ gen.)	across	25
trí	num.	three	11
trí fíochid	num.	sixty	19
trioblóid	n. fem., gen. -e , pl. -f	trouble	28
ní maith liom do	thr.	(said when sympathising)	28
tríocha	num.	thirty	25
triomaigh	vb. 2, v.n. triomú	dry	29
triomú	v.n. (see triomaigh)
tríú	num.	third	33
triúr	n.	three people	15
troid	n. fem., pl. -anna	fight	26
fonn troda		desire to fight
troigh	n. fem., pl. -the	foot (measure)	11
trom	adj., comp. troime	heavy	11

truaí	n. fem.	pity	12
tú	pron.	you	2
túáille	n., pl.-f	towel	26
tuairim	n., gen. -e, pl. -eacha	opinion	14
tuairisc	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eacha	account, inquiry	31
tuarastal	n., gen. tuarastail	salary	26
tuath	n. fem., gen. tuaithe	country(side)	30
tuí	n. fem.	straw, thatch	1
tuige	adv.	why	34
túin	vb. 1, v.n. túint	urge, put pressure on	25
túint	v.n. (see túin)
tuirse	n. fem.	tiredness	20
tuirseach	adj., comp. tuirsí	tired, weary	8
tumáil	vb. 1, v.n. tumáilt	drive	28
tumáilt	v.n. (see tumáil)
tumálaí	n., pl. tumálaithe	driver	28
turas	n., gen. -ais, pl. -cha	journey	26
in aon t.		on purpose
tús	n.	beginning, start	16
tusa	pron. (contrast form of tú)	you	2
tútach	adj., comp. tútaí	mean, clumsy, awkward	33
tútaíl	n. fem., gen. tútaíola	meanness, clumsiness	33
uachta	n. fem., pl. -f	will, testimony	30
uachtar	n., gen., pl. -air	upper part, cream	26
in u.		on top
uachtarán	n., gen., pl. -án	president	33
uafás	n., gen. uafáis	terror
an t-u.		tremendous amount	11
uafásach	adj., comp. uafásal	terrible, awful	11
uaigh	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eanna	grave	28
uaigneach	adj., comp. uaigní	lonely	13
uaigneas	n., gen. uaignis	loneliness	13
uair	n. fem., gen. -e, pl. -eannta	occasion, time, weather	11, 13
u. an chloig	adv. (pl.)	sometimes	8
uaine	adj.	(clock) hour	13
uan	n., pl. uain	green	17
uasal	adj., comp., pl. uaisle	lamb	App. I
ubh	n. fem., gen. uibhe , pl. uibhe(acha)	noble, belonging to gentry	7
úd	pron.	egg	11
údar	n., pl. -acha	that (distant)	9
údar	n., pl. údair	reason, cause, material for	18
uile	(see 'chuile, uilig')	author
uilig	adj., adv. (= uile go léir)	altogether, entire, whole	8
únéara	n., pl. -f	owner	25
úireadas	n., gen. úireadais	freshness	33
uisce	n.	water	7
úlla	n., pl. -f.	apple	8
Úna		(woman's name)	8
uncail	n., pl. -eacha	uncle	3
'ur	adj.	your (pl.)	10
úr	adj., comp. úire	fresh	33
úrscéal	n., gen. úrscéil , pl. -ta	novel	36
úsáid	n. fem.	usage, using	25
vóta	n., pl. -f	vote	20

ENGLISH – IRISH VOCABULARY

Only words given in the exercises at the end of the lessons are given here. This vocabulary should be used in conjunction with the Irish – English vocabulary, which is more detailed and which refers back to the lessons in which the word was first given. The abbreviations n. (noun), vb. (verb), adj. (adjective) and adv. (adverb) are used immediately after the English word where a distinction is necessary.

able	in ann	autumn	fómhar
about	faoi	avoid	seachain
abroad	thar sáile	awake	dúiseacht accept	glac
accident	timpiste	back n.	droim
according to	de réir	back adv.	ar ais
account	cuntas	bad n.	donacht
acre	acra	bad adj.	(go) dona, droch- across	treasna	bad-humoured	cantalach
actor	aisteoir	bag	míla
actually	is é an chaoi	bank (money)	beanc
admit	amhdaigh	bank (river)	bruach
afraid	tá fáitios ar	barrel	bairille
after	thar éis, i ndiaidh	basin	báisín
again	aríst	bear	beir
against	in aghaidh	beautiful	álainn
ago	ó shoin	bed	leaba
agree	aontaigh	before	sol má
all	uilig, ar fad	before long	gan móran achair
all the same	mar sin féin	begin	tosaigh
it seems ... to	is cuma le	in the beginning	i dtosach
all things considered	thrfid is thrlid	believe	creid almost	beagnach, hóbair do	bend (down)	crom alone	as féin	beside	in aice
also	freisin	besides	seachas
although	cé	best effort	dicheall
always	i gcónal	bet	geall
America	Meireacá	bicycle	rothar
and	agus	big	mór
ankle	rúitín	bill	bille
annoyed	cráite	bishop	easpag
another	eile	bit	plosa
answer	freagair	little bit	ruainne beag, beagán
any	ar bith, aon	blackboard	clár dubh
anyway	ar aon chaoi	blanket	ciúmhais, pluid
appearance	cuma	bleeding	ag cur fola
apple	ílla	blow	buile
appointment	coinne	blue	gorm
Aran	Árainn	boast	(ag) déanamh gaisce
are	bí, is	boat	bád
around	thart, timpeall	bold	dána
article	alt	book	leabhar
as	mar	boring	leadránach
as for	maidir le	born (was b.)	rugadh
ask	fiafraigh, cuir ceist	bottle	buidéal
associated with	ag plé le	bottom	bun, tóin
at	ag	box	bosca
at all	ar chor ar bith	boy	buachaill
at last	faoi dheireadh	bread	arán

breakfast	bríofásta	content	sásta
bright	geal	cook	bruith
brother	dearthaír	cooking	cócaireacht, bruith
build	tóig	cooperative (society)	comharchumann
bull	tarbh	corner	coirnéal, cùinne
burn	dóigh	correct	ceart
burst	pléasc	cost vb.	coisin
bury	cuir	cotton	cadás
bus	bus	count	comhair
but	ach	country	tír, tuath
butcher	búistéara	courage	misneach
butter	im	cow	bó, beithföch
buy	ceannaigh	crack vb., n.	scoilte
by now	faoi seo	crooked	cam
cabbage	gabáiste	crowd	dream
call n.	call	crowded	plódaithe
call vb.	gluigh, tabhair ar	cup	cupán
call out	fuagair	curtain	cíurtín
cap	caipín	cut	gearr
car	carr	cutting turf	baint mhóna
card	cárta	dangerous	contúirteach
carefully	(go) cúramach	dancing	damhsa
carpenter	siúinéara	daughter	inín
case	cás	day	kí
in any case	ar aon chaoi	dead	marbh
cast	caith	death	bás
castle	caisleán	degree	céim
centre	kér	delay	moill
certain	dirithe	dentist	fiaclóir
certain(ly)	cinné	describe	cur stós ar
chair	cathaoir	die	fáil bháis
chairman	cathaoirleach	difficult	deacair
change	athraigh	dirty adj.	salach
chapel	seípéal	dirty vb.	salaigh
charge (in ch.)	i mbun	discuss	pléigh
child	páiste, gasúr	dish	soitheach
Christmas	Nollaig	dissatisfied	míshásta church	teach an phobail, eaglais	district	ceantar
cigarette	toitín	do	déan
city	cathair	doctor	dochtúr
civil servant	státseirbhíséach	door	doras
class	rang	doubt	aimhreas, dabht
clean vb./adj.	glan	down	anuas
clear vb./adj.	glan	downstairs	stós an staighre
oat	cóta	dream	brionglóidí
cold adj.	fuar	dress	gúna
cold n.	fuacht	drink	ól
cold n. (disease)	slaghdán	driver	tumáil
clear off !	bailigh leat	drop	braon
college	coláiste	dry adj.	tírim
clothes	éadat	dry vb.	triomaigh
come	teag	Dublin	Baile Átha Cliath committee	coiste	early	luath
compared to	i gcomórtas le	early in morning	go moch
company	comhlódar	earn	saothraigh concerning	i dtaoibh	Easter	Cáisc consecutive	as a chéile

easy	furasta, éasca	frost	sioc
eat	iúth	fry	róst
egg	ubh	full	lán
election	toghachán	funeral	sochraide
England	Sasana
English (language)	Béarla	gate	geata
enough	go leor, dóthain	geography	tíreolas especially	go háirithe	German (language)	Gearmáinis
evening	tráthnóna	get	faigh
everybody	'chuile dhuine	get up	éirigh
everything	'chuile shórt	girl	cailín
exactly	go díreach	give	tug
exam	scrúdú	give in	géill
except	seachas, ach amháin	glass	gloine
except for	marach	glasses	speacldáirf
expensive	costasach	go	gabh extremely	thar (a bheith)	go away	imigh
		good	maith
fairly	réasúnta	grave	uaigh
fall	tír	great	an-, mórr
fame	cliú, cál	grip	greim
family	comhlódar	ground	talamh
far	i bhfad	grow	fás
farm	feilm	guard	garda
farmer	feilméara
farming	feilméarach	hall	halla
father	athair	hammer	casír
fear	faitios	hand	láimh
fed up	bréan de	handkerchief	neapicín póca
feel like	tá fonn ar	hang	croch
few	cupla	happen	tarlaigh
field	garraí	hard	crua
fifteen	cúig déag	hard (difficult)	deacair
finish	crlochnaigh	harm	dochár
find out	faigh amach	harp	cláirseach
fire	tine	have	tá ... ag
fine	bred	he	sé, seisean
first (at f.)	i dtosach	head	cloigeann, ceann
finger	méir	healthy	folláin
fish n.	iasc	hear	clois
fish vb.	iascach	heart	croí
five	cúig	heat	teas
five persons	cúigear	help n.	cunamh
fix	cuir caoi ar	help vb.	cuidigh flat	árasán	I can't help	níl neart agam air
floor	orlár	her	a
fog	ceo	here	anseo
fond	tá cion ag ar	hesitate	braiteoireacht
food	bia, beatha	hey (tell me!)	cogar
fortnight	coicis	hide	cuir i bhfalach
found	cuir ar bun	hill	cnoc
four	cheithre	him	é, eisean
four persons	ceathrar	hire	tóig ar clos
France	An Fhraing	his	a
French (language)	Fraincis	history	stair
fresh	úr	hole	poll
Friday	Dé hAoine	holiday	saoire
from	ó, as	home(ward)	abhaile

hope n.	dóchas	lady	bean
hope vb.	tú súil ag	lady of the house	bean an tí
horrible	gránna	ladies and gentlemen	a dhaoine uaisle
horse	capall	lake	loch
hospital	ospidéal	lamp	lámpa
house	teach	land	tír, talamh
how much	cé mhéad	language	teanga
hunger	ocras	last	deireanach,
hungry	tú ocras ar	at last	an ... seo caite
hurt	gortaigh	lasting	faoi dheireadh
husband	fear (céile)	last night	seasmhach
I	mé, mise	last year	arár
if	má, dhá	learn	anuraidh
imitate	déanamh aithrist	least (at l.)	foghlaim
impossible	dodhéanta	leave	ar a laghad
important	tábhachtach, mór-le-rá	lecture	fág
improve	feabhsaigh, cuir	lecturer	léachi
in	feabhas ar	let	léachióir
indeed	i	letter	lig
information	muise, go deimhin	library	leitir
instead of	eolas	life	leabharlann
insult	in áit	lift n.	saol
intelligent	maslaigh	light n.	marcalocht
intend	meabhrach	light vb.	solas
interest . . .	tá ...faoi	like vb.	las, dearg interested in	spéis	like that	is maith le, taithnígh
interesting	tá spéis/suim ag i	likely (it is not l.)	mar sin
invitation	spéisiúil	listen	ní móide
invite	cuireadh	live (inhabit)	éist
Ireland	tabhair cuireadh do	local	cónaigh, ina chónal
Irish (language)	Éirinn	local people	áitiúil
Irish (person)	Gaeilge	lock	muaintir na háite
is	Éireannach	lodging	glasáil
island	is, bíf	lonely	lóistín
jacket	oileán	long adv.	uaigreach
jealous	seaicéad	look	i bhfad
jealous of	tú éad ar	loose	breathnaigh
joking	tú éad ag	lorry	scailte
journalist	ag magadh	love	leoráil
jug	íriseoir		grá
jump	jug	mackerel	ronnach
jumper	léim	make	déan
just	geansaí	man	fear
	go díreach	manager	bainisteoir
keen (on)	tá an-tóir ag ar	many	go leor, móran
keeness	tóir	map	mapa
keep	coinnigh	Mass	Aifreann
Kerry	Ciarrai	match	cluife
kettle	cíteal	matters	cúrsal
key	eochair	maybe	b'fhéidir
kitchen	cisteanach	meal	béilli
knock down	leag	meat	feoil
know	tá a fhios ag,	meeting	cruinniú
	tá aithne ag	mention	trácht
		middle	lár
		milk	bainne
		minister	ministéara

mirror	scáthán	opportunity	deis
miss	caill	opposite	os comhair
mix	measc	or	nó
Monday	Dé Luain	other	eile, cheana
money	airgead	our	ar
month	mí	outside	taobh amuigh
more	tilleadh	over there	thall ansin
morning	maidín	own	féin
mother	máthair
mountain	sliabh	pain	pian
mouth	béal	paint	péinteáil
music	ceol	pair of trousers	treabhsar
must	caithfidh, tá ar	pal	comrádal
mutton	caoireoil	pan	peain
my	mo	park vb.	parcáil
		parish	paráiste
nail	tairne	party	pairtí
narrow	cúng	pass	sín
nation	ndísiún	patience	foighid
nattering	cabaireacht	pay n.	páit
near	in aice, gar	peaceful	suaimhneach
necessary (it was n.)	b' éigean	peculiar	aisteach
need	tastaigh	pen	peann
needle	snáthайд	penny	pingin
neighbour	comharsa	pensioner	pinsinéara
neither	ná	people	muintir, daoine
never	ariamh, cholchin, go deo	perhaps	b' fhéidir
new	nua	permission	cead
news	nuafocht	person	duine
newspaper	páipéar (nuafocht)	phone	fón
next	an chéad ... eile	picture	peictiúr
nice	deas	pillow	peiliúr
night	óiche	pity	truád
noise	torann	place n.	áit
non-Irish speaking area	Galltacht	place vb.	leag
nor	ná	plate	pláta
nose	srón	play n.	drama
notice vb.	tabhair faoi deara	play vb.	imrigh, cas
notion	barúil	playing cards	imirt chártal
novel	úrscéal	please	más é do thoil é
now	anois	pleased	sásta
now !	muis(e) !	plenty	go leor
nun	bean rialta	pointless	fánach
nurse	banaltra	politics	polaitiocht
		poor	bocht
		poor fellow	creatúr
o.k.	déanfaidh sin	post	posta
oats	coirce	post office	posta
off	de	postmistress	bean an phosta
offer	thaing	potato	fata
office	oifige	pound	punt
often	go minic	praise	mol
old	sean	prefer	is fearr le
one n.	ceann	prepare	réiveach
one (only)	amháin	president	uachtaráin
onion	oinniún	priest	sagart
only (there is o.)	níl ann ach	profit	brabach
open	oscail	provided that	ach

public house	teach ósta	shake	craith
publish	foilsigh	shave	bearr
punctilious	pointeáilte	she	sí
purpose (on p.)	in aonturas	sheep	caora put on	cuir/cas ar, cuir síos	sheet	bráillín
put off	cas as	shine	scáirt
quarter	ceathrú	shirt	léine
quickly	sciobtha, go beo	shoe	bróig
quiet	ciúin	shop	siopa
race	rása	shopkeeper	siopadóir
radio	raidió	shop proprietress	bean an tsioipa
rail	ráille	short	gearr, gairid
rain	báisteach	shortly	go gáird raise	tóig, croch, ardaigh	short story	gearrscéal
rate (at any r.)	ar aon chaoi	should	ba cheart go
read	léigh	shoulder	gualainn
really	dháiríre, flor-	show	taspán
reasonable	réasúnta	shut	dún
record	ceirnín	sick	tinn refuse	eitigh	sickness	tinneas
related	tá gaol ag ... le	side	taobh
relax	lig a scith	since	ó
remember	is cuimhne le	sing	cas (amhrán)
rent	clos	sister	dríofúr reside	cónaigh, tá ... ina chóinéar	sit	suigh
rest	scíth	six	sé
rich	soibhir	skirt	sciorta
right	ceart	small	beag
ring	cuir glaoch ar	smoke	caith
road	bóthar	snow	sneachta
room	seomra	snowing	cur shneachta
rope	rópa	so	mar sin, chomh ... sin
rotten	lofa	soap	galaoireach
ruin	mill	some	roinnt, cuid
same	céanna	soldier	saighdiúr
satisfied	sásra	son	mac
Saturday	Dé Sathairn	song	amhrán
saucer	sásar	soon	luath
saw	sábh	sore	tinn
say(s)	deir	sour	searbh scarce	gann	sow	cuir
school	scoil	Spain	An Spáinn
at school	ar scoil	Spanish (language)	Spáinnis
schoolmistress	máistreáds scoile	spend	caith
science	eolaocht	split	scoilt
scoundrel	scabhitéara	Spring	Earrach
screw	scriú	stage	stáise
sea	farrage, muir	stairs	staighre
search	tóraighe	stand	seas
seat	súlochán	start	tosaigh
secretary	rúnáil	state	státa
see	feic	stay	fan
seed	stol	steal	goid
sell	dtol	stick	maide
send for	cuir fios ar	still	fós, i gcónai
		stir	corraigh
		stonewall	cláí
		stop	stop

strange	aisteach	too (also)	freisin
street	sráid	top	barra, mullach
student	mac léinn	towel	tuáille
sudden	tobann	trade	ceird
sugar	siúcra	train	traen
sugar bowl	babhal an tsíúicra	tree	crann
suit	culaith	tremendous amount	an t-uafás
suitable	feiliúinach	trust	muinín
Summer	samhradh	try	traoíil
sun	grian	Tuesday	Dé Máirt
sunbathing	déanamh bolg-le-gréin	turn	cas
Sunday	Dé Domhnaigh	turn off	cas as
superb	cumasach	twenty	fiche, scór
suppose	is dóigh le	two	dhá, a dó
supposed to	ceaptha	two people	beirt
sure	cinnite, siúráilte	typist	closcriobhaí
sweating	cur allais
table	bord	ugly	gránna
take	tóig, bain, tabhair le	uncle	uncail
take fright	scarraigh	understand	tig
talk(ing)	caint	university	ollscoil
tall	ard	unlikely	drochsheans
taste	blais	until	go dif
tea	tae	up (out of bed)	ina shuí
teach	múin	us	muíd(e) teacher	múinteoir
teapot	taepait	valley	gleann
teaspoon	spúnóig bheag	vegetables	torthal television	teilifís	very	an-
tell	innis	victory	bua
terrible	uafásach	visiting	ar cuairt
that	sin; go	vote	vóta
the	an, na
theatre	anharclann
them	iad(san)	wait	fan
then	ansin	wake	dúisigh
there	ansin, ansiud, ann	wall	balla
they	siad(san)	want	tastaigh, iarr
thing	rud	warm	te
think	sfl, ceap, cuimhnigh	wash	nigh
third	tríú	waste	cúir amú
thirst	tart	watch out !	fainic !
thirsty	tá tart ar	water	uisce
thousand	míle	we	muíd(e)
three	trí	wealth	soibhreas
three people	triúr	wear	caith
throat	scornach	weather	aimsir, uair
through	thrí	wedding	bainis
Thursday	Déardaoin	wedding ring	fáinne pósta
tie	ceangail	Wednesday	Dé Céadaoin
time	an, aimsir, uair	week	seachtain
tired	tuirseach	weekend	deireadh seachtaine together	le chéile, in éindí	welcome	fáilte
tomorrow	anáreach	well (pause word)	bhoil
tongue	teanga	well adv.	go maith
too	ro-	westward	síar
too much/many	an iomarca	wet adj., vb.	fliuch

when	nuair
when ?	cén uair ?
where ?	cá ? cén áit ?
whether ... or not	an ... nó nach
which ?	cé acu ?
while n.	tornall
in a while	ar ball
while conj.	chúns
who ?	cé ?
whole	uilig, iomlán
why ?	cén fáth ? tuige ?
wife	bean (chéile)
will	toil, uachta willing	sásra
wind	gaoth
window	fuinneog
wine	fion
Winter	geimhreadh
with	le
without	gan
woman	bean
wonderful	iontach
wood	adhmad
wool	olann
worker	oibrí
working	(ag) obair worry	imní
worrying	déanamh imní
worse	níos measa
worthwhile (it seems w.)	is fiú
write	scríobh
writer	scríbhneoir
yard	geard
year	bliain
this year	i mbliana
yellow	buí
yesterday	inné
you	tú, tusa, thú, thusa
you pl.	sibh(se)
young	óig
your	do
your pl.	'ur

A BRIEF BIBLIOGRAPHY

DICTIONARIES

- Ó Dónaill, Niall (ed.) Foclóir Gaeilge – Béarla (Government Publications, Dublin 1977)
de Bhaldraithe, Tomás (ed.) English – Irish Dictionary (Government Publications, Dublin 1959)

GLOSSARIES OF GALWAY IRISH

- de Bhaldraithe, Tomás Foirisiún Focal as Gaillimh (Royal Irish Academy, Dublin 1985)
Ó Máille, T.S. Liosta Focal as Ros Muc (Irish University Press, Dublin 1974)
Ó Siadhail, Mícheál Téarmaí Tógála agus Tís as Inis Meáin (Dublin Institute for Advanced Studies, Dublin 1978)

SUGGESTED FURTHER READING

Before proceeding to read material outside the course the learner is strongly advised to study carefully Appendix III.

The following three works are by highly regarded twentieth-century authors who have written broadly in a West Galway dialect. They have all been, at least partly, published in English language versions and these are also listed for convenience.

- Ó Conaire, Pádraic Scothscéalta (Sáirséal agus Dill, Dublin 1956)
Ó Conaire, Pádraic 15 Short Stories translated from the Irish (Poolbeg Press, Dublin 1982)
Ó Cadhain, Máirtín An Braon Broghach (Government Publications, Dublin 1968)
Ó Cadhain, Máirtín The Road to Bright City (Poolbeg Press, Dublin 1987)
Ó hEithir, Breandán Lig Sinn i gCathú (Sáirséal agus Dill, Dublin 1976)
Ó hEithir, Breandán Lead Us Into Temptation (Routledge and Kegan, London 1978)

The following folktale is issued bilingually and may be helpful.
Éamon a Búrc Eochair Mac Rí in Éirinn: Eochair, a king's son in Ireland (Comhairle Bhéaloideas Éireann, University College Dublin, 1982)

SPECIALISED LINGUISTIC AND DIALECTOLOGICAL INTEREST

- de Bhaldraithe, Tomás The Irish of Cois Fhárrge, County Galway (Dublin Institute for Advanced Studies, Dublin 1945)
- de Bhaldraithe Tomás Gaeilge Chois Fhárrge: An Deilbhlocht (Dublin Institute for Advanced Studies 1953)
- Ó Siadhail, Mícheál Modern Irish (Cambridge University Press 1989)
- O'Rahilly, T.F. Irish Dialects Past and Present (Dublin Institute for Advanced Studies, Dublin 1972)
- McCloskey, James Transformational Syntax and Model Theoretic Semantics (D. Reidel, Dordrecht and Boston 1979)

Stenson, Nancy Studies in Irish Syntax (Narr, Tübingen 1981)

Wigger, Arndt Nominalformen im Conamara-Irischen (Lüdke, Hamburg 1970)

Wagner, Heinrich Linguistic Atlas and Survey of Irish Dialects: Volumes I - IV (Dublin Institute for Advanced Studies, Dublin 1958, 1964, 1966, 1969)

SOCIOLOGICAL INTEREST

Hindley, Reg The Death of the Irish Language (Routledge, London 1990)

GRAMMATICAL INDEX

a ('all of that which')	197
a ... is ('how')	191
Adjective
after numbers	53
comparative degrees
irregular forms	89
one-syllable, ending in vowel	89
two-syllable, ending in vowel	88
with broad consonant + a	178-9
with final slender consonant	159-60, 165-6
emphatic adjective féin	35, 41
genitive
with feminine noun	165
with masculine noun	146
modifying plural nouns	28
modifying singular nouns	16
possessive	40-1
predicative use	16
prefixed	58
so- , do- , in-	144
reflexive (féin)	35, 41
seo , sin , úd/siúd	36
sin/seo with ' amsa ', ' adsa ', etc.	74
use with chomh	89-90
use with copula	45-6
verbal adjective	143-4
Adverb
comparative	88-9
direction/position	90-2
formation	69
use with preposition le	99
Alphabet	1, 223
Article
absence of indefinite	7
definite plural	35
definite singular	19, 32-3
general usage	32-3
genitive	129-31
use with numbers	53
Broad consonants	2-4
ceann	41, 53
Compound subject or object	36
Copula
emphatic construction	190
future	96
idiomatic use
with as	84-5
with do	118
with le	98-9
past/conditional	170-2
present	44, 50-1
relative	96, 171
use with comparative (superlative) of adjective	179
use with adjective	45-6
use with nouns	44, 50-1

cuid	41
dhá + abstract noun ('however')	191
Diminutive suffix -ín	153
Dropping of the vowel /ə/	3, 217
Eclipsis	18
after verbal particles	23-4
Emphatic construction	51, 190
Emphatic negative (diabhall/dheamhan)	202-3
Emphatic word-order	190
Helping vowel	213-4
Idiomatic use of agus/is	195-6
'If'-clauses	31-2, 39
Indirect questions	24
Infinitive construction	195
Lenition	11
after verbal particles	23-4
in personal names	12
of slender l, n	16
Months	197
Noun
formation of abstract noun	184-5
gender	15-6
genitive	129-31
general summary of usage	145-6
plural	191, 218-9
irregular genitives	190
main uses of	131
two nouns in genitive relation	130
verbal noun	190
with broad consonant	172
with broad consonant + a	177-8
with broad consonant + a and vowel change	178
with broad consonant + ach	183
with broad consonant + ach and vowel change	183
with n	184
with slender consonant	144-5
with slender consonant + e	158-9, 164-5
with slender consonant and vowel change	152
plural	218-9, 11 v.n.
use of a + lenition	68
use with prounoun object	68
with numbers	46-7
verbal noun	62, 219-20
use of a + lenition	112
use of ag	67-8
vocative
plural	28
singular	152-3
Numbers
cardinal	46, 92-3, 131-2
counting/independent	125
ordinal	185-6
personal	69
use of ceann	53
Particles
verbal	23-4
past tense	137
vocative	15

Preposition
ag	72-4
expressing 'to have'	24
use of ag 'as a result of'	164
use with verbal noun	67-8
ar	77-9, 82
use with ag cur	79
as	83-5
de	123-5
do	117-8
idiomatic use with copula	118
faoi	104-5
go, go dtí	105-6
i	138-9
idir	151-2
le	97-8
idiomatic use with copula	98-9
use with directional adverbs	99
ó	111-2
roimh	176
tar	182-3
thri	177
not combining with personal pronouns	106
questions with prepositions	85
Pronoun
personal	19, 59
contrast	8
disjunctive	35
emphasis	35-6
feminine of reference	59
prepositional pronouns, usage	73
sé referring to feminine nouns	59
seo/sin/siúd	63-4
sin referring back	67 fn. 1
standing alone	58
use of é in responses	99
Relative clauses	205
direct	57-8
indirect	82-3
Responses
'if'-clauses	32, 24
combined forms	27-8
emphatic	196
with a fhios	73
with copula	45, 51, 189
with negative questions	201 vn. 7
Slender consonants	2-4
Stress	1-2, 58
Surnames	206
Syllable lengthening	214-6
Verb
conditional	109-11
future	103-4
habitual past	122-3
habitual present	116-7
imperative	51-3
secondary	202
independent and dependent forms	24
irregular verbs	150-1, 157-8

(Verb)

optional verbal forms	136, 203-5
particles	23
past	136-7
subjunctive	201-2
tú	7-8
autonomous form	8
combined forms	27-8
conditional	27
contrast	8
future	23
habitual past	27
habitual present	27
imperative	31
past	22
summary table	27

TABLE OF SOUNDS

A KEY TO THE SYMBOLS USED IN PHONETIC TRANSCRIPTION

SYMBOL	EXAMPLE	DESCRIPTION OR EQUIVALENT (APPROXIMATE)
1. Simple vowel sounds: long
i:	sí	English: machine French: lit
e:	sé	French: thé Irish or Scottish English: day
æ:	fear	somewhat longer than English: plaid
a:	hata	somewhat longer than English: pan somewhat longer than French: patte
ɔ:	tá	English: saw
o:	cóta	Irish or Scottish English: go German: Rose
u:	tú	somewhat more retracted than English: rude slightly more open than German: gut
2. Simple vowel sounds: short i	milis	slightly closer and more advanced than English: bit (as common in Ireland)
e	eile	English: pen
o	pota	German: Gott Scottish English: hot
u	tusa	English: put
ə	milis, eile, pota	English: bullock, above
3. Combined vowel sounds (diphthongs and triphthongs)
i:ə	siar	somewhat shorter than /i:/ followed by /ə/
ei	beidh	/e/ followed by /i/
ai	staighre	somewhat like /e/ followed by /i/
au	treabhsar	somewhat like /e/ followed by /u/
u:ə	slua	somewhat shorter than /u:/ followed by /ə/
u:əu:	chuaidheadh	/u:ə/ followed by a vowel somewhat shorter than /u:/
u:əi:	cuaiche	/u:ə/ followed by a vowel somewhat shorter than /i:/

4. Broad consonants

b	Bairbre, buí	b ^u English: but
p	Páidín	p ^u English: put
d	Donncha	The sounds /d/ and /t/ are said to be 'dental', i.e. the tip of the tongue is placed against the
t	Tomás	t ^u upper front teeth (with English t and d it is advanced only as far as the teeth-ridge).
g	gasúr, gaoth	g ^u somewhat more retracted than English: gum
k	Cáit, caoi	k ^u somewhat more retracted than English: cut
w	Bhairbre, Mháire	English: won
f	fós, faoi, Pháidín	English: fun
s	Sasana	English: suck
γ	ghasúr, Dhonncha, ghaoth	The organs of speech are in the same position as for the sound /x/, but /γ/ is voiced.
x	Cháit, chaoi	Scottish English: loch German: Buch
m	Máire	English: much
N	ná, naoi	The sounds /N/ and /L/ are tenser than English n and l; to achieve this quality, raise the centre of the tongue towards the soft palate.
l	lá
ŋ	ngasúr, ngaoth	English: sung
r	Ruairí	The sound /r/ is 'flapped', i.e. the tip of the tongue makes one tap against the back of the teeth-ridge, as in Scottish English: bar, Spanish: oro

5. Slender consonants

b'	béal	b ⁱ	English: beauty
p'	Peige	p ⁱ	English: pew
d'	Diarmuid	d ⁱ	English: duty
t'	tír	t ⁱ	English: tune
g'	geata	g ⁱ	English: gules
k'	Ciarraí, ceo	k ⁱ	English: cure
w'	bhéal, Mheiriceá	v ⁱ	English: view
f'	feall, Pheige	f ⁱ	English: few
s'	Séamas		English: sure, sheep
y'	Dhiarmaid, gheata		English: you
x'	Chiarraí		English: Hugh, German: ich
m'	milis	m ⁱ	English: music
n'	ní, abhainn	n ⁱ	English: new, minion
n'	Páidín		English: nick
ŋ'	ngeata	ng ⁱ	(see /ŋ/ above and Lesson 1)
l'	léigh, coill	l ⁱ	English: lure, million
l'	milis		English: lisp
r'	Máire	r ⁱ	(see /r/ and Lesson 1)

6. Consonants without broad/slender contrast

d	Deain	English: day	} } with the tongue brought further back t	Teaim	English: tame	}
ðʒ	jug	English: jug
h	hata, thír, Shéamaisín	English: hat

LEARNING IRISH

MÍCHEÁL Ó SIADHAIL

Learning Irish is an introductory course to the Irish Language. The product of many years of teaching experience as well as much original research, it serves a double function: providing a sound pedagogical approach to the ordinary language learner and at the same time furnishing the professional linguist with an authentic description of the spoken language.

The book does not presuppose prior knowledge of Irish and gives thorough coverage of the grammatical patterns of the language. Texts and exercises are presented in an authentic, interesting, conversational style and in carefully graded stages. The learner is assisted in mastering the pronunciation by the use of phonetic spelling and by a related set of cassette recordings. The book can therefore be used either by an individual who wishes to teach himself the language or as a classroom text.

'At last there is a teach-yourself Irish text that really works.... Learning Irish provides a logical introduction to beginners with no previous knowledge of Irish as well as a sound review for those who have studied Irish.' — Janet Egleson Dunleavy, American Committee for Irish Studies Newsletter

'A better language course than anything else available.' — Evening Herald

Micheál Ó Siadhail has been a lecturer at Trinity College Dublin and a professor at The Dublin Institute for Advanced Studies. Other linguistic works include Modern Irish (Cambridge University Press 1989). Now working fulltime as a poet, his most recent books are Hail! Madam Jazz: New and Selected Poems (Bloodaxe Books 1992) and A Fragile City (Bloodaxe Books 1995). A former member of the Arts Council, he is a member of the Cultural Relations Advisory Committee of the Republic of Ireland and Chairman of ILE (Ireland Literature Exchange).

Cover illustration: Jack B. Yeats, detail from In the Tram (National Gallery of Ireland)

This book is to be used in conjunction with the set of audio cassettes LEARNING IRISH (ISBN 0-300-06463-2) which is available separately.

ISBN 0-300-06462-4

A standard linear barcode representing the ISBN number 0-300-06462-4. The barcode is composed of vertical black bars of varying widths on a white background.

9 780300 064629

Yale University Press • New Haven and London